"I want a car that's BUILT FOR PEOPLE"

"Just like a woman! I want a car BUILT FOR SAVINGS"

"Dave, I've found exactly the right car for us! It'll make driving ever so much more comfortable."

"Comfort's fine, Nancy, but we've got to consider savings, too. And I've found just the car for that!"

"But the car I've found is so easy to get in and out of . . . and so comfy to sit in."

"Yes, but my car will save us as much as $1.00 on every tankful of gas because it uses regular. How about that?"

"Well, that's nice, but what about my frilly hats? We'll have hat room not just head room in my car. And you're no shorty, either . . . you'd bump your head in a lot of those new cars."

"Not in this one. And it only needs oil changes each 4000 miles. Its muffler is aluminized to normally last twice as long, too."

"In the car I want, everybody enjoys a soft comfortable seat . . . even the folks in the middle! This car's built just right for us . . . and besides, I think it's cute."

"Sure, looks are important . . . and my car will keep on looking good 'cause its finish is so bright and durable it never needs waxing."

"Well, the nice man at the Ford Dealer's told me . . ."

"Did you say FORD? . . . that's the car I want, too! And we can save as much as $102.75 on purchase price alone! What are we waiting for?"

"Darling, you're a genius!"

All of us have experienced a fiendish desire to do something which we were reasonably sure would get us into trouble—such as kicking our wife's shoes down the theater aisle or telling our neighbor's little boy he should get a pony for Christmas. For years I have wondered if a state employee could write about the legislature without getting into too much trouble. The sportsmen of the state miss the interest and excitement by not attending the meetings of the game and fish committees of the House and Senate that someone should tell them about it. Probably I'll regret it, but I'm compelled to try.

First, I should make it clear that the more you know about our legislature the more you respect the men in it. Taking only a superficial glance at the legislature in action you might well throw up your hands in despair and wonder how democracy works at all. But spend a few weeks attending day and night committee meetings and you will realize why democracy is the only process which can work for all the people in the long run. The success in this kind of slow and seemingly inefficient lawmaking lies in the fact that legislators have experience from all walks of life and, through this experience, can actually test a law before enacting it. For example, let us consider the bill that would have made it illegal to transport domestic livestock which had been shot unless accompanied by a bona fide receipt from the farmer.

Like most bills, this started out as being "non-controversial," and would simply give game wardens authority to arrest lawless hunters who had shot a farmer's chicken or turkey and got caught with it on a road check. This sounded reasonable until one legislator said he frequently went to his brother's farm where they would shoot a couple of chickens to take home.

An attorney then explained that few people even knew what a "bona fide" receipt was, and could scarcely be expected to execute one. Then a farmer legislator said he frequently shot a hog before hauling it to town to be butchered. How can a man make out a receipt to himself? Another farmer legislator explained he occasionally had to shoot a maverick bull or cow to get it to market. And so the experience of these legislators indicated that this supposedly non-controversial law would, unless amended, make law violators out of many innocent people.

Fortunately too, most legislators maintain a sense of humor. On the elevator one legislator was overheard telling another that he would not miss the game and fish hearings for anything because they were "better than the best show in town." "The other night," he said, " a big Irish-looking sportsman by the name of Murphy came up to the rostrum to testify on a bill. I nearly fell out of my chair when he started to talk in a broad Scandinavian accent."

After one particularly rugged session, a legislator said to me, "This is the only institution in the state which is run by the inmates." It takes a sense of humor.

The patience and tolerance of the legislators in listening to all who wish to testify in game and fish committees is amazing. As you might guess, they listen to some pretty boring speeches, but they also benefit by good presentations which influence their thinking.

Of course, there is a difference in the way legislators reason. Some appear to believe their only job is to vote in accordance with what they believe is the majority opinion of their constituents back home. Others believe they were elected to assimilate all available information and then vote according to their best judgment. In my personal opinion, the latter makes for much better legislation.

The organized sportsmen are doing an excellent job in the legislature this year. The seven major organizations which have banded together under a well-organized program are truly effective. Of course, we are pleased that they are giving the department continued excellent support but some of their own bills are as good, or better, than those sponsored by the department.

Uranium has been used for years as a colorant in ceramics and glass, but not until World War II did man learn how to control the reactions in order to derive a net output of energy from the atom.

Minnesota Sales Tax Not Inevitable Says Gov. Freeman

Tells East Grand Forks Meeting Monday Night He Prefers Income Tax

The sales tax is not inevitable in Minnesota, Gov. Freeman told a "town hall" meeting in East Grand Forks Monday night.

In the final speech in his state wide series of town meetings, Freeman said: "The income tax is superior to any sales tax you can devise, both in equity among taxpayers and in administrative costs."

Freeman spoke before a good crowd in the American Legion clubrooms. Preceding the program he was guest of honor at a banquet.

"Under an income tax, if the farmer, merchant or worker has a poor year, he pays little or no taxes," Freeman said, "but under a sales tax persons with little or no income pay taxes on food, clothing and other essential items they must buy to live.

"And this is true even if they are on relief or are receiving unemployment compensation or live on meager retirement checks," he said.

Freeman said the sales tax would cost between eight and ten million dollars in administrative expenses the first biennium it would be effective.

Skunks Most Active in the Spring Season

During the next week or two you should become aware of skunks. In fact, says Minnesota conservation officials, you might think they are all over the place for this time of year male skunks go on the prowl looking for mates. There will be a good deal of fighting and some will come out of the fray somewhat the worse for smell.

But smell isn't the only thing about skunks of which we should be aware for they are also carriers of rabies in Minnesota. Rabies is a fatal disease of animals that can be transmitted to humans. Last year, there were 238 reported cases of rabies in skunks in Minnesota. Rabies occurs throughout the year and is not confined to the summer hot spells called "dog days" as some believe. All warm blooded animals can get the disease. A human becames infected only when the rabies virus enters an open wound so it can make contact with nerve tissue.

Skunks, when infected with rabies often become aggressive, and upon entering a farmyard are apt to attack domestic animals and livestock. Because skunks are presently the chief carriers of rabies in Minnesota, both conservation and public health officials warn against handling or coming into physical contact with skunks. Wildlife scientists in the Minnesota game and fish division are actively cooperating with the state health department and the livestock sanitary board as well as with conservation agencies of neighboring states in the problem of rabies. Close liaison and working arrangements have been established with the U. S. Public Health Service and the Branch of Predator and Rodent Control, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Control of rabies in skunks or other forms of wildlife is exceedingly difficult. Any program of control which might increase the incidence of human contact with skunks is not without its dangers, officials warn.

Conservation authorities point out that research aimed at providing new and better methods of controlling nuisance wildlife is currently underway at a number of state and federal installations around the country. A new public health laboratory has been established at Paynette, Wisconsin for the express purpose of studying skunk rabies and its control in the north central states.

OF HOPE AND GLADNESS

How eagerly voices proclaim the glad truth—voices young and old; all join the wonderful refrain. Even nature swells the chorus. Flowers burst into bloom, everything speaks of new life and hope.

Practically everyone goes to church Easter Sunday. Almost everyone joins in the singing. Even the hardest heart feels a thrill of hope and gladness. The spirit of joy is contagious. If it could only last!

It can last if you make the Church a part of your life, and yourself a part of the Church. Prayer and Bible study will help you realize that the joy of the resurrection can be yours, not only at Easter, but through every day of every year. The Church needs you, and you need the Church. Accept the Easter message. Make it a vital part of your life. Prove to yourself and others that Jesus Christ has truly risen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME
The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE
Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...
Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL
All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system. This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY
We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20 year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

USDA Re-s[illegible] Program N[illegible] Includes Flax

Covers Farm-stored Flaxseed Now under Price Support Loan

The U.S. department of agriculture today announced that the reseal program for 1958 crops is being extended to include farm-stored flaxseed now under price-support loan or purchase agreement.

The reseal program will enable farmers to keep their 1958-crop flaxseed in farm storage under price support loans for another year following the original loan maturity date of March 31 in most states. Farmers will also be permitted to convert their purchase agreements on flaxseed in farm storage to reseal loans.

Resealing will give farmers an opportunity to earn storage payments and at the same time help ease the overall storage situation. Expected tight storage, particularly in the Northern Great Plains area, prompted USDA to broaden its reseal program to include flaxseed. Reseal programs have been announced previously for 1958-crop soybeans, barley, grain sorghums, oats, rye, corn and wheat, for 1957-crop barley, oats, corn and wheat, and for 1956-crop corn and wheat.

About 4.5 million bushels of 1958-crop flaxseed are currently reported under farm-stored price-support loans and about 3.4 million bushels under purchase agreements. Most of this flaxseed is stored in North and South Dakota and Minnesota, where storage may be tight during the price-support takeover of grains this spring.

The flaxseed reseal program, which is similar to the programs for other crops, will be made available in Minnesota on the basis of determination by State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Under the reseal program, farmers will earn storage payments during the time the grain is under reseal. At present, these storage payments for flaxseed are 18 cents per bushel for a full year's storage. If a farmer redeems his resealed loan prior to the new maturity date of March 31 1960, his storage payment will be pro-rated for the time of the loan.

Eligibility requirements for flaxseed under the reseal program will be the same for quality and storage as under the original loan.

The reseal program on flaxseed this year is the first since one on the 1954-crop. Storage payments on resealed flaxseed loans will give a supplementary source of income to producers who have available storage or build new storage.

Under the farm storage facility loan program, farmers may borrow up to 80 per cent of the cost of constructing new farm storage or making additions to existing structures. These loans are payable over a 5-year period and are at 4 per cent interest. Storage payments under the reseal program will help pay for the building cost.

Liquor Dispensary Sales and Profits Are Down Slightly

1958 Sales Aggregate $474,725, While Profit for Year Totals $71,150

The annual audit report of the Thief River Falls municipal liquor dispensary, completed last week, revealed that the establishment in 1958 had sales of $474,725.01 and earned a net income of $71,150.49.

Both figures are slightly below those of 1957, when sales totaled $489,082.93 and profits amounted to $73,806.15. Operating expenses also showed a decline in 1958, amounting to $73,169.53 compared to $75,606.57 for 1957.

On-sale liquor revenue in 1958 totaled $65, 268.30, while off-sales of liquor brought in $273,494.70; on-sale beer, $55,370.55, and off-sale beer, $74,607.57; and sales of cigarets and miscellaneous items brought in $5,983. 89.

Off-sales of beer, up slightly more than $1,000 from 1957, was the only category showing an increase in volume last year.

Congressman Langen to Address Chamber Next Thursday Night

REP. ODIN LANGEN

Rep. Odin Langen of Kennedy, who is spending a week in the Ninth district during the Easter recess of Congress, will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, April 2, at 6:30 in the Elks club rooms.

In announcing the appearance of the congressman here, President Sig Quam extended an invitation to people in this city and surrounding communities to attend the meeting, whether or not they are members of the Chamber.

Farmers will be interested in the subject of Langen's talk, the Wheat Bill he has introduced in Congress under H.R. 5060, that aims at full parity for the farmer on one hand and a reduction of surpluses on the other hand through a system of incremental price supports.

At present prices this program would mean increases of as much as 58 cents per bushel to the farmer who takes the option of participating, and it would mean an actual increased gross and net income to him.

Langen also will discuss other measures being considered by Congress.

Local Free Church to Share Apr. 2 in Progress Jubilee

Banquet to Celebrate 75th Anniversary of Parent Church Group

The Thief River Falls Evangelical Free church this week is cooperating in an international Program for Progress Jubilee marking the 75th anniversary of the Evangelical Free church of America.

A jubilee banquet on Thursday, April 2 at 7:00 p.m. will bring to the church Dr. Arnold T. Olson, Minneapolis, president of the Evangelical Free church of America, as the main paeaker.

Fifty per cent of all funds raised in the Jubilee drive will remain with the local congregation for one of its projects. Plans announced by Pastor Joseph Swan and church chairman Clyde Christensen reveal that the local group plans to retire the church debt and expand the work with its share of the Jubilee fund.

The Program for Progress will result in the establishment of major outposts of Christian faith in all parts of the world. Among the international projects scheduled are Bible institutes or seminaries in Venezuela and the Belgian Congo. A new dormitory will be built at Trinity Seminary and Bible College in Chicago, the denomination's main educational outlet. The blueprint also calls for major advances in Hong Kong, the Philippines and Japan in addition to a variety of extensions in North America.

The local congregation was organized in 1901. It is one of more than 400 such churches affiliated with the Evangelical Free church.

Newfolden Lions Plan Watershed Meeting April 2

A public information meeting on the proposed watershed project in Marshall county will be held Thurs. evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock in the Newfolden high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Newfolden Lions club.

It was announced that the club is sponsoring the meeting as a public service and has taken no stand on the proposals. All interested persons are invited to attend and share in the discussion.

Jaycees to View Water Carnival Movies Thursday

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will view movies of the 1958 Jaycee water carnival at their meeting Thursday evening, April 2, in the Elks club rooms. Nominations also will be accepted from the floor for offices to be filled in the forthcoming Junior Chamber election. These would be in addition to the slate proposed March 19 by the nominating committee.

Red Lake Electric Co-op Meets Apr. 1

Annual Meeting Set for Red Lake Falls Wednesday

The Red Lake Electric Cooperative will hold its 21st annual meeting Wednesday, April 1, in Red Lake Falls. Manvel Moe, board president, will be in charge.

Registration will start at noon and the meeting will begin at 1 p.m. A hot-line safety demonstration will be given by Tom Findlay, safety instructor of the Minnesota Electric Cooperative Assn. Three directors will be elected.

Music will be provided by the Red Lake Falls high school band, Donald Walker of Red Lake Falls, and the Moe girls of Thief River Falls.

1958 Model Ford Car Stolen Here

Police reported today the theft of a 1958 model car belonging to an Easter visitor in the city.

The theft was reported at 8:45 a.m. Sunday by Mrs. William R. Gannon, Cloquet, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Amanda Larson at 220 Tindolph av. S.

The car was described as a 1958 Ford Customline 300 four-door sedan with two-tone green and cream finish.

George Mostues to Be the Host Family for '59 Foreign Student

National headquarters of the American Field Service in New York has approved the application of Mr. and Mrs. George Mostue to be host family for an exchange student from overseas during the coming year.

Roy J. Oen, chairman of the Thief River Falls chapter of the field service, announced that the student, whose identity will be determined later, will attend Lincoln high school as a senior.

This will be the fifth student to be brought to the city under the program, the first three having been guests in the Roy M. Barzen home, while this year Mary Demetrellou from Greece is staying at the Dr. J. W. Ewing home.

Oen stated that in the counterpart Americans Abroad summer program, a total of 2,900 U. S. students have filed applications to share in the program by spending the summer abroad, including three from Thief River Falls. Approximately 900 students will be chosen to make the trips.

C. Christensen on Sire Committee

To Help Pick Holstein Bulls for Breeders Group

Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls recently was elected to serve on the Holstein bull committee of the American Breeders for the purchasing of sires. He will receive all information on these proved sires and vote on which sire would be best to increase the efficiency of dairy herds.

From his past experiences he is well qualified for the position. In 1955 the Junior Chamber of Commerce selected him as the outstanding young farmer from this community. Also in 1955 the Future Farmers of America chose him as an outstanding young farmer. Later he served as president of the FFA chapter. He is also a member of the Dairy Herd Improvement assn.

Workers for Red Cross to Canvass City on Tuesday

Red Cross workers will canvass Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire Tuesday afternoon or evening to solicit funds for the support of the American Red Cross and the Pennington county chapter, it has been announced by Ralph T. Hunt, chapter chairman and director of the drive.

Workers will make the house-to-house drive in the city under the direction of 30 captains who have been appointed.

Mrs. Verne Lindquist of St. Hilaire will be in charge of the drive in that community.

First Dist. Nurses Assn. Meet Apr. 9 at N. W. Hospital

Association Also Plans Series of Seminars in City April 6 Thru 27

All members of First District Minnesota Nurses association are urged to attend a meeting to be held April 9 at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls. Miss Baldwin, dietician at the hospital, will be the speaker, according to Vivian Forseth, chairman of the public relations committee.

Seminars sponsored by the association will be given during April in Thief River Falls and Crookston. The Thief River Falls sessions will all be held at the School of Practical nursing from 8-10 p.m. on April 6, 13, 20 and 27. The first two Crookston sessions will be from 8-10 p.m. at Bethesda hospital and the last two at the same hour at St. Francis hospital.

Miss Laura Hegstad of the Minnesota Department of Health will be guest speaker at the first two meetings, speaking on "Rehabilitative Nursing Techniques." Mrs. Kimi Hara of the state health department will speak at the latter two sessions respectively on "Current Problems of Infection" and "Nursing Care of the Premature."

Welcome to attend the seminars are registered, graduate and licensed practical nurses, student professional nurses and student practical nurses. Fee for the seminars will be 50 cents for non-members of the Minnesota Nurses association. Student nurses will be admitted free.

TRF Saddle Club to Meet Thursday

Those interested in joining the Thief River Falls Saddle club have been urged by President Bud Mercier to attend the third meeting of the club this Thursday, April 2, at 7:45 p.m. at Joppru's sales barn.

Speaker at the meeting will be Vernon Skretvedt of the Crookston Saddle club. Lunch will be served.

Flood of Bills Is Introduced in Legislature

Senate Given 152 Bills Thursday and Lower House 118

A flood of bills, unprecedented even for the last day for introduction without consent of the governor, was submitted in the Minnesota Legislature Thursday.

A total of 152 proposals presented in the Senate broke all single day records. The introducing process consumed so much time little else was accomplished in a two-hour session.

New bills in the House numbered 118, and brought the total for the session thus far to 1,640. That's 282 fewer than had been introduced at the same point in the 1957 session.

The new bills in the Senate raised the aggregate to 1,470.

The new bills covered a wide range of subjects, including some likely to produce considerable controversy.

One new proposal in the Senate would repeal the 10 cents a pound tax on oleomargarine containing less than 65 per cent of animal fat. The tax has been blamed for bootlegging oleomargarine from nearby states.

Another bill would set up a five member state milk control board to supervise and regulate the dairy business. The board would have the power to fix prices. Similar bills have been introduced in the House.

Billboards nearer than 660 feet from the edge of an interstate highway would be prohibited, except by permission of the highway commissioner, under another bill.

A new form of control of trading stamps was proposed in a bill requiring every stamp firm to file a $100,000 bond with the secretary of state.

An aroused Gov. Freeman said Saturday he has ordered preparation of slashed budgets for the next two years in case the legislature votes no new taxes by June 30.

"I'm thoroughly prepared for a special session," said Freeman. "I don't propose to be pushed around. I've got my fighting clothes on, and I won't be a nice boy any longer."

"If the legislature refuses to vote revenue necessary for state services, we'll have no alternative but to make deep cuts despite the fact they will cause great hardship and a severe setback to progress in this state."

He said there is a "likelihood" that the house and senate will stay in session until July 1 if they do not raise levies necessary to finance a 470-million-dollar program the governor has proposed for the two-year period beginning July 1.

At that date, he said, if the money hasn't been raised, he is prepared to permit temporary taxes to lapse and to continue the state government in operation at the much lower level of operation, permissable under current rates of revenue from permanent levies.

He said preliminary estimates of reduced operations involve cutting back school aids at least $50 per pupil unit, "further deep slashes" in University of Minnesota and state college budgets, no junior college program, reduction in state employes' wages, no mental health out-patient clinics and welfare cuts in old age assistance, aid to the disabled and to dependent children.

Unit for Retarded Sponsors Trip to Cambridge School

The Northwestern Minnesota Association for the Retarded is sponsoring an expense-paid trip, except for meals, to the Cambridge state school April 13. Local residents are invited to join in the trip, and get acquainted with the need for helping retarded children in this community. Reservations for the trip may be made by interested persons by calling or writing before April 4 either Mrs. Ted Booth, Mrs. Stan Cockrell or Mrs. Oscar Johnson.

CORNERSTONE Rev. Elmer Larson, left, of Minneapolis and Rev. Eldor Langager, right, pastor of the Mission Covenant church, use trowels to set the cornerstone of the new church between Pine and Spruce aves. on East Third St. Sunday afternoon. Behind the cornerstone was placed a copper box containing historical papers of the church and copies of the Thief River Falls Times.

Cancer Fund Workers to Set up Campaign at Meeting Tuesday

Mrs. G. H. Mayer-Oakes, city chairman for the Cancer Crusade which starts this week, announced today that all Pennington county volunteer workers are urged to attend an organizing meeting at the Community Methodist church at 8 p.m. Tuesday evening, March 31.

Business of the meeting will be to distribute the workers' Crusade materials. The cancer film 'Time and Two Women' will also be shown, and luncheon will be served by the ladies of the Community Methodist church.

The general public is reminded that all women over the age of 21 are invited to attend a free showing of the Cancer Society film, "Time and Two Women," a film showing women how to guard against uterine cancer, one of the worst types of cancer. The film will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Wed., April 1, at Washington grade school in Thief River Falls. A doctor will be on hand to answer technical questions which may arise.

Gordon Reierson Heads Elks Lodge

Elected Last Thursday to Succeed Dr .Gilbert

GORDON REIERSON

In the annual election of officers conducted by the local Elks lodge Thursday evening, Gordon Reierson was advanced to the top post of exalted ruler, succeeding Dr. Edward L. Gilbert, who has served the past year.

Others elected include E. A. Hamerski, leading knight; Jarvis Prichard, loyal knight; Edwin Broughton, lecturing knight; Ole E. Engelstad, secretary; R. J. Dryden, treasurer; Dr. Gilbert, trustee; and Olaf Myhrer, tiler.

Appointive officers will be announced later by Reierson.

Reierson also will represent the local lodge as delegate to the Elks national convention opening in Chicago July 5.

Rain Is Forecast in This Area Today

Mercury Reached High Mark of 53 Easter Sunday

Rain is expected over much of the nation today including northwest Minnesota, where skies are expected to be cloudy with colder temperatures and occasional light showers.

Tomorrow is expected to be mostly cloudy and warmer with rain by the afternoon.

The high today is expected to be in the lower 50's, according to the KTRF weather forecast, and the lows tonight in the lower 30's.

The high temperature recorded over the weekend was the 53 degrees Easter Sunday and the low of 21 was posted Thursday night. The low last night was 38.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CLASSES RESUME TUESDAY MORNING

Cornerstone Laid Sunday by Mission Covenant Church

Numerous Parishioners Took Part in Ceremony at New Church Edifice

The cornerstone of the new Mission Covenant church edifice was laid and the parsonage was dedicated Sunday afternoon in services attended by members of the congregations of several city churches.

The cornerstone ceremony was preceded by services in the church in which Rodney Brodin, chairman of the building committee, and Donald Thyren, chairman of the church, took part; Rev. Eldor Langager, pastor of the church, was joined by Rev. Elmer Larson of Minneapolis in the service and in the cornerstone laying ceremony.

A copper box was sealed in the cornerstone containing a copy of the Bible; the proposed revised constitution; Covenant Conference News of Sept. 15 and Dec. 15, 1958; the golden anniversary booklet; church membership and board membership lists and officers of church organizations; a cornerstone bulletin; and copies of the Thief River Falls Times of March 19 and 26, 1959.

Supreme Court Upholds City in Kierk Case

Rules City Had Right to Dismiss C. Kierk as Airport Manager

The state supreme court has upheld a decision of the district court of Pennington county, Judge Paul J. Lundgren presiding, which found in favor of the city of Thief River Falls in a case brought by Christ B. Kierk, former manager of the municipal airport.

Kierk claimed that he was hired as manager of the municipal airport on July 22, 1952 at a fixed salary of $275 a month. He alleged that as a part of the employment agreement, the municipality agreed to lease to him for $25 a month the building in which he operated the airport cafe. From the date he was hired, he operated the cafe until he took a four-month leave of absence beginning Jan. 1, 1957.

In the district court trial, in which Kierk was represented by attorney Gordon LaBree and the city by Robert A. Wurst, city attorney, Kierk alleged that on his return to the city April 1, 1957, he was advised that his employment had terminated and that other arrangements had been made for the operation of the cafe. Kierk then sought damages claiming unlawful dismissal from his employment and unlawful cancellation of his lease of the cafe building.

The supreme court found that there was nothing in the city ordinance or resolution of the council which in any way indicated an intention on the part of either the city or Kierk that the employment relationship or the lease should be anything other than a month-to-month arrangement. (Kierge had claimed that he was employed on a year-to-year basis.) The higher court decision also stated that Kierk had not called to its attention any provision of the law which established tenure in the case or fixed any term of the office.

The decision concluded, "It must follow that, since the municipality had a right to terminate the plaintiff's employment it cannot be held liable for damages alleged to have resulted therefrom."

Sheriff Reports Vandalism, Theft

Car of Arnold Gunderson of Rocksbury Damaged

Two recent cases, one each of vandalism and burglary, were reported to have occurred in rural Pennington county by Sheriff Charles Richards, who is currently investigating the cases.

Sunday Arnold Gunderson of Rocksbury township, reported some parties in a car stopped near his driveway off a county road and smashed the tail lights and rear window of his 1956 model station wagon early Sunday morning. The Gunderson vehicle was parked in the farm driveway just off the road at the time the vandals paid their visit. Approximately $60 damage was caused.

Also reported was a break-in at the D. S. Green farm home in Norden township at some time within the past two weeks. Taken were six rifles and shotguns and reloading equipment valued at $450. The house was vacant at the time so the exact time of the break-in was not established except that it was known to have occurred within the past two weeks.

Burglars Obtain $1,200 in Loot at Clearbrook Store

Burglars pried open a safe in the Cliff Brunsberg hardware store at Clearbrook and fled with about $1,200 in cash and checks authorities said Thursday.

Clearwater county officials said the theft Wednesday night appeared to be the work of professionals. The thieves entered through an adjoining grocery store, from which $40 in cash and groceries were stolen.

Iileen Gjovik Married To William Swick March 21

Miss Lileen Gjovik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gjovik of Strathcona, and William Swick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Swick of rural Thief River Falls were united in marriage Saturday, March 21, at the Evangelical Free church in Strathcona. Rev. Charles Crabtree performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of approximately 200 guests.

The pre-nuptial music was played by Mrs. Nels Hamness, aunt of the bride. Before the bridal party entered Eldor Erickson played a violin solo and Grant Gjovik sang "God Gave Me You." A duet "Thru Life Together," was sung by Grant and James Gjovik and, as the couple knelt at the altar, Grant Gjovik sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over layers of net and satin featuring a Sabrina neckline with tiny buttons extending down the back and long sleeves which came to a point over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls and her double strand pearl necklace was a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. The tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue was also carried out.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was the groom's sister, Miss Geraldine Swick of Duluth and bridesmaid was Miss Carol Gjovik, cousin of the bride. The bride's sister, Lee Ann Gjovik was junior bridesmaid. Their identical gowns were of pink satin brocade with matching headbands. To compliment their attire they wore white gloves and carried bouquets of white carnations and pink roses. Their rhinestone and pearl necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Miss Debra Erickson was flower girl and she wore a floor length white satin dress and carried a basket of rose petals. Her pearl necklace was also a gift from the bride. Serving as ring-bearer was Terry Gjovik, brother of the bride.

The groom was attended by Curtiss Melby of Minneapolis as bestman and groomsman was Clifford Swanson of St. Hilaire. Junior groomsman was Sheldon Lorenson of Strathcona and serving as ushers were David Carlson and James Gjovik, cousins of the bride. The men in the wedding party wore white dinner jackets, dark trousers and white carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gjovik chose a blue figured dress with white accessories while Mrs. Swick, mother of the groom, wore a blue dress with white accessories. Their identical corsages were of pink roses and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's parents in the church parlors with Mrs. Roy Gjovik acting as hostess. The serving table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake which was baked and decorated by the bride's mother and her aunt, Mrs. Alice Hamness.

Mrs. Clarence Carlson of Stephen cut and served the cake while Mrs. Richard Novacek of Greenbush and Mrs. Curtiss Melby of Minneapolis poured. Those assisting with the serving were Mrs. Raymond Erickson, Mrs. Conrad Hanson, Mrs. Clifford Lorenson, Mrs. Ed Lorenson, Mrs. Eldor Lorenson and Mrs. Clarence Erickson. Waitresses included Loreen Hanesta, Bonnie Carlson, Marlene Lorenson and Shirley Rud. They all wore pink and white aprons, gifts of the bride.

Miss Norma Swick of this city registered the guests while Miss Gladys Pesek of Minneapolis and Mrs. Shelva Harbott of this city arranged the gifts. In charge of the flowers was Marlys Lorenson.

During the reception appropriate instrumental music was played and Bobby Gjovik and Geoline Brossom sang "I Love You Truly."

The couple left on a short wedding trip after which they will make their home in St. Paul.

Out of town guests were from Newfolden, Greenbush, Minneapolis, Winnipeg, Grand Forks, Stephen, Pine Creek, Hitchcock, South Dakota and this city.

Beauty Tips from ME to YOU

By JO ANNE WEDUL

A few words about lip lines.

If you have a heavy mouth, don't try to change the shape too much — strike a compromise. If the lower lip is too heavy, give the upper lip a more generous application of lipstick. Don't select the darkest shades of lipstick and shade off the color at the corners of the mouth if the mouth is large.

For lips that are too thin, use rich reds for a fuller, riper effect.

Match your rouge to your lipstick. You need a brush to make a smooth, becoming mouth. Don't be discouraged if at first you have trouble with the brush. Face a mirror and practice using a lip brush until you have mastered it.

You'll find your hair looks better with less work when you begin with a really good HAIRCUT and PERMANENT. To look your loveliest the easiest, call JO ANNE'S BEAUTY SHOP at MU 1-4405 or drop in the next time you're down town at 107 EAST THIRD STREET.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Ray Loesch, Minneapolis, Minn.: I remember from my old home town: the first open window that let the sound of the birds and the warm south winds into the house. My father spading the garden with my mother and me raking out the clods, and mother digging a sweet pea trench and tenderly planting the seeds. Lugging the living room and dining room rugs out to a spot on the back lawn where the grass was long enough and green enough to lay them. And then the laborious task of beating them with a rug beater until my knuckles were red and raw and winter's dust permeated my nostrils.

The business of removing the storm windows and carrying them to the woodshed for replacement with screens, many of which had been marked for the proper windows. Also bringing the canary in his cage out to the back porch for his first exposure to the sunshine of spring.

Spring also meant removing the hard coal burner from the living room and the dismantling of the sections of stove pipe that led from the stove to the chimney. I can still see my mother with a white dust cloth wrapped around her head laying newspapers on the floor under the stove and hear her squawking to father when he carelessly let some soot fall from the stove pipe sections.

It was a happy day for me each spring when the hard coal burner was relegated to the woodshed. It meant that for six months I would not have to carry in the coal and carry out the ashes.

CANDID COMMENT

by Mack Draper

There are people in this world who have the knack of getting themselves into trouble where everyone else finds peace and serenity. I fit very well into this category.

It seems I picked a very hot potato in this daylight saving time matter. But, I believe, I can offer something in the way of explanation on my stand in the matter. That is, I believed at the time that DST is a popular thing with the majority of working people in Thief River Falls. I still believe that.

But, where I went wrong was in believing that the majority wanted it badly enough to speak up for it. So far I have been verbally kicked in the teeth several times and have yet to see a vestige of written support from a single soul who stands to benefit from DST.

I come from a long line of people who believe in calling a spade a spade, so that's why I put in my two cents worth on DST, thinking it to be an issue with much popular appeal in this city. I do not pick subjects deliberately to make people angry, please understand that.

I have had my say about DST. Personally, I don't give a hoot whether we have it or not—I lived 35 years without DST and can't see that it has hurt or helped me. The fact remains that I like it. I believe a majority of people here like it as well as I do because of our short summers.

The point I want to make here is that anything worth having is worth speaking out for and a person who doesn't have the courage to stand up for his convictions isn't worth the powder to blow him to you-know-where.

The best way I know of to be disenfranchised is for the majority to keep still on issues that draw a little fire. A good illustration of this is the fact that the 57 outdoor theatre operators, mainly responsible for the anti-DST drive, apparently carry more weight in the Minnesota Senate than the 55 to 60 per cent of Minnesotans for DST.

Let me repeat, I didn't write about DST just to make people angry—I don't do things that way. I think I was quite temperate in my approach to the matter. But, the results have been anything but temperate.

Not that I'm thin-skinned, understand — I just don't want to have enemies, to put it simply.

Well, that's that. From now on we'll stick to inoffensive platitudes — that won't get folks up in arms. One doesn't say anything worthwhile that way but apparently platitudes are in popular demand nowadays. Anything worth saying creates too much dissension.

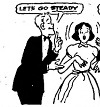
FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Going "Steady" Has Disadvantages

By C. D. Smith



A young girl of sixteen considers herself burdened with quite a problem. She dates two boys regularly and each one has asked her to go "steady" (with him only, that is).

Her problem is not as big as she thinks it is, however. She says that she isn't sure, but "maybe" she likes one boy a little bit better than she does the other. But she isn't sure.

We think it would be quite foolish for this young lady to agree to "go steady" with either boy. Apparently she enjoys the company of both and accordingly there is no reason for her to have to stop dating one boy in order to please the other one.

To be perfectly truthful about the situation, some boys believe in "going steady" because it's pretty convenient—they don't have to worry about getting a date for the next prom or social affair. This doesn't mean that they don't care anything about the girl—to the contrary, they do, or they wouldn't enjoy her company or want to be with her most of the time. But sometimes they enjoy the convenience of not having to worry about getting dates as much as they enjoy the companionship of their "steady."

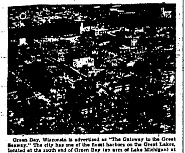
The girl (or boy) who is popular and attractive sacrifices some of that popularity by going "steady." It's not that people like her (or him) any less but—the boy and girl who go "steady" lose their individuality in the minds of their friends and become a "team." Where you see one, you see the other. Invite one to a party, invite the other. Don't ask either one for a date—they're going steady.

There comes the time when every boy and girl feels that the "right one" has finally come along. Then it's time to start going "steady" and determine if this is the one "for life." Sound advice: Have fun while you are young; don't go "steady" until you are ready.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

AMERICANA — Cities To See

Green Bay, Wisconsin



Green Bay, Wisconsin is advertised as "The Gateway to the Great Seaway." The city has one of the finest harbors on the Great Lakes, located at the south end of Green Bay (an arm of Lake Michigan) at the mouth of Fox River. The Port of Green Bay services the 11 states west to the Rocky Mountains.

The history of Green Bay began in 1634 when Jean Nicholet stepped ashore from a birch-bark canoe and claimed the region in the name of the King of France, calling it Baye La Verte (French for Green Bay.) For many years, La Baye and the entire Fox-Wisconsin waterway was the most productive fur trade region in all of New France.

The United States, in the ordinance of 1787, provided for the annexation of the Northwest Territory, which included Wisconsin. The City of Green Bay was incorporated in 1854, and has grown steadily since that time.

Today, Green Bay is a city of some 62,172 people. The city boasts the world's largest tissue mills, enough cheese business to earn the title, "Capital of the Cheese Industry," national advertising manufacturers in many lines. A city of diversified manufacturing, Green Bay products include cranes and excavating machinery, automobile parts and bodies, processed foods, concrete products, fabricated steel, lime, tape, wax and cellophane, dairy products and lenses.

Green Bay is the second largest coal shipping port in Wisconsin and perhaps the largest storage plant for petroleum products on the Great Lakes.

The county seat of Brown County, Green Bay is one of the most beautiful and charming of Wisconsin cities. About 78 per cent of the people in Green Bay own their own homes which greatly exceeds the national average.

The city has 400 acres of parks and a staff of 250 full and part-time leaders directing city-sponsored recreational activities.

Grandson of Local Woman Interred

Funeral services for Jerry Lee Heinze, 15, son of Rev. and Mrs. B. C. Heinze of Watertown, S. Dakota and grandson of Mrs. Hannah Heinze of Thief River Falls, was held recently at the First Methodist church of Watertown. Jerry was killed instantly in an auto accident east of Watertown.

Officiating at the rites was Rev. Wendell Reed of Bismark, N. Dakota, Rev. Richard Tuffe of Mitchell, S. Dakota, state president of Christ's Ambassadors of the Assemblies of God church and Rev. Irvin J. Parce, pastor of the Watertown Congregational church.

Jerry was born April 21, 1943 at Fergus Falls, Minn. and since then lived in Benson, Minn., Hastings, Neb., Sisseton, S. Dakota before moving to Watertown last October.

He was active in athletics and particularly active in church work. He was president of Christ's Ambassadors, the young people's organization of the church.

Surviving are his parents, two brothers and twin sisters and the grandmother, Mrs. Heinze, of this city.

Mrs. T. Torjussen Dies Here Sunday

Mrs. Torjie Torjussen, formerly Mrs. Frank E. Phelps, died Sunday March 29 at the local hospital at the age of 78.

Funeral services have been set for Thursday, April 2 at 2 p.m. at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle with Rev. Robert Abbott officiating. The body will lie in state at the Gulbranson Funeral home from Tuesday evening until 11 a.m. Thursday and at the church one hour before time of services.

A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Olaf Bolstad Dies At Crookston

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, April 1, at 3 p.m. in Fisher Lutheran church for Olaf Bolstad, 75, who died at a Crookston hospital Saturday, March 28, following a lingering illness.

Officiating at the services will be Rev. Clayton C. Engen, with interment to be in the church cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Stenshoel Funeral home in Crookston Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Bolstad was born Dec. 11, 1883, in Norway. He came to this country as an infant and lived in Norman county for many years before moving to the Thief River Falls area. He was united in marriage to Anna Ness in 1919 at Thief River Falls. He lived in Rome township near Fisher until 1951, when he became ill and has been a resident of Bethesda Nursing home in Crookston.

Surviving are one brother and two sisters; Henry of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Paul, Alma Ostgaard of Elk River, Minn., and Mrs. Dorothy Henderson of Denver, Colorado. He was preceded in death by his wife.

Last Rites Held for Henry M. Hope Grygla Resident

Funeral services for Henry Moore Hope of Grygla will be conducted Saturday, March 28 at 3:00 p.m. at St. Olaf's Lutheran church in Grygla. Rev. Arthur Dale will officiate and interment will be made in the church cemetery. Mr. Hope passed away in Grand Forks at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Riley on Tuesday, March 24. He was 69 years old.

Henry Hope was born November 23, 1890 in Winnebago, Minn., and later moved with his parents to St. Paul, where he grew to manhood. On December 14, 1921 he was united in marriage to Esther Bucholz and they made their home in Grygla.

Survivors include his wife, Esther; two sisters, Mrs. Ray Miller and Mrs. Joe Malone, both of St. Paul; three brothers, Joe of Pequot Lakes, Robert of Winnebago and Carl of Jordan, Minn. and also several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by two brothers and one niece.

Arrangements were made by the Byers Funeral Home of Grand Forks.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Two farmers provided better homes for wildlife in Douglas county last fall. According to county agent Eldon Rost the projects were in cooperation between the Douglas Soil and Water conservation district and the Heart O'Lakes Fish club. Art Engelbrecht had one of the two. He dynamited open water areas in a large marshy area. Lloyd Hokanson sprayed cattails and sedges to create open water areas in a large slough choked with these plants. Purpose of the trials was to improve duck habitats.

Many livestock farms could use some rye pasture—at least, in the view of Hugh Reiger, Northome. He made a greater profit than ever before. It all started with George Sakes, Itasca county rural development agent, and Morris Blackburn, SCS technician helped him work out a conservation pulan. It called for 5 acres seeded to rye in August for fall and spring grazing. When permanent pasture started to peter out in fall, he turned the lambs into the rye and was able to finish them on pasture alone. The rye will provide more pasture this spring and he will then harvest it as grain.

Where a farmer needs a tile drainage system, it will cost him around $25 per acre to put in a pumping station for an outlet. This is where there is no standing water to remove. If there is surface water, the cost will be higher. Agricultural engineers at the University of Minnesota make these estimations according to a survey of southern Minnesota drainage pumping plants. These stations are mostly for tile drainage systems where there is no gravity outlet.

Farm land values in Minnesota have increased about 40 per cent since 1943, even though net farm income decreased by 10 per cent during the same period. Along with the land value increase, farm mortgage debt has also risen—from $361.6 million in 1953 to $490 million in 1956. According to R. P. Dahl, University agricultural economist, 44 per cent of this mortgage debt—the largest share—is held by individuals.

2d Lieut. Rodger Elofson Finishes Officers School

Among 257 second lieutenants who completed the 30-week officers' basic course March 14 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., was Rodger H. Elofson, son of Mrs. H. N. Elofson of Thief River Falls, and husband of the former Miss Alice B. Streibig of East Grand Forks.

He is a graduate of the University of North Dakota.

The basic course is compulsory for all newly commissioned Marine officers, including former enlisted men, college graduates, or graduates of the U.S. Naval Academy.

Trucks are on the nation's highways because they perform essential services, linking rural areas to nearby or distant markets, delivering the bread and butter that keeps the nation fed, and carrying essential goods to plants and mills.

In the for-hire trucking industry and warehousing, the average annual wage per employee in a recent year was $5,261 compared with the average for all private industry of $4,211, according to a recent Department of Commerce report.

Two Furnaces

The practices of using two or more gas-fueled forced warm air furnaces in a single large dwelling is spreading. Savings in ducts help offset the cost of the equipment, and different temperatures may be maintained in the separate zones.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA Contact Representative at the Grand Forks VA office.

Q—If I should add the total disability income rider to my GI insurance and later become disabled so I could not work, how much money would I receive?

A—You would receive, after you had been totally disabled for six months, income amounting to $10 a month for each $1000 of your GI insurance. The maximum disability income is $100 a month.

Q—Is a veteran obliged to report disability compensation as income, in filing his federal income tax?

A—No. Disability compensation paid by the VA is not taxable, nor are other VA benefit payments.

Q—I am applying for a GI loan to buy a farm. Do I have to live on the farm to qualify for the loan?

A—No. You must, however, at least supervise the farming operations.

Q—The daughter of a neighbor of ours is a war orphan, with a physical handicap. Must she wait until her eighteenth birthday before she can begin training, under the War Orphans Education Act?

A—No. A law passed last year gave boys and girls with handicaps, who previously would have to wait until their eighteenth birthday, the right to begin special types of War Orphans training when they reach age 14.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Good Manners

We are all eager to help our children get along well with others, and so we start teaching good manners as soon as our child is able to say a few words. At times we expect much more from the children than they are capable of. So often we introduce our youngster to a new grown-up and expect him to shake hands and say "How do you do." A child of two needs time to get used to the presence of a new adult. If he is pushed too fast, he may become self-conscious and resistant.

The first step in teaching manners is to help our child like people. Real politeness goes with the way a person feels. Manners are catching. If we are considerate of our children, they will learn to be considerate of others. Little children learn more by watching than by being coaxed into saying something they do not mean.

A child who grows up in a family whose members are thoughtful of each other will absorb kindliness. Tommy will learn to say, "Thank you," because the others in the family say it and mean it. On the other hand, Dick may hold his fork right, and know how to take his hat off to a lady, but how he feels in a certain situation may dictate whether he uses his "know how" or not. Incidentally, the less the formal the setting, the less formal the manners. When we are accustomed to seeing rather casual manners at home, we are often pleasantly surprised to find that our children, like us, can be exceedingly polite and proper when the occasion demands its.

Many mothers find that it helps to have children assist them when they have guests, by showing guests where to put their coats, or passing cookies, etc. When the child has something to do, he is not as likely to be embarrassed and awkward.

A generous amount of praise for thoughtfulness usually brings much better results than criticism of mistakes.

DARK GLASSES

By Bertha Hudelson

LATE one autumn afternoon, young Bill Anderson watched a shining red convertible slide gently to a stop beside his high test gasoline pump. He eyed both the car and its sharp looking, yellow-haired driver approvingly. She seemed vaguely familiar, but her dark glasses made him too uncertain to do more than casually remark about the weather. He hoped her order would be big. If so, maybe, just maybe, he could get his Mary their first anniversary present, and, when her husky voice told him to "fill it up," his heart sang.

Her purchase would make it possible to fulfill his vow, that, if his cash sale, this last day of the first six month's ownership of the station, exceeded any other day.

After checking the oil and wiping the windshield and windows with great care, he stood courteously waiting for his money. But, instead of paying him, she said lazily, "Charge it!"

"Hey! Whose account?" Jim yelled, astounded, and then so mad that he started after her as if his legs could move eighty-five miles an hour as the car was doing. Suddenly, realizing his foolishness, he stopped with a jerk that rocked him on his heels.

At that moment his new friend highway patrolman Rod Murphy, drove up. This was luck. Jim heatedly rattled off his problem to the big, burly fellow who, instantly, with car snorting and siren blasting, streaked after the run-away blonde.

A long conversation took place which puzzled Jim. "Stringing him along, I'll bet," he told a fly resting on his arm, and then viciously swatted it as if it were the fair-haired lady.

But he had to stop his worried watching, because of another customer—an old man who wanted water only. After resentfully filling his radiator, he again gazed westward, but saw no red car. Only Rod returning slowly in his black one.

Jim's impatience had almost risen to the popping point when Rod reached the station.

However, before Jim could ask any questions, a third customer arrived — a big, bossy looking woman. If the diamonds on her fingers meant anything, he wouldn't need the blonde's cash, after all. Yet when she ordered "A dollar's worth, and make it snappy!" Jim knew Mary's rug was doomed.

Well, one thing for sure, he meant never again to run risks with women—either the pin-up or sour-puss type. Consequently, as he stood waiting for his money, he kept her gas tank cap cupped in his hand. But his precaution and worry were wasted. She begrudgingly handed him her dollar and, before he could replace the cap, was off with a screeching of tires.

"Hey!" he yelled to Rod, tossing him the cap. "Get this to her!"

In no time flat Rod was gone and when back again, still looking sheepish, he motioned Jim to his car. "Here! Cash with an apology!" and thrust a five dollar bill into Jim's lax hand. "Isn't this what the lady owed?"

Jim's hand closed tightly around it as his mouth sagged open. "It's a little more. But I'll be danged! You must have scared her good. I was going to charge that sale up to live and learn. I'll get your change."

Rod grinned. "Keep it. She thought you knew her. She's taking a four hour vacation from homework and kids, and we've got a date."

"Date!" Jim stared in disapproval, which changed to relief when Rod added, "She's my wife, Jan!" and with a jaunty wave was gone.

COLD WAR

AS variable as the proverbial showers of the present month are the events in the "cold war" going on throughout the world. Who can tell what will come next in this conflict?

Scarcely had a certain man returned to Moscow from his tour of the United States when there was a get-together of premiers in the Russian capitol. The results of that conference have hardly brought Utopia, while across Asia a cold war is ever and anon punctuated by bursting shells over Quemoy.

Whatever the final culmination of world-shaking events of the present may be, let us do something about the cold war that troubles our home land. The manifestations of it cannot be described as cold, as lives are taken and homes ruined by the needs of those who fear not God nor regard man.

You have only to read the papers and listen to the radio to be advised of conditions that should disturb us all. If our Country and other countries do something about manifold evils within their own borders, the danger of the cold war erupting into bloody war will be done away.

The safe driving records of professional truck drivers, like those competing each year in the National Truck Roadeo, are impressive. In 1957 the four roadeo champions' combined driving records showed more than 1 million miles driven without an accident of any kind.

About one out of evry 12 passenger cars, and more than one out of every four trucks is used on the farm—a total of nearly seven million farm vehicles.

Russell Thunes Feted

A large number of relatives and other friends gathered at the St. Paull church Sunday afternoon. The occasion was a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thune and family.

A short program was presented as follows: "Bless This House" was sung by the audience. Scripture and prayer by Mrs. Carl Alberg; solo, Mrs. Clarence Weckworth; reading by Mrs. Sig Folkedahl. Clayton Mathson represented the congregation in extending words of regret for the Thunes leaving and well-wishes in their new home. Mrs. Herman Rude represented the ladies aid and Sharon Rude the Luther League with Mrs. Theodore Bjorge representing the Sunday school. Melvin Torkelson was master of ceremonies and presented the honored couple with a gift of money from the group. Russell responded with words of appreciation and thanks. The program closed with the audience singing "Now We will Bid One Another Farewell" and praying the Lord's Prayer. Pot luck lunch was then served. The honored guests and their relatives were seated at a table centered with a bouquet and candles. The Thunes are leaving Monday for Bismarck, N. D., where they will make their home and Mr. Thune will be engaged in construction work.

Sig Leverson of Embarrass came Saturday to spend a few days at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thune. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dahlen and boys of Grand Forks were Sunday dinner guests at the Thune home. Other visitors at the Thune home the past week were Mrs. Kermit Finstad, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Breiland, Barbara and Kathy; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Gustafson, Mrs. Sig Folkedahl, Jonathan and Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and Neil and Jerry, Mrs. Ted Bjorge, Mrs. Olga Konickson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Torkelson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Swanson and boys of St. Hilaire, Lena and Kathy Lundeen of Goodridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thune and family of Thief River Falls.

Ladies Aid to Meet

The St. Paull ladies aid will meet at the Melvin Torkelson home Thursday afternoon, April 2, at 2:30 o'clock. Hostesses are Mrs. Arnold Helgeland and Mrs. Torkelson.

Sunday dinner guests at the Ted Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Larry and Bruce of Grand Forks, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson and family. Monday guests at the Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sawdry and family. On their return to their home in Bemidji they were accompanied by Sharon, Susan and Stanton Sawdry, who had been visiting at the Johnson home since Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie LeCoursierre of Oklee visited Sunday at the Edwin Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alberg visited Monday at the Harry Ranum home in Thief River Falls, and at the Martin Finstad home. They also helped Martin celebrate his birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Arne visited Wednesday at the Manvel Hanson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dinsmore, Charles and Barbara of Minneapolis arrived Friday to spend the weekend at the Carl Alberg home.

Mr. and Mrs. Erling Lundeen and girls of Goodridge and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alberg visited on Tuesday afternoon at the Gust Gustafson home.

Old-Time Dance

A budget fund, "Old-Time" dance will be sponsored by the Plummer Farmers Union local at the hall Saturday evening, April 4. Music will be furnished by Ralph and Polly.

Anna Peterson and Donald Erickson left Wednesday for Lincoln, Neb., where they will spend a few days visiting at the Wallace Erickson home.

Wayne Erickson and Keith Peterson of Minneapolis came Wednesday to visit at their parents' homes until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dinsmore, Charles and Barbara of Minneapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alberg were Saturday dinner guests at the Hilda and Anna Alberg home in Thief River Falls.

Annual Meeting Lake Agassiz Scout Group in Grand Forks Apr. 12

The annual meeting and banquet of the Lake Agassiz Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at the University of North Dakota Student Union in Grand Forks on Sunday, April 12.

A business meeting will start at 2 o'clock in the Red River Room of the Student Union. The first part of the meeting will be devoted to training of personnel, discussing materials available, and establishing goals for the district commissioner staff, district organization and extension, and leadership training operating committees. Other meetings will be conducted simultaneously for Cub Pack and Troop personnel, including the unit leaders, committeemen and den mothers. The group will assemble later for a report of the council nominating committee, election of council officers, council finance report, and a finance campaign report.

Ladies attending the meeting will assemble in the Student Union at 2 o'clock for a tour of the campus. This will include the Student Union, Rehabilitation Center, one of the religious foundations, Bek Hall and will conclude with a tea at Johnstone Hall at which time they will be entertained by students of the University.

A movie, on the new Explorer program, will be shown to all Scouters and their wives in the Education Building at 5 o'clock.

A banquet will start at 6 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by the University of North Dakota Women's Chorale, under the direction of Miss Karen Hurdstrom. Henry Gredvig, leadership training chairman for the council, will present a medal and certificate to the scouters who have completed their leadership training requirements.

A highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver to several Scouters for their outstanding service in the Boy Scouts of America, and standing in the community, including business and professional affiliations. This award is the highest that a Boy Scout Council can confer on any Scouter. Since 1931, fourty-seven men have received this award.

Speaker for the evening will be Mr. Carl J. Jackson, Supt. Minnesota state reformatory, St. Cloud, Minnesota. Mr. Jackson's talk is entitled "A Sound Investment for the Future."

Otto Stenberg and Sandvig to Attend Red Owl Meeting

Three hundred fifty Red Owl agency operators from eight states will be shown new techniques in food merchandising at a Food and Fixture forum conducted by the agency division of Red Owl Stores, Inc.

Otto Senberg and S. G. Sandvig, of the Thief River Falls Red Owl store, will be among the food store operators attending at the Leamington Hotel in Min- the two-day meeting being held neapolis on April 6 and 7.

Food brokers, manufacturers and suppliers will display the newest in food products and packaging, and the latest developments in store fixtures.

Among the speakers will be Alf L. Bergerud, president of Red Owl Stores, Inc.

RLF Couple Note 70th Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zaiser in Same House for 70 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zaiser of Red Lake Falls quietly observed their 70th wedding anniversary last Thursday at their home. They were married March 20, 1889, by Justice of the peace Adam Zeh.

A singular circumstance of the anniversary is that Mr. and Mrs. Zaiser are living in the same house in which they went to housekeeping 70 years ago.

They are the parents of seven children, all of whom are living and include Mrs. Melvin Jorgenson of Albert Lea, Mrs. A. M. Bostrom of Pueblo, Colo., Mrs. George Bourdon of San Antonio, Texas, Mrs. Henry LaCrosse and Mrs. Alice Baker of Red Lake Falls, Robert Zaiser of Duluth and Gustaf Zaiser of Warroad.

Although somewhat afflicted with arthritis, Mr. and Mrs. Zaiser are up and about daily and Mr. Zaiser still takes a keen interest in community matters. Mrs. Zaiser has not been in the best of health lately. Mr. Zaiser observed his 89th birthday in January while Mrs. Zaiser will be 90 in April.

Lincoln High PTA to Elect Tonight

Dennis Rolle to Speak at Meeting in Cafeteria

The Lincoln high school PTA unit will conduct its annual election of officers at a meeting this evening, Monday, at 8 o'clock in the school cafeteria, Merle A. Lindberg, president, announced today.

Dennis Rolle, guidance counselor at Lincoln high, will discuss his work as well as speaking on preparation for college. Don Stewart will report on the Governor's youth traffic safety conference which he attended recently in St. Paul.

A high school musical group, under the direction of John K. Moura, will supply several selections. Lunch will be served following the program.

Bemidji Youth Is Death Victim in Car Spill Sunday

A Bemidji youth was killed Sunday morning when the car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned on a Bemidji street.

Dead was Philip Djonne, 18. He was a passenger in a car driven by Ronnie Bates, 18, who was hospitalized but not believed seriously injured. Other passengers, Sharon Djonne, 15, sister of the victim, Duane Myhron and Eugene Ammundson, both 18, were not injured.

Also dead as the result of a Sunday traffic accident was Mrs. Olive Hessel, Elbow Lake, who was killed when the car driven by her husband, Henry collided with another driven by Melvin Severson, Elbow Lake, at an Elbow Lake intersection about 1 p.m. Sunday.

HAVE A LOOK AT A FASCINATING HOBBY

Once again the Twin City chapter of the Minnesota Mineral Club invites the public to a free Gem and Mineral display. From 1:00 to 9:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 12, sparked by W. H. de Neul, these "modern stone agers" will exhibit their wares and their extraordinary skills in the Southdale Garden Court, Minneapolis. Colorful arrays of semi-precious stones prepared by the exhibitors themselves, are bound to prove both attracive and informative to young and old alike, as will demonstrations of actual cutting and polishing operations by these enthusiastic amateurs.

Red River Valley District Luther Leagues to Meet

"Let God Be God" is the theme for the Red River Valley District Luther League meeting to be held April 4 and 5 at Grace Lutheran church in Hallock.

The First Lutheran Luther League will present a 50-minute discussion on publicity and there will also be Bible Studies and discussion. During the business meeting, an election of officers will be held.

Recreation will take place after the banquet Saturday night. The closing rally at 3:00 Sunday will end the meeting.

THE Great Books Speak to Today

ON MORTALITY

WHEREVER your life ends, it is all there. The utility of living consists not in the length of days but in the use of time. A man may have lived long and yet lived but a little. Make use of time while it is present with you. It depends upon your will, and not upon the number of days, to have a sufficient length of life.

Is it possible you can imagine never to arrive at the place toward which you are continually going? And yet there is no journey but hath its end. And, if company will make it more pleasant or more easy to you, does not all the world go the self-same way?

—Montaigne.

Termination of activity, cessation from movement and opinion, and in a sense their death, is no evil. Turn thy thoughts then to the consideration of thy life—thy life as a child, as a youth, thy manhood, thy old age—for in these also every change was a death. Is this anything to fear . . . ? In like manner, then, neither are the termination and cessation and change of thy whole life a thing to be afraid of.—Marcus Aurelius.

The WORLD OUTDOORS
By MIKE

SPRING doesn't always come "on time" according to the calendar. It may be early or late. But, certainly Spring is the most eagerly awaited of the four seasons.

The robin's return is heralded in many areas as the first sign of Spring. In many a Southern town, the local folks say that Spring has officially arrived when the bank brings the "whittling" chairs up from the basement and returns them to their customary place in front of the usually time and weather-worn building.

For those who love the world outdoors, Spring is a time of rebirth. The naked trees begin to sprout their blossoms and the dull, brown grass begins to come alive again. The meadows and hillsides — barren and lifeless from a season of driving winter winds with its ice and snow—begin to sport little patches of green that grow and grow until all that was dark and drab is soon gone and forgotten.

Spring is the time to be outdoors, along a stream or a woodland trail. It doesn't take the eye of an expert to recognize the beauty of nature come to life again. There is a fresh, pleasing aroma about the growing things of spring that brings a feeling of peace and contentment.

And, if one has the patience to sit quietly beside a tree and for a time ponder the earth or the sky, it is possible to become a part of the world outdoors, rather than an intruder. The birds and animals venture from their hiding places and begin to move about and play again, flitting through the trees or scampering playfully along the ground.

Spring in the world outdoors can be strong medicine for the tired soul or the aching heart, and in this busy world, most of us would do well to give it a try.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Just Fair

From the comments of the fans who were in attendance at the championship round games at the 47th annual Minnesota state high school tournament last week, it's evident that the caliber of play was just ordinary. It is the consensus of these observers that the Wayzata Trojans are deserving champions, and that coach Jack Thurnblad's Region Five champions played up to their potential and were able to control the play in the three games in which they participated. It is the consensus, too, that Austin, from Region One, the defending state champion, was the second best team in the tournament. And it's not so certain that if the two teams, Wayzata and Austin, met again, that Wayzata would be the winner. Austin lost to Wayzata by a 55 to 52 score in a second round game, and at that the game hinged on a last minute shot by Austin's fine guard, Tom Kezar.

What did cause some comments by the tournament crowd was that such reputed powerhouse basketball teams as Minneapolis South, Willmar, Minnetonka, Chisholm and International Falls, failed to make the tourney. They all had their chances, but failed to carry through in district and regional play. It's a fact that Region Five, which includes the Minneapolis school, such suburban schools as Hopkins, Robbinsdale, Edina, St. Louis Park, and such out-state schools as Willmar, St. Cloud Tech, and others, is out of balance.

There is no comparison, let's say, between the number of top-flight teams in Region Five and those in Region Eight. It wouldn't be such a bad idea if the authorities would "beef up" Region Eight by including such teams as Moorhead, Hawley and Detroit Lakes in the regional setup. And then move Willmar out of the Minneapolis region.

There was a time when Moorhead was in Region Eight, and we would welcome the Spuds back again.

No Decision

Jim and Larry Stordahl, Roseau's all-state hockey tournament selections, were in town the other day, visiting and shopping. Jim will be graduating this spring (which is good news to Prowler hockey fans), and when queried as to which college he will attend next fall, Jim remarked that he was undecided. The choice, though, has been narrowed to Harvard or Minnesota.

Jim, who is a top-ranking student at Roseau, has applied for entrance at Harvard, and if the Crimson accept his application it is probable the Roseau athlete will enroll there. Jim has been on the Minnesota campus a couple of times, and he will be made welcome if he decides to cast his lot with the Gophers.

Larry, the younger brother, has another year of high school athletics remaining, and that's bad news for the Prowler football and hockey fans.

Card of Thanks

Dennis (Mark Trail) Langevin and Ivan (What in the World Happened Today) Bundy wish to extend their thanks to the many "brothers" who contributed so generously to the state high school basketball tournament pool. Dennis and Ivan, you see, won the pool when they picked the Wayzata team to win the state high school basketball championship, missing the final score by a only a couple of points."

The two boys have earmarked the prize fund, and it's quite a sum of money, for recreational purposes, such as fishing trips to Lake of the Woods, and game-bird hunting expeditions into the Fourtown area. The many contributors should derive some statisfaction out of the knowledge that Dennis and Ivan are utilizing their winnings in a wholesome manner.

And we hear that the two "boys" are contemplating organizing a refresher course in basketball forecasting for next season. There was no magic or luck connected with their choice of Wayzata, just the fact that they, as Langevin said, "know the game of basketball and its finer points.'

So Close

It's a foregone conclusion that one of these nights a team will chalk up a 1000-pin game in league bowling at the local alleys.

The Viking Tavern team of the Tuesday night Business league came up with a 998 game in the third game of their three-game series with the Pup Tent squad on Tuesday. That mark tied the single game high score as the Hamm's Beer team, in an early season game, had carded a 998.

The Vikings, though, had that 1000-pin game just about in their grasp on Tuesday. As it was the boys rolled very fine games to compile their 998, with Fred Jensen having a 181; Duane Bakke a 202; Art Overbye a 191; Dean Anderson a 203; and anchor Pat Poole a 221.

This high game gave the Vikings the odd game in their match with the Pup Tent, and continued the Vikings in the lead in the Business league standings. The Tavern holds a three-game lead over the runner-up Hamm's squad.

Wannaska Woman Accident Victim

Miss Rita Ingebrigtson, Biwabik Teacher, Killed

A school teacher from Biwabik, Minn., on her way home for the Easter holiday was killed Thursday night when her car left Highway 11 west of International Falls.

The victim was Rita Ingebritson, 24, a fifth grade teacher at Biwabik. She was driving to her home at Wannaska, 15 miles south of Roseau. The car crashed into a ditch after going off the road.

Miss Ingebritson formerly taught at Chisholm and Roseau before going to Biwabik. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ingebritson.

Her death raised Minnesota's 1959 traffic toll to 122, compared with 115 at this time a year ago.

Pair of Rear-end Collisions Occur Friday and Sunday

Two traffic mishaps totaling slightly over $200 were reported by city police over the Easter week-end. Both were rear-end collisons.

At 9:07 p.m. Friday Roy W. Storhaug, city, stopped for the stop sign at the corner of Horace av. and Third St. when a jeep driven by Donald W. LaFave, city, struck his car in the rear causing approximately $80 damage to it, none to the LaFave jeep.

LaFave was tagged for careless driving as a result of the mishap.

At 2:53 p.m. Sunday a car driven by David Bjorkman, going east on Third st. struck the rear of another car driven by Ernest Przybylski, city, who had stopped to make a left turn. The collison resulted in an estimated $125 damage to the Bjorkman car.

About one out of six vehicles is a truck, yet trucks pay about one-third of all highway user taxes in a typical year. In 1957 this amounted to about $2½ billion.

Marshall Co. SCD Holds '59 Meeting

Herb Halverson of TRF Spoke at Stephen Session

More than 70 people attended the Marshall county soil conservation district first annual meeting held in Stephen Tuesday, March 17, conducted by the board chairman, Kenneth Dufault, of Argyle.

Martin C. Lund, work unit conservationist from Grand Forks county, North Dakota, showed a film of work carried on in that county. Russell Younggren of Hallock, member of the Minnesota water resources board, spoke briefly on watershed development.

Herb Halverson, area conservationist of Thief River Falls, informed the group on what the Soil Conservation Service has to offer the district in the way of engineers, soil scientists, etc. He also covered Public Law 566, which was designed primarily for work on small watersheds, expressing his opinion of it being very suitable for the Red River Valley.

John Polley, district farm planner, presented the local picture of the past and future, commenting on the tremendous interest experienced this last year in farm drainage.

Goodridge PTA to Meet Wednesday

Officers to Be Named at Final Spring Meeting

The Goodridge PTA will meet in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 1, in the final session of this school year.

A cast of Goodridge high school students will present a one act play as a feature of the program.

Dr. David M. Brown, superintendent, will present and act as narrator for a fifteen minute color filmstrip produced by the National Education association and entitled "Breakthrough to Better Schools." The filmstrip analyzes and supports the Murray-Metcalf bill which is now before Congress.

Elections and installation of officers for the coming year will conclude the evenings program.

Many Citizens Want Inflation Continued Says Insurance Firm

Though they complain bitterly about rising prices, many millions of Americans don't really want inflation stopped. That fact is the greatest single handicap in the fight to halt this growing menace to our nation's security, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

A plain case of mistaken identity is at the bottom of this surprising reluctance, says the bureau's report. A great many people confuse inflation with the genuine prosperity it distorts and eventually destroys. The mistake can be disastrous, the report warns.

The average American standard of living has risen approximately 50 per cent since 1939—not because we have four times as many dollars in circulation, but because we are producing approximately 50 per cent more goods and services for each American consumer, the insurance company's study states. Inflation, however, has cheated large segments of our population out of any share in these magnificent gains.

Since 1939 our nation's total output of food, clothing, automobiles, medical care, etc. — all kinds of consumer goods and services — has approximately doubled, Government statistics reveal. Meanwhile our population has increased by only one-third. The net result is that we are now producing half again as much goods and services per U.S. inhabitant.

Such imposing gains are achieved essentially through new and more efficient factories, machinery, processes, and methods, which enable workers to turn out more goods per hour of work, the report points out.

But while we now produce twice as much total goods as in 1939, we have nearly four times as much money in circulation. Thus there are now twice as many dollars bidding for each unit of goods as there were in 1939. So each dollar can now buy only half as much goods—prices have doubled because of inflation.

And so widows and orphans, retired people, pensioned workers, and others dependent on fixed or nearly-fixed incomes not only have missed sharing in our prosperity's benefits, but many have been impoverished, as inflation robbed them of buying power.

Meanwhile, the report continues, individuals and groups who have been able to push their dollar incomes up rapidly in an inflation era have improved their living standards even more than the per capita average of approximately 50 per cent.

Thus our real gains in prosperity and well-being have come from more efficient production of the goods and services that actually make up our American standard of living, the report points out.

Inflation, it says, is merely an undesirable "hanger-on," promoting inefficiency, waste, extravagance, the cost-price spiral, speculation, and excessive debt. All of these factors promote still more inflation, pushing formerly sound, healthy progress into a feverish boom, which sooner or later brings on a recession to correct the excesses of inflation.

But by this very cycle of events inflation has become confused in many persons' minds with the waves of prosperity whose later stages it accompanies, the study says; the end of inflation has become associated with recession and "hard times."

The confusion must be dispelled through a constant flow of plain, non-technical public information on the basic economic facts of life, the study warns. In a democracy, inflation is almost impossible to halt when many millions of voters see it as a genial, "easy-money" Santa Claus, instead of recognizing it as the sneak-thief and vandal it actually is, the report concludes.

EARLY START Although the start of the basements shown in this photograph was unusually early, Harry Dahl, local excavation contractor, says it was not his earliest start. In 1941, he said, his crews dug a basement starting Feb. 15 and the building itself was well along by March 1 that year. The basement shown above is located on Kneale av. S. and another is also being excavated just to the right of this one (tractor shown at far right is doing preliminary excavating in hole just out of picture to right.) Builders and lending agencies predict more local building this year but declined to make a detailed forecast. These two homes are being built for sale by Ranum Construction Co.

Winners Selected in Butter Cookie Event

Two farm women and the daughter of a former champion were named top winners in the 7th annual Minnesota Butter Cookie contest Thursday.

An old recipe with a new wrinkle provided the winning touch in the "fancy" division for Mrs. Myrtle Anderson, a widow who lives on a farm a mile northeast of Kerkhoven. She won by "taking 'cinnamon fingers' and changing them into shorter and fatter 'cinnamon thumbs'."

Mrs. Elmer Young a Plainview dairy farmwife, won first place in the "plain" division with an entry of "rich butterscotch" cookies and 11-year-old Betty Enstad of rural Austin was champion in junior competition with "butter sugar" goodies.

Nearly 18,000 cookies were submitted in 846 entries from kitchens throughout Minnesota and neighboring states. The contest was sponsored by the Minnesota dairy industry committee and the Minnesota Creamery Operators and Managers association. All cookies go to patients at Gillette hospital for crippled children in St. Paul and those at the Veterans hospital and Old Soldiers Home at Fort Snelling.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Young each received a portable television set and Miss Enstad won a 4-speed record player. A special Princess Kay of the Milky Way drawing for an 8-place stainless steel flatware service was won by Mrs. Edward Swantz of Parkers Prairie.

Good cookie baking apparently is a family trait in the Elmer Enstad household at Austin. While sixth-grader Betty Enstad took top honors in junior competition with her butter sugar cookies, her mother's "caramel cream sandwich cookies" were rated third in the plain cookie division. Mrs. Enstad won first prize three years ago. Betty, who said she has been baking since she was 8 years old, has won a red ribbon for cookies in county fair competition.

Second and third prizes in fancy competition were won by Mrs. Paul Newpower (869 East Ivy) and Mrs. H. J. Zupfer (1095 Ryde) both of St. Paul. Second place in the plain division was won by Mrs. S. C. Blockhus of Blooming Prairie. Second and third prizes in both divisions were transistor radios and electric mixers.

Second and third place junior winners were Eleanor Blashock of Waldorf and Karen Saltvold of (7533 Fourth Avenue S.) Minneapolis, who won a clock radio and reflex camera, respectively.

Contestants in all divisions receive plastic aprons. Judges were Mrs. Russell Stansfield, Minneapolis home economist; Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press home economist; and Mrs. Algot Johnson of rural Dassel, 1958 contest champion.

Dairy Industry Commitee Picks Publicity Agent

Appointment of former Twin Cities newsman, Howard T. Ryan, as publicity director of the Minnesota dairy industry committee was announced Saturday, March 21, by Lew Conlon, MDIC manager.

Ryan, 30, was associate director of publicity and promotion for Minnesota's 1958 statehood centennial program.

Conlon said one of Ryan's duties with the statewide dairy industry promotion organization will be liaison with news media throughout Minnesota. He will work from MDIC offices at 2239 Carter Avenue, St. Paul 8.

National Guard Units in State to Enlist More Men

Department of Defense Authorizes Maintaining Membership at 400,000

The Army National Guard of Minnesota has been authorized a 60 per cent increase in enlistment of men without prior service during the next 3 months, Major General Joseph E. Nelson, adjutant general, announced today.

His announcement followed release of $2,000,000 by the Department of Defense in Washington to provide six months' active duty training for 8,100 additional Army Guardsmen in the next 3 months.

While procurement of enlisted men for the Army National Guard is a responsibility of the individual states, the active army establishment has been instructed to render whatever assistance state National Guard units may desire in meeting the expanded training quota.

General Nelson reported that the total state strength is somewhat below the presently authorized the Army National Guard and that this increase in quota will open enlistment possibilities in many Guard units. Interested personnel should contact their local National Guard Armory for details.

The Defense department's action was taken to comply with provisions in the 1959 defense appropriations act that Army National Guard strength should not drop below an average of 400,000 during the year. Present total strength of the Army National Guard is 392,000.

LOTS OF HIGH SCHOOL CONTESTS COMING UP

Whatever follows the uproarious annual high school basketball tournament may seem somewhat anti-climactic, though in the overall school programs and to the individual participants what's left is pretty important. State Drama Festival is April 4, Speech April 17, Golf June 1, Tennis June 1-2, Track June 2, Baseball June 23-24-25. Sanctioned track meets begin April 17 at Milford, Iowa, and Watertown, South Dakota; instate meets include Blue Earth, April 25, Northfield and Collegeville May 2, Worthington May 6, Fergus Falls May 8, Faribault May 9. This year's ski meet went to Duluth Central, followed by Duluth East and Minneapolis North; individuals honors went to Tom Canfield, Cloquet, Richard Joynes, Grand Marais, second. Hopkins won the debate tournament, Duluth East and West St. Paul in second and third places.

Dentists Advise Frequent Exams

42 Per Cent Haven't Seen Dentist in Three Years

The Minnesota State Dental association estimates that more than half of the state's residents may be courting serious tooth and gum trouble through failure to have frequent and regular dental examinations.

Dr. Carl V. E. Cassel, executive secretary, today cited results of a recent survey by the U.S. Public Health Service which, he said indicates that Americans in large numbers are badly neglecting their dental health.

The survey disclosed that 42 per cent of the people had not seen a dentist for three years or more and that only 36 per cent had visited one during the previous year.

"Unless Minnesotans are substantially above the national average, this means that well over half of them probably need dental attention right now.

"Evidently our often-repeated warning to see your dentist twice a year has not been very convincing.

"The dentist's insistence that you visit him regularly is not his means of drumming up more business," Dr. Cassel pointed out.

Quite the contrary, he said, examinations at six-month intervals can appreciably reduce dental bills.

Help for amateur housepainters
by Bud Kelly
your hometown Paint Expert
If you've thinking about painting your house, remember: the most expensive thing you can do is NOT paint a house that needs it; you're just inviting expensive repairs. So here are some tips to help you with the job.
Buy the right amount of paint. It saves time and money. Bring in the measurements of your house and we'll help you figure how much paint you need.
Be sure the surface is perfectly dry before you paint; paint put on damp wood will blister.
Always paint after the surface has cooled from the sun. Paint doesn't spread well on hot surfaces.
Paint only when temperature is at least 55 degrees. Paint may wash away later if it is chilled before it sets.
FREE! HAWAIIAN VACATION!
Enter our "Name the Paint" Contest. Nothing to buy. Fun. Come in for your entry blank and all the dope.
Good paint is a wiser buy than "bargain" paint. Remember, good paint is only 20% of a professional painter's bill. And anyone can get professional results with Supermix House Paint. Its quality matches that of any paint on the market, yet its price is well below that of comparable paints.
Supermix Outside White Paint is made for this climate, gives a dazzling white finish, goes on easily, covers beautifully, lasts longer. Come in and see why we guarantee it to the limit.

Seeing The Other Side

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

CAIRO, EGYPT — Friday, March 20

A non-stop, 8½-hour flight in an Air France Constellation brought me to Cairo at about 5:30 this morning and that is not a good hour to arrive anywhere. That is not a good hour to be arguing with cab drivers and an army of flunkies about tips—and these Cairo Arabs are not backward in estimating the value of their services. And when you are dealing with a strange currency you are at a double disadvantage. Now, rested and refreshed, I feel capable of slugging it out with them.

The fellow who told me Cairo would be hot and humid had never been in Cairo in the month of March. It actually is chilly, not only outside, but in this heatless hotel as well. I have been cheating on the management by keeping the bathtub well-filled with hot water.

It was with sincere regret that I left Nairobi and the small part of Kenya that I covered. Nairobi is a comparatively young city, getting its start about 50 years ago when it became the terminal of a railroad built in from the east coast. It now has a population of 230,000, of which only 2,000 are Europeans and 77,000 are Asians. I spent five days there, longer than I intended, but I was tempted to put in a few more days.

Kenya is the Mau Mau country; the home of the Kikuyu tribe which was responsible for most of the violence which exploded in 1952 and was not finally suppressed until 1956. The Kikuyus are considered one of the most advanced of the Kenya tribes and the Mau Mau violence started as just another protest inspired by an English-educated scientist and teacher. The British were unprepared for the explosion that finally erupted and the protest over a matter of land policy developed into a serious attempt to rid the country of all foreigners.

White citizens say it can't happen again, but the stern measures taken by the government in recent weeks to curb the activities of nationalistic organizations and organizers indicates that officials are far from satisfied that it cannot happen again.

For instance last week the government ordered the suspension of publication of the newspaper that speaks for the party that is headed by Tom Mboya. When I talked to him Tuesday he had just issued an open letter to the Governor protesting angrily the "repressive measures" and the "clumsy injustice" of the government.

In his letter Mr. Mboya made the following statement:

"Uhuru's proscription is a deliberate attempt to silence all legitimate African expression and a deliberate invasion of freedom of the press. Not only has Uhuru been proscribed, but the government has also rejected Dr. Kiano's application for a printing license on the ground that he is likely to use the press for purposes prejudicial to public peace and good order. Thus we need not commit any offence to be proscribed. The government's mind is predetermined and we are guilty unless we prove otherwise."

This Dr. Kiano was referred to at some length in a recent article on Africa published in Life magazine, as one of the moderates of the Nationalist movement in Africa. Life said:

"On the African side the voice of moderation comes from the crucial quarter, the Kikuyu. The voice, which has an American accent, is that of Dr. Gikonyo Kiano, a Kikuyu who returned in 1956 from eight years of studying and teaching political science in the U.S. (Antioch College, Stanford, and the University of California). Elected to one of the new African seats in the (Kenya) legislative council, he has rapidly become the most influential politician among the Kikuyu, a fact doubly advantageous for hopes of moderation. He is a bulwark against the revival that might conceivably be touched off by Tomo Kenyatta's scheduled release from prison next year. He is also a level-headed man with no objection to having a multi-racial government and with the patience to wait for fair solutions to be worked out. As the leading Kikuyu he is in a position not only to give Mboya advice, but to make him listen. In fact there is speculation that Kiano may eventually event take over the national leadership from Mboya, whose tribe, the Luo, has traditionally been disliked and looked down upon by the Kikuyu and their allies."

Here in Cairo I caught up with the March 16 issue of the London Times, published the day before Mr. Mboya issued his protest. In a long editorial dealing with the Kenya situation. The Times refers to the measures taken by the government as "certainly distasteful" and "viewed by themselves, they are a step back and not a step forward." It states.

"Certainly it would be dangerous to allow the present deadlock to continue much longer. Kenya has made a remarkable recovery from the Mau Mau emergency. But a secondary infection from Mau Mau, emanating from Nairobi, has spread outwards. The country is at the balancing point and could easily be swung one way or the other."

Mr. Mboya and his political party is asking for complete independence for Kenya and control of the government by the majority, which of course, is overwhelmingly African. But it is significant that this independence is not asked for immediately. The Africans are asking for their independence gradually; but they insist that a definite date be fixed when that independence will be complete.

This the British government has refused to do. They have talked about steadily increasing concessions to the Africans, but they have insisted on continuing control. My guess is that in Kenya as elsewhere in Africa, the natives will soon have the independence they seek.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

While the question of the minimum age at which boys and girls should be allowed to drive a car has been receiving much public attention, many proposals before the legislature which relate to increased opportunity for youth have gone relatively unnoticed. Some of these proposals are of major importance for our young people and our future.

Higher Education

Many proposals for establishing colleges, particularly in those parts of the state at some distance from any public or private institution of higher education, are being considered. There is much evidence that distance is ofeten a barrier to students entering college, and we hope to lower this barrier as much as possible.

We know, too, that each year more high school graduates are entering college, and that unless our facilities are expanded there will not be room for all who should attend. The encouragement of junior colleges is one constructive way the state can help those communities that want and need greater educational opportunities.

Student Loans

A bill of real promise is one that would provide a revolving fund from which to make loans to students attending either private or public colleges in Minnesota. Such loans would be interest free until the student finishes his course of study, and from then on would carry the low rate of three per cent each year. They would be repaid over a period of time, and the money thus repaid would go back into the revolving fund to provide more loans for other students.

Scholarships

The legislature is also considering a bill that would provide for scholarships to be awarded to students attending a college or university in Minnesota that is approved for the preparation of elementry school teachers. These scholarships would not be repaid, except by an agreement on the part of those who receive them to teach in the public schools of Minnesota for at least one year after graduation.

This program is intended to provide an incentive to students to prepare for elementary school teaching, an area in which there is a real shortage of qualified people.

Guidance in Schools

Another bill would provide state aid to help schools employ qualified counsellors. Young people in our high schools today want to know how to prepare and plan for their future, and their parents seek the information and understanding needed to help them plan wisely.

Good guidance programs in our schools would provide real assistance. More of our boys and girls would be encouraged to make the most of their talents and abilities.

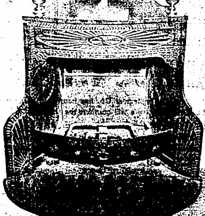
PEEKIN' into the PAST

DANGEROUS INVENTION



Invented in 1774 by Benjamin Franklin, the stove did not replace the fireplace until 1850.

The first stoves were viewed with suspicion . . . people thought they would "blow up the house." For this reason, they were made to look like a fireplace and the early models like the one above were made to fit into a fireplace.

Chopping wood was a daily chore, and removal of ashes was a messy job, but then there wasn't wall-to-wall carpeting to spill the ashes on either.

Medical Merchants of Menace Exposed

Learn to recognize the modern medical merchants of menace by their sales pitch, advises the Minnesota State Medical association.

Gone is his pioneer counterpart, the medicine man with top hat, tom-tom, and torchlight sales tactics.

Today, the sophisticated salesman rings doorbells or expounds in lecture halls, his fantastic tales how to overcome "that tired feeling", devitalized foods", sub-clinical deficiency" and "growing old before your time."

How many of these often quoted but false, well-known present day sales pitches do you recognize?

"Most disease is due to improper diet". The fact: Few diseases are caused by dietary deficiencies. By patronizing all departments of a grocery store, a person can supply all of his nutritional needs.

—"Soil depletion causes malnutrition". The fact: Soil composition has very little effect on the composition of plants grown in it. If certain soil elements are missing, the plants simply don't grow.

—"Chemical fertilizers poison the land and the crops grown on it". The fact: Extensive government research has shown that the nutritional value of crops is not significantly affected by the soil or the fertilizers used.

—"Wonder power of wonder foods, such as 100 per cent whole grains or flax seeds". The fact: These are good foods, but they are no wonder foods and do not supply any miracle nutrients.

—"Certain types of cooking utensils, especially aluminum, are harmful to foods". The fact The U. S. Public Health Service says hospitals the country over use aluminum cooking utensils. They certainly would not if research had given the slightest suspicion of danger from it.

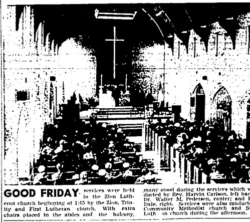
—"Processing removes nutritional values from food." The fact: Modern processed foods actually contain more nutrients than the same foods prepared by home cooking methods. Fruits and vegetables are canned or frozen at the peak of nutritional perfection and flour, bread, milk and margarine are all improved in processing to supply known dietary requirements.

—"Subclinical deficiencies are a constant danger". The fact: This statement has no meaning. Subclinical means without symptoms. Normal tiredness or a "worn out feeling" is said by the peddler to be a subclinical deficiency. If such feelings persist, a competent physician should be consulted. They may be the forerunner of serious disease.

PIPESTONERS READ OWN WATER METERS

Pipestone, lively city of nearly 6,000 in S.W. Minnesota, is believed to be the only city in the United States—or the world—where municipal water users read their own meters and send in the data on which they are billed. City Clerk Harold E. Lee and Superintendent James Henry devised the simple plan; four times a year a double postal is sent to some 96% of the users—for various reasons some commercial and institutional meters are professionally read. The user returns the addressed portion with his meter data, on which he is billed. Next logical step would be to give 'em the scale and let users send in their payment with their reading.

NEW CHURCH Seven local churches cooperated in joint services conducted in the new Mission Covenant church from noon until 3 p.m. on Good Friday. Here Rev. Donald Runyon, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, reads from the Scripture. Other pastors who took part in the service and the churches they represented were: Rev. Robert Abbott, Assemblies of God; Rev. Joseph Swan, Evangelical Free church; Rev. R. A. Dahlquist, First Baptist church; Rev. Eldor Langager, Mission Covenant church; Lt. Robert Burkhardt, Salvation Army and Rev. Alfred N. Larson, Valley Christian Home. Special music was also provided as a part of the services.



GOOD FRIDAY services were held in the Zion Lutheran church beginning at 1:15 by the Zion, Trinity and First Lutheran church. With extra chairs placed in the aisles and the balcony, many stood during the services which were conducted by Rev. Marvin Carlson, left background, Dr. Walter M. Pedersen, center; and Rev. Otto Dale, right. Services were also conducted in the Community Methodist church and St. John's Lutheran church during the afternoon.

'U' M. Forester Warns of Fires

Urges Caution to Avoid Grass and Forest Fires

An appeal to Minnesotans to prevent fires in fields, swamps and forests was issued today by Marvin Smith, extension forester at the University of Minnesota.

He said the tinder-dry grass brush and trees in many areas of the state make fire a much greater hazard than usual.

Smith emphasizes that the old idea of burning being beneficial to pastures and other fields simply isn't so. Fire doesn't help control weeds since seeds are protected by the ground litter and some plants make new growth from underground roots.

On the other hand, fire in field or forest burns up valuable organic matter. It destroys needed marsh and upland game cover. And where fire destroys trees the landowner may suffer a heavy financial loss.

If fire breaks out in young tree plantations, it is apt to "crown"—sweep into the tops and move rapidly over the land, destroying everything it its path.

Fighting grass and forest fires is especially difficult now, since the ground is still frozen an inch or two under the surface and fire line plows are therefore useless. Water used on a fire has to be carried until lakes and ponds thaw. Also, low morning and evening temperatures cause nozzles and water pumps to freeze.

If you must burn leaves, grass and trash, Smith urges that you do it only on calm days. Get burning permits from local forestry personnel. And when you burn it, have water, a shovel and a swatter on hand to control the blaze.

Being famous is like having a string of pearls given you. It's nice, but after a while, if you think of it at all, it's only to wonder if they're real or cultured.
—W. Somerset Maugham.

Easter Plants Can Be Kept Blooming

'U' M. Floriculturist Offers Advice on Care

Your Easter plants will give you a display of bloom for several weeks if you follow four rules in caring for them.

R. E. Widmer, floriculturist at the University of Minnesota, says these four rules are:

Keep the plants in sunshine or bright light. Roses especially need sunlight.

Keep the soil moist, watering whenever it is dry to the touch.

Keep the plants at cool night temperatures, preferably at 60 degrees F.

Keep the plants out of extremely high temperatures (over 75 degrees F.) such as may occur in south and west windows on bright, sunny days.

Some of the popular Easter plants such as Easter lilies and roses can be planted outdoors later this spring and will bloom in the garden in summer. Widmer gives these suggestions on caring for Easter plants that are to be carried over:

After the Easter lily plant is through blooming, continue to keep it in a bright location, water and fertilize it. Don't cut off the top of the plant, but let it wither and dry naturally. When the soil warms up, plant the Easter lily outdoors in a sunny, well drained location with about 8 inches of soil over the top of the bulb. The plant will remain dormant until August, then will send up a new shoot which will bloom if the frost is not too early. In the following years it should bloom in July.

Roses sold as holiday pot plants will make good garden plants. After the plant is through blooming indoors, cut off old flower clusters and keep the plant growing in a sunny location. Prune it back if it becomes leggy. When weather conditions permit, plant it in the garden, pruning it back immediately before planting.

Detailed information on carrying over plants is given in "Care of House Plants," Extension Bulletin 274, available from the Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

FHA Cites Ways to Reduce Costs of Home Maintenance

The Federal Housing Administration has drawn up a program of suggestions designed to hold down the cost of home maintenance. Among the points covered are the following:

Roofs and flashing around chimneys should be checked annually for breaks, warping and rust.

Exterior walls of masonry should be examined for cracks and warping.

Exterior windows and doors should be examined for openings which should be sealed with putty or caulking compound.

Exterior painting should be done every three or four years. Any painted area that peels or blisters should be examined for moisture intrusion.

The cords of electrical appliances should be inspected periodically to see that they are not worn or frayed. If they are, they should be replaced.

Faucets and other valves should be checked for leaks. A small continuing drip can wear a groove in the metal that may require replacement to stop the leak.

Attics and craw spaces should be checked several times each year for dampness or moisture condensation. Such conditions may indicate the need for additional ventilation or other corrective measures.

Metal railings and other metal work that show rust should be wire-brushed with rust-resisting paint.

Caulking Helpful

Careful caulking of a house pays big returns on a modest investment. Not only will caulking seal out fuel-robbing drafts, it will seal out moisture that is harmful to both wood and paint. Before launching your exterior painting job, check up on trouble spots that may need caulking—cracks around window and door frames, balustrades, butt joints of wood and stone on porches, butt joints of siding and corner boards.

DESIGN C-404. The location of the front room, opening from the vestibule, is ideal for its use as an office, den or study as well as a bedroom. In addition, there are two bedrooms, bath, kitchen-dinette, living room and full basement. Circulation is excellent, with all rooms opening into the central hall.

The large kitchen has corner sink, coat closet and dinette with double windows. Doors lead from kitchen to bedroom hall, side entry and living room. Exterior features include covered entrance, picture window, shutters, shingle siding, asphalt shingles and plywood gable in front. Floor area is 1260 square feet, cubage 23,562 cubic feet.

Old Fashioned Closets Can Be Modernized

If your cellar has been turned into a playroom, your garage is full of garden equipment, and every spare indoor corner occupied, you can build yourself a closet workshop as a base of do-it-yourself operations. With the aid of a few basic power tools, some inexpensive lumber and beaverboard, the average-sized closet can house an amazingly complete workshop which may include a lark worktable, as generous beaverboard rack to hold hand tools, a catch-all for plans and patterns, a cabinet table, drill press and an impressive array of power tools.

The secret, as with all cramped storage space, is to utilize every available inch. For instance: a roomy collapsible worktable can be hinged to the closet door and fold flat, legs and all, against the door when not in use. A sturdy wooden frame can help support the table when folded.

The Times welcomes items about you and your family. Call MU 1-4450 and give us the facts.

Workshop Idea

WORKING OUT OF A CLOSET is exactly when the home handyman can do when he builds himself a compact unit such as that shown here. Photo courtesy of the Cumins Portable Tool Division of the John Oster Mfg. Co.

You don't have to build a new house to vanquish closet problems; just build a new closet—right in the same place. By widening the door opening and building in storage units to utilize every cubic inch of space, you can turn an old closet into a wardrobe that is a model of efficiency. There will truly be a place for everything and keeping in its place becomes almost automatic.

The closet remodeling could be a do-it-yourself project, or you could engage a carpenter. To do it yourself probably wouldn't cost more than $75 to $80 for materials; if you had a professional do it, you might spend up to $200. The whole thing can be done with fir plywood—which is easy to work with, yet strong—and ordinary framing lumber.

To open the old closet up, first take off the door and cut out the wall space on either side so the opening is as wide as the closet itself. You can then build new double doors to fit the opening, with storage shelves right on their backs.

Plan shelves and racks on the doors to suit your needs. If the closet is a woman's wardrobe, for instance, you should have no trouble providing plenty of room for handbags, shoe cleaning equipment, brushes, etc.

Bathroom Privacy

After the age of five, youngsters become aware of personal cleanliness and responsibilities and need bathroom privacy.

These Tips Will Simplify Your Job of Wallpapering

Here are some simple "do's and don'ts" that will make the job of hanging your own wallpaper easier:

Do apply new wallpaper over the old paper only when the old paper is tight to the wall. . . No loose edges or loose panels. If old wallpaper has to be removed, do soak the walls with water daubed on with a sponge or large brush. Use a putty knife or some similar tool to scrape off the old paper. Sometimes when the paper shows a stubborn streak, it is necessary to add a ready-made chemical preparation to the water. Ask your wallpaper dealer what to use and how much to use.

In papering over glossy and enamel paints, do brush on a good glue size to prevent any loosening after the paper is hung. The glue size helps to make the paper "stick."

When papering over flat paint surfaces, do be sure to remove all grease or any other "adhering substances" before starting to wall paper. (Just wash.)

Now for the "don'ts."

Before applying wallpaper, don't forget to sand down all the bumpy areas and to fill in all holes and cracks with a prepared filler. (The filler can be purchased from a good wallpaper dealer.)

Don't try to make your own paste. Buy one of the prepared pastes now on the market. Your wallpaper dealer will help you buy a good brand.

Don't take it for granted that your walls and door frames are perfectly straight. Use a plumb line to be sure that the first strip of paper is hung truly vertical. (To make a plumb line, place a tack 17½ inches to the right of a door or window and near the ceiling. Tie on a piece of long string. Attach a weight hanging down to the floor. This is called a plumb line. Rub the string lightly and let it spring back. It will leave a straight chalk mark on theh surface.)

Combats Illness

Modern air-conditioners not only cool the air, but clean it as well. That is why many doctors are prescribing air-conditioning for the relief of hay fever, rose fever, air-borne pollen and allergies. It is also recommended for relief from heat for older folks and greater comfort for infants.

More Closet Storage

A closet's storage area may be increased by one-third if you install "peg-board" panels on the door and on the accessible upper walls.

Modernize Your Kitchen To Save Steps and Work

Many people may be consulted before you modernize your kitchen, but the most important person to consult is you. Your ideas, suggestions and preferences can guide the contractor, the dealer, the electrician, the painter, in creating for you and your family a new kitchen that's distinctly, and distinctively, yours.

Perhaps the L-shape more aptly describes your kitchen. When you have two adjoining walls, this shape provides an ideal work-triangle and leaves the rest of the kitchen free for dinette.

Or is the U-shape—one of the most popular and efficient kitchen arrangements—the way your kitchen goes?

Islands and peninsulas are becoming more and more popular, particularly in modern homes. This new treatment separates different parts of the kitchen into areas tailored to your own space, needs and desires.

When you're planning your kitchen as an attractive room for living, you must think of a convenient, step-saving arrangement of three or four major work centers.

Plan a food-storage center close to the outside door where deliveries are made.

For speedy, clean and safe cooking, have a cooking center with an automatic electric range—and plenty of cabinets for storage of utensils, plus work surfaces for preparing food.

Plan to place a dishwashing and waste-disposing center conveniently between cooking and food-storage centers.

An automatic electric laundry center with a combined washer-dryer is a big step-saver. This unit can go in the basement or another area, but it's a real convenience in the kitchen.

Slow Down—and Live.

Multi-Outlet Strips Solve Many Home Wiring Problems

Although the importance of adequate wiring is now recognized by most homeowners, too often an insufficient number of outlets are installed. Through multi-outlet assemblies, proved in a quarter-century of use, you can have receptacles where you want them, when you want them.

Most multi-outlet systems are designed to accept standard interior paints and will blend into wall and room decor. In addition to the multi-outlet assemblies, most manufacturers also provide blank sections which match the outlet system for use where electrical outlets are not desired.

Multi-outlet systems are available through your electrical contractor. The system illustrated here is Plugmold, produced by The Wiremold Company, Hartford, Conn.

Handy Incinerator

The hobbyist might like to consider installation of a basement incinerator, handy for quick, safe disposal of wood shavings and other hobby by-products. They can also be installed in utility rooms and kitchens.

Lagergren-Frost Wedding Told

Nuptial vows were spoken by Joanne Lagegren and William D. Frost at the Gustavus Lutheran church at Foley before an altar banked with white carnations, hydrangias and palms. The Rev. Eduard Lind performed the double ring ceremony Saturday, March 14 at 4 p.m. in the presence of 175 relatives and friends. Assisting at the organ was Alrene Benson of Foley and she also accompanied Mrs. Harold Kvaal of New York Mills, cousin of the bride, as she sang "The Lord's Prayer." The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white silk organza with appliqued flower motif. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves that came to a point over the hand. The bouffant skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white Bible with an orchid and hyacinths. Her jewelry was a pearl choker and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's attendants were Johanu Hall of Foley, Maid of honor, Charlotte Estum of Minneapolis and Janice Overvold of Middle River, bridesmaids. They wore identically styled gowns of blue silk organza featuring a curved neckline that came to a V in back, bouffant skirt with wide hem and pleated cummerbund with a large bow in back, matching blue head pieces, white satin shoes and white gloves completed their costumes. They carried bouquets of white carnations and their pearl earrings were a gift of the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by his friend, Thomas Kempf, as best man and groomsmen and ushers were Jim Kornovich and Richard Lagergren, brother of the bride. They wore white coats and dark trousers and carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother chose for her daughters wedding, a blue sheath dress with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a print sheath dress with aqua hat ad plastic shoes. Identical white orchid corsages completed their costumes. Mrs. Charles Lagegren of Sauk Rapids and Mrs. Juel Leifson of Minot, North Dakota, grandmother's of the bride were also presented with white and pink carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lagegren were hosts to the assembled guests at a reception in the church parlors. The guests were seated at tables centered with candles and flowers. The bridal table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with bells and beautifully decorated with butterflies and frills. The lunch was served by the ladies of the Gustavus church with cousins and friends of the bride serving as waitresses. The guests were registered by Mrs. Josie Kruger and Misses Helen Letterell and Emma Burger displayed the gifts. For a wedding trip to Northern Minnesota the birde wore a white suit with red accessories and red rose corsage. The couple will be at home after March 23 at 7515 Penn ave., Minneapolis. Out of town guests came from points in North and South Dakota. Middle River, Fergus Falls, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Hopkins, St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids, Minnesota. The Lagegrens were former resident of Middle River.

Nine Citizens of Jugoslavia Guests in City

Delegation Spends Two Days Studying Local Institutions

As a part of a national tour to learn more about the agricultural methods and education of the United States, nine Yugoslavians, members of an agricultural services study team, visited in the city Monday and Tuesday. The group arrived Monday evening from Minneapolis where they had inspected facilities at the university.

A dinner in their honor was given Monday evening in the area vocational school cafeteria under the sponsorship of the school and the Chamber of Commerce. Local residents who attended represented the agricultural committee of the Jaycees, city officials, members of the advisory committee of the vocational school and members of the school board.

Jordan Djordjefski, a university teacher of plant production and selection, spoke for the group at the dinner on the subject of Yugoslavian agriculture. He was introduced by Dr. George A. Pond, tour leader of the group from the foreign service of the department of agriculture.

Following a general question and answer period, the visitors and local people split up into smaller groups where they exchanged ideas on government, agricultural agencies and educational systems.

Tuesday morning, the visitors made a tour of the Bridgeman creameries plant, inspected the various activities of the area vocational school and visited the agricultural agencies in the county courthouse to see how they operated on the county level.

Following a luncheon at the school cafeteria, the group left to visit some of the large valley farms and will then return to St. Paul. From there, they will leave for Kansas, California, Louisiana and Arizona before returning to Washington, D.C. from where they will leave for their own country in June.

The group arrived in the United States slightly more than a month ago and spent three weeks in Washington, D. C., where they were briefed on what they could expect to see in the United States and where they received training in the English language.

Theo. T. Wold Buys Minneapolis Hotel

Former Resident Buys 91-Room Camfield Hotel

Theodore T. Wold, Minneapolis hotel broker, formerly of Thief River Falls, announced today that he had purchased the Camfield Hotel at 8th and Marquette, Minneapolis, from George Veilleux who has operated the Camfield the past 13 years.

Mr. Wold is taking immediate possession of the hotel and will continue the program of constant up-grading and renovating to meet present day demands of the traveling public. The Camfield has 91 rooms and 80 with private bath.

Mr. Wold will move his present hotel brokerage offices from 100 No. 7th st. to the Camfield hotel. He operated a coffee shop in Thief River Falls in 1936, and later headed the state hotel inspection division for four years before entering the brokerage business. Mrs. Wold is the daughter of O. L. Ihle of this city.

Film on Bowling Viewed by Lions Club at Luncheon

"Young America Bowls," a motion picture depicting the popularity of the sport of bowling among teen-agers, was presented at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon by Al Brunelle, proprietor of the Family Bowl, and Marvin Washnesky of his staff. Cliff Bjorkman was in charge of the program.

James Parkins, deputy district governor, reported on a zone meeting of Lions clubs held last Thursday evening in Roseau.

Cappella Group to Give Concert Monday in Lincoln Auditorium

The Northwestern College a capella choir of Minneapolis and its associated instrumental and vocal ensembles will conduct its annual concert tour beginning March 20 and concluding April 7 with 23 appearances in leading centers of six mid-western states and two provinces of Canada.

The group will appear in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls on Monday evening, April 6 at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Evangelical Ministers Association.

The choir, whose 55 singers represent 16 states and Canada, and who are competitively chosen from the entire student body has achieved notable success and been acclaimed by critics as one of the great college choirs.

Featured with the choir is an accompaniment group of unusual nature for choirs of this type: Donna Baker, pianist, Ardith Hunt, accordionist, and Harry Sirkman, bass viol player, all of whom will accompany the group in unusual settings of well known gospel songs. A trumpet trio, a women's sextet, a male quartet and octet, a mixed vocal ensemble of 12 voices, and several soloists will be featured in a most interestingly varied program.

Besides a representative group of great choral classics by such composers as Bach, Wagner, di Lasso, Schumann, Christiansen, Sateren and others, the choir's director, William Berntsen, and members of the instructoral staff of Northwestern College Conservatory of Music have contributed several compositions to the concert program.

The public is invited to attend the concert appearance Monday. Admission is free.

Donations for Home for Aged Pass $66,000

Pennington County Townships Turn in over $16,000 to Date

Total contributions in excess of $66,000 have been received in the current drive for funds for the erection of a new home for the elderly, according to L. B. Hartz, general chairman of the Christian Manor campaign.

The area covered by the campaign includes all of Pennington and Marshall counties and extends into Kittson county.

In an interim report for Pennington county townships, Art Bartelson, rural chairman, listed the following contributions: Black River, $100; Bray, $228; Cloverleaf, $208; Deer Park, $164.75; Goodridge, $75; Hickory, $715; Kratka, $504.50; Mayfield, $314; Norden, $287; North, $7,100; Numedal, $84; Polk Centre, $10; Reiner, $155; River Falls, $1,096; Rocksbury, $1,190.50; Sanders, $1,151; Silverton, $836; Smiley, $1,450; Star, $90; Wyandotte, $294.75; and Excel, (Marshall county) $500. The total amount for all the townships in the county plus Excel township is $16,853.50.

When all reports are received from Marshall and Kittson counties as well as from the remaining Pennington townships, it is estimated that the final contributions from outlying areas will approach $25,000, one-fifth of the total anticipated goal of $125,000 from townships and cities combined.

Community Shower of Gifts Set for Parents of Triplets Here

Representatives of service and fraternal organizations and businessmen of Thief River Falls gathered Tuesday night to organize community efforts into a drive to honor Mr. and Mrs. Claude Merideth, 608 St. Paul av. So., and their three newest children, the first living triplets born in Pennington county in the last 30 years.

Under the leadership of the public relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce, gifts of money and articles for the honored family are being collected to be given to the Merideth family in the name of their donor.

Some articles have already been given the family. Articles of clothing and other necessary items were brought to the little two-bedroom house the day before Easter in time to be used by the triplets when they first came home Monday afternoon.

Individuals and groups who wish to contribute articles or money, to the trio of two boys and a girl may do so by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, Thief River Falls.

Merchants of the community are contributing hundreds of dollars worth of items to the family, according to Mayor Orion Belch, who added that many more things are needed.

The Merideth triplets were born March 8 at Northwestern hospital. Paul Henry, who weighed 4 pounds and 15¼ ounces at birth, weighed 6 pounds, 4¾ ounces when he was taken home this Monday; Charles Robert, who weighed an even 4 pounds at birth, now weighs 5 pounds, 8 ounces and Beverly Susan, who weighed 4 pounds, 4 ounces at birth, weighed a husky 6 pounds, 11½ ounces Monday afternoon.

Judy Wold Selected to Spend the Summer in Country Overseas

JUDY WOLD

Miss Judy Wold, Lincoln high school junior, has been selected from a field of three local nominees to spend the summer months in a foreign country to which she will be assigned shortly as a part of the student exchange program sponsored by the America Field Service.

In announcing the selection of Miss Wold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wold of this city, Miles Nelson, Lincoln high principal, stated that three local students had been selected by a committee of teachers, with the final choice made by American Field Service headquarters.

Her journey overseas will be financed in part by the recently organized Thief River Falls chapter of the Field Service, which aims to promote international understanding through the exchange of students between the various countries.

Miss Wold, who has made an outstanding record during her high school career to date, is on the honor roll, and has been active in musical and other affairs at Lincoln high.

1910 Paper Tells of County Division

Pennington Formed from Red Lake Co. 49 Years Ago

Edwin Hanson of Rocksbury Tuesday brought into the Times office a copy of the Thief River Press for November 11, 1910, which had been preserved by Mrs. Hanson's father, the late Peder Engelstad.

The old paper has historic interest, since it published the results of the November 7, 1910, election which determined that Pennington county should be formed from the northern part of Red Lake county, which in turn had been formed from part of Polk county.

The Press reported that the issue had been decided by the narrow margin of 1,912 in favor of division and 1,801 opposed. The city of Thief River Falls favored division 983 to 7, while the town of North supported the move 101 to 0 and Rocksbury 107 to 13. Red Lake Falls voted unanimously against division, 453 to 4.

Next year, 1960, will mark the 50th anniversary of the creation of Pennington county.

Former Local Girl Named Mill City Ad Woman of '59

A former Thief River Falls woman, now of Minneapolis, has been selected as the Minneapolis Advertising Woman of the Year for 1959 and will be a candidate for national honors.

Known professionally as Ruth Andre, she is director of the Ann Pillsbury Home service Center operated by Pillsbury Mills. The daughter of Joseph Peterson, onetime Soo Line employe in Thief River Falls, she was graduated from Lincoln high school in 1930.

The following account of her career is taken from the Sunday issue of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Ruth Andre, director of Ann Pillsbury Home Service center, has been named the 1959 Minneapolis Advertising Woman of the Year.

The award was made by the Women's Advertising Club of Minneapolis. Miss Andre was the unanimous choice of an awards committee made up of agency, media and advertising women in the club.

She will be entered in national competition for the Advertising Woman of the Year.

Miss Andre will be honored at an award luncheon April 20 in the Gold room of the Radisson hotel.

As director of the Home Service center, Miss Andre is in charge of the training of women in the center. In less than 10 years the staff has increased from 15 to 50. Miss Andre and her staff develop basic publicity material, supervise advertising food photography, write the label directions, approve all consumer advertising, develop service ideas for products and give recipe service to homemakers.

RUTH ANDRE

Miss Andre, who in private life is Mrs. W. A. Krause and the mother of two teen-agers, has a B.S. degree from the University of Minnesota.

She joined Pillsbury as a kitchen technician in 1940 and worked up to her present post.

In 1951 she was featured in a Charm magazine story called "She Works in Minneapolis," one of a series of articles on working women in major cities.

The national award for Advertising Woman of the Year will be made June 7 at the 1959 annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America. The convention will be held June 7-10 at the Leamington hotel.

Director Urges Care in Sending Payment of U. S. Income Tax

Many payments received for federal taxes are not properly identified, states George O. Lethert, District Director of Internal Revenue for the St. Paul district.

As a result, he said, the taxpayers may not receive proper credit, or payments to their accounts may not be recorded until after considerable delay while records are checked or exchange of correspondence is completed. The taxpayers may even continue to receive bills for taxes they had sought to pay.

When you mail your check or money order for federal taxes, be sure that Uncle Sam doesn't have to guess your name or the kind of taxes you want to pay.

Here are some "musts" to observe in making payments to the Internal Revenue Service, Director Lethert said:

1. Follow carefully the instructions accompanying each return, bill or notice.
2. Be sure to enclose with your remittance the properly filled out return, or the director's copy of the bill or notice as indicated. It is best to attach these to your check or money order.
3. Where your account number is given, enter it on your check.
4. Print your name and address legibly wherever called for.
5. Be sure you mail your remittance to the proper Internal Revenue office.

Mr. Lethert pointed out that over 1,745,000 tax returns of various types, for income taxes, excise, employment, social security, etc., are filed in the state of Minnesota each year.

Each payment that is not properly identified may cause inconvenience, or possible delay of credit to the taxpayer, as well as placing additional burden upon the Internal Revenue office.

The director said his office makes every effort to match up these unidentified payments with the proper accounts, but considerable delay is bound to result, particularly during the income tax filing period.

W. B. Torgerson, Formerly of This Area, Dies in Calif.

William B. Torgerson, 50, at one time a resident of this community, died March 10 at San Francisco, Calif., where he had lived since leaving Oklee in 1942.

Born in Greenbush February 12, 1909, he was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Torgerson, who a few years later established their residence in Oklee. Mr. Torgerson had lived in Thief River Falls for a few years in the mid-1930s.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the Gulbranson Funeral Home with the Rev. Otto Dale officiating, and with interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Surviving his death are his son Thomas of Minot, N. D.; a sister, Mrs. R. E. (Dora) Bilbrough of Kansas City; and three brothers, Erling of Thief River Falls, Dr. Harold W. Torgerson of Evanston, Illinois, and Capt. Theodore A. Torgerson of Annapolis, Maryland.

Mrs. Anton Blom Dies At Karlstad

Funeral services for Mrs. Charlotte Blom of Middle River were held at 1 p.m. Monday, March 30, at the Seventh-day Adventist church at Middle River. Officiating was Rev. C. H. Lauda, Elder Merlin Pierson and Elder Donald Nelson. Interment was in the First Lutheran cemetery at Middle River with arrangements by the Collins Funeral home.

Mrs. Blom, who has been failing in health for several years, died at the Karlstad hospital Wednesday, March 25, at the age of 81. She was born July 20, 1877, in Norway, where she attended school and grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage to Anton Edward Blom, Jan. 4, 1897, in Norway and they came to the United States in 1904, settling at Detroit Lakes. In 1912 they moved to Middle River where they have since resided.

Surviving are her husband; one son, C. Joseph of Middle River; three daughters, Mrs. E. T. Anderson of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. Walter Thompson of Middle River; and Mrs. Ray Nelson of Thief River Falls. Also 20 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren, two brothers and one sister. She was preceded in death by one son and two daughters.

Final Rites For Peder C. Hustad Held Wednesday

Peder Hustad, resident of the Thief River Falls community for many years died Saturday, Mar. 28, at the Valley Christian Home at the age of 80.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 1, at 2 p.m. in Zion Lutheran church with Dr. Walter M. Pedersen officiating. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hustad was born in Denmark August 11, 1878. He came to the United States with his parents as a young boy, and they settled in Polk county, near Crookston. He grew to manhood in the Crookston and Warren area and was united in marriage to Marianne Stauning at Crookston in 1902. They resided in the Crookston and Fosston areas before coming to Thief River Falls where he was engaged in carpenter work. Since 1955 Mr. and Mrs. Hustad have made their home at the Valley Christian Home in this city.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. M. Grendahl (Mabel) of Glendale, Calif., and Pearl of this vicinity; three brothers, Martin of Fordville, N. D., Ed of Hibbing and Christ of Warren; one grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Services for Carl E. Olson Set for Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday, April 4, at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle at 2 p.m. for Carl E. Olson, 70, who died Tuesday, March 31. Rev. Robert Abbott will officiate at the rites with interment to be in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Gulbranson Funeral Home tonight, Thursday, and Friday evening and at the church one hour before time of services Saturday.

Mr. Olson was born in River Falls township, Pennington co., in 1889 and came to Thief River Falls at the age of seven. He attended school in this city and was employed at the lumbermill until it closed in 1913, at which time he married Miss Anna Pederson in Thief River Falls. He was also employed with the Thief River Grocery company for 13 years and at Northern Woodwork for nine years before his retirement, after which he moved to a farm in Rocksbury township.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Donald T. (Geraldine) Olson of this city, and Mrs. Joe (Clarice) Virzie of Salt Lake City, Utah. Also eight grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Dora Ringstrand and Mrs. Clara Altin of Minneapolis, and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by one grandson and three sisters.

Mrs. T. Torjussen Succumbs; Rites Set For Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Torjie (Eliza) Torjussen will be held Friday, April 3, at 2 p.m. at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle. Rev. Robert Abbott will officiate with interment to be in Greenwood cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Gulbranson Funeral home this evening, Thursday, and at the church one hour before time of services Friday.

Mrs. Torjussen died at Northwestern Hospital Sunday, March 29, at the age of 78. She was born at St. Vincent, Minn., March 15, 1881. She remained at home until her marriage to Frank E. Phelps in 1900 at St. Thomas, N. D. They resided in North Dakota until 1918 when they moved to Cloverleaf township where they farmed until 1951 when they moved to this city. Mr. Phelps died in 1956 after which she became a resident at the Valley Christian home. In 1957 she was united in marriage to Torjie Torjussen.

Surviving are her husband, six daughters and three sons; Mrs. Doris Sturre, Blanch Campbell, Mrs. Muriel Esp, Mrs. Grace Sheridan and Gordon of rural Goodridge, Miss Jessie Phelps, Sterling and Lloyd of this city, and Mrs. Ardith Schwabauer of Flint, Mich.; also 39 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Frances Boyce of Canada. She was preceded in death by one son, six sister and one brother.

Fred Paulson Dies in Minneapolis

Word has been received of the death of Fred W. Paulson, brother of Neal Paulson of Thief River Falls, and former resident of this community. He died at Minneapolis Saturday, March 28, at the age of 51. Funeral services were held Monday, March 30, in Minneapolis with interment in the Glen Haven cemetery.

Mr. Paulson had lived in Minneapolis for the past 35 years. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Paulson, who were residents of Thief River Falls for many years.

Surviving are his wife Margaret and two daughters of Minneapolis, four sisters and one brother; Neal of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Elthea Bakke and Mrs. Lutrella Schenk of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Bloxie Sievertsen of Billings, Mont., and Mrs. Alice Mannes of Oklahoma.

Rotary Ann Dinner to Be Held Monday

Wives of Rotarians to Be Guests at Annual Affair

The annual Rotary Ann banquet of the local Rotary club will be Monday evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the Elks club rooms and no noon meeting of the Rotary will be held next Monday, it was announced at the regular meeting of the organization this week.

A classification talk was given by Mel Iligdem, proprietor of the Mint cafe, at the noon meeting, and Jim Terrian, junior Rotarian for the month, reported on his impressions of the club's activities.

The possibility of an athletic banquet this year is still in doubt and a meeting was scheduled for Tuesday with other organizations which had joined in sponsoring the event in other years. It was also decided to take up the matter of a Rotary foundation student at a later meeting.

A time-lapse movie on the growth of flowers was shown by George Mostue as the main feature of the meeting.

Plans Approved for Remodeling of Liquor Store

The new front of the dispensary would be of brick and stainless steel or porcelain steel. The central panel of this material would be flanked by vertical panels of curved corrugated glass and clerestory windows would be installed above. Doors on the sides of the front would open into vestibules.

The council passed a resolution engaging Russell Anderson as the architect for the building work and also passed a resolution directing the payment of $310.80 to Anderson as 75% of the architect's fees for the Riverside park toilet facilities.

Bruce Reski, city civil defense director, appeared before the council to urge their recognition of national alert days, April 17-18.

The location of the Chamber of Commerce office in the future was discussed at length when members of the Chamber board asked for a solution to their problem. At present, the Chamber office is located in quarters which, it has been said, are needed for the expansion of city offices.

On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, J. M. Roche, executive secretary, proposed four ideas: (1) Retention of the present space for the Chamber of Commerce office. (2) Construction of additional office space in the area south and west of the present city clerk's quarters with a basement entry through a well in the new construction to permit the use of the basement for a comfort station without the use of the main entry. (3) Construction of a building on the present parking area south of the post office for the purpose of a Chamber of Commerce office and a public comfort station, financed with city funds. (4) The city to provide space in the main Auditorium area for temporary quarters for the Chamber of Commerce office until the completion of either item 2 or 3.

Funds for any building construction are not available, it was pointed out by council members, and the various proposals and counter proposals ended in the proposal by the Chamber of Commerce that they accept temporary quarters if built in the main Auditorium area for a period not to exceed six months at which time definite action would be taken to start construction of new quarters to the south and west of the clerk's office.

A committee of council members and board members of the Chamber of Commerce was set up to draw up tentative plans for the construction of temporary quarters for the Chamber and to make an estimate of the cost to be presented to the city council.

Grygla Parish Has Made $100 Gift to Home for the aged

The Carmel ladies aid of Our Saviour's Luth. church of Grygla, H. Arthur Dale, pastor, this week dispatched a check for $100 as a gift from the Grygla Lutheran parish to the building fund of Valley Christian Home Society.

L. B. Hartz, general chairman for the drive, said it is very heart-warming to see the keen interest and generosity which prompted this gift from one of the smaller churches in the area.

"Our congratulations," he said, "go out to our good friend Rev. Dale and his church at Grygla, and particularly to the Carmel ladies aid for demonstrating in such a practical way, their dedication to Christian endeavor and neighborly helpfulness."

'U' M. Gives Facts on Freezer Costs

Says Equipment Should Always Be Fully Used

How much is your home freezer costing you?

While many families look upon a home freezer as a necessity and others regard it as a real convenience but a luxury, few families have stopped to figure the yearly operating costs, as well as storage costs on a pound basis. Both these costs are often much more than families realize, according to K. E. Egertson, extension economist in marketing and Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.

An empty home freezer is a costly luxury, they point out. Unless convenience is of paramount importance, few families can afford to operate a freezer of my size if it is filled only once a year. For economical operation, it is important to keep the freezer full, with a rapid turnover of food. The more pounds of food put through the freezer in a year, the lower cost of storage per pound.

Total annual cost of operating an average 12-cubic-foot freezer with a capacity of 360 cubic feet is about $100, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture studies. Operational costs include electricity, repairs, packaging, insurance on food, interest on investment and depreciation. If the food is not insured, costs are reduced by about $4.

Operating or storage costs of food per pound will vary greatly, however, according to the amount of food put in the freezer during the year. To calculate storage costs per pound, determine how much the freezer will hold and how many times it will be filled in one year; then divide total operating costs by total pounds. Thus, at an annual operating expenditure of $100 a year (for a 12-cubic-foot freezer), cost per pound would amount to about 26 cents if the freezer were filled only once a year, but that amount could be reduced to 12 cents a pound if the freezer were filled two and a half times a year. Actual cost of the food in the freezer would be the initial expenditure for the food plus the storage costs.

Egertson and Mrs. Loomis urge that families who have freezers or are planning to buy a freezer should make sure it is operated at an economical level. If the family is very small so the freezer cannot be used efficiently, it may be better to have a refrigerator with a freezing compartment or to purchase food directly from the retail market.

Drizzle Brings .17 Inch of Rainfall

Mercury Slumps Below Freezing Mark Two Days

The first measurable amount of precipitation here since Feb. 8 fell during the week with .07 inches Monday and .10 Wednesday.

Today is expected to be cloudy with scattered showers and mild temperatures with the showers expected to end tonight. Over the entire United States, only two areas are expected to receive any precipitation today including our own.

Night time temperatures sagged below the freezing mark twice this week when 29's were recorded both Monday and Tuesday nights. The high temperature was the 47 recorded Monday closely followed by Wednesday's 44.

Partly cloudy and cooler is expected for tomorrow. The high today will be from 50 to 55 and the low tonight between 25 and 30.

Rev., Mrs. Abbott at Church Session in Detroit Lakes

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Abbott left Monday to attend meetings of the Minnesota district of the Assemblies of God held at Detroit Lakes this week, with final sessions today.

This is the annual business meeting for reports and election of officers, as well as a time of devotional services. Rev. Abbott is a member of the 15-man presbytery which oversees the work of the church in the state, and which will conduct ordination rites for a number of men entering the ministry.

Several hundred ministers and delegates will attend, with the serivces to be held in the Detroit Lakes church, newly completed.

Galilee Bible camp Annual Meeting in Newfolden April 7

The annual business meeting of the Galilee Bible Camp Corporation will be held at Bethelehem Lutheran church at Newfolden Tuesday afternoon, April 7, at 2 o'clock.

Reports will be heard, board members will be elected, and other business will be transacted. At the annual meeting April 8, 1958, an amendment to the articles of incorporation was submitted and this proposed amendment, which provides that the directors serve for a term of three years instead of one, will be acted upon.

Lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Kistler Cites Provision of New Amendment to Act

A representative from the Grand Forks District office of the Social Security Administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, April 7, at 10 a.m. He will answer questions about social security and accept claims for benefits.

One provision of the 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act enables some newly married wives of men receiving social security benefits to qualify imediately for benefits on the husband's social security account.

In announcing this change in the law, Walter D. Kistler of the Grand Forks social security office, pointed out that before the 1958 amendments to the law, a new wife had to wait three years before she could receive benefits as the wife of a man getting social security retirement benefits. Under the old law this three-year waiting period was waived only if the couple became the parents of a child.

Now, if the wife was eligible for widow's, parent's, or childhood disability benefits for the month before her marriage, she can qualify for wife's benefits imediately, providing she meets the other requirements for entitlement.

These other requirements include (1) being age 62 or more, or (2) having in her care a child entitled to social security benefits, and (3) not being entitled to a higher benefit on her own social security record.

Thursday: Spaghetti tomato casserole, carrot and lemon relish, sliced cheese, bread, butter, milk.

Friday: Potato salad, cheese wedges, grape jam, bread and butter, milk.

Windows Broken by Young Vandals at Crookston

Crookston police reported Monday that vandals using air rifles and sling shots broke a number of windows in Crookston over the weekend.

Thirteen windows were smashed at the Peterson-Biddick produce firm. A sling shot was used, according to Chief Harry Dillabough.

Air rifles broke windows in a Crookston residence and at the Heldstab's Ice and Fuel Co. on North Main, prompting a plea from Dillabough that parents prevent unsupervised use of B-B guns by their youngsters.

It Was a Lively Week in Municipal Court

Several court cases heard Mar. 26, 30 and 31 and April 1 provided the action in municipal court the past week, before Judge H. O. Chommie.

March 26 Vernon A. San, Triumph, Minn., pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 plus $5 costs. San was involved in an accident a week ago which caused extensive damage.

Also heard March 26 was the case of Jack E. McGill, city, who pleaded guilty to driving without 1959 license tabs and was fined $5.

Monday, March 30, four cases were heard. Brought by the highway patrol was Alice L. Olson, city, who pleaded guilty to driving without a Minnesota drivers license and was fined $10 plus $4 costs. The lone sheriff's case was that of Larry Dale Hall, Newfolden, who pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to a minor and was fined $25 and $3.50 costs.

City police cases made up the balance of Monday's session. Benjamin Hruby, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to running a red light and was fined $3, while Vernon C. Thygeson, Middle River, pleaded guilty to making an improper turn and was fined $15 plus $5 costs.

Mrs. Florence D. Carnahan, Winnipeg, forfeited $50 bond on a shop-lifting charge after her arrest here last weekend.

Tuesday, March 31, Lyle T. Bjorge, rt. 3, stood trial and was found guilty of careless driving and was fined $10 plus $0.37 costs. Frank Horien, Holt, pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge and was given a $10 fine or 10 days in jail. He is still in custody.

There was no April Fooling in the case of Raymond S. Boutain, Crookston, who was brought to court by the highway patrol Wednesday on a reckless driving charge. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail after pleading guilty and on pleading guilty to the additional charge of driving after license suspension he was given another 30 days in jail, to run consecutively, for a total of 60 days in the jail at Crookston.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

The Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, met in regular session in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on March 17, 1959; the meeting being called to order at eight o'clock P.M. with Aldermen Benson, Lee, Honebrink, Carlson, Rau present.

Alderman Honebrink moved suspension with reading of minutes of previous meetings with approval of the same as published, being seconded by Rau and motion was carried.

Applications for renewals of licenses were presented, as follows: Ole Fladeland, Taxi and Harwood Olson, Electrician. Alderman Benson moved approval and issuance of license, which motion was seconded by Honebrink and was carried.

Application was presented by Howard Sletten for permit to use the streets of the City for the purpose of moving thereon a building now situated in Block 21 of the Original Townsite to lots No. 55 and 56 of Fairfield Addition, the same to be used for residential purposes. Alderman Lee moved granting of the same contingent upon the payment of expense of moving utility lines by the Electric Department and the furnishing and filing of an indemnity bond in the amount of $1,000 with the clerk. Alderman Rau seconded such motion and the same was duly carried.

Applications for building permits, duly approved by the Building Inspector, were presented, as follows: Howard Sletten, remodeling residence $1,000; Alvin Aasehy, Remodel garage, $11,000; Peterson Biddick Company, addition to elevator, $500.00; Kenneth A. Mussey, remodel residence, $2,000; First Baptist Church, completion of first story to basement, 411 Horace Avenue No. Alderman Rau moved approval and issuance of permits, being seconded by Benson and motion was duly carried.

Alderman Honebrink moved a third reading of an Ordinance amending Ordinance No. 237 as amended by Ordinance No. 280 by reducing the time for which an impounded dog must be kept in the dog pound prior to disposition thereof and giving the Police Officer the right to summarily dispose of animal if unable to capture. The motion was seconded by Lee and carried, upon which the Ordinance was read. Alderman Rau then moved adoption being seconded by Benson. The roll was called on the question, all members voted in favor thereof and the Ordinance was declared passed and adopted.

Applications for reduction in assessed valuation of personal property were presented by Clayton Klaven, East Grand Forks and Marie Olson, 501 Tindolph Avenue South, both claiming that their valuations should be abated in full and recommendation to that effect was made by the City Assessor. Alderman Benson moved approval of the same and that recommendation to that effect be transmitted to the County Auditor being seconded by Honebrink and motion was carried.

Alderman Rau moved that bids for the furnishing of a Patrol Car for the Police Department, opened on February 17th be rejected and certified checks accompanying the same be returned to bidders. Alderman Benson seconded such motion which was duly carried.

Various applications for the position of Janitor of Municipal Liquor Dispensary to fill vacancy were presented and recommendation was made by the Manager that Mr. Ed Fisher, 114 South Kinney Avenue, be employed in such capacity. Alderman Honebrink moved confirmation of such appointment, being seconded by Lee and the motion was unanimously carried.

Alderman Honebrink moved opening of bids for the re-winding of Turbine Generator of Hydro Plant, which motion was seconded by Rau. Bids were submitted by General Electric Company and Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Alderman Rau introduced a resolution accepting the bid of General Electric Company at $7100.00 and moved adoption. Alderman Benson seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Rau moved opening of bids for the furnishing of a carload of cedar poles and meter testing equipment for the Electric Utility being seconded by Benson and motion was duly carried. Bids on poles were received from Diesel Service Company, Ames, Iowa; J. M. Baxter & Company, San Francisco; Thompson Bixler Company, Grand Forks; Westinghouse Electric Supply Co., Fargo; McGillis & Gibbs Company, Milwaukee, and Joslyn Mfg. & Supply Company, St. Paul. Bid on meter testing equipment was received from Burmeister Electric Company, Minneapolis. Alderman Honebrink introduced a resolution accepting the bid of Westinghouse Electric Supply Company for poles in the amount of $7,602.40 and that of Burmeister Electric Company for meter testing equipment at $1,501.20 and moved adoption. Alderman Lee seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was thereupon declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Honebrink moved opening and consideration of bids for the construction of a Comfort Station in Tourist Park, being seconded by Benson and motion was duly carried. Bids on general contract were received from Ed. Koskovich, Fosston, Minn.; Prichard Bros. Company, Thief River Falls and Victor M. Besancon, Thief River Falls. Bids on Plumbing were received from Lee Plumbing & Heating Company, Ripley Plumbing & Heating Company, Thief River Falls and Halvorson's, Fosston, Minn. Bids on electrical were received from Harwood Olson, L. W. Best, O. P. Electric of Thief River Falls and Halvorson's, Fosston, Minn. After consideration of such bids Alderman Lee introduced a resolution accepting proposal of V. M. Besancon on general contract at $4,203.78; that of Ripley Plumbing & Heating Company at $2,400.00 and that of O. P. Electric at $153.00 and moved adoption. Alderman Rau seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was duly passed and adopted.

Motion was made, seconded and carried that bids for the furnishing of trucking equipment for Street and Park Department be opened and read. Bids were received from Tunberg Motor Company, Northern Chevrolet Company, Forkenbrock Motor Company, Wiener Top and Body Works and C. Gustafson & Son, and the same were read. Alderman Lee moved tabling of such bids, being seconded by Honebrink and motion was carried.

There was presented by D. H. Stewart & Associates, Thief River Falls, Plans, Specifications and Proposal Blanks for Filter Equipment and Piping at Water Treatment Plant and the same were examined. Alderman Honebrink moved approval of the same and that bids be called for and considered on April 21st in the Council Chambers at eight o'clock P.M. The motion was seconded by Benson and the same was carried.

The Council then proceeded with a further continuation of hearing in the matter of proposed construction of Storm Sewers in Storm Sewer District No. 3. A petition carrying 77 signatures was presented and examined, the same being signed by property owners residing south of Sixth Street in the area of such Storm Sewer District No. 3, objecting to being assessed for such Storm Sewer for the reason that it is considered unnecessary and that their property will not be benefited by such construction. Several other property owners in the area voiced their objections to any assessment, including Martin Bothun, 941 Arnold Avenue North, who spoke at length in opposition to the project as being unnecessary to the persons living on the high ground and against any assessment in connection therewith. A representative of Great Northern Railway was again present and registered objection on the grounds that the cost would exceed the benefits to be derived therefrom.

Alderman Lee introduced a resolution determining to proceed with construction in the area south of Sixth street in accordance with Memoranda of Proposed West Side Storm Sewer Project as filed on March 2, 1959 at project cost of $297,000 less City Share, Trunk Highway Share and Municipal State Aid $156,560.00, leaving an amount of $140,440 to be specially assessed; that D. H. Stewart & Associates, Thief River Falls be directed to prepare plans and specifications therefor and moved its adoption. Alderman Honebrink seconded such motion. The roll was called on the question and all members voted in favor thereof. The President then declared the resolution passed and adopted.

The matter of filling the vacancy existing in the Council by resignation of N. G. Sandvig was then brought under consideration. Alderman Rau placed in nomination Ralph N. Hunt, 111 Horace Avenue North and Olaf Dahlen was placed in nomination by Alderman Lee. The Council then proceeded by ballot on selection to fill such vacancy; result of such ballot indicating a vote of two for Ralph N. Hunt and three votes for Olaf Dahlen. A question arose as to the number of votes which would be required to elect in this case. Due to the absence of the City Attorney and his opinion in the matter the Council's action was held in obeyance pending his decision in the case.

The matter of a proposed purchase of a replacement Garbage Collection Truck was ordered referred to the Sanitation Committee for recommendation.

Alderman Honebrink then moved adjournment to March 23rd at eight o'clock P. M. which motion was seconded by Lee, carried, and the meeting was declared so adjourned.

Card of Thanks

Our sorrow in the loss of our dear one is somewhat easier to bear because of your kindness, your sympathy and help at this time, is a great comfort to us.

We wish to express our gratitude to Pastor Dale for his comforting words, Mrs. Arthur Dale for her beautiful songs, Mrs. Walter Jelle organist and the St. Olaf Ladies Aid and to all of the friends who served the lunch. Also the Byers Funeral Chapel, and the pallbearers. Words cannot express our appreciation.

Mrs. Esther Hope and Russel 1t27c

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my relatives and friends and charities circle 1 and group 2, E.L.C. of St. Hilaire for cards, letters and gifts and who visited me at the hospital and also at my home for visits and brought things since I came home. Thanks to Interne Nels Liljeford of Trinity church who visited me at the hospital and to Drs. and nurses that gave me such good care. God bless you all.

Mrs. Carl Surmo 1t27p

RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of the City Council held March 17, 1959, Alderman Lee seconded by Alderman Honebrink introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, a resolution of the City Council, adopted the 20th day of January, 1959, fixed a date for a Council hearing on the proposed construction of storm sewers to serve Storm Sewer District No. 3 and adjoining areas (City of Thief River Falls project P 208-31)

AND WHEREAS, ten days published notice of the hearing through two weekly publications of the required notice was given and the hearing was held thereon on the 9th day of February, 1959, and at several adjournments of said hearing, at which all persons desiring to be heard were given an opportunity to be heard thereon.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls:

1. Such improvement is hereby ordered as proposed except that no construction shall be performed north of the Sixth Street lateral, provided, however, that the construction shall be so designed that as the demand for street improvements in the area north of Sixth Street increases, the present proposed construction could be extended north to serve the balance of the area.

Douglas H. Stewart is hereby designated as the engineer for this improvement. He shall prepare plans and specifications for the making of such improvement.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR PROPOSALS

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, will receive sealed proposals for THE FURNISHING OF FILTER EQUIPMENT AND PIPING FOR THE CITY'S WATER TREATMENT PLANT until 8:00 p.m., April 21, 1959, at the office of the City Clerk, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Forms of the contract documents, including plans and specifications pursuant to which the work shall be done, are on file at the office of the City Clerk, P. G. Pederson, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and at the office of D. H. Stewart & Associates, Consulting Engineers, 324 East Second Street, Thief River Falls, Minnesota. Copies of said documents may be obtained by depositing $5.00 with the Engineer. The amount of the deposit will be returned to those submitting a bonafide bid and who return the documents in good condition within five days after the date set for opening bids.

The work consists of the furnishing of filter equipment and piping for equipping one existing filter tank and includes filter underdrains, rate of flow controller and operating table, hydraulic operated valves, 4", 6", 8", 12", and 16", cast iron fabricated pipe and fittings.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check acceptable to the City in an amount equal to at least five percent (5%) of the total amount of the bid, payable without condition to the City Clerk of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota. In case the successful bidder fails to enter into a contract or to provide a performance bond as required by law within the specified number of days of the award of the contract, such check shall be forfeited to the City as liquidated damages.

The City Council reserves the right to hold all bids for a period of 30 calendar days after the date set for opening bids, and to waive any irregularities, and to reject any or all bids, as they deem to be in the best interest of the City.

Dated this 17th day of March, 1959.

Bob Farmes Reveals Results of Game Bag Survey at Thief Lake

Bob Farmes, area game manager for the state conservation department, has prepared a comprehensive report on the Thief Lake public hunting grounds. The object of this report was to determine the average daily bag, the species composition, total waterfowl kill, total hunting pressure and residence of hunters using the area.

The technique used was that bag checks were made from October 4 to November 14 with hunters being checked on 22 days during this period. Hunting ended with the freeze-up on November 17. On the opening weekend an airplane was used to assist in checking on the hunting pressure, which was made on a car-count basis.

According to the findings of the refuge personnel, game managers, wardens and biologists, a total of 960 hunters were checked during the 1958 season. These hunters put in a total of 4,229 hours in hunting, and bagged a total of 1,788 ducks and 34 coots, or an average of 1.8 ducks per hunter. The "ducks per hunter" figure is the same as that which was obtained last season, but there is a slight increase in the "ducks per hour" percentage this season. The success ratio is better than the 10-year average of 2.56 ducks per hunter and 0.36 ducks per hour.

The average hunter lost one bird for every 3.2 bagged—which is a total of 565 ducks, or about 32 per cent of the number bagged. The average party hunted 4.3 hours per day. Of the 387 hunting parties checked, 78 or 20 per cent, had a daily limit. Last year, 25 per cent had a daily limit.

Mallards were predominant in the hunter's bag for the seventh time in the ten-year period that checking has been in force, and the mallards comprised 42 per cent of the kill as compared with the ten-year average of 34 per cent. Mallards comprised a larger percentage of the kill this past season than in any other year of the ten-year period. This larger than average percentage of mallards was due to the greater concentration of mallards in the refuge during the opening weekend of the season. This first week of the season, the mallards made up 55 per cent of the kill, and ranged from 14 to 38 per cent during the remaining four weeks.

The ring-necked ducks were second in abundance for the first time in the year, comprising 15 per cent of the kill. Lesser scaup were the third most abundant bird in the hunter's bag, making up 13 per cent of the kill, which figure is average for the ten-year period.

The kill of redheads was down to 7 per cent, which shows a considerable drop from the ten-year average of 18 per cent, and last year's average of 28 per cent. Redheads were first in abundance in 1953 and 1955, making up 29 and 33 per cent of the total kill. Only in 1949 have redheads made up as small a percentage of the kill as they did this season.

The kill of canvasbacks was the lowest in the ten-year period, making up only 2 per cent of the kill compared with the ten-year average of 7 per cent. In 19493 and 1950, "cans" were second in abundance, making up 22 and 20 per cent of the kill.

The kill of both canvasbacks and redheads at Thief Lake was affected very little by the restrictions in force this past season. Few hunters would have been able to take more than the legal limit because of the scarcity of these species. In the ten years of hunting and making bag checks in the area, Mr. Farmes states that he has never experienced such a low population in these species.

Puddle ducks comprised 60 per cent of the kill, and this is the highest percentage recorded in the ten-year period. The average over the years is 51 per cent puddle ducks and 49 per cent divers.

Total hunting pressure and kill was estimated from average daily bags and car counts. There was an estimated total of 1,040 cars present on the area for the duck season with an average of 2.5 hunters per car giving a total of 2600 hunters. Both hunting pressure and total kill was down from 1957 when it was calculated that 3,028 hunters killed 7,450 ducks. Last season's total for the 2600 hunters was 4,796 ducks killed in 11,122 hours of hunting, and it was estimated that 1,408 ducks were lost for a total kill of 6,204.

Car license checks revealed that local hunters, those from Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Roseau, Kittson and Red Lake counies, accounted for 50 per cent of the hunters. The Twin Cities area—Ramsey and Hennepin counties — made up 28 per cent; and northeastern Minnesota—St. Louis, Lake, Cook, and Carlton counties—made up 7 per cent of the hunters. The remaining 15 per cent came from the 20 counties representing all but the southwest and extreme southeastern part of the state. Two non-resident cars were recorded.

Two from City at Bemidji Meeting

Mrs. Curtis Anderson and Mrs. Teddy Dunston of this city attended the Wing River Dorcas Federation, representing the local Seventh-day Adventist church, in Bemidji Thursday.

The local Dorcas society also received a sample disaster kit which includes drinking water and food for three days for one person. Those who want kits for themselves and their families may order them through the local society.

Grade School Awards to Athletes Tonight

The grade school athletic awards night will be held at the Northrop gymnasium tonight, Thursday, at 7 p.m. The Bjorkman grade school trophies for baseball, football, basketball and hockey will be awarded to the winning schools. The Northrop Indians won the baseball, football, and basketball, while the Knox Tigers won the hockey title.

There will be a basketball game between the league champion Northrop team and the Knox-Washington All-Stars. There will also be several 'B' team basketball games.

The 5th and 6th grade girls from Northrop, Washington, and Knox will demonstrate various individual stunts, such as tumbling, pyramids and square dancing.

All parents and others interested are cordially invited to attend.

Have a Look

It's a new season, and the boys are rolling on new alleys; but a look at the averages reveal that the old familiar faces are perched on the top rungs in the standings.

Here's a recital of the one-two bowlers in the six leagues that comprise the men's bowling association competition this season: on Monday night the Service league and National league bowlers roll their matches, and Eldon Harbott, with a 172-pin mark in 36 games, and older brother Del, with a 171-pin mark in 33 three games, are the high average keglers. They both bowl with the Grain Belt team. Over in the National league, Gene Leslie, with a 178-pin mark in 45 games, and Al Brunelle, with a 172-pin mark in 24 games, are the leaders. Gene bowls with the Ace Hardware, while Al is a member of the Montgomery Ward team.

Tuesday night's bowling is monopilized by the Business and American leagues. Ken Onken, of the Union State Bank, leads the American league with a 165-pin mark in 45 games. The high-average Business league finds Phil LeGault, of the Hamm's, boasting a 184-pin mark in 42 games. Jesse DuChamp has a 182-pin average in 48 games, and Wally DuChamp has a 180-pin mark in 54 games. The trio all bowl with the Hamm's Beer club.

Thursday night's Commercial league finds Am Wysoski of the Northern Chevrolet and Eldon Harbott of the Northwest Beverage, deadlocked for the high-average honors, each having 177-pin averages. Am has compiled his average in 45 games, while Eldon has rolled 21 games. And pressing these two boys closely is Lloyd Samuelson of the Hartz Wholesale who is carrying a 176-pin average through 57 games.

And in Friday night's City league bowling, Am Wysoski, of the Northern Woodwork, has posted a 178-pin average in 38 games to hold a two-pin lead over the LaFendrich Cigars' Gene Leslie, who has a 176-pin average in 53 games.

Strange Rules

The Canadian amateur and junior hockey rules are surely strange and perplexing. According to reports filtering down from up north, Gordon (Red) Berenson is now playing with the Flin Flon Bombers junior hockey team in their playoffs with the Edmonton Oil Kings, the winner of this series to meet the Winnipeg Braves in the western Canada junior finals.

Berenson, who played with the Regina Pats junior club last season, went to Michigan University for a while this season, and then was picked up by the Belleville MacFarlands for the world hockey tournament in Prague. He finished in a three-way tie for the scoring championship in the tournament.

Berenson was signed to a Regina card at the beginning of this season and, not being in professional hockey, and not signed to a senior card, he was eligible to be drafted by the Flin Flon club. In the first game of the series against Edmonton, and which was won by Flin Flon, 6 to 3, Berenson scored three goals.

The Flin Flon Bombers, incidentally, are a New York Ranger farm club, but Berenson, being a Regina Pats player, is probably on the Montreal Canadiens negotiation list.

Worthy of Mention

Roger Tunberg, manager and coach and captain and anchor of the last place Tunberg Motors team in the National bowling league, made the "honor roll" this week, rolling games of 157-210-147 for an aggregate of 518. That 518-pin total gave Rog a tie for fifth place in the week's National league roll call.

And we must call attention, too, to that fine series bowled by Emil Dostal last Friday night. Emil, one of the veterans of league bowling, racked up games of 220-219-190, for a 629-pin total.

Miscellany

The Dakota Sales team of Grand Forks won the North Dakota amateur basketball title by defeating the Bismarck Tribune club, 81 to 62, in the finals. A member of the championship-winning club, 81 to 62, in the finals. A member of the championship-winning club was Irv St. John, the Warren high school coach. St. John, a graduate of Bemidji high school, and Bemidji State Teacher's college, is very adept at basketball, being very slick with a left-handed hook shot . . . We hear that catcher Bob Dircks and pitcher Dick Palmer, co-captains of Pinky Kraft's North Dakota Sioux baseball team, will be playing league baseball with the Warren club this season. The two boys, who are seniors at North Dakota, played with the Red Lake Falls Lakers last season . . . We hear, too, that Joey Poole intends to play baseball with the Thieves again this season It will surely be a comfort to see Joey scampering around at shortstop, and in second or third position in the batting order.

Pill Bill Killed in State Legislature

Would Have Permitted Sales in Grocery Stores

The "pill bill" was sent to its virtual death by the Minnesota House late Monday.

The measure was doctored up with amendments in a 2¼ hour spicy debate and then sidetracked to the health committee on motion of Rep. Loren Rutter, Kinney.

Rep. Jack Peterson, Duluth, chief author, said the action of referring the bill to committee was a move to bury it.

"For all practical reason, I consider the bill dead for this session," Peterson said.

The proposal originally redefined non-habit forming, proprietary medicine and was designed to legalize the present practice of non-prescription packed drugs and medicines in grocery stores, supermarkets and other retail outlets.

Anti-Wetlands Assn. Opposes Creation of More Game Refuges

At a regular board of directors meeting of the Anti-Wetland Improvement association held Tuesday evening, March 24, at the Skomedal Brothers farm home, with all members present except Art Norby, who was ill. A resolution was passed unanimously voicing opposition to the creation of any more game refuges in Marshall county.

The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, as of Oct. 1, 1957, there was in Minnesota 647,808 acres of land either state owned or state controlled game refuges, including wetland areas, and

"Whereas, 496,721 acres of this land is located in Beltrami, Roseau, Lake of the Woods and eastern Marshall county, and

"Whereas, the above four counties have more than three times as much state owned or controlled land in game refuges as all the rest of the state, and

"Whereas, another large area has since been added to the Thief Lake State Refuge in eastern Marshall county, and

"Whereas, eastern Marshall county also has the Mud Lake Federal Game Refuge consisting of over 60,000 acres, now

"Therefore, be it hereby resolved by the Anti-Wetlands Improvement association that we respectfully request the Marshall county board of commissioners not to allow any new game refuges to be formed, either state or federal, nor permit any further additions to present refuges in eastern Marshall county."

The annual meeting of the association was scheduled at Mar-Bel hall in Grygla Saturday evening, April 11. Guest speaker will be State Senator Roy E. Wiseth of Goodridge.

Smelt Appear in Lake at Nashwauk

Fisheries Biologist Gives Warning of Peril

Smelt have been taken by winter anglers from Kennedy lake near Nashwauk reports Fritz Johnson, fisheries biologist at Grand Rapids. Two adult smelt were found in anglers catches on this lake by John Muhar, game warden at Keewatin. This is the first time that smelt have been reported from inland Minnesota waters, and it is thought that they were transferred to Kennedy lake by Lake Superior smelt fishermen.

Arrangements are now being made by the section of research and planning to check the fish population of Kennedy lake and the possibilities of smelt spreading from it to other waters. Smelt are voracious eaters of small fishes and could be detrimental to game fishes in lakes, states Dr. John Moyle, chief of research.

He points out that the great population of smelt in the western Great Lakes all came from a single planting in a Michigan lakelake and that inland occurrence of smelt here should be carefully watched, and if it is found there is danger the smelt will spread, they should be eliminated by fish toxicants. Fishermen are urged not to transport smelt from Lake Superior to inland waters and not to use smelt for bait.

Young Men Reminded to Register When 18 for Selective Service

Lt. Colonel Murley A. Reep, state director of selective service, is calling attention to the fact that all young men (including those who are or become members of a reserve component to include the National Guard) must register with their nearest local selective service board when they attain 18 years of age or within five days thereafter, and that failure to register is a violation of the law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty.

"All a young man has to do," Lt. Colonel Reep said, "is to present himself to the local board or registration place designated in that particular area most convenient to the place he happens to be when he becomes 18. Registration process is simple and requires only a short time."

"The law is specific," he said, "and provides severe penalty for failure to comply," adding that the law is also specific in its requirements concerning the obligation of a registrant to keep his local board informed as to any changes in his address—where he may be reached by mail, that is—or any change in his status under the Act.

Reep emphasized the fact that requirements to register and legal obligations of registrants were in no way altered because selective service calls have been low in the past few months.

Registration for those in Pennington county may be accomplished at one of the following places:

Local Board No. 82, Auditorium, Thief River Falls; Miss Barbara Peterson, offices of Rullen & Wurst, city; or Mrs. Irene Ellingson, Goodridge.

Air Force Invites Young Men to Join

Recruiter Stationed at Auditorium Each Tuesday

"The Air Force pilot will never be replaced by guided missiles," said Major General Elvin S. Ligon, Jr., in charge of the U.S. Air Force recruiting service. "At least not in the foreseeable future. The missile will not replace the pilot, it will only aid him in the event that we are attacked."

General Ligon admits that the Air Force has an increasing need for pilots and navigators because many of the flying personnel now on active duty are World War II veterans and will be retiring within the next five years.

"We must fill those vacancies with younger men," said General Ligon, "otherwise, how can we hope to maintain our aerial supremacy?"

The majority of Air Force pilots come from the aviation cadet program. This program enables qualified young men who have graduated from an accredited high school to receive a commission and to become either a pilot or a navigator.

A second lieutenant on flying status, single, and living off the base receives $434.58 a month; if married, $455.78. In addition, free medical care is furnished, and an annual 30-day paid vacation.

Air Force personnel retiring after 20 years of service receive 50% of their base pay and after 30 years of service, 75% of their base pay.

Pilot classes begin every six weeks and navigator classes begin every two weeks. Any young men between the ages of 19 and 26½ interested in the Aviation Cadet program should contact local Air Force recruiting representative M/Sgt. Delbert F. Bursau at the municipal Auditorium in Thief River Falls any Tuesday, 1 to 3 p.m.

200 State Schools to Note Arbor Day

Federation of Women's Clubs Leader in Project

More than 200 Minnesota schools will observe Arbor Day, Friday, May 1, Mrs. L. F. Johnson, conservation chairman of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today.

Individual M. F. W. Clubs, numbering over 400, have participated in a drive, "Operation Arbor Day", urging private, parochial and public schools to observe Arbor Day by planting trees with appropriate ceremonies May 1.

"It is estimated," Mrs. Johnson said, "that more than 25,000 school children will participate in Arbor Day ceremonies this year as a result of the Federation's drive "Operation Arbor Day."

Arrangements were made with the division of forestry to furnish tree seedlings to plant at the school's ceremonies.

New Term Insurance Policy Issued by VA

A savings of up to two-thirds in their GI insurance costs can be made by those veterans who served in the Korean and post-Korean period whose insurance policy numbers are preceded by the letters "RS," W. R. Byrd, manager of the Fargo VA Center, said today.

These policyholders may exchange their present five-year term policies for new term policies that carry the same face value at a greatly reduced premium cost. These savings, he said, are made possible by a continuing improvement in mortality rates resulting from a lengthening of the life span.

The new policies are not renewable after the holder has passed his fiftieth birthday but must be converted to a permanent plan before that date if he wishes to continue protection beyond that date. In all other respects they carry the same protection of the present policies.

This restriction is considered to be in the best interests of policyholders in order to avoid the heavy increases in renewal term rates in later life, Byrd said.

He added that holders of the present term policies also have several plans of permanent insurance to which they can convert immediately. However, the premiums for permanent plans, while they never increase, are in a higher bracket than term insurance.

Veterans not wishing to incur the expense at this time of the permanent type plans can save money while waiting by exchanging their original term policies to the new low-cost type, he said. Both the present and the new term policies can be converted at any time, without physical examination to a VA permanent-type plan.

Full information can be secured by contacting any VA office or by writing the VA office to which premiums have been paid.

Seeing The Other Side

CAIRO — Sunday March 22

My time in Cairo has been spent largely in sight-seeing, part of it on my own and part of it under the direction of guides. I have visited the Museum and I have a lot of information about King Tut and Alexander the 2nd. I wanted to know a few things about Alexander the 1st, whose teacher, Aristotle, was once embarassed, so the gossips had it, by the unexpected appearance of young Alex who took exception to the kind of a game his teacher was playing with his light of love, Phyllis. I always liked the classic reply of the instructor who justified his conduct something like this: "I have cautioned you about the danger of women who have made fools of many wise men. I have failed to convince you of this by precept. I therefore prove it to you now by example." Well, the guide didn't know anything about Alexander the 1st and I didn't give a hoot about Alexander the 2nd, so my visit to the Museum will not be remembered by me as a highlight of my visit to Egypt.

King Tut must have been quite a fellow, judging by the space they have allowed him at the museum. His coffin took up a lot of room. First-class funerals must have been terrifically expensive in those days. But, come to think of it, our undertakers seem to be doing fairly well for themselves.

I do not regret the cost of a visit to the pyramids. These monumental tombs are the only survivers of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world, and this was one guided tour about which I will always have a pleasant memory. The pyramids and the sphinx deserve the high rating they get as outstanding tourist attractions. But now that I have see the pyramids as well as the Douglas County Runestone, what is there, alas, to look forward to?

It isn't easy to reconcile this country as being a part of the area that is the birthplace of our civilization. It has a past, maybe it has a future. At present, however, while modernized in many ways, it still is basically ancient. The traffic on busy Cairo streets is cluttered with push carts and wagons of various kinds drawn by donkeys and horses. The Arabs haven't changed their wearing apparel styles for centuries. I am sure that somewhere in this hotel where I have a room there must be a sign reading "King Tut slept Here."

But my stay here has been pleasant. Mr. Nasser has not called me and I am afraid I will have to leave without any secret messages for Ike. Incidentally, the present government is credited with having made notable progress in improving general conditions. Tomorrow I am moving to Beirut, the capital of Lebanon.

But, getting back to my favorite, Nairobi, the main source of income in the Crown Colony of Kenya is agriculture. It is not jungle country, but has more the general characteristics of western Dakota, but with a dependable rainy season. There is much wasteland and Europeans, with their larger operations, have taken over much of the land best suited for farming. Some of the white settlements have adopted a segregated land ownership policy. The question of land ownership is therefore the root of much of the social, economic and political problems.

There is a bright side too, however. Producer cooperatives were started in 1945 and there now are many successful societies serving both the European settlers and the natives. The Africans of this area are farmers traditionally, but only on a subsistence basis. Now many of them are farming for the market and the cooperatives are providing a good service in both production and marketing.

Coffee is the most important crop and one cooperative handled 86% of the 1957 production which sold for about $20 million. This organization has 779 members of which 89 are African cooperative societies.

Other important crops are grains, legumes, fruits and vegetables, timber, hogs, dairying, and poultry and eggs. There are producer cooperatives for each of these commodities. This is an encouraging development and points the way to reasonable solutions for some of the social differences.

The dairy industry is served by Kenya Cooperative Creameries, which has 2,342 producing members. Last year's sales totaled more than $7 million. In the past four years the production of dairy products has doubled, and they have a surplus problem too. Last year they exported 1,800,000 pounds of butter, mainly to the London market. In order to handle this surplus problem the government has recently created a Dairy Industry board. One of the members of this board, a lumberman with no personal interest in dairying, sat across from me at a Rotary club luncheon and we had much to talk about.

The board has broad powers to regulate both production and marketing. The losses incurred in the surplus disposal program will be spread over all producers of dairy products in proportion to their volume.

This sounds a lot like the plan our John Brandt advocated for the American Dairy Industry.

1899—SIXTY YEARS AGO

It looks as though Old Sol will have his hands full getting the river opened up and seeding started by April 15.—Peter and James Meehan sold their sawmill property here to C. J. and D. N. Winton and Associates.—A. D. Stephens, Crookston banker, was named mayor of that city.

1909—FIFTY YEARS AGO

The local high school was making plans to put a fast baseball team into the field this spring.—Agitation was under way to force the Soo Line to build a new depot in TRF.—Walter Robbecke left for Seattle, expecting to be employed in a sawmill.—Fred Haug, former captain of the steamer Dan Patch, left for Minneapolis to serve as chauffeur for D. N. Winton.—The river here was full of logs waiting for the sawmill to start operations.

1919—FORTY YEARS AGO

W. A. Ziegler of Annandale was named to succeed J. H. Hay as superintendent of schools here.—H. O. Loken was elected president of the Merchants Assn.—L. R. Johnston was installed as head of the local Elks lodge.—H. D. Keene resumed his position as Soo Line trainmaster here.

1929—THIRTY YEARS AGO

H. E. Nelson was named to succeed H. A. Pratt as president of the Rotary club.—Kern Olson took over as exalted ruler of the Elks lodge.—Paul A. Lundgren was named secretary of the Commercial club. — Stanton Dahlen accepted a traveling position with the Minneapolis office of an insurance firm.

1939—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Vincent Borry was named head of the local Elks lodge, succeeding Paul A. Lundgren.—A new pipe organ is being installed in St. Bernard's church, the gift of an anonymous donor.—County Agent Howard Grow announced that six carloads of poison bran will be required for combating grasshoppers in Pennington county this season.

1949—TEN YEARS AGO

Arthur Tharaldson of the Holt area was named valedictorian of the Lincoln high school graduating class, and Avis Bergum of Rosewood is salutatorian. — Eloise Benson, daughter of the E. B. Bensons, will represent this city at the 1949 Girls State in St. Paul.—George W. Werstlein was elected head of the local Elks lodge, succeeding C. W. Vorachek.—M. C. Gulbranson was named president of the Rotary club, succeeding E. O. Peterson.—Gordon and Raymond Johnson opened a Western Auto Associate store on East Third st.—Lewis Myhrer was elected commander of the local VFW post.

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman
ODIN LANGEN

As you read this Congress is in recess for Easter. Mrs. Langen and myself hope by this time to have seen many of you, but may we take this opportunity to say to all of you that it is our hope you may have had a happy and blessed Easter.

Wheat Subcommittee Hearing

On March 21 I had the opportunity to testify before the Wheat Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture relative to my incremental price support bill for wheat—H. R. 5060. The Committee was courteously attentive and probing, and will now take my proposal, along with the others which have been brought forth, under study. Their opinions and findings will then be reported to the full Agriculture Committee. Response in the mails to R. R. 5060 continues to be very favorable, and for this I am certainly grateful. I also had the opportunity and privilege during the past week of appearing on the weekly radio program of Congressman Don Short of North Dakota, at which time we discussed H. R. 5060, as well as the farm situation in general. Mr. Short is a member of the Wheat Subcommittee which is presently studying my bill.

Milk for our Schoolchildren

In my newsletter of two weeks ago I told of the legislation which I had introduced to increase Federal appropriations for the special school milk program. As you probably recall, this program which provides milk for our children in public schools and nonprofit institutions of child care and training was facing a shortage of funds due to increased enrollments and increased participation in the program. I'm real pleased to be able to report to you that this proposal was passed in the form of R.R. 5247 by the House this past week. The bill is now awaiting action by the Senate, and I surely hope it will receive favorable and speedy passage. It is certainly better to provide for the health of our school children than to buy and store surplus dairy products.

The Price of Eggs

Concern has recently been registered with me regarding the price of eggs. I as well am concerned with this. As a result, I conferred this week with the Department of Agriculture about the possibility of using Section 32 funds to purchase a quantity of eggs in order to bolster the price somewhat. I hope that this will be regarded with favor.

MODERN Concrete
"Our guests tell us our street is more cheerful since it's been paved with concrete!"
A light-colored concrete street is a friendly street! Concrete reflects up to 4 times as much light at night as any dark surface. Street lighting is more effective—you can see and be seen better.
Concrete's the safety pavement day or night. There's dependable skid resistance, wet or dry. No roughness or potholes to watch for—you're always in control of your car.
Concrete is a sound investment, too. Makes your home worth more if you ever wish to sell. Keeps your street neat, clean and attractive. Saves tax money on upkeep costs. Yet initial cost is moderate.
That's why more and more families are getting together with their neighbors and requesting concrete streets.
IN THIEF RIVER FALLS THE BEST STREETS ARE CONCRETE
If your street needs paving, make your preference for concrete known. Concrete is the economy, durable pavement — stays smooth-riding and clean.

Experimental Plane Building Increasing

By V. M. Draper

Private aviation in the U.S. is far from dead, as many believed after the passing of the first postwar boom in flying which disillusioned many of flying's most ardent enthusiast.

On the contrary, private aviation, as distinguished from airline and company executive flying, is very much alive, as has been proved by the rapid growth of the Experimental Aircraft Association since its founding in 1953 in Milwaukee.

The mushrooming growth of this organization has lent credence to the claim of many aviation authorities that private flying is suffering from a malady of high prices being charged by manufacturers for hashed-over airplanes that are actually little better than pre-war versions of the same planes. These are slow, relatively inefficient and/or too expensive for the average man of average means.

The burgeoning of the EAA was caused by the little man who felt he was being taken for a ride by the aviation industry, which quadrupled the prices of airplanes in many cases since the early post-war years without offering radical improvements in their products. Many so-called modern airplanes are actually very little improved over the Spirit of St. Louis!

As a result of the founding of the EAA by Paul Poberezny and a small group of his friends in Milwaukee a large number of excellent plane designs have been born and have been or are being built by EAA members all over the U.S. and in many foreign countries. There are members of the EAA in Great Britain, Canada, France, Germany, Australia, Sweden and others, including one in India, who designed and built a very attractive and efficient little airplane on his own, despite the almost unsurmountable obstacles in his way.

To date, over 300 airplanes have been built by EAA members in the U.S. alone and another 100 are under construction, of which six of these are within a 50-mile radius of Thief River Falls.

Practically every plane being built by EAA members exceeds in performance the commercially-built planes!

Like many other organizations, the Experimental Aircraft Association has its own printed organ, Sports Aviation and the Experimenter, which is making large inroads into the circulation of older flying magazines which have tended to relegate the average pilot off to some obscure corner, out of the way of the flashy types who fly military, airline and expensive executive aircraft. Sports Aviation caters to the neglected flock.

Also like many other organizations, EAA has chapters in many cities in the U.S. so that pilots interested in private aviation can get together and air their problems or have some fun. One doesn't need to be a builder to be a member of EAA—it's for flight enthusiasts whether they intend to build a plane or not.

EAA members have compiled an excellent record of building and flying their own or other designs. To date no fatalities involving home-built aircraft have been recorded that this writer knows of and the organization is leaving no stone unturned to keep its safety record intact. The organization is in excellent standing with the FAA and co-operates with FAA in every way.

Statistics compiled by EAA headquarters show the average home builder is 38 years old, married and has a family and is usually not making his living in aviation or related fields. And the chances are he has the approval of his wife, or she only mildly disapproves at most.

In fact, one member's wife built her own ship on a dare! This was Joan Trefethen of California whom many local folks saw on the "I've Got a Secret" TV show some weeks ago.

In Minnesota there is at least one EAA chapter, in the Twin Cities area. With the number of planes being built in the northwest Minnesota area and the growing interest here, it is possible a chapter could be organized here in the near future.

There are two kinds of memberships — adult and junior. Chapter activities are designed to be of interest to young and old alike and EAA membership will help keep young people out of mischief. Anyone interested is invited to contact the writer. (Note: There will be other articles similar to this one in the near future.)

Billion Deposits in State Savings and Loan Groups

Deposits and outstanding mortgage loans of Minnesota's 81 savings and loan associations topped a billion dollars in 1958 for the first time to join assets, which had hit that mark a year earlier.

The Savings and Loan League of Minnesota reported total savings as of Dec. 31 at $1,071,542,390 compared with $928,928,430 for 1957.

President C. A. Nickoloff, Hibbing, said that more than 140,000 Minnesotans had borrowed a whopping $1,012,959,228 at the close of the year against the figure of $897,083,466 for a year ago.

Assets, maintaining the billion dollar pace for the second consecutive year, were $1,181,563,548, a gain of more than 145 million for the 12 months.

Vernon S. Welch, executive vice president of the league, said that approximately half of all Minnesota home purchases currently are being financed by member organizations. He said the continuing flow of savings was assurance that members would be able amply to meet future mortgage requirements.

Zig-zag Fence Cheap, Strong, Easy to Build

A temporary, non-electric woven wire fence that you can build in minutes and is strong enough to hold pigs, lambs, calves or chickens — that's the "zig-zag" fence tested and proven at the University of Minnesota.

This "quick up and quick down" enclosure requires no fence stretcher, no special tools other than a hand-type post driver and only two diagonal braces — one on either end. The slack in the wire is taken up by the line posts, each of which leans sideways in the opposite direction to the preceding and succeeding post and gives the fence its "zig-zag" appearance.

The fence has been used successfully since 1950 at the University's Rosemount Agricultural Experiment station, according to John Neetzel, forestry researcher. It was first tried as a "separating fence" between different groups of experimental birds and animals and worked out so well that Neetzel says many farmers could put it to use.

Here's how it's built: you roll the wire out between two sunken wooden posts—one at each end of the stretch you're fencing in. These are the only wooden posts used and the only ones needing bracing.

Attach a 2x6-inch plank to each end of the woven wire, and then tie each plank to an end post with galvanized wire.

Next, starting at one end, drive steel posts at an angle against the woven wire, leaning each one in the opposite direction of the one before. Each post helps tighten the wire until, when you drive the last one, all the slack should be taken up. Use steel posts with small "humps" on the wire side. These humps, plus the angle of the post, keep the wire from moving up or down. Posts should be about 15 feet apart.

Rolling out the wire, tying the ends and driving the line posts shouldn't take two men more than 20 minutes for a 100-yard stretch of zig-zag fence.

Slow Down — and Live.

OLIVER
Gives You Topnotch Plowing
"Kal and the Old Man"

As I walked through a town in the north one day
I came upon a man whose hair was grey
He must have seen my Oliver hat
For he said: "Son, do you have time for a chat?"

You see son, I was an Oliver dealer one time
23 years have passed since
I handled your line
And I was just wondering how things are now
With the Oliver line and especially the plow

Did we ever get by with the little plow beam
That everyone said would break at the seam?
And whatever happened to the Raydex share
The one they called an engineer's nightmare?

And the solid moldboard
they said wouldn't scour
Did they ever prove it would work in land that was sour?
And the dial hitch, did it work out O. K.
Or did the "A" hitch boys make you throw it away?

And whose winning the plowing contests now
Can we still win with an Oliver plow?
You see son, I'd just like to know
What these 23 years have had to show.

And I smiled as I looked in his anxious eyes
For somehow I knew He'd not be surprised
I said: Yes, we still make the little plow beams
And everyone else does too
it seems

And we still make the Raydex share
But, you see, we had some trouble there
It took nine years for the first competitor to see That this was the share that was gonn'a be

Then 15 years later just to the year
Another company found it to be Deere
And now after 20 years have passed
We've finally conquered the big one at last

Yes, they all use the Raydex share now
Just this year it's on another plow
To tell you the truth about my fears
They just may all have it in 15 years

Yes, we won the plowing contest again
21 year old lad beat the older men
But we talk of other things now
Like "Beam clearance" and a spring trip plow

Then before I could get in another word
The old man raised his hand, these words I heard:
"Son, you don't have to tell me more,
I'm old enough to know the score."

And as he smiled and started to walk away
These were the last words I heard him say:
"Sonny, when both you and I are dead
The Oliver Plow will still be ahead."

OVER THE BACK FENCE

By STAN PETERSON

No Room?

Has Thief River Falls grown so much during the past few years *that the city auditorium is inad*equate to house the activities of city government and the Chamber of Commerce too?

In the few months I have been in the city, I have had the opportunity to go through the auditorium many times. Much of the building is as empty as a school during summer vacation. Rooms large enough to hold large crowds comfortably are occupied by two or three people and there is no indication that anyone is in danger of suffering from claustrophobia.

Monday night, however, I again heard people state that the only place for the Chamber of Commerce office was either out of the city auditorium altogether or in a location within the building which would make it difficult to find. The alternate to either of these suggestions was one which called for temporary construction of quarters for the Chamber on the main floor of the building under the balcony—construction which would cost city taxpayers more money and which would not solve the problem for more than a few months.

After hearing proposals and counter proposals at the special council meeting Monday night which further confused an already muddled situation, several facts emerged which seem to call for consideration using a little more reason and a lot less emotion.

First of all, it is rather obvious that the battle is for "prestige space" in the city auditorium. The choice locations are those flanking the main entrance where the view is better and where employes may watch the daily movement of both cars and pedestrians.

Second, it is undeniably true that such space is an asset to some activities and to no advantage for others. There are few who can deny that the Chamber of Commerce is one activity which needs easy contact with people, both local and visitors, more than someone seeking information about a burial plot or how much property is encompassed in a drainage district.

Third, while there are some city offices which are being used every day by a large number of people, there are others which would be better off if they weren't so convenient. This is admitted to be true by some of the proponents of the 'Let's move the Chamber of Commerce" movement and by some city employes who need a little less traffic to do their jobs more efficiently.

Fourth, as a city grows, some of its offices cannot continue to be located in the most convenient position inasmuch as no builder has yet been able to put up a building where everything is in the center of the main floor.

Fifth, if the people of the city had anything to say about the matter, I am certain that they would rather be slightly inconvenienced than to be faced with further expenditures—especially since plenty of room is still available.

It was proposed at the meeting that the city clerk, his deputy and the operator of the city's new accounting machine be moved into an office in the basement of the city hall. A new vault, now needed to replace one which is inadequate, would be built in the basement and all permanent records needed by the city clerk would be moved to this better locaion. It has been admitted that these people would be better off if they were not subjected to the constant traffic now flowing through the present office.

For some reason, this suggestion was met with a tremendous lack of enthusiasm, principally because of the onerous word, "basement," which seems to send some people into a revolving tizzy. It also aroused the opposition of some people who seem to be especially concerned with the wishes of employes as to where they wish to work. I am certain that there are many who work where they are told to do so and not given the benefit of this paternal benevolence but still do not feel that their personal freedom has been infringed upon.

The whole matter boils down very simply. The city government and the Chamber of Commerce are working for the same people and are both concerned with the welfare and prosperity of Thief River Falls. Because of its activities, the Chamber needs more accessible quarters than some of the city government offices. There is plenty of room in the auditorium for both activities for many years in the future. With the space available, there is little excuse for any further building.

This matter could be solved easily and quickly by the application of a little unemotional reasoning and unbiased thinking. That it drags on and on is no credit to those who are dragging their feet or to the city of Thief River Falls.

Grain Sanitation Good 4-H Project

Pennington County Club to Get Trophy for Work

4-H'ers can put project knowledge to good use when it comes to grain sanitation.

A study by the University of Minnesota agricultural experiment station shows that better than one-fifth of Minnesota wheat is infested by rodents. Better than a tenth showed insect infestation.

These figures stress the need for improved grain storage, says county agent Paul Stelmaschuk. The grain sanitation project deals directly with this problem. Interested 4-H members are encouraged to join now. They can enter the activity as a club, or individual members can participate by doing farm surveys. These could include inspection of possible methods of rodent, bird and insect control or checking condition of storage buildings and grain processing equipment. They also can give demonstrations that stress grain sanitation practices before 4-H and community groups.

A trophy will be awarded to the Pennington county club doing outstanding work. Cash awards will go to top demonstrators.

In state competition, cash awards will be given to the top three clubs and to top individual and group demonstrators at the State Fair. All-expense paid trips to Minneapolis to study grain marketing facilities will be awarded to 12 4-H members, six local leaders and three county agents.

The aim of the program is to reduce small grain losses due to storage, according to Stelmaschuk.

The program is sponsored again this year by the F. H. Peavey company of Minneapolis and the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service.

Traffic Fatality Rate in Minnesota Stays Constant

Despite a three percent rise in traffic fatalities in Minnesota during 1958, the state's traffic fatality rate remained constant at 5.3 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles, the same rate as 1957.

Preliminary figures indicated that motorists drove a total of 13,262 million miles in Minnesota during 1958, up about 400 million over 1957. Coupled with this was a small increase of 87,000 in registered vehicles.

During the year 708 persons killed in 598 fatal accidents, an increase of 23 over 1957. In the 16,886 personal injury accidents reported, there were 26,303 persons who suffered injuries in varying degrees of severity.

The deaths per 100 million vehicle miles is used for comparative statistical purposes among states. The 1957 rate (5.3) was the lowest for the states in the upper middle west group and was 10 percent lower than the national rate of 5.9.

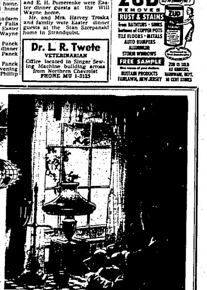
the world in a different light



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	14	1-8
Monday	Mark	2	1-12
Tuesday	Mark	3	1-6
Wednesday	Mark	5	25-34
Thursday	Mark	6	35-44
Friday	Mark	7	31-37
Saturday	Mark	10	46-52

How often, when Dad would finish reading the Bible, he would hold the Book gently in his hands and look out the window. . . .

I used to wonder what he saw—what vision against the setting sun!

And once I blurted the tremendous question: "Daddy, can you see God?"

He kept on gazing off into space, but a smile crossed his lips.

"No, son, a man doesn't see God! He feels God. And then he looks out his window and sees the world in a different light."

I grew up to discover what he meant. His Bible—his Church—his convictions have become mine. And when I look at the world . . . it's through Dad's window.

One day my son will grow up . . .

Electric Co-op Had Gross Revenues of $558,539 Last Year

Over 500 members of the Red Lake Electric Co-op, Inc., with headquarters in Red Lake Falls, attended the annual meeting held at the community hall in that city Wednesday afternoon, April 1, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Three directors, Helmer Lind of Newfolden, Joseph F. Skala of Red Lake Falls and Leonard Mellin, were all reelected at the close of the afternoon program. At the meeting of the board of directors which followed the meeting, President Manvel Moe, Leonard Mellin, vice president, and Joseph F. Skala, secretary-treasurer, were reelected.

Following the noon registration and band concert by the Lafayette band under the direction of Kenneth Larson, Mayor H. B. Lane extended a welcome and the co-op directors were introduced as were Charles Boughton, attorney for the organization and other guests.

Reports were read by president Moe, manager Charles Kleven and the treasurer's report by office manager Ed Etterman. During the fiscal 1958, the cooperative reported a gross sale of 12.2 million KWH with a gross revenue of $558,539. Operating expense during the period was $533,471 with a net margin of $25,068.

The cooperative now has 2,233 connected members on 2,230 miles of line in Red Lake and three other surrounding counties.

Entertainment for the program was furnished by Don Walker and Karen and Lorna Moe of Thief River Falls. Lyle Lund, Minnkota business manager, spoke on the Garrison dam and the power supply and Tom Findley, Minnkota safety director, gave a demonstration on hot line safety practices.

A number of prizes were awarded to members and lunch was served by women from Bethany Lutheran church of Red Lake Falls.

County Historical Society's Annual Meeting May 12th

Arrangements Are Made at Meeting of Society Last Friday Evening

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Historical society will be May 12 at 8 p.m. in the meeting room on the ground floor of the courthouse it was decided at a meeting of the society Friday night.

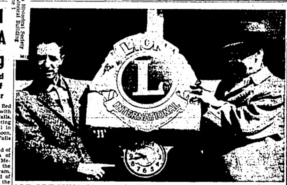
Nominees for officers of the group will be presented at the May 12 meeting by a committee chose Friday. J. M. Roche, Millard A. Nelson and Reuben Lockrem were selected for the assignment.

Two St. Hilaire women were appointed by Judge Paul A. Lundgren, president of the society, to prepare a St. Hilaire exhibit for the annual meeting. They are Mrs. Arvid Dahlstrom and Mrs. Oscar Gunstad. The cooperation of everyone in getting the exhibit ready for presentation will be greatly appreciated, Judge Lundgren said.

$945.78 Turned in to Date from Sale of Easter Seals

A total of $945.78 in Easter Seal contributions had been received up to last weekend, it was announced by Mrs. Herbert G. Halvorson, chairman of the Pennington county chapter of the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children, and Mrs. Paul A. Lundgren. They urged all who received seals through the mail and have not yet remitted for them to do so as quickly as possible so that a final report can be compiled.

Mr. and Mrs John Peterson and family were Easter weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bukowsgi at Starkweather, N. D.



ICE BREAKUP John Peterson, left, president of the Lions club, and Les Ihle, official timer, show the clock which officially recorded the time of the river ice breakup at 9:43:55 Sunday morning. The clock, connected with a weight on the ice just north of the Third st. bridge, stopped when the electrical connection was broken as the weight dropped to the river's bottom. The breakup came 11 days later than last year but five days earlier than the April 10 average date.

Area Conference of Masons Scheduled in T.R. Falls Saturday

Increasing emphasis on today's critical social, educational and humanitarian problems will be discussed by Masons at an area conference at the Masonic Temple in Thief River Falls Saturday, April 11.

Registration will begin at 1:00 p.m., according to Clarence E. Peterson of Goodridge, master of Northern Lodge No. 236 in Thief River Falls. Stafford King of St. Paul, grand junior warden, will serve as chairman of the conference.

William A. Prugh, grand master of Masons or the Province of Manitoba, will given an address on the subject "A Canadian Brother Evaluates our Conference."

Other subjects to be presented include:

"Programs to Stimulate Masons to Action," Huntley Filipi of Warren. "Responsibilities of Obligations of Lodge Officers," Edward McMillan of Hallock. "Projects for Blue Lodges," A. G. Janecky of Baudette.

"Obligations of a Mason to His Lodge and Community," C. C. Orr of East Grand Forks; and Harold C. Gulbrandson of Red Lake Falls, "Masonry and Religion," The Rev. Arden Johnson of Roseau. A discussion period will follow each presentation.

Clyde E. Hegman, grand master of Masons of Minnesota, emphasizes that the conference is designed to deal with matters of interest to all Master Masons in the northwestern area of the state.

Entertainment for the ladies will be provided during the afternoon, after which everyone, ladies included, will gather at Zion Lutheran church for a banquet, entertainment and the address by Mr. Hegman.

Tickets are available at Narverud Cleaners.

Another Break in City Water Mains Occurs Saturday

Water service in the western part of the city was interrupted for 25 minutes Saturday morning due to another in the series of water main breaks that have occurred this year on Duluth av. between Third and Fourth sts.

Due to the spring run-off, the city water supply has recently been discolored, but Harold M. Johnson, superintendent of the water treatment plant, stated today that the situation is improving rapidly.

Ice in River Pool Breaks up Sunday Morning at 9:43

The ice officially went out of the river pool Sunday morning at 9:43:55 o'clock when a weight on the ice just north of the Third st. bridge dropped into the river breaking a connection stopping the electric timing clock.

This is five days earlier than the April 10 date when most people expect the breakup to occur, but is 11 days later than last year when the timing clock registered the event at 6:09 a.m. March 26, a modern-day record!

By Sunday afternoon, large patches of open water were seen on the river, but no hardy souls had taken advantage of the breakup to have the dubious honor of being the first boaters of the season.

Nomination of Post Officers Set by Legion Tuesday

Nomination of officers for the Ecklund-Holmstrom post of the American Legion has been scheduled for Tuesday night, April 7, in the club rooms starting at 8 o'clock.

The business meeting will be preceded by a chicken dinner which will be served at 7 o'clock.

Ormond Johnson, commander of the post, reports that because of the inadequacy of post records, it has been impossible to complete the list of continuous members, and these awards will be made at the May meeting.

Pancake Day Set at LOL Thursday

Thursday will be a busy day at the local plant of Land O' Lakes Creameries, when the cooperative will stage its annual Pancake Day, serving pancakes and coffee to patrons during the day. As a special inducement to farmers to attend, a substantial premium will be paid on all eggs bought that day.

Farmers Are Offered Bargain on Soil Test Thursday, April 17th

Farmers are urged to take soil samples as soon as possible and bring them to Thief River Falls on April 17. These soil samples will be tested free. This announcement comes from Arnt Aune, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee.

The Chamber and all of the fertilizer dealers in Pennington county are cooperating in putting on this soil testing promotion. The date to bring in the soil samples is Friday, April 17.

The cost of the soil testing will be shared in the following manner:

Example: John Smith bring 5 soil samples.

Cost of testing $5.00
C. of Commerce pays.... $1.00
John Smith pays $1.00

When John Smith buys his fertilizer the four dollars will be taken off the cost of the fertilizer by all dealers in Pennington county. The cost of the soil testing is thus carried by the fertilizer dealers and the Chamber of Commerce.

A trailer provided by Borchert Trailers will be parked by the postoffice where the farmers can leave their samples. This can be done any time from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, April 17.

Soil sample boxes and information sheets are available at the banks, fertilizer dealers, and the Chamber of Commerce office. Also samples may be brought in any other containers and they will be packaged at the trailer.

The soil samples will be taken to the University of Minnesota soil testing laboratory where special service will be provided to get fast returns. These will be back in the county seven to ten days after the soil samples are sent to the laboratory.

All farmers in Red Lake, East Marshall and Pennington counties are urged to participate.

More Nominations Made for Jaycee Offices Thursday

Chapter to Participate in Athletic Banquet; to Decide on Funds Tonight

A routine meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce developed some heated discussion Thursday night when the organization agreed on participation in the annual athletic banquet but couldn't agree on how it woul pay for it.

A special meeting of the board of directors has been scheduled for tonight to discover some way to raise the funds.

Additional nominations were made for the board of directors at the meeting. Nominations for Jaycee posts to be filled in the election April 23 now inclued Bruce Hall for president; John Eisbrener, first vice-president; Roger Tunberg, second vice-president; Charles Samuelson, secretary; Jim Winjum, Jr., treasurer; and James Carlson, Charles Meister, Gary Forsberg, Roger Hastings, Chester Kukuk, Robert Mattson and Reuben Lockrem for directors. Glenn Peterson, outgoing president, will become the state director.

The Jaycees went on record supporting the triplet fund and Jon Metusalem, sponsor of the FFA chapter, thanked the organization for the annual bean feed.

A delegation from Ada appeared at the meeting soliciting the support of the local chapter in behalf of Arne Aasland as regional vice-president. The election will be held at the annual regional meeting in Moorhead April 16.

Legislature to Receive Money Bills This Week

Only Two Weeks of 1959 Session Left for Passing Bills

The Minnesota Legislature will get the bad news this week.

Sen. Val Imm of Mankato and Rep. Bill Shovell of St. Paul, chairmen of the appropriations committees, said they expect their units to complete work on most of the big money bills by the end of the week.

Sen. Imm said indications were bills being prepared by his committee would call for somewhat less money than the governor's budget. The governor's budget proposes expenditures of 470 million dollars and would require 84 million dollars in new revenue.

Completion of the appropriation bill will signal the start of a real push by the tax committees, which have had the governor's money raising proposals under study for several weeks.

These call for highers rates on taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances, liquor, cigarettes, tobacco and iron ore.

While there are indications conservatives critical of the governor's plan will propose an alternative, its details probably will be withheld until the House passes the tax bill.

So great has been the concentration on finance and tax matters that fears were being expressed that this Legislature will pass little or no major legislation.

At this point, with just over two weeks left to pass bills, legislators were hard put to point to a single bill assured of approval.

And where important measures have passed or seemed likely to pass both houses, they have differences which threaten to resist compromise.

The small loan bill passed last week by the House is an example. The House version raises the ceiling from $300 to $750 and sets the starting interest at 2½ per cent per month. The Senate measure, passed earlier, fixes the ceiling at $900, the starting interest rate at 2¾ per cent.

In a similar situation is the home rule bill. The House approved version requires approval by 52½ per cent of the voters of a city to adopt or amend a charter. The Senate raised the percentage to 55.

Claiming attention again was the Senate-House dispute over electing regents.

After the House declined to meet with the Senate for this purpose, Senate conservatives "called" a joint meeting to pick regents by obtaining signatures of all 102 conservatives in the Legislature to set the election for next Friday.

Liberals called this plan ille-

CONGRESSMAN Members of the Chamber of Commerce Thurday heard Odin Langen, center, representative in Congress from the Ninth district explain his bill which has as its objective the elimination of the present wheat surplus and the increase of grower income through incentive payments. An adequate reserve of 500 million bushels would be maintained under the bill. Sig Quam, Chamber of Commerce president, who presided at the meeting is on the left, and Les Ihle, who introduced Langen, is on the right.

Red Cross Drive Goes Forward Slowly; Only $475 Paid in to Date

With about one-half of the Thief River Falls residential area reporting, only $475 had been collected up to last weekend, in the Pennington county Red Cross chapter's annual fund drive which opened Tuesday. A quota of $3,100 has been assigned to the county.

No reports have been received to date from the rural areas or from the villages of Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

Ralph T. Hunt, chairman of the local chapter who is also heading the fund campaign, stated that if the public response does not bring receipts somewhere near the objective, it will be necessary to curtail the water safety program sponsored by the Red Cross for many past summers at Tindolph park swimming pool.

Other programs which may be affected are the disaster service as well as the home service program, which provides emergency service for men in the armed forces while away from home.

Although the chapter had hoped to avoid a solicitation in the business district, said Hunt, it appears now that this will be necessary, and letters are being sent out this week explaining the situation and appealing for support.

A Cappella Choir Sings Tonight in H. S. Auditorium

The a capella choir of Northwestern college in Minneapolis, under the direction of William Berntsen, will present a concert in the Lincoln high school auditorium this evening, Monday, at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Evangelical Ministers association. The group of 55 vocalists also will render quartet, sextet and octet numbers. No admission fee will be charged.

'Showboat '59' to Be Given April 13 by Washington PTA

The Showboat is coming to town! It is due in Thief River Falls Monday evening, April 13, for that is the date the Washington school PTA unit is presenting its spring variety show, "Showboat '59."

There will be many interesting and entertaining numbers, all presented by local talent within the Washington group. Some of the acts will be laugh-provoking comedy numbers, others will feature gay song numbers, several solos and others in group harmony.

There will be a German band and other instrumental acts. The teachers of the school will present an act in pantomime and song.

The proceeds from the show will be used toward a scholarship for a worthy boy or girl. Tickets are now on sale at 25c.

UP SHE GOES! The new sign, which was installed at the First Federal Savings and Loan association Friday, is shown as it was hoisted into place that morning. Time and temperature readings will be flashed alternately 12 times every minute on screens which can be seen day or night at a distance of two blocks. Both time and temperature readings are corrected automatically guaranteeing accuracy.

Savings and Loan Adds Temperature Gauge and Clock

Complicated Mechanism Insures Accurate Time and Mercury Readings

Two of the most-asked questions in this or any other city will be accurately answered from now on with the installation of a new sign on the First Federal Savings and Loan association, according to Stanton R. Dahlen, president.

"What time is it?" and "How hot (or cold) is it?" will be answered 17,280 times every day with a new Double "TT" sign in numerals 24 inches high that can be seen for two blocks.

Accurate time and temperature readings, in flashing lights that change 12 times a minute, are controlled by a maze of switches and wiring housed in a master unit in the building's basement. Governed by two synchronous control motors, the mechanism automatically corrects the time every minute guaranteeing accuracy. In case of power failure, the mechanism has its own standby power which will allow the time unit to operate accurately as long as 10 hours. The temperature automatically corrects itself upon the restoration of power.

The temperature is electronically measured on the roof of the building by a device similar to those used by the weather bureau. Wind and sun have no direct effect on temperature readings.

The sign, manufactured by the American Sign and Indicator corporation, will be serviced by Harwood Olson and the electronic gear by Lockrem's TV and Appliance.

Big Gathering at C. C. Hears Rep. O. Langen

Congressman Tells about Bill Aimed to Raise Wheat Price

The appearance of U.S. Rep. Odin Langen as guest speaker at a Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting last Thursday evening attracted the attendance of 100 persons, one of the largest turnouts of recent years. President Sig Quam was in charge of the program.

Mr. Langen, who was introduced by L. A. Ihle, devoted the major portion of his address to an explanation of the bill, H.R. 5060 he recently introduced in Congress, with the objective of eliminating the present wheat surplus and increasing the income of growers through incentive payments. He also stated that he will soon introduce similar bills covering other grain crops.

The mechanics of the wheat bill, he said, are very simple, providing incremental price supports and acreage reserve payments. Most of the provisions presently written into law pertaining to wheat allotment and marketing quotas remain in effect. Therefore, he stated, we will continue to have a wheat allotment established for every farmer in wheat-producing areas, and farmers will still have the opportunity of voting on whether they wish to accept the provisions of a marketing quota.

The farmer is then offered the option of reducing his seeded acreage of wheat below the allotment established for his farm. For each five per cent reduction in seeded acres, he becomes eligible for an increase of ten per cent in the price support available to him through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

He will reach the desired 100% of parity if he reduces his allotted acres by 20%. This percentage reduction, said Langen, offers the full potential of reducing our surpluses, and creating a market for the total wheat pro-

G.N. Train Duluth to Grand Forks to Be Discontinued

Under an order issued Tuesday by the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission, the Great Northern railway was granted its request to discontinue passenger service between Duluth and Grand Forks. This would remove trains No. 35 and No. 36 from the Great Northern schedule and limit train service throughout the local area.

The commission determined at hearings that continued operation of the service would entail expenses far exceeding potential revenue. The order said the public would also suffer no inconvenience because of the abandonment.

JoAnne Anderson Weds Allen Torkelson March 28

Before an altar adorned with baskets of white gladiolas and Easter lilies and lighted by candelabra Miss JoAnne Gail Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of this city, became the bride of Allen Torkelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Torkelson also of this city, Saturday, March 28.

The double ring ceremony took place in the Mission Covenant church with Rev. Eldor Langager officiating. Mrs. A. Dahlstrom of this city, was at the organ, playing the nuptial music and accompanying Mrs. Dennis Ristau as she sang "God Gave Me You", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was attired in a floor length gown of white lace over taffeta, featuring a sabrina neckline and long sleeves, which came to a point at the wrist. The full skirt featured three layers of lace and net. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a bouquet in the shape of a cross design of white carnations and centered with a lavendar orchid.

Miss Marlene Torkelson, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, while bridesmaids were Miss Eileen Swenson of this city, and Miss Evelyn Kasprowicz of Warren. They all wore floor length gowns of lavendar chiffon over taffeta featuring full skirts. Their bouquets were of cross design of white carnations and centered with sweetheart yellow roses.

Little Gail Anderson of Minneapolis, wearing a lavendar organdy over taffeta gown, and carrying a white lace basket, filled with yellow roses, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Wayne Lundell.

The bridegroom was attended by Warren Stone, of this city, as best man with David Ulschafer of Chicago and Allen Wikstrom of Minneapolis as groomsmen. Ushers were Frank Conklin and Melvin Stone, both of this city.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Anderson chose a pink dress with gray over-net and white accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue dress with pink accessories. Their corsages were pink roses and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 200 relatives and friends. A five-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the bridal table.

For going away the bride chose a pink cotton flowered sheath dress with pink and white accessories. Following their honeymoon trip to Minneapolis and Spring Valley, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Torkelson are making their home at 322½ No. LaBree.

Both the bride and groom graduated from Lincoln high school, class of '58 and '56 respectively. The bride is employed as a clerk with the S & L store, while the groom is employed at the Union State bank.

Relatives and friends from Minneapolis, Roseau, Kennedy, Grand Forks, Grygla and Newfolden attended the ceremony.

Edberg-Peterson Vows Exchanged Saturday, Mar. 21

Miss Margaret Joan Edberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edberg of Wannaska, and Dale LeRoy Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson of Gatzke, were united in marriage Saturday, March 21, at 2 p.m. at the Wannaska Lutheran parsonage. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Berg.

For her wedding the bride chose a two-piece light blue suit with white accessories and a bridal corsage. Her attendant, Mrs. James Swanson of Minneapolis, a sister, chose a powder blue suit with white accessories and a corsage similar to that of the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Floyd Peterson.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, Clifford Olson, for immediate relatives and friends. Upon returning from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are making their home on the Arthur Peterson farm home near Gatzke.

The bride attended the Roseau high school, while the bridegroom is a graduate of the Middle River high school.

CANDID COMMENT

by Mack Draper

Spring is here — there's no doubt about it now. Water is flowing under our local bridges (visibly, that is) and the last few dark clouds have brought rain instead of snow.

Any day now we can expect to see some eager (but not necessarily brainy) beaver go up the river on water skis. Any time now we here at the Times may get a phone call asking us to bring the camera and take a shot of the first boat in the river this spring.

Some day we're going to be surprised—some guy is going to call and ask us to take a picture of the last boat on the river in the fall.

We here are a little more fortunate than folks in the counties to the south. We have both topsoil and subsoil moisture. In parts of the state south of a line from Moorhead to Duluth they're pretty dry and if it doesn't rain soon they'll have a drouth on their hands.

The lakes all over the state are down considerably is not news. Even last year Lake of the Woods was a sight to behold. Our own Union Lake is down about a foot, perhaps more, which may make it necessary to move our dock out another 8-10 ft.

I must be rather morbid this a.m. Writing about low lakes reminds me of the last time I had to work on our dock—cost me plenty to get my injured back straightened out again. I still get an occasional twinge. But, boy what a wonderful excuse a weak back is when there's some heavy lifting to be done!

Old age; that's probably what it is.

I don't dabble in the stock market (for very familiar reasons) and seldom read financial news but this past weekend I couldn't help but notice an article saying steel shareholders are getting a very nice divedend this spring. At a time when steel prices are at an all-time high, so are steel profits, despite all-time high wages paid steelworkers, and despite factories running at only 70 per cent of capacity, or so.

You know, I kind of suspect somebody's gouging somewhere.

Normal Mercury Readings Due Here

High Reading in 60s Forecast for Today

Average temperatures for this area will be near or slightly above normal until Saturday this week although it is expected to be a little cooler tomorrow and Wednesday, according to the KTRF weather forecast.

Partly cloudy, windy and warmer is predicted for today with highs in the 60's. Scattered light showers and little change in temperature is expected tonight followed by fair and cooler tomorrow. Lows tonight are expected to be near 30.

The normal maximum for this time of the year is from 47 to 56 and the normal minimum temperatures from 26 to 33.

Grantsburg, Wis., was the coldest spot in the nation last night with a low of 17 degrees. Gila Bend, Ariz., and Presidio, Tex., shared the honors yesterday for the hottest weather with readings of 98.

Young Republicans Plan Convention in Bagley April 11

Membership in League Is Open to Young People Between Ages of 18 and 40

The Ninth District Young Republican League convention will be held in Bagley Saturday, April 11 at the American Legion hall, starting at 1:30 p.m. with convention registration. The Clearwater county group will act as convention hosts.

The convention will hear a keynote from the state Republican central committee. The main purpose of the conference is to organize a Ninth District Young Republican League and to explore the possibility of organizing and chartering new county YRL clubs. A banquet at 6 p.m. in the Legion auditorium will end the conference activities.

The Young Republican League is composed of young persons between the ages of 18 and 40 who are interested in good government. Through their YRL affiliation they will learn many interesting facts about politics and meet many of their lawmakers.

Interested young Republicans in the Ninth District who wish to attend this convention may contact the Clearwater County Young Republican League, Box 206, Bagley. Registrations should be made at the earliest possible date.

Travel Expenses and Income Tax Returns

(This is the ninth in a series of articles on Income Tax. These articles are made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar association, public relations committee.)

As an employee you may be called upon to make certain expenditures connected with your job for your employer's benefit. If these expenses fall within the categories listed below you may be entitled to deduct these expenses on your income tax return. Generally, these deductions are allowed in computing adjusted gross income, which means that they can be taken even though you use the standard deduction in lieu of your personal deductions.

Types of Deductible Expenses

Expenses allowed as business deductions to an employee are of four categories:

1. Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home performing services as an employee,
2. Other expenses of the employer's business to the extent the employee is reimbursed,
3. Business transportation expenses, other than cost of commuting to and from work, and
4. Outside salesman's expenses of soliciting business, away from the employer's place of business.

Travel, Meals and Lodging

If you incur travel, meals or lodging expenses while away from home in the course of your employment, you may deduct such expenses. However, if you are not away from home overnight you may deduct only your transportation expenses because in such case the cost of your meals is considered to be a personal living expense.

If you are required to work at two or more places on the same day, whether or not for the same employer, you may deduct as transportation expense the cost of getting from one place to the other. However, in no case may you deduct the cost of your traveling between your home and your employer's place of business.

Reporting requirements

The controversial line 6 (a) relating to "travel reimbursed expenses, etc." which was added on Form 1040 on the 1957 return has now been removed. Regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service now make a distinction for reporting purposes between employees who must account to their employers to substantiate their expenses and those who do not have to so account or who do not in fact account.

An employee who accounts to his employer will have a relatively simple task in reporting his 1958 reimbursed expenses. Where reimbursements equal expenses the employee need not report the expenses on his return but need only state with his return that the total of what he charged directly or indirectly to his employer (by credit card or otherwise) plus what he received as advance or reimbursement was not more than what he spent or incurred. If, however, the reimbursements, including amounts charged to the employer, exceed the expenses the excess must be reported in the employee's income. Finally, where expenses exceed reimbursement, the employee has a choice of two courses of action: (1.) He may forego any deduction of the excess expenses by merely filing a statement as indicated above that reimbursements did not exceed expenses; or (2.) he may deduct the excess if he submits a statement showing (a) the total charges paid by the employer plus advances and reimbursements, and (b) his occupation, the number of days away from home on business, and the total amount of business expenses which he incurred, broken down into such broad headings as transportation, meals and lodging away from home overnight, entertainment and other business expenses.

TRF Garden Club Host to District Meeting April 15

9th Dist. Horticultural Society to Meet in City Auditorium Next Week

The Thief River Falls Garden club will be host to the annual Spring Workshop of the 9th District Horticultural society Wednesday, April 15, beginning at 10 a.m. at the city Auditorium.

Mr. Hunt, executive secretary of the state department, will be present to assist in the division of the Ninth district group. He will also present an illustrated lecture on home ground planting.

Mrs. Clifford Lusso of Hendrum will demonstrate preserving plant material in sand and borax and also air drying. She will illustrate the use of this material as well as feathers in pictures and bouquets. Music will be furnished by the Ada Garden club.

The business meeting of the society will be held, and refreshments will be served by the host club. It is urged that every affiliated garden club president and two delegates attend this meeting, said Mrs. S. Roadfelt of Badger, district secretary.

It is necessary, he said, that one further provision be added. The acreage taken out of wheat production is not to be converted into the production of other crops, which as well might be in surplus. It is required that these acres be kept out of the production of any crop or the grazing of any stock. Acreage reserve payments are provided for these acres at a rate not to exceed $10 an acre per year, based on a scale proportionate to the assessed valuation of the land.

The bill further provides that there will always be an adequate supply of wheat on hand thru a reserve of 500 million bushels. The Commodity Credit Corporation is authorized to dispose of wheat in excess of this 500 million bushels at the lowest incremental price support level of 60 per cent of parity.

In his address, the congressman also cited the tremendous national debt, which he said is equivalent to $142 for every man, woman and child in the nation. He expressed the hope that appropriations by Congress would not exceed the $77 billion projected in the federal budget. A question and answer period followed his talk.

Dr. O. D. Belch, chairman of the public relations committee, told of the shower of gifts being arranged for the Merideth triplets, and he solicited the cooperation of local firms and individuals.

Robert A. Wurst, chairman of the airport committee, stated that it appeared necessary to develop more local traffic for North Central Airlines if the service is goal of 150 passengers per month to be retained here. He said the has not been reached in recent months.

Chamber Secretary J. M. Roche announced that Thief River Falls will be host to more than 2,000 high school musicians April 24 and 25, when the state area music contest will be held here.

Local Delegation at IWVA Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Huseth, Ambrose Wysozki and Earl Gjernes motored to Winnipeg Saturday to attend an IWVA meeting. Huseth is a director of the organization, representing the VFW of Thief River Falls. In the business session held Sunday, the dates were selected for the convention at Crookston which will be August 1, 2 and 3.

Public Opinion

Editor The Times:

Some time ago, someone, maybe the governor of Minnesota, asked for a return to Minnesota of all former residents. After reading my Thief River Falls Times, and the prices of groceries compared to our chain-stores here in Los Angeles, I kind of thought that maybe he was right.

100-lb. sack of potatoes, No. 1, for 98 cents: Thief River Falls.

10-lb. sack of potatoes, No. 1, for 98 cents: Los Angeles.

1-lb. butter, No. 1 creamery, 59 cents, Thief River Falls.

1-lb. butter, No. 1 creamery, 78 cents, Los Angeles.

Of course when you read the enclosed clipping you will readily see why such abnormal prices. Fancy $111.60 per week for grocery clerks to punch a machine that does the work for them, double for overtime, and triple for Sunday.

Personally, I can figure correctly, ten columns of figures embracing 100 figures in 65 seconds and I will be 80 next birthday.

A former Grygla resident,
John R. Simpson,

Axel C. Sund Succumbs; Rites Set For Today

Funeral services were held today, Monday, April 6, at First Lutheran church at Goodridge for Axel C. Sund, who died at Northwestern hospital Thursday at the age of 54.

Officiating at the rites will be Dr. Walter M. Pedersen with interment to be in the Goodridge cemetery. Active pallbearers will be Gordon Pittman, Harold Einarson, Ernie Swanson, Lynn Hanson, Oscar Erickson and Clarence Carlson. Honorary pallbearers will be Roy Wiseth, Harold South, Willard Finnerud, Ed Geving, Arne Wick and Albert Johnson.

Mr. Sund was born December 27, 1904, in Marshall county, where he was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. He attended rural schools and assisted his parents with the farm work until his marriage to Miss Ida Levang November 25, 1937, at Thief River Falls. They have since resided on his parent's homestead.

He was a member of the First Lutheran church, which he served as vice president, and served a number of years on the school and township boards, member of the soil conservation board of Marshall and Beltrami counties, and a director of the Grygla Co-op Store for the past several years. For the past 15 years he has been in the land clearing work as well as farming.

Surviving are his wife, three daughters and two sons; Eileen, Mrs. Walter Hillman, of Warren, Edith, Mrs. Milo Heden, of Minneapolis, Wilma, Mrs. Morris Fimrite of Goodridge, and Ronald and Richard at home. Three grandchildren, three sisters and four brothers; Mrs. Hanna Sund, Mrs. Cora Casparis of California, Mrs. Hilda Hewitt of Canada, John of Norwood, Minn., Conrad and Victor of California, and Arthur of Gainsville, Ga. He was preceded in death by one brother and one sister.

TWO FROM TRF ON DEAN'S LIST AT CONCORDIA

Concordia College freshmen who have gained the first semester Deans' list have been announced by the Deans, Dr. Dorothy Olson and Rev. Victor Boe. The 132 students who have attained a B or better average include JoAnn I. Klungness and Ruby J. Waale, both of Thief River Falls.

St. Hilaire Scene of 1959 Canton 7 Brown Swiss Show

Event Scheduled June 4; Ed Novak Named President at Crookston Meeting

Ed Novak of St. Hilaire was elected president of Canton 7 of the Minnesota Brown Swiss association at its annual meeting in Crookston last Friday. Other officers include Gerald Yonke, St. Hilaire, vice president; Ronald Tollefson, Red Lake Falls, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Barr, Warren, publicity chairman.

The breeders present selected St. Hilaire as the site of the 1959 canton show, which was scheduled for Thursday, June 4. Jon Metusalem of Thief River Falls was named chairman of the judging contest committee.

Principal speaker at Friday's meeting was Marvin Kruse, western field man for the National Brown Swiss association. He stated that a Brown Swiss cow, Lee's Hill Keeper Raven, is the world's all-breed butterfat production champion with a year's record of 34,850 pounds of milk and 1,579 pounds of butterfat.

Lincoln Musicians in District Event

To Perform in Festival at Crookston April 10-11

A large number of Lincoln high school musicians will take part in the district music festival to be held in Crookston next Friday and Saturday, April 10 and 11.

Soloists and small groups and ensembles will perform Friday, while Saturday has been set aside for the larger organizations including bands, choruses and glee clubs.

Two weeks later, on April 24 and 25, groups and individuals receiving "A" ratings in the district contests will converge on Thief River Falls with more than 2,000 young musicians expected to compete at Lincoln high school in the state area contest. Miles Nelson, Lincoln principal, will serve as general chairman of the event.

Dentists to Meet in Minneapolis

76th Annual Convention Will Open Next Monday

More than 1600 Minnesota dentists including some from Thief River Falls, are expected to attend the 76th annual meeting of the Minnesota State Dental association which opens on Monday, April 13, at the Minneapolis municipal auditorium.

Dentists from 25 other states and Canada are also expected to visit the three-day conclave.

The meeting will feature a technical exhibit of devices, products and techniques used in dentistry and some 176 clinics relating to dental problems and techniques.

Dr. Paul H. Jeserich, dean University of Michigan school of dentistry and president-elect of the American Dental association, will headline the speaking program.

The increasing use by dentists of antibiotics and other prescription medications as pain relievers and in other ways will be spotlighted.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
Doc Didn't Pull His Punch

The other day Doc Williams got to talking about one of his patients.

"This fellow had a bad tooth," he explained, "but I told him I could save it with a few prompt treatments. Then, after that one visit it was six months before he came back.

"This time," Doc said, "his cheek was all swollen up. 'It's that same tooth,' he said. 'Think we can save it?' Sure, I said, after I take it out you can put it in your pocket and take it home with you."

From where I sit, trouble gets worse with neglect. That's why we should never ignore "intolerance" in any form. Sometimes it crops up in little things like begrudging a man his right to a glass of beer, or telling him what kind of television programs he should watch. Let's all respect our neighbor's preferences and opinions. That way we won't "pull" at each other's freedom.

Oil Industry to Note Centennial in Current Year

The oil industry's centennial celebration in Minnesota will be under the direction of H. V. Smock, division manager of the Texas company, according to an announcement made today by J. R. Lynden, vice chairman of the Minnesota Petroleum Council and Minneapolis division sales manager for Shell Oil company.

It was on Aug. 27, 1859, that Col. Edwin L. Drake, working against great odds, drilled the first commercially successful oil well at Titusville, Pa., according to Lynden.

He said that "Born in Freedom — Working for Progress" is the theme adopted by the industry for their year of celebration.

H. F. Horning, executive secretary of the Northwest Petroleum association, received an appointment as association centennial coordinator from the committee on public affairs in New York.

Discuss Need to Form County Unit of Cancer Society

Volunteer Activities Leader from Minneapolis Meets with Local Group

Mrs. F. C. Meyer of Minneapolis, state volunteer activities chairman for the American Cancer Society visited Thief River Falls last Wednesday and Thursday to confer with the volunteer unit heads of four counties in this area. Present at a meeting at the Rex cafe were Mrs. Ormond Johnson, Mrs. Olaf Dahlen, Mrs. G. H. Mayer-Oaks and Mrs. R. W. Nelson of the Pennington county volunteer group. Other meetings were held with the heads of other counties including Marshall, Kittson and Red Lake.

Purpose of the series of meetings was to determine the advisability of establishing permanent county units in these areas. A unit group is composed of 12 people representing the various social business and professional groups of the county.

Direct and indirect benefits of establishing a unit would include: 1. Establishment of a loan closet of supplies and dressings for terminal cancer patients. 2. Arrangement for ambulance or other transportation of patients to hospitals when needed. 3. The local board would take charge of its own finances, maintain a local fund for use in the county, thus assuring that Cancer Crusade funds would be available for use in the home county when needed by patients. 4. Establishment of a year round program of providing educational films and materials to further the public understanding of cancer.

The local group under the direction of Mrs. Ormond Johnson will take the matter under consideration and announcements will be made at a later date if a local unit of the society is to be established. Mrs. Johnson invited any interested citizens who would like to take an active part in this work as a member of the board of directors to contact members of the volunteer group and make their wishes known.

Pork and Chicken Best Buys in April

Greater Supply of Eggs Is Depressing Market

If you're looking for good buys at the meat counter, choose pork or chicken for April meals.

Pork leads the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for the month. Hogs coming to market in April will be from last fall's pig crop, the third largest on record.

Broilers and fryers will be in generous supply all month. The USDA expects from 9 to 11 per cent more broilers and fryers to be marketed this month than in April, 1958.

Eggs continue to be plentiful and a good buy. The large supply of eggs in April will come from a slightly larger number of layers than last year.

Potatoes, new cabbage, celery and canned peas are the vegetables that will be most abundant during the month. Stocks of potatoes from last fall's crop are still large, and shipments of new potatoes will be arriving in April. Bountiful supplies of celery are reaching markets this month from Florida and cabbage is coming in from Florida, California and the southern states. Canned peas continue to be abundant.

Waynuts, peanuts and peanut products, honey, milk and dairy products and lard are other items on the USDA's list of plentiful foods for April.

Sports Figures to Be Honored Apr. 27

Branch Rickey to Speak at Minneapolis Banquet

Five great figures of Minnesota athletics will be enshrined in the Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame at a special banquet at the Radisson hotel in Minneapolis Monday, April 27.

Featured speaker for this year's Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame banquet will be Branch Rickey, co-owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates and one of baseball's all-time great figures.

Invited back for the event are the 11 living charter members of the Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame who were enshrined last year.

The event is open to the public and tickets can be purchased by mail or at the Star and Tribune building, 427 Portland ave.

Special invitations to the event have been sent to the 1,958 Minnesota sport champions who were honored at the Minnesota Centennial sport champion banquet last year.

Tickets are $10 per person. Mail requests should be addressed to Dick Cullum, chairman, Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame, Minneapolis Star and Tribune, Minneapolis 15.

Ticket requests made by mail should include a check made payable to the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. Ticket mail deadline is April 23.

Great Northern Orders 500 More Special Boxcars

Great Northern Railway announced today that it has expanded its 1959 freight car construction and repair program by ordering 500 all-steel, special-type boxcars for delivery ahead of this year's Northwest grain harvest.

The railway's earlier freight car program for 1959 provided for construction of 500 new, all-steel boxcars, major repairs to 1,000 units and conversion of 250 boxcars into livestock equipment in the company's St. Cloud shops. Delivery of the additional 500-car order will be started in June by the American Car and Foundry company.

The newly-ordered cars will be adaptable to regular and special boxcar requirements.

Great Northern's St. Cloud shops now are turning out six new boxcars a day, and this phase of the 1959 program will be completed by mid-May.

Sixty Million Car Breakdowns in '58

Battery and Electrical Troubles No. 1 Cause

The number one cause for car breakdowns in 1958, according to a study made by the American Automobile association was car battery and electrical failures.

For the 56,751,000 passenger cars registered in the United States last year, AAA estimates there were more than 60,000,000 calls for service help. Although total car registration rose slightly less than one million in 1958, car breakdowns jumped by 5.6 million over 1957.

Flat tires—historic nemesis to the motorist — followed battery and electrical failures while ignition troubles ranked third in the list of motoring troubles.

Extreme weather conditions in most parts of the country during the months of January, February, March and December contributed to the huge number of drained batteries and electrical problems. AAA motoring experts added that this situation was aggravated by the large number of electrical accessories installed on cars in the past several years.

"Another cause is motorist neglect," an AAA spokesman said. "Batteries too often are taken for granted, seldom checked and allowed to sink to their lowest ebb in winter months. Most of the batteries that fail are put back into service after being recharged."

Northrop Quint Edges Grade All-stars 28-24

The city grade school basketball champion Northrop Indians defeated the Knox-Washington all-stars, 28 to 24, in an exhibition game that featured the grade school athletic award night at the Northrop gymnasium on Thursday night.

Coach Phil Beadle's Northrop team held a 14 to 6 lead at the end of the first half, and a 20 to 8 advantage at the end of the third quarter. The All-Stars tallied 16 points in the fourth period, with Gary Nelson of Knox scoring eight points, and Pete Isaacson of Knox and Dick Nelson of Washington each adding four points. Dennis Hanson, Northrop's fifth grade forward, won the game scoring with nine points.

Following the game, the Bjorkman grade school athletic awards were presented to the captains of the championship teams by N. Quentin Jones, grade school physical education director. John Weigelt and Richard Jensen accepted the baseball trophy won by the Northrop school. Greg Torgerson, Bruce Olson, and Ronnie Lietzow were presented the football trophy, also won by the Northrop school. Bob Bjordahl and Larry Olson of Knox accepted the trophy emblematic of the grade school hockey championship. And David Gustafson and Ronnie Lietzow, of Northrop, accepted the basketball championship trophy. hi.at-iiiiiiha TAOI 9AO TAOIN

Umpires Clinic Is Slated in Bemidji

The Northern Minnesota Umpires association will hold an umpires clinic at Bemidji Sunday, April 19, starting at 9 a.m. at the Odd Fellows hall located on Minnesota and Eighth st.

Loren (Mike) Downs, who has attended several umpires' schools in Florida, will conduct the school.

Men interested in becoming umpires this year are asked to contact C. M. Clifford, president, P. O. Box 125, Bemidji.

BEAVER The annual harvest of beaver commences this week at the Mud Lake national wildlife refuge, according to Herb Dill, refuge manager. Trapping is done by local men who last year took 90 beaver. Pictured is a "blanket" male beaver which was trapped at Mud Lake. The trapper is Harold Kich who holds the new Victor-Conibear beaver trap which was tested at the refuge in 1958.

Rules

Since the state basketball championship finals game which found the Wayzata Trojans defeating Carlton, 55 to 41, we have been embroiled in numerous good-natured hassles because of the semi-stall and deliberate offense used by Wayzata. Wayzata has been accused of being guilty of "lack of action," and for that the Trojans should have been penalized.

We scrounged around and found a 1958-59 high school basketball rule book, loaned to us by Milt Relerson, and we wish to quote a pertinent rule. According to Rule 10, section 1, "a player or team shall not delay the game by causing the game to develop into an actionless contest.' This includes the following acts and similar ones: and we'll quote paragraph (c) "When behind in the score or while on defense with the score tied and after a warning by the referee, failing to be reasonably active in attempts to secure the ball if on defense or to advance the ball beyond the mid-court area if on offense and there is no opposing action in the mid-court area." According to this rule, Wayzata was within its rights in attempting to draw the Carlton club out of a zone defense.

And further, in Comments on the Rules, the statement is made with regard to "Lack of Sufficient Action" that "At all times, the responsibility for providing sufficient action is that of the team which is behind in the score or, if the score is tied, that of the defense."

The most reasonable explanation we heard on Wayzata's deliberate offense was that offered by Wayne Courtney, the Minneapolis Roosevelt coach. Courtney stated that because of the Trojans' aggressive, ever-pressing, and two-men-on-the-ball tactics on defense, there was a danger that the Wayzata team would become exhausted if they utilized a race-horse type of offense. Lacking a strong bench, the Wayzata club resorted to a very deliberate style of offense, stressing ball-control, and there would be moments when the Wayzata players could take a rest. It's a fact that the Trojans didn't do any resting while they were on defense.

Soo Line Tournament

The "ship by rail" boys, meaning the Soo Line bowlers, will hold a company bowling team tournament on the Family Bowl alleys on Sunday afternoon, April 19th.

According to the information that we have received, the tournament, which is being organized primarily for the purpose of "joy of living," will be a mixed-team, total-pins, handicap affair, with the scratch being set at a 190-pin average.

The four Soo Line teams that are participating in league bowling here — the Soo Line Branchliners, Soo Line Roundhouse, and the Soo Mainliners in the men's bowling leagues, and the Soo Line team of the women's Nite Hawk league — will be entered in the tourney. In addition there will be teams organized so that an entry list of 12 teams will be participating in the tournament.

We hear that a couple of these newly-organized teams — one by Emil Larson of Plummer, and the other by Phil LeGault — can be given consideration as championship contenders. The LeGault five will have such colorful characters in the lineup as Mukkett Collins, Les Ringstrand, Stan Cockrell, Mrs. Ed (Florence) Hamerski, and the lefthander.

And we can't "short" the Noels, either, for we hear that Duane, Don and Billy, and their wives will be entering the tournament. They have been engaging in some practice drills this past week, and scoring quite well.

Well, the tournament should be a lot of fun.

The Grade School Basketball All-Stars

At the grade school athletic awards night at Northrop school on Thursday, announcement was made of the all-city grade school basketball squad selected by the coaches and officials. First team choices were Dennis Hanson of Northrop and Pete Isaacson of Knox at forwards; Richard Nelson of Washington at center; and Bruce Olson of Northrop and Evan Anderson of Knox at the guards.

On the second team, Charles Morris of Washington and Andy Johnson, also of Washington, were named at the forwards; David Gustafson of Northrop at center; and Ronnie Lietzow of Northrop and Gary Nelson of Knox at the guards.

Hamm's Defeated Gauthier Keglers in Match Sunday

In a three-game total-pins match rolled on the Family Bowl lanes on Sunday afternoon, the Hamm's beer team of the Tuesday night Business league defeated the Gauthier Motors team of Plummer, 2319 to 2275.

Phil LeGault of the Hamm's had the high total for the series, racking up a 569-pin aggregate. Lloyd Samuelson, bowling at anchor for the visitors, rolled a 511 series to lead Cy Gauthier's club.

Promote Careers in Dairy Industry

Career Day, April 18 at St. Paul Campus of 'U' M.

Dairy industry career opportunities will be presented by experts to high school juniors and seniors at the fifth annual Dairy Industry Career Day on the University of Minnesota St. Paul campus Saturday, April 18.

Sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. The program will run through 2:30 p.m.

Purpose of the program is to acquaint young persons with the career opportunities existing in Minnesota's dairy industry, according to Prof. S. T. Coulter of the University's Dairy Industry department.

Cooperating in the program are the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, the Minn. Creamery Operators' and Managers' association and commercial dairy industry firms.

Local dairy leaders, parents and high school counselors have been asked to arrange transportation for young persons interested in attending. Nearly 200 attended last year.

Along with presentations by trained University and industry personnel there will be an appearance of Princess Kay of the Milky Way V, Diane Schroeder of Rindal.

162 Traffic Mishaps; One Death, 40 Hurt in Pennington Co. in '58

Only three Minnesota counties had no traffic fatalities during 1958, compared to five during 1957. The three counties with clear record are Kittson, Roseau and Swift, all of which had recorded fatalities in the previous year.

The annual tabulation of highway accidents in Minnesota counties in 1958, released late last week by the state highway department, reveals that 162 mishaps occurred in Pennington county, resulting in one death and injury to 40 persons.

Of the total number of accidents, 23 occurred on rural trunk highways, 18 on other rural roads, 43 on urban trunk highways and 78 on other city streets.

In Red Lake county, 55 accidents and one death were reported. Marshall county reported 154 accidents and ten deaths, all of them occurring on rural trunk highways or roads. A total of 93 persons were injured in 50 of the mishaps.

In Polk county, 11 deaths resulted from eight out of a total of 503 accidents listed in 1958, and 188 persons were injured in 128 mishaps.

In Roseau county, 71 accidents were reported, in which 30 persons were injured. No deaths were recorded there or in Kittson county.

Although traffic accidents rose only one per cent in 1958 over 1957, the highest total in history was recorded in traffic deaths which rose over 700 for the first time, to 708. This three per cent raise in fatalities was accompanied by a five per cent rise in fatal accidents, indicating fewer multiple deaths had occurred.

The one per cent raise in total accidents was below the increase during the previous year, when a year-end summary of 1957 traffic accidents revealed they had jumped seven per cent over 1956. Where the 1957 increase totaled over 3,000 the 1958 increase was about 600.

The general severity of traffic accidents increased during 1958, however, as fatalities increased three per cent and the number of injured was 11 per cent over 1957. This resulted in a small reduction of two per cent in the number of accidents in which property damage only was reported.

There were ten of Minnesota's 87 counties that improved their traffic records by ending the year with a reduction in type and severity of accidents in all the categories measured by this study. Eight counties had poorer records in all of the categories.

State FU Appeals to Lower House to Reject Sales Tax

Pres. Edwin Christianson Submits Petitions with 23,000 Names of Members

Armed with bundles of petitions carrying 23,000 signatures spokesmen for the Minnesota Farmers Union Thursday told the House tax committee in St. Paul that farmers favor the use of increased income taxes to balance the state budget.

Edwin Christianson, state FU president, said: "This is a committee of 23,000 who are interested in a tax system which will help the state's economy to grow."

Christianson said his organization has approximately 41,000 family members with local unions in every agricultural county in the state.

"Our members reject the sales tax as a tax which would harm the general economy of the state, reduce purchasing power and sumer demand for products of farms and factories and generally have a depressing effect upon business and employment."

He was supported in his views by testimony by Milt Hakel, director of research and Clint Hess, state secretary of the Farmers Union.

Labor representatives also testified in support of Gov. Freeman's program for a one percentage point increase in the individual income taxes, tied in with installation of a pay-as-you-go income tax collections system—or withholding.

Robert Hess of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota State AFL-CIO and Adolf Tobler, business representative of the St. Paul AFL-CIO trades and labor assembly, and Frank Wilson of Duluth, representing the railroad brotherhoods, all backed the governor's income tax and withholding proposals.

Nurse Licensing Measure Signed

Governor Freeman Friday signed a bill requiring that professional nurses be licensed.

The Minnesota nursing board was one of the chief supporters of the new law. The act is designed to prevent unqualified nurses from practicing professional nursing.

Before it was passed the bill was amended to specifically exclude practical nurses and nurses aides. This was done to make sure the new law would not affect operation of nursing homes.

March Weather Was Similar to Past Years

The past month was about as cold, warm and dry as it was the past two years, according to the weather summaries from the files of the Thief River Falls Times.

The warmest temperature for the month in 1957 was 54; in 1958, it was 57 and this year, it was 53. The coldest temperature for the month in 1957 was —14; in 1958, it was 9 and this year, it was —11. Considerably less than an inch of precipitation was measured in 1957, scattered traces were recorded last year and, in the past month, traces of snow were recorded two days and .07 inches of rain fell on the 30th.

This report from 1957 may sound familiar, "The snow cover left the area shortly before mid-March and precipitation was a virtual rarity." In 1958, this summary was recorded, "The area was lucky to miss the snowdrifts and high winds that other sections of the country had during the month."

Looking back in the files, the following summaries of April were recorded. "Spring came (in 1957) but had an uphill battle early in the month. The first two-thirds of the month was chilly, raw blustery days with a high of 53 on the 20th. The last 10 days were more spring-like with the high of 82 on the 30th. The coldest day of the month was a 9 above the 11th. The ice was still in the river April 10."

From the 1958 file, the following summary of April was recorded. "This could be remembered as the month which came in like a lamb and went out like a lion with snowstorms and freezing weather. The mercury dropped to 32 degrees or lower 15 days while highs ranged from 75 on the 14th to 38 on the 29th. The low for the month was 7 above April 29, probably an all-time low for this time of the year.

Below-zero recordings were registered last month on six nights and the mercury got above freezing only three nights. Sixteen of the 31 days in the month were below freezing.

Here is a summary of the weather for this area in March:

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

JERUSALEM, JORDAN — Wed., March 25

Monday I spent in Beirut, the capital of Lebanon, which last July was occupied by American Marines. There had been a few minor disturbances recently but at present the political situation seemed to be calm.

In its Tuesday morning edition the Daily Star, English language newspaper, was filled mainly with the world's troubles and gave much space to recent speeches by United Arab leader Nasser. And it did carry a fairly representative list of New York's previous day's stock quotations. But local news was limited largely to a few run-of-the-mill crimes. A confessed murderer was to be sentenced and a dope ring had been broken up. Eight persons had been arrested as suspects in a bomb-throwing incident, and Mr. Law-and-order had vowed by gosh that he . . . "is determined to lay hands on the culprits and end the wave of lawlessness."

But Beirut was an interesting city. The beach area is modern with many large and attractive apartment buildings and homes, some completed and others under construction. With an excellent beach it evidently has attraction as a resort center. The old part of the city, several miles inland, was all ancient it seemed — except the very modern hotel at which I stayed but which was located in a strangely contrasting setting of small shops, and crowded streets and alleys.

It took only 1½ hours to fly from Beirut to Jerusalem in a two-engine plane, but it was a cold ride. According to the pilot, our maximum altitude was 9,000 feet when we crossed a mountain range and some of the peaks extending up through the clouds were really and thoroughly snow-covered. I expect there will still be ice on the river when I get back to Thief River Falls but snow does seem out of place down here in the Holy Land.

By coincidence I arrived in Jerusalem during Holy Week and that is not a good time to find lodgings. But by promising to leave before the heavy weekend rush I was able to get a room at a first-class hotel. It was so new that it was equipped with a self-serve elevator and, best of all, warm radiators.

I spent yesterday afternoon visiting shrines and ruins of historical interest, and also drove down to Bethlehem. This really is mountainous country and the road was an endless series of hairpin turns, up and down steep grades. The rocky hillsides have been terraced to provide small patches of tillable land, but is a bleak and barren and generally desolate countryside, with much evidence of extreme poverty and little prospect for a bettering of conditions.

This is the soil in which grew the common root of three of the world's greatest religions. For Jews and Moslems, as well as Christians, this is the Holy Land. In this respect some of the literature that is made available to visitors, certainly bearing the approval of local authorities, is interesting and enlightening, expressing to some extent at least a common point of view among Moslems and Christians. Speaking of the Jordan Valley, one of these pamphlets states:

> "Here the Essenes found refuge among the rocks and crevices near the Dead Sea and so hid their recently discovered manuscripts and scrolls which were written long before Christ was born.
> "Here Joshua blew his horn and the walls of Jericho came tumbling down. Here John the Baptist foretold the coming of the Messiah and here Christ was baptized in the Jordan River. Nearby and at the top of the Mount of Temptation Christ fasted for 40 days and nights and from there he drove Satan away when he tempted Him with worldly gains."

And another booklet, dealing mainly with the historical background of the present national political problems, makes this statement:

> "After Mecca and Medina, Jerusalem is the holiest Moslem city. It contains some of the most sacred and beautiful mosques. It is the scene of a miraculous episode in the Prophet's life, his ascent to heaven. In the earliest days of Islam, the faithful turned toward it, as now they turn toward Mecca, when they pray."

Last night I spent an interesting hour with the editor of the local English language newspaper and I will see him again this afternoon. I am getting all the material I can in support of the Jordan point of view in the argument with Israel. Tomorrow I will enter Israel itself by the back door and I will hear that side of the story. My visit to Israel will make it impossible for me to get back into an Arab country again with my present passport. I therefore will be giving up the visit I intended to make along the North African coast. But I may substitute Turkey.

At any rate I am getting closer to Paris and Paris is only a few hours from home. I look forward to my visit in that part of Jerusalem which is now in Israel and which the Jews have recently made their capital city.

NUMEDAL . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Olson of River Valley were dinner guests and afternoon visitors Easter Sunday at the Ray Martinson home. Mrs. Olson is Mrs. Martinson's sister.

Mrs. Ted Halbasch assisted her daughter and son-in-law from Tuesday thru Friday while they moved from their farm home in Norden to their home at rural Thief River Falls.

Monday evening, Mrs. Ray Martinson, Larry and Chester Halvorson visited at the Claude Johnson home in this city.

Harry Waller returned to Leeds, N. D., Monday after spending the winter months in Minnesota with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Winton Knutson were callers Thursday evening at the Leonard Marynik home.

Mrs. Ray Martinson and Leroy traveled to Hallock Monday and visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Shannon, and her granddaughter, Virginia, who is feeling much better after being a patient at the Hallock hospital where she had surgery. Sharon returned home with them that evening after spending the Easter vacation at the home of her sister.

Mrs. Joe Stenberg, Jacquelyn and Jerome were coffee guests of Mrs. Harold Kolsness Tuesday afternoon. The following day, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Kolsness and Jimmy were callers at the Kolsness home.

Leroy Limesand of Goodridge, who has been employed at the Frank Hible farm, left Monday for the Plummer area for other employment.

Leaves for California

Mr. and Mrs. Soren Knutson and son, Leo, left Tuesday morning by car for Pittsburg, Calif., where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Amir.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ray Martinson, Larry and Leroy visited with her sister, Mrs. Palmer Strand, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sevre and family of Thief River Falls visited with the Frank Hible family Sunday evening.

Larry Martinson and Chester Halvorson motored to Crookston Wednesday to bring Leroy Martinson home. Leroy attended the Northwest school of agriculture the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swenson and Craig called on the Eddie Stupek family Friday evening.

Mrs. Frank Hible Will be Reporter

A note from your news reporter. I will enter the Sister Kenny Institute at Minneapolis Monday, April 6, where I will spend approximately two weeks.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS from the Desk of SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Fallout. "What goes up must come down" is a saying that applies with sinister appropriateness to the testing of nuclear weapons. In recent weeks we have had increasingly disturbing reports from the scientific community about the high rate of radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons testing. It is clear that the extensive tests of last autumn are now resulting in a fall-out rate for which we were not prepared, and which will continue yet for several months. Meanwhile the scientists have been steadily revising downward the "safe" levels of radiation which the human body may accept without important harmful genetic or biological changes.

Radiation hazard. For years some of us have been stressing that we did not have enough information about the harmful effects of radiation to justify blithely proceeding with nuclear bomb testing, and have pressed for an agreement with the Soviet Union to cease testing. At the same time, we have urged vigorous action to determine the exact nature of the health menace from the bomb tests. Last week, as the chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Disarmament, I advanced five major proposals to guard the public health:

1. The primary responsibility for radioactive fallout research should be taken from the Atomic Energy Commission and given to a new agency — probably the United States Public Health Service.

2. Congress should grant the increased appropriation request by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for some $1,400,000 for research and control measures in radiation next year and for $2,000,000 for radiation studies under the National Institute of Health.

3. The membership of the AEC should include at least one biological scientist.

4. All U.S. material on the health effects of radiation should be given to the UN Scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation — regardless of whether it confirms or casts doubt on government statements and conclusions regarding the extent of the radioactive fallout danger.

5. We must continue a vigorous effort to come to an agreement to halt nuclear weapons testing.

Important support. Three days after my recommendations appeared, the National Advisory committee on Radiation issued a report to the surgeon general of the United States also urging "bold and decisive action, with all deliberate speed" to move ultimate responsibility for radioactive fallout research from the AEC to the Public Health Service, and to provide an increasing rate of appropriations for a comprehensive program of radiation research — up to an annual level of $50 million by 1965. This committee, headed by Dr. Russel H. Morgan, professor of Radiology at Johns Hopkins University, is a group of very distinguished scientists, whose report gives strong support to the policies we have been advocating.

The unknown. The whole controversy illustrates once again the governmental action which is undertaken without adequate knowledge and understanding can lead to disastrous consequences. For years we have been hearing soothing words from the Atomic Energy Commission pooh-poohing any serious effects from continued nuclear testing, and there has been a singular lack of enthusiasm in the AEC and other parts of the Administration for concluding a meaningful agreement with the Soviet Union even with inspection and controls. Perhaps the new scientific data will encourage a more realistic and constructive attitude not only on the part of the Russian leaders, but also by our own administration.

Celebrates 3rd Birthday

The following helped Susan Tieman enjoy her third birthday Monday, Mrs. Herb Goethe, Dianne, Dolores, Esther and Howard, Mrs. Wallace Tieman and Wayne, Mrs. Gunder Olson, Amy Johnsrud, Mrs. Ron Wisniewski, Gregory and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Tieman and Curtis. Her mother, Mrs. Tieman, served a birthday lunch, featuring birthday cake. The honored guest was the recipient of many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jorgenson of Goodridge were Tuesday evening callers at the Earl Akin home.

Peter Lendobeja spent part of his Easter vacation visiting with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Brattland and family in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Carl Swanson of Fargo was an overnight guest Wednesday at the Wallace Tiemans. Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Tieman are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Olson were supper guests Monday at the Gunsten Skreland home.

Returns From Trip

Ernest Olson, who accompanied Lewis and Maurice Stenseth on a car trip of southeastern, southern and western United States, returned home Tuesday. They left on this tour in January and had covered a distance of 15,000 miles by the time they came back to Pennington county.

Easter day luncheon guests at Martin Gevings of Erie were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burstad and grandson, Gary and Mr. and Mrs. John Keck, Dianne and Donna.

Sheldon Knutson returned from San Antonio, Tex., Lackland Air Force Base, after having completed his basic training.

Easter guests at the Knute Knutson home were Miss Eloda Grover of Alexandria and Sheldon Knutson.

Omission

In the Luther League program, Gayle Knutson's piano solo was left out in the write up for last week. I'm very sorry.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Tieman and Wayne and Mrs. Carl Swanson of Fargo were Wednesday callers at the Orin Anenson home.

Ladies Aid

The Telemarken Ladies Aid met Thursday at the church parlors with Mrs. Gunsten Skreland presiding. Bible study was given by Mrs. Manuel Rude and scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Orlie Hofdahl. The Easter committee served the lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Homme and Rosemary of Silverton were Saturday evening callers at the Wallace Tieman home.

Mrs. Wallace Tieman and Mrs. Carl Swanson of Fargo were coffee guests Wednesday at the Elwood Tieman home.

Play practice was held Friday evening at the Julian C. Lendobeja home. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parnow, Richard and David, Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson and family, Bernard Wilson, Mavis and Barbara Anenson and Mary Ann Lendobeja.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

"Easy payments' has become a popular slogan. Much of the higher standard of living that is characteristic of America today has been facilitated by the widespread practice of buying on the installment plan. Millions of people own their own homes because they can pay for them on a monthly basis rather than all at one time.

"Easy" by Comparison

I suppose payments are "easy" only by comparison with a much greater lump sum payment. But American business has seen the advantage of small, periodic payments, and has made great progress as a result.

Gov't. Learns from Business

In the adoption of new methods, government often lags behind the most progressive business practices, and often it learns from business experience the advantages of such new developments as the use of the new computing machines. This seems to be true of the "easy payment" technique.

Pay-As-You-Go

The federal government was the first to adopt the pay-as-you-go technique in the collection of income taxes. In the past few years, 14 states have followed this example. Minnesota today has the opportunity to join the ranks of those who have adopted this modern, efficient method of collecting taxes.

This month in Minnesota taxpayers will have to meet their obligations for 1958 income taxes in one lump sum. They are already receiving the services for which these taxes will pay. Their children are going to schools that are able to operate as they do only because they will receive most of the money the taxpayers will pay on April 15th. This revenue cannot be "forgiven" in Minnesota, because it has already been allocated to pay for services that are being provided right now.

Other Advantages

But making the taxpayer's obligations easier to fulfill is only one of the advantages to be expected from the "pay-as-you-go" or "withholding" method of collecting income taxes. No one can say for sure what is the exact number of people who fail to pay state income taxes for which they are liable, but we know that their numbers are high enough so that the state is losing millions of dollars because they fail to pay. What the honest taxpayers who do meet their obligations should remember is that in the long run it is not "the state" that loses these millions of dollars, rather this loss is divided up among the taxpayers who do pay their taxes. For they have to pay more to make up for the amounts lost.

This is why I have taken the position that I cannot conscientiously support any increase in taxes until at the same time we make sure provisions to collect from all—to get their fair contributions from those who, intentionally or unintentionally, are evading their responsibilities as citizens.

"Forgiveness"

New York, the latest state to adopt "withholding," was able to forgive 1958 taxes because its fiscal year begins April 1st, and therefore the 1958 taxes which would have been paid on April 15th were not already appropriated and committed. Minnesota's fiscal year begins on July 1, and therefore the money that comes in on April 15 was appropriated for current expenses to be spent before that date. We obviously cannot "forgive" money that is already committed or spent by action of the legislature two years ago.

However, if our legislature should act this year in time so that withholding could begin on May 1, Minnesota could forgive all of the 1959 taxes that would accrue up to that date. If that were done, 1959 would be the last year in which Minnesota taxpayers would have to pay one year's taxes in one big lump sum.

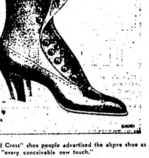
PEEKIN' into the PAST

THE NEW TOUCH



In 1908 the "Red Cross" shoe people advertised the above shoe as "the trend of fashion" and promised "every conceivable new touch."

Priced at $4.00 the high button shoe claimed both "style and comfort" for its wearers and advertisements pointed out that "it isn't the style of the shoe that hurts . . but the stiffness of the soles." Boots like the above could be had in tan with suede or cloth top, in patent leather and dull calf. Such was the "New Touch" in 1908.

It will take you about 4 minutes to find out why

It Pays to Own a Dodge!

(It could save you hundreds of dollars!)

Okay, it's settled. You've thought about it and talked about it and now you've decided: A new car—and soon. Now for the jackpot question. Which '59 car will it be?

Unless you happen to be a Mr. Gotrocks, you'll probably think pretty carefully before you finally make the move. You'll do more shopping and compare more closely. And you'll ask yourself some basic questions. How much will a new car cost me to buy? How much will it cost me to drive? What do I get for my money?

There is no mystery about new car prices

Until this year, it was hard to compare different makes of cars to find which offered the most value for the money. It was like comparing apples and bananas. But not any more. Not since all new cars are required to carry price labels. Now, for the first time, you can compare various makes and models and see exactly what you're getting for your money. It's like exposing the hole cards in a game of stud poker: You know exactly where you stand.

Why should you buy a Dodge?

No one has to tell you that there are a number of cars on the market that sell for less than a Dodge. No cigar on that count. You know it and we know it. But there are things you get in a Dodge that you simply can't get in these other smaller cars.

And this is important. Dodge gives you all of these things—the bigness and roominess, the comfort and ride, the luxury and prestige—for less than other cars in its field.

It's not just a few dollars less, either; in many cases it's literally hundreds of dollars less. Some Dodge models are even priced lower than the so-called "low-priced cars." (We'll be happy to show you the actual suggested retail prices.)

All cars cost money to run—but how much?

It would be nice if you just bought a new car and that was that. It didn't burn gas. Didn't use oil. Never needed service. But that's wishful thinking. Cars do use gas and oil. They do need service occasionally. But that doesn't mean that all cars cost the same to drive and maintain. Not by a jugful. There's a big difference.

Dodge is designed to run for less

Dodge has always had a reputation for economical operation. People who have owned them have found it costs less to run a Dodge, and that a Dodge needs service less often.

Take gasoline economy. The new Dodge 326 cu. in. Red Ram V-8 engine, because of its design and efficiency, will take you miles farther on a gallon of gas than any other V-8 in the Dodge field. You save money every mile you drive.

But that's only part of the story. The way Dodge is engineered and built saves you money on such things as engine wear, brake relining, tune-ups, spark plug replacement. When you add them all up, they represent quite a saving. Another reason why it pays to own a Dodge.

What do you get for what you pay?

According to Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices, Dodge generally costs less, model for model, than other cars in its field. Fine and dandy. But while price is important, it isn't the only consideration. The real standard of value—whether you're buying a new car or a can of beans—is what you get for what you pay. It's the "extras" you get at no extra cost that really determine which car is the best buy.

Dodge gives you more for less

Talk is cheap. Anyone can make claims. So let's be specific about the extras you get in Dodge at no extra cost. Torsion-Aire Ride—conceded the finest suspension in the industry—standard equipment on all Dodge models. Total-Contact Brakes, Safety-Rim Wheels, Electric Windshield Wipers, Independent Parking Brake—all standard on Dodge. Of course, you can also choose from such Dodge options as Push-Button Driving, Full-Time Power Steering and Swing-Out Swivel Seats.

There's a big difference in comfort, too

Goodness knows, we certainly don't want to knock competition. But we feel obligated to point out the comfort and convenience of the '59 Dodge. If you've tried getting into some of the other '59 cars you know just what we mean. To say it is difficult would honestly be an understatement. That's why we hope you'll come in and compare the difference in Dodge. How much easier it is to get in and out of a Dodge. How much more comfortable it is to sit in a Dodge. How much more room you have to stretch out. Really, it pays to own a Dodge.

It doesn't cost a penny to get the facts

We don't expect you to rush in and plunk down your money for a new Dodge just on the basis of what you've read. But if what you've read seems to make sense, we do hope you'll stop in to see, to drive and to price a Dodge. We think it's a whale of a buy, but then maybe we're prejudiced. Why not drop in and judge for yourself. We'll be more than happy to give you all the facts. No obligation, of course.

Planting Can Set Stage For Enjoyable Outdoor Living

The chief reason for the current vogue for outdoor living is the "making of friends" amidst the relaxed atmosphere of beautiful gardens, terraces or patios. Outdoor living is conducive to neighborhood friendliness. The housewife can relax while entertaining and yet express her individuality in her choice of lovely shrubs, trees and other plants with which she "furnishes" the outdoor living area.

"Furnishing" the outdoor living room with lovely plants is still a bargain for the home owner who carefully selects and plans what he or she wishes to achieve.

Once the living area is planted it will be beautiful for many years if properly cared for. One may plant for permanence; or plant for semi-permanence by changing the smaller shrubs after three to five years in order to achieve new effects of color or shrub form.

Costs depend upon the elaborateness of the planting and other structures and furnishings that may be desired. A dozen attractive shrubs and a few trees may suffice for a small outdoor living area at a cost well under $100.

The home owner planning an outdoor living area is strongly urged to plan it thoroughly, or have it professionally planned, if possible. Thorough planning will save time and money.

Here are some things to think about:

1. Locate the outdoor living area properly. Notice the position of the sun with respect to the area, as well as the direction of the prevailing winds. Select a comfortable spot.

2. If you plan the picnic type of dining and entertaining, the area may be at some distance from the house, the back of the lot, for example. If there is considerable entertaining of neighbors and friends, it should be located near the house, preferably near the kitchen or off the dining room.

3. Notice the direction from which the sun shines in the months and during the time of day you use the outdoor area the most; and then plant trees, or use existing trees to provide shade where you want it.

STAIN WITH A SPONGE

You will find it easier to apply an oil stain or a water stain to raw wood with a cellulose sponge rather than with a brush. There's less dipping needed, and the square edges aid in doing corners and edges.

LETTERING BRUSH

Cotton swabs on small sticks, available at any drug store, make excellent emergency lettering brushes for temporary "wet paint" signs.

PUTTY HINT

Before puttying, dust your hands with whiting or flour. This will prevent the putty from sticking messily to your hands.

NEW ADDITION Building activity in the city is picking up with the coming of warmer weather. Work is nearly completed on the full-story addition to the main elevator of the Peterson-Biddick company which will house a larger feed mixer and a pelleting mill. The extension on the upper left is a pod for the elevator head and for the motor. The tower is a "cyclone," part of the cooler system used in pelletizing feed, for which there is a growing demand. Work is being done by P. E. Ibberson company of Minneapolis.

How to Organize Painting Job to Get the Best Results

"Do the headwork before the handwork" may be an old saying but it's especially applicable to painting projects.

Often when the do-it-yourselfer's enthusiasm fails to survive until the end of a job, it's because the task was tackled without a definite plan. So it's wise to figure out all the angles before a brush is dipped in a can of paint.

You'll save time, money and energy by planning ahead: make lists, calculate the tools you will need, how you will use them to solve the problems you encounter as you progress.

Then, when you've got all the required supplies and equipment on hand, you'll find the following step-by-step rules helpful in proceeding successfully with your painting project.

1. Push furniture to center of room and cover.
2. Remove pictures, wall hangings, etc.
3. Place newspapers around edge of floor.
4. Dust wall. Washing is seldom necessary, except in kitchen.
5. Fill in cracks. Using spackling material for small ones, patching plaster for others.
6. Read directions for brand of paint you are using. Stir well.
7. Dampen brush or roller. Shake out excess water.
8. Do the hard work first. Use round one-inch brush for window sash; two-inch brush for edges and trim.
9. Wipe up drips and spatters with a damp cloth before they dry.
10. With brush, do ceiling line about two feet wide, then go down all wall joinings.
11. Do balance of walls with large brush or roller. Insure coverage by using vertical strokes first, then horizontal strokes.
12. Check for spots missed.
13. Wash brushes, roller and pan in soapy water.

Pick up newspapers, checking for any missed spatters.

Gas Heater Can Banish Cold Spots

Where's the cold spot in your house? Is it the living room you created by enclosing the porch for year-round use? The room you finished off by yourself in the attic? A clammy basement room, perhaps?

Nearly every home has one and it presents a serious problem. It's too chilly to use, yet you can't afford to waste perfectly good space; and if you end up enough heat to make that room comfortable, the rest of the house is too hot to bear.

If this describes your situation, the solution, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, is a gas space heater. And in case you haven't seen the latest models on the market, you're in for a big surprise. They look more like the console models of the new television sets and are as individually styled, to fit present-day decor.

Of course, you're interested in performance. On this point, GAMA says the modern gas space heater is equipped with quick heat recovery and is equipped with a temperature control. This means that you get instant results when you turn on your heater and can maintain or adjust temperature as desired.

To be sure you're getting the right heater for your individual needs, GAMA advises consultation with your gas company or any local dealer who handles gas space heaters.

Edberg-Peterson Vows Exchanged

Margaret Joan Edberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Edberg of Wannaska, and Dale Leroy Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, were married Saturday, March 21, with Rev. John Berg officiating at the ceremony held at 2p.m. at the Wannaska parsonage.

Mrs. James Swanson of Minneapolis, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Acting as best man was the groom's brother-in-law, Floyd Peterson, of Middle River.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olson, following the ceremony, for relatives and friends.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will make their home on the Arthur Peterson farm near Gatzke. We wish them hearty congratulations and our best wishes for a happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. George Polansky received the sad news of the death of their six-year-old granddaughter, Patricia Ann Polansky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Polansky, Jr., of Lewiston, Mont., Monday evening. Death came as a shock to the family for she had undergone a routine tonsillectomy. Mrs. George Polansky and Eugene left Wednesday for Lewiston. The Polansky's have two other children, Carol Marie, 9, and George, Jr., 3 years. Our sympathy goes out to the young family and relatives.

The following persons brought happy birthday wishes to Mrs. Florence Anderson Monday and Tuesday: Evert and Herbert Peltola, Mrs. Adolph Bakke and Mrs. Oscar Rokke of Newfolden.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Biskup and family were Easter Sunday guests at the Albert Kopechy home at Angus.

Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kiel and Mrs. Marshall Hellern attended the funeral of Mrs. Lena Rewerts at the Catholic church at Red Lake Falls Monday morning. Mr. Kiel was one of the pallbearers. Mrs. Rewerts was an aunt of Mrs. Hillern's.

Mr. and Mrs. Arne Tuura and family were Easter Sunday dinner guests at the Hans Langlie home near Newfolden. Other guests included the Howard Langlie family of Thief River Falls, Orvald Rokke and Bruce, Gale Mavis and Dennis Langlie of Minneapolis, who had spent the weekend at the Langlie home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hanson visited last Saturday at the Arvid Wikstrom home at Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Wagner and girls visited Saturday evening at the John Sorter home.

Mr. and Mrs. Calmer Brenna and family and Mrs. Larry Johnson and Sandra were dinner guests Easter Sunday at the L. C. Lindahl home. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Brenna, Richard and Clark of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Johnson and Knute Swanson.

Mrs. Joe Biskup Celebrates Birthday

Those who brought happy birthday wishes to Mrs. Joe Biskup at her home last Friday afternoon were Mesdames Henry Walton, Oscar Schenkey, Oliver Niemela, Ole Johnson, Geo. Fricker and Laurence Schenkey. Mrs. Frank Halme was an evening birthday guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Mosser and family of McIntosh and Mrs. Agnes Hallquist were visitors Sunday evening at the Laurence Schenkey home.

Marlys McCullough of Holt spent part of Easter vacation at the Ida Wagner and Emmett Wagner homes.

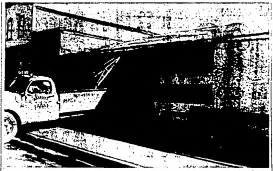
Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lindahl and boys were Sunday evening and overnight guests at the Wm. Lindahl home in Thief River Falls. They visited Sunday evening at the Gerald Stevens home. Mrs. L. C. Lindahl and Mrs. Wm. Lindahl visited Monday afternoon with Earl Lindahl, Mrs. A. L. Kezar and Ralph Gresley at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kiel and Armand and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Walton and Chuck spent from Friday until Sunday of last week visiting in the Cities. The Waltons visited at the Ted Perusse and Harold Wagner home and the Kiels visited with the Marshall Hellerns. The men also took in the Sportsmen's show while there. Mrs. Hellerns accompanied them home to visit at the Kiel home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Johnson and Renee spent the Easter weekend at the Ed Rasmussen home at Clearbrook.

Thursday evening visitors and luncheon guests at the B. A. Hanson home were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brandon and Delores, Mrs. Geo. Fricker and Mrs. Oscar Schenkey. The occasion was also Mrs. Oscar Knutson's birthday. Mr. Schenkey and Mr. Fricker were also coffee guests.

Slow Down — and Live.



REBUILDING Using its auto wrecker, the Aaseby garage March 30 began tearing down the north wall as the beginning of an $11,000 remodeling project. Both north and south walls will be replaced with cement block construction which will add more windows. Estimated to take from six weeks to two months, the project also includes a new flat-deck roof which will provide 12 feet of clearance inside. Contractor for the job is the Langseth Construction company.

Hal Ekeren Killed in Pla Crash in Wes

Graduate of Lincoln High Dies in Jet Accident in Nevada

Captain Hal Ekeren, Jr., formerly of Thief River Falls, was killed yesterday when his parachute failed to open after he was ejected from an F-106 jet plane which he was test flying in a Nevada area from the Edwards Air Force base in California.

His father, Hal Ekeren of St. Cloud, was informed of the accident late yesterday afternoon according to Ole Ekeren of this city. Details of what had happened were incomplete and no announcement has been made of funeral arrangements.

Captain Ekeren was 30 years old and had graduated from Lincoln high school with the Class of 1947. After completing the regular course at Annapolis Naval Academy he transferred to the Air Force. While serving in Japan he received several citations.

Following his service in Japan he attended the USAF Experimental Flight Test Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base from which he graduated last summer. Since then he has been in the jet test flying service.

Capt. Hal Ekeren, Jr., was one of the pilots nominated for the special training program to be started soon for the nation's first-man-in-space project to be conducted under the direction of the national aeronautics and space administration. The seven to be selected from this list of 100 have not yet been announced.

He is survived by his wife and three children. More complete details will be published Monday.

Institute Apr. 14 in City for Church School Teachers

One-day Event to Open at 9 a.m. in Community Methodist Church Here

A team of four skilled leaders will conduct an all day training institute for church school workers Tuesday, April 14, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at the Community Methodist church in Thief River Falls.

The main emphasis will be in the area of helps for vacation church school planning. However, Sunday church school and week-day teachers can also benefit. All are welcome.

Four work groups will be available: kindergarten, primary, junior and problems of administration. The theme for 1959 is "God and His World." Cooperative vacation church school texts will be on sale.

Registration is $1.00 per person, with a maximum of $5.00 per church. Sack lunches, with coffee furnished by the host church, are the order of the day.

This institute is one of a series of 21 such training conferences sponsored by the Minnesota Council of Churches, Minneapolis.

Red Cross Drive Nets $725 to Date

Total contributions of $725 had been received up to Wednesday in the current Pennington county Red Cross fund drive, it was announced today by Ralph T. Hunt, chairman of the local chapter.

He added that all money received to date had come from the Thief River Falls residential areas, with no reports yet received from the rural areas or from Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

Hunt stated that, due to the fact that the $3,100 quota for the county apparently will not be reached, he sent out letters to local business firms early this week, requesting their cooperation in meeting the goal.

If the drive does not come close to its objective, he added, it will be necessary to curtail the Red Cross life-saving program at Tindolph park, as well as other projects.

Showboat '59' Will be Presented Monday by Washington PTA Unit

Members of the Washington school PTA are busy preparing for the coming of "Showboat '59" which will be presented Monday evening, April 13, at the school gym.

Now going forward are planning of scenery, practicing and rehearsing of the many entertaining acts which will be presented by the parents and teachers of the school.

Some of the highlights of the variety type show will be the Salty Six, a song and dance number by six attractive mothers; a pantomime and song act by the Washington teachers; two accomplished songster mothers will present solo numbers; instrumental selections will be played by some of the fathers of the group. There will also be a Western band number, a men's quartet and other acts.

The show will constitute the school's fund-raising project for the year, and will help some worthy student to attend college, as the proceeds will be used for a scholarship.

Legion Post Gets Nominations of Officers Tuesday

Charles Rodekuhr and Rex Sullivan Proposed for Post Commander

The April meeting of the Ecklund-Holmstrom American Legion post was held Tuesday evening with 42 members in attendance. Main business was the nomination of officers to serve the post during the 1959-60 year.

Nominations were as follows: Commander, Charles Rodekuhr and Rex Sullivan; first vice, Jim Smilie and Neil McKechnie; second vice, Claire Larson and John Elsbrener; third vice, Milo Gulbranson and Bob Anton; fourth vice, Wallace Grovum, Milan Borsheim and Gaye Rux; finance officer, Malcolm Magnuson, Orville Hanson and Sid Lieberman; chaplain, LeRoy Nabben, Lyle Rue and Jim Cuppett; and to fill two positions on the executive committee, Martin Gulbranson, Alex Cloutier, E. O. Peterson and Alvin Anderson.

Commander Ormond Johnson set the election of officers for the May meeting, stating that nominations would be accepted until the time of the election.

Special reports were heard: Commander Johnson reported the Legion auxiliary had voted to present the post with a new piano for use in the post home. Members present responded with a rising vote of thanks. Hjalmer Rafteseth, county Veterans Service Officer, reported on veterans service affairs and answered a number of question.

J. K. Stadum, veterans employment officer for the Legion, gave a report on activities of the local office of the state employment service. A total of 510 new veterans' applications for employment were taken during 1958, including 69 by persons classified as handicapped. Of the 69, 45 were handicapped veterans. During 1958, the office received 874 non-agricultural openings of which 88.9% were filled, 207 of them were placed and 14 of these were veterans. A total of 25 handicapped applicants were placed and 14 of these were veterans.

Dog Licenses Due in April; Animals Must Be Confined

Owners Also Must Give Proof That Pets Have Been Inoculated for Rabies

Now that you have a new license for your car and have paid your income taxes, the time has come when the family pooch needs a new tag.

Elton C. Cummings, police chief, today reminded dog owners of the city that dog licenses expire the first Monday of April (April 6) and must be renewed on or before April 30. Dog owners must present evidence that their animals have inoculated for rabies before licenses are issued. The fee of $2 for male dogs and $6 for females may be paid to the city treasurer and the licenses will be issued at the city clerk's office.

Dr. H. Paul Wendt, city health officer, has again issued an appeal to all dog owners to have their animals inoculated for rabies. Several persons in the area were treated last year for the bites of rabid animals, including dogs, and the danger to all citizens may be greatly reduced by proper action, he said.

Chief Cummings also warned dog owners that from April 15 to September 15, it is against the law to allow their animals to run at large in the city. Dogs found running loose will be impounded, he said.

Under a new ordinance amending the "ordinance," dogs will be kept in the city pound for a week rather than the two weeks previously required. Owners who wish to reclaim their animals must pay a fine of $2 plus 50c a day board for any period over the first two days.

Urge Farmers to Get Benefit of Free Soils Tests Friday, April 17

A soils testing project which is part of a merchants promotion event will be held at Thief River Falls Friday, April 17. Farmers are urged to get a soil sample tested before applying fertilizer. The cost of testing the samples brought in on April 17 will be borne by the Chamber of Commerce and any of the fertilizer dealers at Thief River Falls, Goodridge or St. Hilaire.

The cost of the first sample will be paid by the Chamber. The farmer will pay the dollar charge, per sample, on the rest of the samples. This amount will be deducted from the price of the fertilizer by any Pennington county fertilizer dealer when the farmer buys the fertilizer.

The information the famer gets will be helpful three ways, explained Arnt Aune, chairman of the agriculture committee:

1. Any fertilizer that's bought for spring seeding after the test is received.
2. For all pasture and hayland fertilizing.
3. The test may be used as a basis for buying fertilizer next fall where the land was in crop and will remain in crop for 1959 and 1960.

A trailer to receive the soil samples will be placed on the street just north of the postoffice. The soil samples can be brought to the trailer all day Friday, April 17, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Soil boxes and sheets describing how to take a soils test can be picked up at any fertilizer dealer, bank, Chamber of Commerce or the extension office. Or, a farmer may bring in the sample in a jar, coffee can, or other container on April 17 and it will be packaged for him.

The soil samples will be transported by car to the University laboratory and special service will be provided to get the anal- will be provided to get the analysis out to the farmer seven to ten days after the samples are brought in.

Rotarian Ladies Guests at Annual Rotary Ann Night

Rotarians and their ladies were entertained by Dr. Cyrus Running of the Concordia college faculty at the annual Rotary Ann dinner served at the Elks club Monday evening.

Dr. Running lectured on musical appreciation and did a variety of characterizations of piano players and singers.

His program followed the general style of the Danish entertainer Victor Borge and was greatly appreciated.

ST. HILAIRE AGSCO TO HOLD APPRECIATION DAY

St. Hilaire Agsco will stage its annual appreciation day Friday, April 10, and will serve free lunch all day, as well as awarding door prizes and souvenirs to visitors.

Two Girls Injured in Sunday Mishap

Car Upsets on Airport Road South of T. R. Falls

The four teen-age occupants of a car which rolled over on the airport road in Rocksbury township about 8:30 p.m. Sunday had a narrow escape from serious injury or death, Sheriff Charles Richards said today.

The car driven south by Marvin Miramontes, 16, city, traveled some distance on the left side of the road before leaving the paving and going into the ditch. After going down the ditch slope it struck an approach in such a manner as to throw the car into a skidding attitude, from which it rolled over completely and landed on its wheels near the Garfield Benson home.

A passenger, Virginia Odberg, 18, Newfolden, suffered a concussion, broken nose and teeth, and lacerations. Another girl, Charlotte Holmes, 13, city, was also hospitalized but with less serious injuries, while Miramontes and Wilfred Webskowski, Jr., 15, city, were examined and released.

Richards said Miramontes will be charged with careless driving.

To Be Sponsored by N.W. Hospital Auxiliary Unit

Plans for the spring meeting of the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary Tuesday, April 21 are well under way, according to the committees in charge. The program will be given in the Elks club rooms starting at 2 p.m.

The "April Shower of Fashions," to be presented through the cooperation of local stores, will feature spring and summer clothes for women and children with auxiliary members and their children as models.

Arrangements for the style show are being made by a committee headed by Mrs. M. D. Starekow, assisted by Mmes. Everett Amundgaard, O. D. Beich, L. W. Rullen, Eugene Sjoberg and J. J. Womack.

Mrs. Irwin Mickelson, chairman of the committee in charge of the tea, is assisted by Mmes. J. E. Bloomquist, Frank Bond and A. B. Stenberg.

Load Restrictions in Effect on over Half State Trunk Routes

More than half of Minnesota trunk highways are subjected to weight load restrictions during the current spring break-up, according to a report issued today by State Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmeran. His study, which was prepared to inform members of the state legislature as to the status of trunk highways, shows that there are 6,878 miles of the 11,797 total trunk highway mileage upon which is has been necessary to place axle load restrictions.

"In Pennington county," he said, "a total of 62.6 miles of trunk highways are unable to carry normal loads and it has been necessary to post restrictions in order to protect the people's investments in these highways and to prevent unnecessary destruction to wearing surfaces and bases."

The following roads in Pennington county are restricted: Highway 1, five tons; Highway 32, seven tons; Highway 59, seven tons; Highway 219, five tons.

Although such weight restrictions have been an annual occurrence — and their imposition taken almost for granted—Zimmerman stated that there is a solution to the problem and that the department of highways has a proposed plan developed.

"Our studies reveal," he said, "that within 12 years we can have a trunk highway system consisting of 8,392 miles of nine-ton highways, 2,865 miles of seven-ton roads and only 540 miles of low-volume five-ton roads. Realization of this goal will be possible only if the department has sufficient revenue. It is estimated by our engineers that at least $120,000,000 over and above road-user income available to the department under present authorizations will be required during the next 12 years to bring these highway mileage up to proposed load capacities."

Zimmerman pointed out that there is a tremendous economic loss being sustained by farmers, rural industries and commercial activities and by entire rural communities because of present sub-standard, restricted highways.

"The growing dependence of all these rural activities on highway transportation," he concluded, "makes the proposed improvements mandatory. Rural Minnesota cannot play its proper role in the state's and nation's economy while handicapped by part-time highways. Year around, all-weather roads are necessary for rural Minnesota's future prosperity."

MOVING DAY The work of clearing the site for the L. B. Hartz Wholesale warehouse addition continued today as workers moved this two-story house from its location at 123 Arnold ave. S. A smaller building on the site was moved o provide an office and tool shed for the construction and another small dwelling is being demolished. According to L. B. Hartz, black dirt will be removed from the area and the area will be filled to bring it up to grade height. Work will soon begin on pouring supporting foundations and columns. The huge warehouse is expected to be completed by Nov. 1. The Ranum Construction company has the contract for the job.

Game Refuge Is Described to County Board

Farmes Tells Plans for Goose Lake Area; Road Jobs Approved

A proposed game refuge and roads within Pennington county took up most of the time at the April meeting of the board of commissioners Tuesday in the courthouse.

Robert Farmes, game biologist with the state game and fish department, visited the meeting to discuss a plan which will be presented to the department of conservation for a game refuge and public hunting ground at Goose Lake at the west border of the county.

According to Farmes, the refuge will cover 8,032 acres in Pennington county, 4,255 acres in Polk county and 136 acres in Red lake county. The land is of eight different types with 250 acres of abandoned crop land, 3,446 acres of marsh, 5,470 acres of wild hay, 1,891 acres of brush, 180 acres of timber, 1,035 acres of cropland of which 425 acres is tax and trust land, 610 acres of private land of which 400 acres is in the soil bank, 135 acres of pasture land and 26 acres of gravel.

If the request is approved by the department of conservation,

Council Lets Contracts for Airport Shop

Accepts Prichard Bid of $19,249 for General Contract

At a special meeting Monday night, the city council accepted low bids totaling $26,224 for the construction of the airport shops building.

Prichard Brothers Construction company was awarded the general contract for the steel building with a bid of $19,249; Lawrence W. Best was awarded the electrical contract on which he had bid $2,115 and the Brodin Sheet Metal Works was awarded the contract for plumbing, heating, ventilating and temperature control with a bid of $4,860.

The vote was unanimous with all aldermen attending the meeting voting in favor of awarding contracts. Aldermen A. J. Rau and E. B. Benson were not present at the meeting.

Olaf A. Dahlen, new alderman for the third ward was attending his first meeting since being installed.

A brief discussion was held on the possibility of a new water tank and reservoir to supplement presently inadequate facilities but no action was taken. The matter will most likely be put to the voters in the November election.

The special meeting was preceded by an adjourned meeting at which Harry E. Simons, secretary of the L. B. Hartz Wholesale company, appeared to ask that certain public properties north of the firm's warehouse on the east side of State ave. be vacated to make it possible for construction to begin on a warehouse addition.

The addition, 208x322 feet in size, will join the present warehouse on its north side between State and Arnold aves. Three houses now on the building site will be razed or moved off the filled to bring the floor of the property and the area will be addition to grade level. A 50x100 foot garage and repair shop will be built on the northwest corner of the new addition.

The resolution required a three-fourths vote of the entire council and Alderman Benson responded to a telephone call to attend the meeting to cast the necessary fifth vote in favor of the property vacation.

New Congregation Is Organized Here

Lutheran Brethren Group Holds Services Near City

The Lutheran Brethren denomination recently established a church in this community under the leadership of Rev. N. A. Langness, formerly of Clearbrook, where he had erected a sanctuary and served as pastor until coming to Thief River Falls last December with his wife and three children. Mrs. Langness is formerly of this city.

Services are being conducted temporarily in the Langness home on the former Gunnie Gunderson farm, adjoining the city northeast of Long's bridge. Rev. Langness stated that a church edifice will be erected this spring.

The new pastor has been active in home mission work in the central northwest area since he returned from military service in 1946.

LIBRARY NOTES

"Wake up and read" is the slogan for National Library Week April 12 to 18. It was planned to encourage everyone to use the libraries and to become acquainted with the available library services. We urge you to visit your local library and to discover for yourself the wealth of material available for your information and pleasure.

The story hour will be held as usual this Saturday at 1-1:30, after which it will be discontinued until further notice.

Some of the new adult books are:

Alas, Babylon by Frank: A stroy of what a nuclear Catastrophe would mean to America.

Mount Olive by Darrell: A novel of modern Alexandria

Dear and Glorious Physician by Caldwell: Story of the life of St. Luke

The Unanointed by Chinn: One of the best Biblical stories. It tells the stroy of David from Joab's point of view.

Collision Course by Moscow: A full story of the collision of the Andrea Doria and the Stockholm, the dramatic rescues and the trial that followed.

The Crown and the Cross by Slaughter: A story of Christ, from birth to the Crucifixion.

Now or Never by Blanton: The popular psychiatrist tells how the middle years can be the happiest.

The Last Days of the Bismarck by Forester: A narrative of action on both sides as the British fleet pursued and sank the Bismarck, the German super battleship

The Long Road to Humanity by Coblentz:

The Great Sioux Uprising by Oehler: An account of Minnesota's massacre of 1862.

The Watch That Ends the Night by Mac Lennon:

Montana Masquerade by Elston

Buffalo Country by Duncan: A treasury of buffalo lore and legend.

Gold of Troy by Payne: Story of Heinrich Schliemann and the buried cities of Ancient Greece.

The Great Religious Leaders by Potter

Twixt Twelve and Twenty by Boone: Pat talks to teenagers

Only on America by Golden

Mrs. 'Arris Goes to Paris by Gallico: This is a story as beautiful as the Dior dress Mrs. 'Arris coveted and as warm and loving as Mlle. Petitpierre's heart.

Concert Offered Tuesday Night by Newfolden Band

The Newfolden high school band will present its annual spring concert Tuesday night, April 14, at 8 o'clock in the Newfolden high school auditorium. The varied program will include classical and popular music, marches, and solos with band accompaniment. The 45-piece band is under the direction of Dennes L. Borman. Seek Nominations of 4-H'r for Trip to Manitoba, Can.

Names Should Be Turned in to County Extension Office by Wednesday

The Pennington County 4-H council will participate in the Minnesota-Manitoba 4-H exchange program according to president, Mrs. Norton Nelson. The council met for the regular monthly meeting on Monday, when the decision was reached.

4-H clubs throughout the county are encouraged to nominate 4-Hers for this award. The member chosen is to be 16 to 19 years of age, long-time 4-H member and should have an outstanding record in club work. The Minneapolis Tribune and the council will provide for most of the costs of the trip.

The 4-H'ers will visit points of interest in Manitoba and will spend time observing Canadian agriculture and ways of life. The dates when the 30 4-H'ers from the state visit Canada are June 27 to July 9.

A committee of five has been selected to screen the candidates. One boy and one girl 4-H'er will be nominated to the state 4-H office where one of the candidates will finally be selected for the trip.

The club nominations must be in the county extension office by Wednesday morning, April 15. The selection committee will pick the two Pennington County candidates for the exchange program Wednesday afternoon, April 15.

Rural Youth Go to State Conference

Five from Pennington at St. Paul Session Apr. 2-4

"Let's Get in Orbit" was the theme of the 13th annual state Rural Youth Conference held in St. Paul April 2 to 4, according to the county extension office.

Five members of the Pennington county rural youth group attended the meeting and short course. They were Marlene Hanson, Margaret Peterson, Virgil Erickson, Kenneth Sanders and Dale Svendsgaard.

Larry Adams, Wadena county, spoke and showed slides of his recent trip to Portgual, as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate.

A highlight of the conference was the tour of the Ford assembly plant in the Twin Cities. Everyone found it fascinating to watch a car gradually take shape as it moved along the assembly line.

The closing banquet was highlighted by a talk "What's Behind the Iron Curtain," by Dr. Philip Raup, professor, department of agricultural economics, University of Minnesota. Dr. Raup and several other University professors recently spent a month in Russia.

The county delegates will give a complete report of the conference at the next Pennington county Rural Youth meeting later this month.

Unit for Retarded Sponsors Trip to Cambridge School

The Northwestern Minnesota Association for the Retarded is sponsoring an expense-paid trip, except for meals, to the Cambridge state school next Monday, April 13.

The group will leave from the city Auditorium at 6 a.m., traveling in three or four cars.

Local residents are invited to join in the trip and get acquainted with the need for helping retarded children in this community.

Reservations may be made by interested persons by calling or writing before April 4 either Mrs. Ted Booth, Mrs. Stan Cockrell or Mrs. Oscar Johnson.

4-H Leaders Council Plans Spring Events

The 4-H leaders' council at its monthly meeting held Monday voted to accept a clothing award to be given by Judge Herman A. Kjos. The award will be a plaque to be given to the girl with the strongest 4-H clothing record. Factors that will be taken into consideration in choosing the girl are: clothing records, clothing exhibits at the county fair, participation in the dress revue, demonstrations at the county fair, state fair and club meetings and the total amount of sewing. After winning the plaque for two years a girl will have permanent possession of it. The plaque will be awarded at the fall 4-H achievement banquet.

A calf award to be given away by the Land O'Lakes and other local sponsors at the county fair was discussed. This award will go to the club which wins the most points with dairy exhibits at county fair. The following point system would be used.

The first calf of this heifer would be turned back to the county committee to present as award at the next county fair, or, to be sold and the money applied to the purchase of another calf.

The Share-the-Fun festival and grooming contest were set for May 15. 4-H'ers are to prepare music or dramatic acts, skit, novelty, stunt, or folk or square dance numbers. There is no limit on number of participants or actors in any act, but the acts are to be limited to six minutes or less.

Rural life Sunday is May 3, and 4-H clubs were encouraged to participate in the church services.

Hilliard Koop of the Rocksbury 4-H club presented information on grooming and fitting of dairy cattle for showing.

Youth Education for Temperance Noted Next Week

The week of April 12 to 18 is being observed by the national WCTU as Minnesota Youth Temperance Education Week officers of the Thief River Falls unit announced today. A proclamation designating the week was signed recently in St. Paul by Governor Orville Freeman. He called attention to the essential qualities of temperance, respect for law and a high sense of responsibility for the common welfare for the development of healthy, happy and successful lives.

Co. Board Given Proposed Goose Lake Refuge Plan

options will be obtained on lands to be purchased and the project will be presented to the county boards for their approval.

A delegation from Polk Centre township appeared before the board to request that the county widen two bridges on county aid roads 54 and 55. The board agreed to inspect the bridges and to do the work with county equipment and personnel if the work is justified.

Mayfield and Wyandotte township boards appeared in regard to rebuilding two miles of road on the township line. The board agreed to participate in the rebuilding by using equipment and personnel as it is available.

A request that the county improve county aid road 8 at the extreme west end of the county was made by members of the Numedal township board, and the county board agreed to view the project and do necessary work with county personnel and equipment.

A petition for the dissolution of common school district 1537 in the northwest corner of Numedal township was presented to the board together with a request that the school district be attached to consolidated school district 445 of Viking township. The board accepted the petition and set a hearing on the matter for June 2.

A delegation from eastern Pennington county appeared to discuss drainage matters in their part of the county. After some discussion, the board passed a resolution approving the amended report of the county engineer calling for reduced size of the drainage outlet now known as county ditch 75.

The bond of J. M. Roche as secretary-treasurer of the Pennington County Agricultural society was approved and $100 was appropriated to the American Legion for the observance of Memorial Day.

An appropriation of $1,674.19 was made to the Oakland Park Nursing home to cover the county's proportional share of the home's deficit.

CAPT. HAL EKEREN who was killed yesterday when his parachute failed him after he had been ejected from a jet plane in the Nevada area, is survived by his wife and three children. The above picture was taken in Japan in October of 1956. Nancy, his wife, is from Boston. The children are David, Kathy and Hal.

Captain Ekeren graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1951 with a bachelor of science degree, following which he transferred to the Air Force. After 2½ years flying interceptor planes in Japan, during which time he received several citations, he attended the USAF Experimental Flight Test Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base in California. He was in the test flying service at the time of his death.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

By STAN PETERSON

Since the March 30 meeting of the city council, there has been some discussion in the city about the wisdom of spending $30,000 for the remodeling of the local liquor dispensary.

From the standpoint of the council, the work is overdue and necessary. Individuals point out that the off-sale section of the store, the most profitable part of the operation, is too small to permit a selection of items which may be found in neighboring community stores. They also claim, and any person who goes into the store will agree, that the establishment is gloomy and has an air of being second-rate.

The main argument for the remodeling is that it will increase the revenue of one of the best money making activities the city owns. Many from Marshall county patronize the Thief River Falls store and, from some indications, there is little possibility that that county will go "wet" at any time in the near future.

There are, however, many who feel that $30,000 spent on the liquor dispensary will not be returned to the city in increased revenues for a long time. More elaborate surroundings, they contend, will make it nicer for the "regulars" but the probability of any marked increase in business is slight.

Opponents to the remodeling feel that there are too many necessary projects in the city which need these funds before the dispensary does. They suggest that priority be given to seal-coating the business district streets, work on the library and work on residential streets.

The first of these projects, seal-coating the pavements, is apparently overdue. Nothing has been done since it was suggested several years ago and there is a danger that the freeze and thaw weather of this part of the country will damage the pavement if the streets are not protected.

The library, as many people know, needs additional space and equipment to meet the needs of the expanded and expanding population.

Residental streets are alternately mud and dust with a poor surface provided at all times except when winter smooths them out. Maintenance is badly needed beyond the brief visit of graders to fill in chuckholes. Housewives who have lived in the dust and mud for years have resigned themselves to the situation which could be at least alleviated by scarifying and the application of some rock or gravel and oil.

There are, of course, a number of people who will blame the present city council for all the woes that have been wished on them by previous "do-nothing" councils. The headaches that have been wished on the men who direct the city today are no more their fault than they are of every resident of the city who has been so complacent that they have not demanded that progress be made each year in providing the facilities that taxpayers are paying for.

Perhaps the liquor store remodeling is part of this progress. Perhaps those who criticize the action are endangering the possibility of greater long-range prosperity for the city.

There is, however, also a possibility that the project should be re-examined in terms of the necessity of other projects which are needed and whether the $30,000 spent for the remodeling will bring in enough additional revenue to justify the expenditure.

FARMING TODAY

by your County Agent

Paul Stelmaschuk

Test Soil and Fertilize

Farmers will have a special opportunity to get good service at no cost in testing the soil this spring. This is possible by a special promotion. The soil tests without a doubt save money when it comes to buying fertilizer and getting the most profitable crop yields.

It wouldn't make sense to buy expensive medicine for a sick cow without first knowing what the ailment was.

The same thing holds true with fertilizer. Only way to get your full measure from fertilizer is to apply it by "prescription"—according to soil needs shown by soil test.

Just because a certain fertilizer works on one farm doesn't mean it will bring the same results on another. Soils vary widely in Pennington County. Like different people, they have different needs.

Because more trials have been run on corn let's use it as an example, but remember that similar results can also be obtained on grain. Soil tests on some 112 plots at West Central Experiment Station, Morris, showed that nitrogen and phosphorus were the most needed nutrients for corn. Adding 80 pounds of each produced corn yields averaging 102 bushels per acre in 1957.

Adding phosphate and potash—an application which might have been made by "guess"—gave a yield of only 46 bushels per acre. This wasn't enough to give any return at all above fertilizer cost.

Take a soil sample and bring it into Thief River Falls on Friday, April 17, to the trailer by the Post Office. This special soil testing promotion will provide faster service on getting the results back and special arrangements have been made to help pay for it.

Fertilizers Help "Boost Farm Size"

Fertilizer is one of the best answers for Pennington county farms which have small crop acres— or most of the land in the soil bank.

It's an ideal way to lower production costs.

According to long-time Minnesota farm production figures, a good fertility program coupled with good crop production methods can make a small high-yielding farm more profitable than a larger farm with only average yields.

Especially is it a good test to fertilize the pastures and meadows. You will get greater forage yields at less cost. Why not take a soil test, see what the land needs to grow that good grass or crop you want.

The costs of growing a small crop are almost equal to a heavy crop and its the extra bushels or the extra tons of hay that represent the profit. Why not go after those extra bushels or the extra tons of hay that represent the profit. Why not go after these extra bushels or tons through a good fertilizing program based on a soil test. A good day to do this is Friday, April 17. Bring your soil samples to the trailer by the Post Office.

St. Paul Markets

Monday Quotations

Steers and heifers: Two consignments of high-Choice slaughter steers weighing 968 and 1,263 lbs. sold at $30 while some 1,044 lb. offerings cashed at $29.50. A load of average-Choice 1,213 lb. weights brought $29.00, and about a half dozen loads average-Choice 1,150 to 1,225 lbs. cleared at $28.50. Most low-Choice steers were taken at $27.50-28.00, these largely weighing between 1,100 and 1,200 lbs. The supply of steers scaling above 1,200 lbs. was quite limited. Good steers cleared at $25.00-27.00, Standard $22-24.50. There was a package of high-Choice 819 lb. heifers at $28.00, these having been fed in conjunction with the lighter weight steers at $30 previously mentioned. Choice heifers as a rule sold at $26.50-27.50, Good $25-26.00, and Standard $22.00-24.00, Canner, Cutter and Utility steers and heifers held a range of $18.00-21.00.

Cows: Sales of Commercial cows were general at $18.50-20.00. Canners and Cutters bulked at $15-18.00, but some major packers were very discriminating against Cutter cows at current price levels. Some shelly Canners of doubtful health went as low as $11.00.

Bulls: Cutter and Utility bulls spread from $21-23.00, Commercial and Good grades having a narrow range of $21-21.50. Canner bulls held at $18-20.00.

Vealers and Calves: Most Good and Choice vealers were taken at $29-34.00, high-Choice and Prime making $35.00. Standard grade brought $25-28.00, Cull and Utility $22-24.00, few Culls $20-21.00. Good and Choice slaughter calves moved at $25-29.00, Utility and Standard $20-24.00, and Culls $18-19.00.

Stocker and Feeder Cattle and Calves

In the stocker and feeder division there was a load of Good 950 lb. feeder steers at $26.50. A load of Good and Choice 497 lb. stock steer calves sold at $35.00, the heifer end weighing 462 lbs. at $33.00. Good and Choice dairy cows were taken at $200.00-260.00 per head, Choice closeup kinds $265.00-300.00.

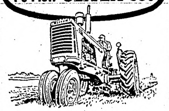
Here's Really BIG Row Crop Power
4-5 Plow OLIVER 880



"They Said . . ."

They said there were too many things to go bad
With the six cylinder tractor that Oliver had
And while they ran tractors that coughed and wheezed
The Oliver purred along as smooth as a breeze

Too much fuel, they said, would pass through a six T'would break up a rich man to run one like this
And while they ran tractors noisy and loud
The Oliver moved on as smooth as a cloud.

It seemed they would never give up their poise
Arm numb'ing vib'ration and ear deafening noise
Then one day it happened, a new story was told,
And Lo and Behold! You'd think they'd found gold.

'Six cylinders sure make a diff'rence" they say
You see their ads in the paper each day
And our only comment we offer without tears
They've found out! They've found out! after 23 years.

"There's only one way to see all that's new in the 880. Stop in soon. Try it, too—feel the power of this big, new Oliver.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

April 9

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Pursuant to adjournment the Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, convened in regular session in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building at eight o'clock P.M. on March 23, 1959. All members were present.

By motion made and duly carried bids on Motor equipment for Street and Park Department were brought up for further consideration. Alderman Rau introduced a resolution accepting the bid of Forkenbrock Motor Company for 1 2-Ton Dodge Truck on operation of the Department of Streets and moved adoption. Alderman Lee seconded such motion. The roll was called on the question, Aldermen Benson, Lee and Rau voted in favor thereof and Aldermen Honebrink and Carlson abstained. The resolution was declared passed and adopted. Alderman Rau then moved that all bids for motor equipment for Department of Parks be rejected and certified checks returned. Alderman Benson seconded the motion which was adopted.

William LaFave and H. A. Kjos representing the Pennington County Centennial Committee were present with a request that the Council sponsor special legislation to enable the City to proceed with a proposed establishment of a roadside parking area on the land directly bordering the City Limits and East of the Eighth Street Bridge. Alderman Rau introduced a resolution requesting enactment by the Legislature of such enabling legislation and moved adoption, being seconded by Benson. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Discussion was had in the matter of council action of March 17, 1959 at which time a ballot vote was taken on appointment of Alderman from the Third Ward to fill a vacancy existing in said office due to resignation of S. G. Sandvig, resulting in a vote of three for Olaf Dahlen, 115 Arnold Avenue North and 2 votes for Ralph Hunt, 111 Horace Avenue North. Carl E. Gjernes, a resident of the Third Ward appeared before the Council and requested reconsideration of its action and that consideration be given to a petition filed on February 25, which petition carried signatures of voters of such ward recommending appointment of Ralph Hunt to fill such vacancy. Question was raised as to legality of appointment and City Attorney Wurst gave his opinion to the effect that a majority of present members of the Council was required for the same and that the appointment was in conformity with law. Alderman Rau then questioned the right of members of the Council representing other wards to solicit persons for appointment in this case and requested an Attorney General's opinion in the whole matter. Attorney Wurst stated that he would probably ask for such an opinion and in case the Council action was over-ruled, the office would necessarily be declared vacant. President Carlson then declared the election of Olaf Dahlen, Alderman from the Third Ward as official; such appointment to be effective as of April 1, 1959.

Consideration was given to a matter of replacement of the present garbage collection truck and Alderman Honebrink moved that bids be called for in accordance with prepared specifications, such bids to be opened and considered on April 21, 1959 at eight o'clock P.M. Alderman Rau seconded such motion and the same was declared carried.

Alderman Benson moved the Clerk be authorized to negotiate for the purchase of an electrically operated typewriter for his office, being seconded by Honebrink and motion was carried.

Alderman Honebrink moved allowance of travel expense for two members of Fire Department in attendance to State Fire School to be held April 27 to May 1st at University of Minnesota and for two delegates to State Firemen's convention at Detroit Lakes on June 7-10, 1959. Motion was seconded by Alderman Benson and the same was carried.

Alderman Benson introduced a proposed schedule of rates for water consumers for study on the Council.

Alderman Benson introduced a resolution approving for payment Estimate No. 1 of Stanley Ranum, Ranum Construction Company, in the amount of $3,112.70 and moved its adoption, being seconded by Alderman Honebrink. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared adopted.

Alderman Benson introduced a resolution ordering a two-hour parking limitation for vehicles on Second St. between Main Ave. and Knight Ave. and moved adoption. Alderman Honebrink seconded such motion and the resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Alderman Benson introduced a resolution approving for payment various current bills against the City and moved adoption, being seconded by Honebrink. All members voted in favor thereof and the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

The meeting was then declared adjourned.

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, will receive sealed proposals for THE FURNISHING OF FILTER EQUIPMENT AND PIPING FOR THE CITY'S WATER TREATMENT PLANT until 8:00 p.m., April 21, 1959, at the office of the City Clerk, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Forms of the contract documents, including plans and specifications pursuant to which the work shall be done, are on file at the office of the City Clerk, P. G. Pederson, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and at the office of D. H. Stewart & Associates, Consulting Engineers, 324 East Second Street, Thief River Falls, Minnesota. Copies of said documents may be obtained by depositing $5.00 with the Engineer. The amount of the deposit will be returned to those submitting a bonafide bid and who return the documents in good condition within five days after the date set for opening bids.

The work consists of the furnishing of filter equipment and piping for equipping one existing filter tank and includes filter underdrains, rate of flow controller and operating table, hydraulic operated valves, 4", 6", 8", 10", and 16", cast iron fabricated pipe and fittings.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check acceptable to the City in an amount equal to at least five percent (5%) of the total amount of the bid, payable without condition to the City Clerk of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota. In case the successful bidder fails to enter into a contract or to provide a performance bond as required by law within the specified number of days of the award of the contract, such check shall be forfeited to the City as liquidated damages.

The City Council reserves the right to hold all bids for a period of 30 calendar days after the date set for opening bids, and to waive any irregularities, and to reject any or all bids, as they deem to be in the best interest of the City.

Dated this 11th day of March, 1959.

Anxious

Coach Ralph Skay and his Prowler baseball candidates, who have engaged in a pair of limbering up exercises, are anxiously awaiting the day when they can get on the Fair Grounds diamond. And from the appearance of the diamond, that day isn't far away. The high winds of the past several days have had a sponge-like effect on the field, and it will be dry enough for workouts next week.

The Prowlers, losing but two players — Dean Bergland and Tony Wald — from last season's district runners-up club, should be a title threat. In the loss of Dean and Tony, though, the Prowlers will be missing their "long ball" punch, for the two boys, batting in the middle of the order, were capable of poling the ball out of the park. Tony made history last season by pounding out a "grand slam" homerun against Oslo.

But returning for another season of competition are such players as Harlie Drees, Mickey Hanson, Arlan Hjelle, Jerry Jorgenson, Paul Saurdiff, Gene Weckwerth, Jim Wegge, Eddie Lietzow, and Phil Hanson. That surely should be comforting nucleus for coach Skay.

Last season, the Prowlers compiled a record of thirteen wins and six losses. The losses were to Alvarado, 5 to 3; Fosston, 4 to 0; Ada, 7 to 5; Bemidji, 11 to 4; Fertile, 7 to 6; and Crookston, 1 to 0.

This season, coach Skay is arranging a sixteen-game slate for the Prowlers, with the tentative opening date at April 24th. Last year the Prowlers opened on April 25th, playing at Goodridge. The highlights of this season's play will undoubtedly be the series with coach Linton Lehrer's district champion Crookston Pirates. That series will surely be a well-pitched series, with Drees, Hjelle, and Mickey Hanson available for Prowler pitching duties, and Bill Taylor, a southpaw, and Jim Turner on hand to do the hurling for the Pirates. And we must not forget the Bemidji Lumberjack game, that should be enjoyable, too.

Curling

The Pennington county fair board and the Thief River Curling club have apparently had a meeting of the minds and, after ironing out some minor details, it appears that a building will be erected at the Fair Grounds. This building, which will have utility as an exhibition building during the fair week, will provide space for four sheets of ice for the curlers. And there is some mention, too, that an artificial ice plant may be installed in the building sometime in the forseeable future. Leonard Furuseth, from the information we have at it, is the chairman of the committee on ice machines.

The Frank Kleffman rink of Hibbing won the national curling championship in the bonspiel that was concluded at Green Bay last week. The Kleffman's, the Minnesota champions finished with a record of eight wins and one loss. In second place was the Orv Gilleshammer rink of Grafton, who posted a six wins and three losses mark. One of their wins was over the Kleffmans. The Gilleshammer rink has been here a couple of times, participating in the States-Dominion bonspiel at the Arena.

Just in Case

Just in case some of his many friends failed to scan this week's bowling Honor Roll for the Service league, we'll report that KTRF's Fred Franklin, with games of 161-173-188, for an aggregate of 522, made the list.

A few more series like this and the league-leading KTRF club will be forced to acknowledge Fred's contributions to the teams' success and place his name in nomination for the "bowler of the year" award.

And speaking of bowling. Who was this inexperienced bowler, just returned from a vacation trip to Texas, who "took" a couple of the boys for a considerable sum of folding money last week? The two losers vow that they will get their revenge during the golf season.

Offer Inducement to New Members of TRF Golf Club

Concessions Is Made on Membership Fees, Says President A. W. Lee

The Thief River Falls Golf club has opened its drive for new members with an announcement that prospective members may play on the course until June 15 by paying only green fees but that they must declare whether or not they wish to become members by that date.

Green fees paid in during the period up to June 15 will apply on the $25 membership fee for new members, according to A. W. Lee, president. Dues may be paid in three installments on June, July and August 15. Second year members pay a $35 membership fee and families after that time pay $45.

Jack Boyer will return as the club pro this year. He will be in charge of the pro shop and will give free lessons to students enrolled in the student program. He will also be available to others for lessons at a fee. He will be active in planning and directing tournaments and regular league play.

The course was given a treatment of turf builder last fall and fairways should be in better condition than ever, Lee said. Greens were aerated last fall and should be in top shape.

Mercury Slumps to 21 Early Today

Reading of 10 to 20 Is Forecast for Tonight

March came in April to northwestern Minnesota this week as temperatures, which had ranged as high as 62 on the fourth of this month and have been generally in the middle and high 40's the last two weeks dropped to 21 last night and are expected to be from 10 to 20 tonight.

According to the KTRF report, the coldest spot in the nation, including Alaska, was Big Piney, Wyo., where a —8 was registered. The hottest spot in the country yesterday was Yuma, Ariz., where 91 degrees was recorded.

The local forecast is for occasional cloudiness today and tomorrow with afternoon temperatures a little warmer than yesterday. High temperatures are expected to be from 38 to 43. Yesterday's high was a chilly 36.

Ninth Dist. Young GOP Convenes in Bagley Saturday

Gaylord Saetre, Moorhead attorney, will be the keynote speaker at the Ninth district Young Republican League convention, scheduled to open in the American Legion hall in Bagley Saturday, April 11, with registration at 1:30. Saetre will speak at 2 o'clock. Len Nadasdy, state YRL chairman, will speak at the convention banquet at 6 p.m.

Oklahoma Votes Wet; Dry 51 Years

By a decisive margin, Oklahomans Tuesday voted to end 51 years of prohibition and make liquor legal by the bottle.

The vote was a sharp reversal to five previous elections on the whiskey issue.

Results from 2,553 of 3,231 precincts showed 288,719 for repeal to 275,449 for continuing the constitutional ban.

Athletic Banquet Scheduled Apr. 29

69 Lincoln High School Lettermen to Be Guests

A total of 69 Lincoln high school lettermen will be guests at the annual athletic banquet to be held in Zion Lutheran church parlors Wednesday evening, April 29, under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, Rotary club and Lions club.

Coaches at other schools in this area also are to be invited to attend, it was announced by Cliff Bjorkman and L. N. Bennes of the publicity committee.

Guest speaker will be Steve Myhra, well-known sports figure associated with the University of North Dakota athletic department.

Dryden to Inspect Rural Mail Boxes

Sets Annual Inspection for Week of May 3 to 9

Postmaster R. J. Dryden announced today that he will make his annual inspection of rural mail boxes the week of May 3 to 9, and he asked that in the meantime patrons take steps to bring their mail boxes up to the standards of the postoffice department.

He made the following suggestions:

Boxes that are not approved by the department should be replaced, and they and all other boxes be securely fastened to the supports. Signals and doors should be repaired and the patron's name, in letters one inch high, should be printed on the boxes. Name plates can be used in place of printed names.

Boxes should be leveled and placed at a height where they can be safely served by the carrier. Approaches should be filled and graded and all obstructions that interfere with the serving of the box should be removed. The cooperation of all patrons will aid their carrier in safely delivering their mail in a more regular manner, said Dryden.

Goodridge Youth to Share in Event in Minneapolis

Gary Johnson, a 1958 Goodridge high school graduate, will participate in Minneapolis Vocational-Technical Institute's annual open house activities on Friday, April 17, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Johnson is taking advantage of the Minnesota area vocational school law, which permits Minnesota high school graduates who have not yet reached their 21st birthday to attend the school tuition free.

Minneapolis Vocational-Technical Institute is located at 11th st. and 3rd ave. So.

Trainmen's Group Attacks Charges Aimed at Workers

Quotes Statement Made by W. P. Kennedy, Head of Rail Brotherhood

Officers of the A. M. Senstad Lodge No. 436 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Trainmen are challenging charges made by railroad officals about "featherbedding." Railroad workers in train and engine service are still laboring under some conditions that are unheard of in most other industries today, stated Lloyd Quesnell, president of the local organization.

"These railroad employees are not paid a differential for night work, receive no payments for away from home terminal expenses, nor do they get premium pay for work performed on Saturdays and Sundays," he said.

From a statement made recently by W. P. Kennedy, president of the B.R.T., he quoted:

"It is difficult to believe that railroad workers, performing highly important service in one of the nation's principal industries, are still denied those modern day conditions — benefits which nearly all other workers enjoy today.

"The railroads see fit now to snipe at their faithful and dutiful employes, and their labor unions, on various working conditions to which they agreed in collective bargaining sessions over the years. It's grossly unfair because railroad workers are still trailing workers in other industries when it comes to wage increases during the postwar years."

"Furthermore," Mr. Kennedy had stated, "joblessness among 'rails' is at a critical point with employment on the railroads pegged at a few more than 811,000—the low for modern history. Yet the railroads would add to the already high unemployment in the nation today to attain their goals."

Two Cases Heard in Traffic Court

City Man Is Fined $100 for Drunken Driving

It was a light day in municipal court Monday, with only two persons appearing before Judge H. O. Chommie to face charges against them. Both were brought to court by city police.

Floyd Bradley, Erskine, was fined $25 plus $4 costs after he pleaded guilty to displaying license plates on a vehicle other than that for which they were intended. Bradley was apprehended through the alertness of a local patrolman who recognized the license as belonging on another car.

Max F. Krause, city, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 plus $5 and his drivers license was revoked. He was arrested on a citizens complaint.

One person arrested by the highway patrol forfeited $20 bond on an improper passing charge. He was Abraham D. Divinsky, Ft. Gary, Manitoba.

There were no sheriff's cases Monday.

Social Security Man Here April 14

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security Administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium on Tuesday, April 14, at 10 a.m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Three Newfolden Teachers Resign

All But One Other of Faculty Sign for 1959-60

Three members of the Newfolden schools faculty have submitted resignations and will not return for the 1959-60 school term, Supt. John P. Halvorson announced.

Mrs. Marvin Olson, Fertile, who has taught public school music and high school chorus, has decided to resign to give her full time to homemaking. Mrs. Olson was a member of the staff for three years.

Gene Wuflestad, Cooperstown, N. D., who has taught junior high science and biology for two years, also resigned. His future plans are not definite yet, but he plans to secure a teaching position elsewhere.

Darrell Glidden, teacher of English 11 and 12, speech and drama this past year, resigned to seek a position further South in this state.

All the rest of the present staff except one have definitely signed contracts for next year and will return for the 1959-60 school term. The remaining teacher will decide by this weekend.

The Board of Education has authorized the superintendent to add one new member to the faculty. It is hoped to find a person qualified to handle the library and teach girls' and grade physical education.

Income Taxes Due Next Wednesday

Taxpayers Urged to Use Punch Card Form 1040A

It's later than you think—only six days left to file your federal income tax return for 1958.

That's the friendly reminder coming out of Washington, D.C., according to George O. Lethert district director for the State of Minnesota.

Mr. Lethert reminded taxpayers that most of them may now use the simple punch-card form 1040A, designed for the first time to cover incomes up to $10,000 a year consisting of wages reported on the tax-withholding Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest, and wages not subject to withholding.

"This convenient short card form for incomes up to $10,000," Mr. Lethert said, "is one of the many new things that Internal Revenue is doing to improve taxpayer service."

Rev. Langager to Be Rally Speaker

Rev. Eldor E. Langager, pastor of the Mission Covenant church, will be the speaker at the Red River Valley district Baptist Brotherhood rally at the First Baptist church Friday at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

NW Breeders Sire Has Good Record

Northwest Breeders of Roseau reports encouraging production records from eight daughters of one of its sires, Sir Remer Fobes Pabst (H35). The average production for these eight has now been established at 528 pounds of fat. Six of these daughters were from dams with records so the proof is based on the six daughter-dam records, which show a 17 pound average increase in pounds of fat. The top individual daughter record is 744 pounds of fat.

Amateur-built Planes Gaining in Popularity

By V. M. Draper

Long before the Wright brothers made the first powered flight in 1903 from Kill Devil hill in North Carolina people were telling would-be flying machine builders "It can't be done," "You're crazy!" and things to that effect. The Wrights were not the first to yly—Octave Chanute, an American, and Otto Lilienthal, a German, both made many flights in gliders and their written works were highly useful to the Wrights. In fact, the idea of movable control surfaces was suggested to the Wrights by Chanute, for whom Chanute AFB in Illinois is named. Both Chanute and Lilienthal flew before the Gay Nineties!

No doubt Leonardo di Vinci was also thought of as a freak when he suggested that man could build a machine that could fly. Most ridiculous of all, however, is the fact that 56 years after the first successful powered flight the people at large still think a fellow who would apply his skills toward building his own airplane just slightly "wacky."

To judge by actions of the federal aviation agencies one is inclined to think the federal government goes even a step further than the people. At any rate federal aviation policy would indicate the government thinks any "common" man who wants to fly is off the beam, if arbitrary government rulings are any indication. However, there has been some improvement, along with other rulings that have had adverse effect in recent years so we won't dwell on this topic, as such is not our purpose at this time. The facts are that government regulations covering amateur-built aircraft are mostly for the good of the home-made airplane movement as its exists today, and the abiding by these regulations by amateur plane builders has resulted in the compilation of the builders' excellent safety record to date.

The building of an airplane is no dark, mysterious process carried out by witches in the dark of the moon. It is merely a very painstaking, close-tolerance construction job, with a maze of red tape and regulations to wade through to make the work even more intricate. Yet, none of these are any less than common-sense requirements which go to make a finished airplane fully trustworthy.

There are two major requirements in the building of any plane: strength well above that ability of the structure to withstand the ordinary loads it must carry, and lightness. Most airplanes are designed with a specific use in mind; thus many compromises must be worked out between strength and lightness, especially where light airplanes are concerned. You can't take so many pieces of wood and steel tubing and fasten an airplane together and expect it to be a safe machine. Every part of an airplane, from the tiniest quarter-inch nail on up is made to aircraft specifications as set forth by government aviation agencies. Needless to say, the airplane must be well-engineered to begin with.

With these thing in mind then, and assuming a good design is available to suit the need of the individual builder, why shouldn't that amateur be able to build a plane that is fully airworthy? The answer is, he can.

Not only can the amateur plane builder make his own ship; he can have it licensed by the Federal Aviation Agency. The greatest limitation on his plane is that he cannot use it for hire. He can do practically anything, go anywhere with it if it passes final inspection and is found to be stable and trustworthy after 50 hours of test-flying it. He can also take passengers if his plane is designed to carry them, though not for hire.

Of course all this was possible before the Experimental Aircraft Association was formed in 1953; prior to that, however, the amateur plane builder was on his own in every way. By joining the association the amateur has many advantages that would not be available otherwise, such as sources of supply, representation before EAA, availability of trustworthy plane designs, and many, many others; perhaps most important of these would be communication with others of his kind, whereby they can compare notes and generally exchange useful and practical information.

Before the EAA was formed in 1953 an amateur-built airplane was a rarity and an oddity on any airport. Nowadays such airplanes are becoming more and more commonplace and in many instances they make the commercially-built ships look pretty sick, performance-wise. Furthermore, interest is growing by leaps and bounds. For some would-be aviators the home-built plane offers the only means of becoming a plane-owner without mortgaging theh home farm, because, since used planes in the Cub category have become scarce and no new ones are being produced for less than $5,000 the prices of used airplanes have skyrocketed.

The chances are than an amateur plane builder before 1953 used "eyeball" engineering to come up with a design of his own; that is he made sketches on paper until he came up with something that suited his fancy, then proceeded to draw construction plans and build the plane. This is well and good—there is a saying in the flying fraternity that a pretty airplane is a good airplane, although this isn't always true by any means.

Many excellent designs are still being developed by the above means or by qualified engineer-members of EAA; after all, EAA is a group of experimenters. But, more members prefer to build from approved and proven designs.

Let's take the Wittman "Tailwind," for instance; the same year EAA was born Steve Wittman, an old hand at designing airplanes since the late twenties, brought out a little two-passenger plane powered by an 85 h.p. engine and called the "Flying Carpet," which he later re-named "Tailwind."

The little ship flew well and performance was phenomenal; it had a top speed of over 175 m.p.h. and a cruise of 150, yet was not excessively "hot" to handle. Compare this with the fastest commercially-built airplane of like propulsion—Wittman's plane was a good 30 miles per hour faster on all counts! Add to this the fact that Wittman's ship carries as much as the commercially-built plane, and has 200 miles greater cruising range with a comparable fuel supply!

Wittman's plane, alhough not pretty by any stretch of the imagination—it looks quite square and boxy, actually—proved very popular and to meet the demand Wittman began to produce plans for sale to would-be builders, after some minor modifications to the design. The size of the plane? The wingspan is just slightly over 20 feet, compared with 35 feet on Cubs and others.

Spring Smelt Run in Lake Superior to Start Shortly

Fishermen Expected to Converge on Duluth Area about Apr. 15-20

The annual spring run of smelt in Lake Superior will soon be the cause of the annual spring run of fishermen to Duluth and vicinity, says Hjalmer O. Swenson, state fisheries chief.

"If weather conditions are anywhere near normal," said Swenson, "we can expect the smelt run to start sometime between April 15-20."

The regulations governing the taking of smelt remain the same as last year. Smelt may be taken with dip nets, and minnow seines not more than 25 feet in length and 4 feet in depth.

Seines may not be used in any stream except the St. Louis river, nor in Lake Superior within 100 feet of the mouth of any stream except the St. Louis river.

Smelt may be taken and possessed without limit, and may be bought and sold at any time. They may not be possessed, sold or transported for bait purposes.

"The reason for limiting the size of the seine being used to a standard 25 foot minnow seine," explained Swenson, "is to allow more people to participate in this sport fishing activity in the limited beach area where seines can be effectively used."

There are various kinds of smelts. They are found on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean in the northern hemisphere, and also in the Pacific Ocean. How many kinds there actually are is one of those mysteries. It is uncertain whether the salt-water variety found along the Atlantic Coast should be considered different from the land-locked fresh water smelt found in the Great Lakes and New England.

Rehabilitation Is Topic April 14th

Seminar to Be Conducted at Hospital in Crookston

Rehabilitation will be the subject of a seminar to be held at St. Francis hospital, Crookston, at 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 14.

This workshop is one of a series designed for nursing homes, boarding care homes and homes for the aged. It is sponsored by the Minnesota department of health and arranged by Miss Virginia Brouns, R.N., health department nursing consultant.

Emphasis will be on the concept of rehabilitation as self-help. The program will cover rehabilitation nursing techniques in daily care of patients and will include demonstrations, slides and discussions of community resources. The workshop will be conducted by Miss Laura Hegstad, R.N., health department nursing consultant.

Administrators, operators and nurses from nursing homes, homes for the aged and boarding care homes will attend.

It's Nice To Be Back

The best thing about going away is coming home, and, after six weeks of wandering about among strange people speaking strange languages, it is pleasant to relax again in the comfortable security of the editorial "we."

The wandering about was made pleasant by recollections of the 20 below weather and mountains of snow we had left behind. Tropical temperatures were not uncomfortably hot and returning to the land of ice was a gradual adjustment to lower temperatures. Nature had cooperated by an early removal of most of the ice from the ice box and the change was practically imperceptible.

During the intervening weeks other things had thawed too. The city's storm sewer problem, once hopelessly frozen and rigid, had yielded to the warmth of understanding. The airport building controversy seems to have been resolved satisfactorily. It appears that we will have to look around for new things to talk about if we are to have arguments. Without a few arguments it would be a dull world.

At the state level too there has been progress in the approach to problems in which we have had a special interest. The legislature is now recognizing the need for "joint and long range planning and improved coordination" in all phases of publicly supported higher education. Discussing a resolution that was being introduced in both houses this week the St. Paul Pioneer Press comments:

> "Under the resolution, the boards of the three groups would be 'authorized and requested' to form a committee to provide for educational planning and coordination of public higher education affecting the relationships between the schools of the public school system (junior colleges), the state colleges and the University of Minnesota.'
> "This is a welcome step toward development of a master plan for college and university expansion in the state. But it is only a step.
> "The resolution is offered very late in the session. Unless it is handled with speed, it stands little chance of adoption by both houses of the legislature, even assuming it has little or no opposition.
> "Second, the proposal contains no indication that the coordinating committee would be given any public funds with which to work. Any such group, if it is expected to do a comprehensive job, will have certain expenses to meet. Unless funds are earmarked 'for this purpose,' it is entirely possible that the entire project never will get off the ground despite the fact that the board of education and the state college board support the idea.
> "One way, however, to insure that such a coordinating program is undertaken would be for lawmakers to make it clear that future expansion funds would be contingent on development of integrated, long-range planning."

Let us hope the lawmakers, having recognized the need for such a study, will now make provision for such a committee's necessary activities.

But there still are a few things, fortunately, for us to be concerned about. We brought back with us two souvenirs to serve as reminders of one very serious problem. One is a tube of tooth paste and the other is a tube of shaving cream.

We bought them in a remote village of a far distant country. They carried the brand names of well known American products and it pleased us mightily to know that American industry was not overlooking even so unimportant an outpost of civilization.

We paid for them in currency that meant little to us but when we figured the price in terms of our own money we discovered that these products were selling in that remote outpost for less than the asking price at home. We then examined the American products more closely and discovered that they had been manufactured in Europe.

They were not the products of American industry after all. Probably the only thing American in the production process was the capital investment. The labor and the raw materials that had been wrapped up in the products were just as foreign as the markets in which they were sold.

The two souvenirs are testimonials to the fact that more and more we are pricing ourselves out of the markets of the world, and this fact should be a matter of great concern for all who are interested in our future as an industrial nation. We must look to the leadership of both industry and labor if this decline in our relative importance industrially is to be checked.

American industry achieved its position of world leadership in industrial production because it pioneered in the use of machines and mass production methods. We no longer have exclusive advantages in this field and our industry now is burdened with featherbedding at both the labor and management levels. Some difficult and unpleasant adjustments are ahead of us if we are going to retain our place in the sun as an industrial nation. Both labor and management are going to have to submit to some painful operations, cutting out a lot of foolishness and frills that add unnecessarily to the cost of doing business.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

At a monthly meeting of the board of deacons of a small rural church there was talk of giving the pastor a long-delayed raise in pay.

When the idea was suggested to the preacher, he declined. "Brothers," he said, "I don't want you to raise my salary any more. I'm having too much trouble raising what you're already paying me." —Coronet.

The fussy old lady in the pet shop had inspected every dog in the place, but insisted the price of each was too high.

"Well, madam," said the clerk finally, "perhaps you should look up a used cur dealer." —Wall Street Journal.

"What a shame," mused the old timer, "that our teen-agers have to go overboard for this rock-and-roll nonsense — instead of turning to something sedate and dignified like the Charleston or the Bunny Hug."

Seeing The Other Side

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

JERUSALEM, ISRAEL — Friday, March 27

On Wednesday afternoon Oref Hussein, editor of the Palestine News Press, guided me to an Arab refugee camp and vocational school several miles out of Jordan's Jerusalem. I came away loaded down with letters and pamphlets supporting the position of the Arab countries in their opposition to Israel. Now, after two days on the Israel side of the well-defended armistice line, I am loaded down with material explaining the position of the Jews. One does not become an authority on problems of this kind in four days and I do not have all the answers. I have acquired a general idea of what the argument is all about, however, and of course I will come away with a few opinions.

Israel became a nation early in 1948 under United Nations authorization. In 1947 a U.N. special sub-committee had recommended that Palestine be divided into two independent states, one Jewish and the other Arab, but to be linked in economic union. The recommendation was approved by the General Assembly by a vote of 33 to 13, with 10 members not voting. United States and Russia favored the proposal and Britain abstained. All Arab countries were bitterly opposed and their position was supported by most Asians.

The Proclamation of Independence became a declaration of war and when British forces were withdrawn the fighting started and continued with varying degrees of intensity until 1949 when an armistice was approved. The Arabs evidently had come out second best in the fighting and Israel extended her borders beyond the limits prescribed by the United Nations. The Arabs maintain that the armistice agreement did not give title to the conquered land, but that "the armistice demarcation lines" were "dictated exclusively by military considerations" and "were not to be construed in any sense as a political or territorial boundary."

The armistice is still in force. Israel still has the conquered territory. But, according to the Arabs, a state of war still exists.

During the war months most of the Palestine Arabs left Israel, but the Arabs and the Jews do not agree as to why they left. The Jewish version is that they left voluntarily, abandoning their property with the thought that the Jews would soon be driven out and they would then return and recover what they had left behind. The Arabs say that is not true. They maintain that they were driven out ruthlessly and, as one Christian Arab refugee expressed it, "The Jews came here as an oppressed people, but the oppressed soon became the oppressors."

From neutral sources we can get a fairly accurate picture of the refugee problems and the amount of Arab property confiscated or held by Israel. There are more than 900,000 refugees by official count, being maintained in camps or in new homes in Arab countries largely at United Nations expense and of which our country pays the lion's share. The Palestine Conciliation Commission's estimate of the value of Arab property being held by Israel is $280 million in real estate and $56 million in property that is movable.

The United Nations has passed resolutions directing Israel to either permit Refugee Arabs to return to their homes and recover their property or, if they prefer not to return, to compensate them for their losses. Israel has agreed to consider this directive providing the Arab countries will recognize Israel's sovereignty. This the Arabs will not do. They insist there can be no peace talk until the refugee problems have been resolved—thus the seemingly hopeless deadlock.

Most observers agree that repatriation is no longer a possibility. During the past ten years hundreds of thousands of European Jewish refugees and other immigrants have settled in Israel. There probably is no longer room for the Arabs who formerly had their homes there. If Israel is to continue as a Jewish state then new homes elsewhere must be found for the displaced Arabs. I use the "if" advisedly.

Among the Arabs the Jews are most unwelcome neighbors. The feeling of hatred toward them is not so much because they are Jews. In the Middle East Jews and Arabs have lived together in comparative peace for many centuries. There no longer is such a thing as a pure race, and in Palestine, which has been a crossroads of commerce for thousands of years, all of the people are blood cousins. The bitterness of the Arabs is not directed at the Jews as such, but rather at Israel, a Jewish state, imposed upon the Arabs against their will.

If the Arab states had the power I am sure the government of Israel would cease to exist and many innocent Jews would suffer as many innocent Arabs are now suffering.

As usual, our country, which pays the bulk of the bill for relief programs of this kind, is criticized by both of the opposing groups. The Arabs say there never would have been an Israel if our country had not insisted upon it. And the Jews think they could have solved the whole problem by conquering the Arab world when the United States intervened and put a stop to the invasion of Egypt in 1956 — we can't win.

It seems strange that this land which is the birthplace of the Prince of Peace must be divided by so much hatred and bitterness.

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman
ODIN LANGEN

Congress in Recess

The Congressmen have left and the tourists have come. That's the story of the activity on Capitol Hill as this letter is being written. With Congress observing its annual Easter recess, the observer who is used to seeing Senators and Representatives hurrying about the Hill with briefcase in hand, sees instead tourists hurrying along with camera in hand. In the office buildings, however, activity is moving along as usual, for the mailman still makes his deliveries and the phones still ring. the absence of Congressman Langen, who is taking this opportunity to meet with and report directly to you people of our Ninth District, we of your office staff have been asked by the Congressman to write his regular weekly newsletter to you. After giving the matter much thought, we have decided to tell you some of the things we do in "your office in Washington."

The Mail

The main job in any Congressional office, of course, is the handling of the mail, for this is the line of communication between the people and their Representative in Congress. We get four and sometimes five mail deliveries each day in your office. The most important segment of each delivery are the letters which you people have written—letters expressing opinions and letters requesting assistance. But in addition to your letters, we receive a great deal of mail from other sources—inter-office communications from other Representatives, letters from national organizations requesting careful study of pending legislation important to them, weekly and monthly publications of farm, labor, business, professional, cultural, and many other groups, and daily and weekly newspapers from Minnesota. Answering this large amount of mail at times poses problems, not only from the sheer volume of it, but also because of the fact that Congressman Langen makes it a rule to answer or acknowledge all correspondence on the same day it is received. We estimate that we send out an average of about 2500 pieces of mail each week.

The Phone

Many of your requests for assistance and information require the contacting of other departments of the government. To do this our handiest tool is the telephone. Your office is provided with three separate telephone lines and about a dozen types of telephone directories to guide us through the maze of telephone wire which connects the countless offices making up your Federal government. These directories are no less than essential in Washington, where a typical phone number might be Code 113, Extension 55128.

We haven't even begun to tell about the many other things which make up your office in Washington, such as the visitors from our Ninth District who drop in, and the representatives of various organizations who come in person to discuss legislative matters, obtain information, or request assistance, but you'll have to excuse us for now—the phone is ringing and there's mail to be answered.

Looking Backward

1899—SIXTY YEARS AGO

Eight inches of snow fell here the second week of April.—Landlord Chas. Robbecke completed extensive improvements to the Ogahmah Hotel. — Dr. Henry Francis established a medical practice in the city.

1909—FIFTY YEARS AGO

Thief River Falls lost out in its campaign to get a state normal school, but Governor John A. Johnson vetoed a bill establishing the school at Cass Lake.—Work will start soon on the extension of the Soo Line from TRF to the head of the lakes.—It was predicted the output of the sawmill here this season would total 50,000,000 feet of lumber. — Daniel Shaw was named secretary of the fair board, with Dr. G. A. Penney to assist him.

1919—FORTY YEARS AGO

A heavy fall of snow April 7 delayed seeding operation in this area.—R. H. Ross, publisher of the TRF Times, and G. W. Connell purchased control of the P. W. Sharp Printing and Mfg. Co. of this city.—Jacob Pfeffer, formerly of the Northern Construction Co. of TRF, is moving to Hibbing.

1929—THIRTY YEARS AGO

A Minneapolis salesman drove from that city to TRF in seven hours driving time, setting a new record.—Nearly one-sixth of the population of this city is directly dependent on Soo Line paychecks for their living, Division Supt. W. H. Mann told the Rotary club.—Miss Maude Johnson, public school music supervisor here, returned from a visit to Red Wing.

1939—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Valborg Hemmestvedt, pupil in District 68, won the Pennington county rural spelling contest. —The Civic and Commerce association was host to nearly 300 county 4-H members at the annual achievement banquet.—Mayor W. W. Prichard appointed Harley Swenson to the library board, succeeding the late N. A. Nelson. — In a tragic train-car collision at Plummer, Mrs. Walter Champagne, driver of the car; her mother, Mrs. Peter Randalson, and niece Jeraldine Singer lost their lives, and three of Mrs. Champagne's children were seriously injured.—Paul A. Lundgren was named president of the TRF Athletic assn.

1949—TEN YEARS AGO

The Kelly Hardware store became affiliated with Our Own Hardware system. — Ole Ekeren was named president of the TRF baseball club. — More than 150 children were examined at an orthopedic clinic at Lincoln high school. — A group of Red Lake Electric Co-op members opposed plans to erect a headquarters building in Red Lake Falls. Elected to the board at the annual meeting were John Radniecki, Manvel Moe and Helmer Finstad.

Minnesota received $117,448 in federal aid to libraries money in 1958.

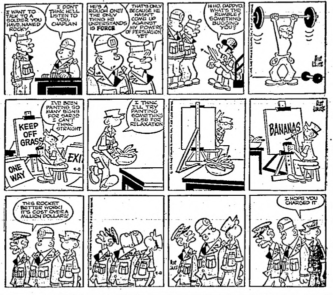
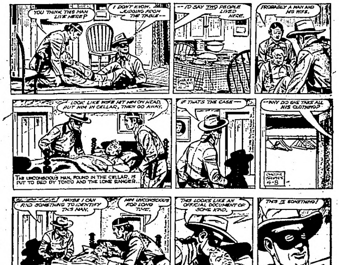
BEETLE BAILEY By Mort Walker



I WANT TO TALK TO A SOLDIER YOU HAVE NAMED ROCKY
I DON'T THINK HE'LL LISTEN TO YOU, CHAPLAIN
HE'S A ROUGH ONE! THE ONLY THING HE UNDERSTANDS IS FORCE
THAT'S ONLY BECAUSE HE HASN'T COME UP AGAINST MY POWERS OF PERSUASION, YET
HI HO, DADDYO. WHAT'S THE RUMBLE? SOMETHING BUGGING YOU?
I'VE BEEN PAINTING SO MANY SIGNS FOR SARGE I CAN'T THINK STRAIGHT
KEEP OFF GRASS
ONE WAY
EXIT
I THINK I'LL TRY PAINTING SOMETHING ELSE FOR RELAXATION
BANANAS
THIS ROCKET BETTER WORK! IT'S COST OVER A MILLION DOLLARS!
I HOPE YOU CHARGED IT

THE LONE RANGER By Fran Striker



YOU THINK THIS MAN LIVE HERE?
I DON'T KNOW. JUDGING FROM THE TABLE--
--I'D SAY TWO PEOPLE LIVED HERE.
PROBABLY A MAN AND HIS WIFE.
LOOK LIKE WIFE HIT HIM ON HEAD, PUT HIM IN CELLAR, THEN GO AWAY.
THE UNCONSCIOUS MAN, FOUND IN THE CELLAR, IS PUT TO BED BY TONTO AND THE LONE RANGER..
IF THAT'S THE CASE—
--WHY DID SHE TAKE ALL HIS CLOTHING?
4-8
HIM UNCONSCIOUS FOR LONG TIME.
THIS LOOKS LIKE AN OFFICIAL DOCUMENT OF SOME KIND.
THIS IS SOMETHING!

WILDLIFE in Minnesota

by JIM KIMBALL
DIRECTOR OF GAME & FISH

"These are the times that try men's souls," Tom Paine said it back in 1776, but it probably would apply equally well to these final weeks of the legislative session. These are the times when it appears to state administrators that the legislation they want is encountering more obstacles than legislation which they do not want. These are the times when harried and overworked legislators are faced with big budget requests and not enough money to go around. No doubt they think that all state administrators are money hungry and that's perfectly understandable. I suppose it is true that any state administrator who is worth his salt and believes in his job is, in a sense, money hungry. He is faced with a constantly increasing demand for the services which his department or division provides, and he tries to maintain and improve these services in the face of ever increasing cost of operation. The inflationary spiral affects state departments much the same way it affects your household budget. If the state administrator isn't money hungry he must be indifferent, which is much worse.

For example, it is difficult to see how conservation of our wildlife resources can rightfully be curtailed at a time when we are faced with logical and much needed requests for more fish stocking; more habitat development; more public access; more wetlands; law enforcement; public relations; research; lake and stream improvement; rough fish removal; and innumerable other projects which all who enjoy the out-of-doors insist upon and deserve. With more people having more leisure time than ever before in their lives, it would appear to be no time to curtail the operations which provide good, wholesome out-door recreation. On the other hand, the legislature cannot be expected to appropriate money which isn't there to be appropriated; and, of course, increasing the tax on the sportsmen is no more popular than increasing any other tax.

The other day I talked to a newspaperman who had published a statement regarding the possibility of "another round of license increases." I asked him what he meant by "another round," and his reply was something like this: "Well, one dollar was added to the small game hunting license two years ago, but then, of course, that was specifically earmarked for buying wetlands and I suppose the job of buying these lands actually costs you more money while the additional revenue contributed nothing to the cost of this operation. Come to think of it," he said, "the last license increase was in 1949, and certainly the cost of operating any business has increased tremendously during the past 10 years."

This reminds me of the incident last fall when I was waiting in a hardware store to buy my license. The man ahead of me grumbled loud and long about the outrage of paying $3 for a hunting license, but complained not in the least about the $3.40 he paid for one box of shells. Ten years ago this box of shells would have cost him only $2.25, and 20 years ago only $1.50. Today's $4.00 non-resident fishing license was the same price 20 years ago.

Of course, finances are not the only problem facing the legislature. There are now over 120 bills on game and fish alone, and only our abiding faith in the democratic processes of government leads us to believe that most of the good bills will become law while most of the poor ones will be killed somewhere along the way.

156 Forest and Brush Fires During March

The record number of early forest fires and acres burned to April 1 threatens an extremely dangerous forest fire season for northern Minnesota this year, Don Wilson, forester in charge of fire control for the division of forestry, reported today.

E. L. Lawson, director of the division has issued orders to the area supervisors to increase efforts to prevent fires and apprehend those who are setting the fires in violation of conservation laws. Field men report the arrest of a dozen violators and court conviction of some of them.

The first fires were started early in March and to the end of the month 156 fires have been reported which have burned 17,255 acres. Of this total 13,331 acres is grassland, or non-timber and subject to annual or periodic burning when dry.

Foresters have evidence that practically all fires have been deliberately started as a spring cleanup or just to burn dry areas. This is a violation of burning laws which require permits and safe ground conditions for starting outdoor fires.

Wilson reports the snow line crosses northern Minnesota from Bemidji to Hibbing and the reported fires have been burning in the area from the Twin Cities north to the snow line.

Wilson stated that a number of unusual and freak weather and ground conditions have created the extremely high fire hazards this spring. For more than a year there has been subnormal rain and snow fall, and surface and ground water moisture is very low. Dry dead vegetation burns readily with low humidity and wind movement.

Foresters also report that the moisture from the snow melt is considerably less then normal; one inch of water is usually found in one foot of snow. This spring there is about 6 of one inch per foot; as a consequence there is less ground moisture as the snow disappears. The winter frosts penetrated to record depths in some areas and only rains will hasten the ground thawing and start grass and vegetation growing.

All of these conditions, foresters say, are factors which control spring fires and forecast that amount of damage which will occur. Heavy and frequent rains are needed to temporarily control fires but the dangerous hazard will be reduced only when the vegetation becomes green and growing. In the meantime it should be the responsibility and interest of all northern Minnesota people to obey burning laws and avoid all burning outdoors until this high hazard fire season is over.

DESTINATION: Church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	92	1-4
Monday	Psalms	55	14
Tuesday	Psalms	84	1-12
Wednesday	John	21	1-14
Thursday	John	21	15-25
Friday	I Corinthians	13	1-13
Saturday	Revelation	3	1-20

Mother's wearing her smart new hat, Susan's curls are brushed till they shine, and Dad's looking pretty sharp, himself, in that pale gray suit.

If the Browns look like a family starting out on a pleasure ride — well, that's exactly what they're about to do. They're going to church.

The Browns are regular churchgoers. But this is their secret. They go to church not only because they feel they should, but because they want to. Church, for them, is one of the most joyous occasions of the week.

No one ever said that going to church had to be a glum, long-faced affair. Going to church isn't a duty. It's a privilege.

Make church your destination this Sunday. And go joyfully.

4-H Club Meets

The Viking 4-H club met for their meeting, April 1 at the Viking school. Vice president, Bonnie Peters presided over the meeting with the secretary's and treasurer's reports read and approved and the short business meeting which followed. Each club member should know what projects they are taking by the next meeting. Connie Olson was in charge of the program as follows; project talks by Bonnie Peters and Gaylord Grandstrand; jokes read by Kenneth Anderson; reading by Vivian Kezar; demonstration by Erwin Melvie; piano solo by Bonnie Peters. For the evening entertainment, games and volleyball were played. Lunch was served by Mrs. Art Thompson and Mrs. Arne Samuelson.

"Mind Over Mumps" Presented

The one act comedy play, "Mind Over the Mumps," by George Rae Williams was presented Saturday evening by the 4-H Club. Characters included Connie Olson, Janice Carlson, Lois Thompson, Eileen Carlson, Erwin Melvie and Kennth Carlson. Other numbers on the program were three declams by Maynard Samuelson, "The Creation," Connie Olson, "Go Down Death," and Lois Thompson, "Elnora." Trio selections, "National 4-H Pledge," and "The Prayer Perfect," sung by Bonnie Peters, Janice Carlson and Maynard Samuelson. Following the program, cake and coffee was served by the 4-H mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Skjerven of Grafton visited Sunday afternoon at the Arnold Skjerven home.

Mrs. Albert Kagg Honored On Birthday

The Zion Sunshine Committee namely Mrs. Art Windahl, Mrs. Omar Sorenson, Mrs. T. J. Weltzin and Mrs. Gust Jensen pleasantly honored Mrs. Albert Kagg Friday afternoon at a belated birthday party. The self invited guests brought a nice lunch, gifts and cards and the special birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Gust Jensen. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent visiting. On Monday evening, Mrs. Kagg was reminded of her birthday when Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gunderson brought a lovely cake, wishing her a happy birthday. Tuesday was Mrs. Kagg's birthday. The guests who came to honor her Wednesday afternoon, bringing a nicely decorated birthday cake were Mrs. Elmer Nelson and Mrs. Richard Janikaskie of Grand Forks.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sustad, Danny and Peggy Ann were Easter Sunday dinner guests at the Henry Sustad home in T.R.F. Together with them, they attended the dedication service of the Mission Covenant church in the afternoon.

Miss Alida Peterson of Heligeland visited Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Edel Samuelson.

Oscar Gustafson, Percey Stokke and Alvin Grandstrand were those from Viking who attended the Farmers Union officers meeting at the Irwin Johnson farm Tuesday evening.

Visitors a week ago Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Oscar Hjelle were Mr. and Mrs. John Julin and Irene of Newfolden, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hjelle and children.

Recent Sunday afternoon guests at the Art Thompson home were Mrs. Wilfred Nelson, Inez, Lola and Lyle of T.R.F. and Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson of Rosewood.

Mrs. Paul Flodstrom was a guest Easter Sunday for dinner at the Virgil Hjelle home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tostrup and Faylin Kay of T.R.F. spent Easter Sunday as dinner guests at Mrs. Mabel Tostrup's home.

Receives Superior Rating

Maynard Samuelson received a superior rating in the District Declam contest Wednesday of last week at Karlstad high school when he gave "The Creation," by Johnson. He will go on to the region contest held this week at Fosston. Others who gave their declams from Newfolden high school were Joyce Hjelle of Newfolden and Connie Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beckman were Tuesday afternoon visitors at the Clemens Oberg home a week ago. Other afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. George Qualley.

THE TRUTH ABOUT RE-REFINED MOTOR OIL
Scientists have discovered that motor oil has more than the proverbial nine lives! In fact, motor oil never wears out. It just becomes dirty. When dirt and other impurities are removed by proper re-refining processes, that motor oil will last forever. The U. S. Bureau of Standards will vouch for that statement.
The U. S. Army Air Corps, major air lines, railroads, bus and trucking companies have been big users of re-refined motor oil for many years. They find it gives them excellent lubrication, at less cost.
Because of recent increases in our plant capacity, we are now able to supply Index Re-Refined Motor Oil in quantity for consumer, as well as industrial use. Motorists like Index because it is a tougher, better motor oil, triply refined, and unconditionally guaranteed. Once they try it, they become steady, repeat customers.
Established oil dealers and jobbers are wanted at once to distribute Index Re-Refined Motor Oil in quarts, drums, and in bulk. If you want increased revenue, and can qualify as an authorized Index Re-fined Motor Oil distributor, write or phone us today for complete information.

150,000 FAMILIES HAVE ALREADY MADE THE MAGNIFICENT CHANGE TO

THE CLEAN WINGED STYLE OF BUICK '59!

Next time you look through your windshield at the unmistakably clean, sleek tail of a Buick '59 . . . take a moment to envy its owner . . .

He owns THE Car . . . "hottest" thing on wheels today.

He owns THE style that's farthest ahead both in public notice and in future trade-in worth.

He commands the most efficient automobile power plant in America today. (Buick's new Wildcat engines not only deliver an important increase in actual miles per gallon . . . but when you take car weight and performance into account, they get more out of each gallon of gas than any others.)

He stops with Buick's exclusive braking system. (Fin-cooled, front and rear, aluminum drums in front.)

When he wants to speed up or slow down, he feels the quick answers of the smoothest transmissions of all . . . (only Buick combines Twin Turbine* or Triple Turbine* transmission smoothness with Wildcat getaway).

But why not find out for yourself? This car's quietness of motion. Its comfort of roominess and ride. Its willingness to do exactly what you wish of it.

You'll live so much better in a Buick '59. Let your Quality Buick Dealer show you why . . . and how easily the man in the Buick could be . . . YOU!

Visit your Quality Buick Dealer soon. He's anxious to show you why your family belongs in the NEXT 150,000 to make the magnificent change to Buick '59!

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Junior Coll Prospect D for '59 Ses

Minn Historical Society Historical Building Zone 1

Little Chance A Seen for 'U' Branch at Crookston

Prospects for establishing new junior colleges in this city or other communities in the state at an early date appeared dim following the failure of the state senate to take favorable action on the bill late last week.

It also seemed unlikely that the request for a collegiate of the University of Minnesota also would fail to receive approval. The legislature is scheduled to end its session next week.

Even the author's own move to trim the appropriation from 6 million dollars to 2 million didn't seem to be enough to get state senate education committee support for a junior college construction aid bill Friday.

The committee adjourned without voting on the bill by Sen. Stanley Holmquist, Grove City, but not before several senators attacked the principle of state funds for building new local two-year colleges.

There did seem to be sentiment, however, for increasing the amount of state aid to junior colleges, now $200 per student.

Sen. Harry Wahlstrand, Willmar Conservative and veteran junior college foe, predicted that granting construction aid would result in "mushrooming" of junior colleges all over the state.

"We can't maintain our high schools and our grades," he declared. "That should be our first obligation. We ought to think twice — 10 times — 100 times before we go into this program."

A resolution calling on University of Minnesota regents to consider establishing college courses at Crookston and Morris schools of agriculture was adopted by the Senate Thursday 61-3.

Under its terms the regents would investigate the possibilities and report their findings to the next Legislature.

In its original form the proposal had contemplated start of college classes this fall if appropriations were provided.

March of Dimes Sets Scholarship Deadline at May 1

Local Young People Are Eligible for Grants in Nursing and Other Fields

The Pennington county chapter of the The National Foundation announced today that, with less than one month to go before the deadline for filing applications for its 1959 health scholarships, no county young people have applied for scholarships in nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, medicine and medical social work.

All applications for four-year financial assistance in these fields, amounting to a total of $2,000 per student, must be received by the National Foundation, 800 Second Avenue, New York 17, N. Y., by May 1st, said C. W. Rodekuhr, chapter chairman.

The March of Dimes scholarships in nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy are being offered to high school seniors; those in medicine and medical social work to upper classmen in college.

"Time is running out," said Rodekuhr. "Many young people who have been thinking of the end of the school term in June as the time to decide what to do and where to go for higher education probably don't realize that it will be too late by then to qualify for one of these awards.

"Careers in the health field are exciting and rewarding—and demands for the services of well-trained men and women far exceed the supply. By starting their education for health professions now, qualified young people can equip themselves for a future in which the specter of unemployment is non-existent and will be for many years to come."

DOG GONE IT A city ordinance requiring the owners of all dogs in Thief River Falls to keep their animals from running at large from Wednesday, April 15, to September 15 does not seem to meet with the approval of Chico, a tiny terrier who lives at 1020 Knight ave. N. with his owners, Mr. an Mrs. Bob Larson. The rope around Chico's neck is just a putup job to remind dog owners of the city that any animals found running loose in the city can be impounded.

4-H Members Share This Week in County Play, Music Contests

MERCHANT Don Olson announced last week he has bought the interest of his partner, Cliff Noble, Baudette, and that he is now sole owner of the local Coast-to-Coast store as of April 1. Olson has managed the store here since he and Noble bought out the former owner, Henry Boe, in 1953. The store has more than doubled in size and volume since it has been under Olson's management.

Pennington county's annual 4-H play and music contests begin tonight, Monday, at 7:30 in Goodridge, according to the county extension office.

4-H'ers participating in the event at the Goodridge gym are: Star 4-H club, 'The Wrong Baby,' cast, Sandra Sjulstad, Norma Kriel, Nadine Eidelbes, Diane Lovly, Carol Lovly, Connie Anderson, Jean Ramsey and Donna Schlocke, coached by Mrs. Otto Omlid, Mrs. Selmer Ramsey and Mrs. Harry Solberg. 'Showboat '59' to Be Staged Tonight by Washington PTA

Program Will Include Variety of Vocal and Instrumental Numbers

Many mothers, fathers and teachers will be given the opportunity to display their talents as "show-people" this evening, Monday, at 8 o'clock, when the Washington PTA unit will present its variety show, "Showboat '59".

Lester Vigness will serve at master of ceremonies, introducing the various acts, which will include "The Hot Shots," a comedy singing number presented by Ellsworth Jorgenson, Everett Yonke, Dennis Kezar, Tom Reich and Albert Koop; and a harmonious quartet of male singers, arranged by Reuben Lockrem.

An anonymous well-known local father will render music on an old-fashioned accordion and other musical numbers include instrumental selections by Hjalmer Aaseby, vocal solos by Mrs. Ronald Engen and Mrs. Arnold Hammer, a trio of songsters, "The Rain Drops," and other entertaining acts.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knutson visited a week ago Sunday at the Peter Beckmen home at Erskine.

Commissioner of Aeronautics C.C. Speaker April 16

The next dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Elks club rooms Thursday evening, April 16, at 6:30 p.m., Secretary J. M. Roche stated today, adding that guest speakers will be Dale McIver, Minnesota commissioner of aeronautics, and Carl Benson, aviation representative of the department.

Creamery Group Is Making Study of Consolidation

Committee Completes Organization at Meeting Friday in T. R. Falls

Officers and directors of six cooperative creameries in this area, at a meeting in Thief River Falls Friday, completed the organization of a study group to investigate the possibility of consolidating some of the plants now operating, in keeping with a current trend.

Carl Mattson of Land O'Lakes Creameries, was the principal speaker, discussing some of the benefits that would result to dairymen through consolidation.

Albert D. Hanson, president of the Thief River Falls creamery, is serving as chairman of the committee, with Carl Krohn of Viking as secretary.

Other members include Otto Saugen of the TRF creamery, Earl Erickson of Viking; Earl Carlson and Walter Steinhauer of Holt; Lloyd Johnson and Russell Bothman of St. Hilaire; Ed A. Johnson and Jesse Filippi of Warren; and Harry Solberg and Richard Nelson of Goodridge.

The next meeting date for the committee will be announced later.

Grygla School to Open Bids on New Addition May 8th

The board of directors of the Grygla school district is advertising in the Times today for bids to be opened in Grygla Friday afternoon, May 8, on an addition to the school that will provide six more classrooms and a gymnasium. Plans for the structure were prepared by Wells & Denbrook, Grand Forks architects.

The new construction, when completed, will provide facilities to accommodate 70 pupils in the district now being served by a building three miles west of Fourtowns, and will increase the enrollment at the Grygla school to more than 230, according to Mrs. Clara Boyum, principal.

To finance the project, a bond issue of not more than $100,000 was approved March 9 by school district voters by a margin of five to one.

Masonic Heads at Conference Here Saturday

Clyde Hegman, Grand Master for State, Is Banquet Speaker

"The foundations of Masonry are a faith in God, morality, fidelity and a respect for the opinions of other people," Clyde E. Hegman, most worshipful grand master of the A.F.&A.M. lodge of Minnesota told a crowd of 150 Masons and others at a banquet in the Zion Lutheran church parlors Saturday evening.

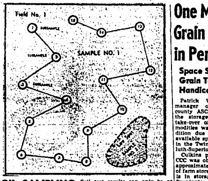
The group, representing 32 lodges in North Dakota, Minnesota and Manitoba, was concluding a session which started at 1 p.m. with a conference program presided over by Stafford King, grand junior warden of Minnesota.

Hegman pointed out the many ways by which the Masons of Minnesota had served others including the cancer hospital at the university, hospital services in Rochester, veteran services through the USO and the Masonic home in Savage.

During the afternoon, the conference was concerned with group discussions on the obligations of a Mason to his lodge and community, the responsibility of officers to their lodges and projects which could be undertaken. The meeting, which was opened with the invocation by Rev. Henry Friedman of the Community Methodist church, also discussed program ideas and heard an evaluation of the conference by William A. Prugh, most worshipful grand master of Manitoba.

Presiding over the evening banquet was Judge Paul A. Lundgren of Thief River Falls. Rev. Arden Johnson of the Roseau lodge gave the invocation and benediction.

The Northwestern Minnesota Association for Retarded Children will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers Thursday evening, April 16, at 8 o'clock in the Woman's club rooms in the Auditorium. All members are urged to attend.



SOIL SAMPLING Soil test results can only be as accurate as the samples on which the tests are made. It is extremely important to collect the samples properly. Take subsamples 50 to 100 steps apart as shown in the above diagram. A mixture of 15 subsamples is a composite sample which will reflect the fertility of the entire field you want to test. Bring the samples with the information sheet and the testing fee to the pickup station in the trailer parked just north of the Thief River Falls post office, Friday, April 17. Allowing a reasonable time for mailing and for the county agent to make his recommendations, you can expect to get the results and recommendations in about two weeks.

Friday Is Time Area Farmers Are Asked to Bring in Soil Samples

A special offer is being made to assist the farmers with soil testing this spring. This offer, by the Chamber of Commerce and the fertilizer dealers of TRF, St. Hilaire, and Goodridge, is open to all farmers in Red Lake, Pennington and East Marshall counties. The chamber will pay for the cost of the first sample. The farmer will pay the one dollar charge per sample on the rest of the samples but this amount will be taken off the cost of the fertilizer by any of the fertilizer dealers in the towns mentioned.

Why is the soil test necessary? County agent Paul Stelmaschuk, explains it this way. A soil test is a measure of nutrient levels so that a farmer knows how much of what kind of fertilizer to use on a field.

Why can't general recommendations be made? Because soils vary greatly in ability to supply plant food to crops. Soils also differ in their origin, in their development, and the crops which have been grown on them. So soils will differ in their fertilizer needs.

Soils vary from field to field and even from pace to place in the same field. This is why it's important to take a soil sample properly. "A lump of dirt out of one spot in the field used as a sample can do more harm than good since it can be misleading," Stelmaschuk stated. "It's necessary to make about fifteen stops in the field and to take about a tablespoon-full of soil from the surface and from about 4 inches below the surface. A spade works well in getting a soil slice for this purpose."

After the fifteen stops the soil should be mixed well and a composite sample of it brought to Thief River Falls on Friday, April 17. A trailer will be set up along the north side of the post office to receive the samples all day on Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Filing for School Board Positions to Start April 20

The filing period for the Thief River Falls school district election will open next Monday, April 20, while the election will be conducted Tuesday, May 19, it was announced today by Arnold Pearson, clerk of the school board. Two directors will be elected, the terms of Dr. M. D. Starekow, board president, and Wm. Thompson expiring at this time.

Horticultural Group of Ninth District to Meet Here Wednesday

JOHN EISBRENER HEADS ELEMENTARY PRINCIPALS

John Eisbrener, Washington school principal, was elected president of the Northern Division Elementary School Principals association at a meeting in Clearbrook last Wednesday afternoon.

The Ninth District Horticultural Society will hold its spring workshop in the Thief River Falls Auditorium Wednesday, April 15, beginning at 10 a.m., Mrs. I. R. Geving of this city, president, announced today. She invited members of all affiliated garden clubs to attend and to be represented by two delegates.

The morning business session will open with group singing led by Mrs. J. Carman of Ada, followed by committee reports, action on invitations to district flower shows and setting the date of the fall workshop. An important matter to be disposed of will be the proposed division of the Ninth district.

J. M. Roche, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will extend greetings, and other speakers will be E. M. Hunt, executive secretary of the Minnesota Horticultural society and editor of its magazine, and Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agent.

The Ada chorus will sing a group of selections, and Mrs. Clifford Lusso of Hendrum will give a demonstration of flower arrangements. Mostue's and Hall's flower shops and local greenhouses will supply flowers and plants. A tour of inspection to the greenhouses also will be made.

Firemen Meet at Warren Thursday

The Warren fire department will be host to the spring meeting of the Northern Region Firemen's association in the Warren city auditorium Thursday evening, April 16, it was announced by Fire Chief Roy Langevin of this city, secretary of the group. A banquet will be served at 7 p.m., followed by the business meeting.

WAKE UP AND READ!

LIBRARY WEEK In preparation for the celebration of National Library Week from April 12 to 18, Miss Inga Thompson, assistant librarian of the Carnegie public library in Thief River Falls, has been setting up attractive displays like the one pictured. Residents of the area are invited to visit the library during the week to see the wide variety of material available.

St. Cloud Man Is New Manager of Local Theatres

Clarence Morris, manager of the Falls and Avalon theatres, is being transferred to Park Rapids, where he will serve as manager of the Rapids Drive-In. Succeeding him here is Gerald Kieke of St. Cloud, formerly with the Minnesota Amusement Co. and manager of the Hayes theatre there the past two years. He and Mrs. Kieke are making their home for the present in a theatre apartment.

SONS OF NORWAY TO HOLD ANNUAL SUPPER APRIL 15

Snorre lodge of the Sons of Norway will hold its annual supper in the Eagles hall Wednesday evening, April 15, from 5 to 7 p.m., with a meeting following at 8 o'clock.

One Million Bu. Grain Resealed in Pennington

Space Shortage at Grain Terminals Handicaps Program

Patrick W. Culkins, office manager of the Pennington county ASC, stated today that the storage situation for the take-over of farm stored commodities was in a serious condition due to the shortage of available space in the terminals in the Twin Cities and the Duluth-Superior area.

Culkins pointed out that the CCC was obligated to take over approximately 3,000,000 bushels of farm stored commodities which is in storage on the farms in Pennington county at the present time.

He said that a reseal program was activated in this county by CCC early in 1959 with the intent to encourage producers to keep their farm stored commodities on the farm for another year, and that participation in this program has resulted in resealing approximately 1,000,000 bushels which will be held over on the farm for another year.

He also said that several times in the past few months the market price had reached a level that producers could have sold their oats to the elevators and realized a small profit on the transaction over and above the amount required to repay the loan.

He further suggested that producers who intend to deliver commodities to CCC this year to be on the alert and keep in touch with the elevators and in the event that the market reaches a level that the loan can be liquidated without loss to the producers, that they act without delay in negotiating the sale of the commodity thru normal market channels, instead of delivering the commodity to the elevators or the CCC bin sites.

County Extension Program Reviewed at Recent Session

County Agents Meet with Extension Committee and District Supervisors

The Pennington County Agricultural Extension Committee and the County Commissioners recently held a dinner meeting in the Rex Cafe. Present were district extension supervisors Frank Forbes and Margaret Jacobson, four of the county commissioners, six members of the extension committee and the county extension agents.

The conference was called to review the extension program and to discuss the agricultural-business problems which are of concern to the area. The function of the extension service in dealing with these problems was discussed.

County agent Paul Stelmaschuk reported on the main agricultural activities of the past year. He showed slides to illustrate activities engaged in and also discussed the organizational set-up of 4-H clubs.

Miss Roberta LeBourveau, county home agent, discussed the extension home program and reviewed the homemakers lessons for the past year. The part extension workers play in the 4-H program, activities and events held during the year was pointed out.

Frank Forbes, district supervisor, discussed the impact of changes in dairying in the area. Other changes in agriculture were pointed out. Miss Margaret Jacobson, district supervisor, home economics extension spoke on "The Changing Scene." She pointed out that although there was a reduction of farms from 1955 to 1956 by 3.1%, the total population in Pennington county increased by 3.4% from 1950 to 1956. In 1956, 28% of the county residents were on farms. The total population living on farms was decreased by 5.2% from 1950 to 1956.

Present at the conference were Mr. and Mrs. Odin Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, Don Olson, Albert Koop, Mrs. Sidney Wilson, Glenn Tasa and C. W. Rodekuhr.

Marguerite Troska and Edward Jadeke Wed April 4

Miss Marguerite Troska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Troska of Goodridge, became the bride of Edward Jadeke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jadeke of Warren, Saturday, April 14.

The double ring ceremony took place at St. Bernard's Catholic church at 5 p.m. with Rev. Keough Patnode officiating. Miss Kleinvachter of this city assisted at the organ and nuptial music was sung by the girls choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of lace and net over taffeta. It featured a round neckline, a bodice of lace and long sleeves, which came to a point at the hand. The skirt was billowy with tiered net over taffeta and appliqued lace on nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of sequines and pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis. Her pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the groom.

Miss Ardyce Troska of Thief River Falls, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Carol Aklund of East Grand Forks, niece of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They were identically styled street length dresses of blue satin brocade with matching veil headbands, accented by white gloves. Their bouquets were of pink roses and white carnations and their pearl necklaces and earrings were gifts from the bride.

Little Pamela Kastrzwski, of Stephen, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a dress identical to that of the bridesmaids, in petal pink, with a headband of baby roses. A white gold cross necklace was a gift of the bride.

The groom was attended by his brother Clarence Jadeke of Warren; as bestman with Roger Troska, brother of the bride, serving as groomsman. Ushers were Norman Thompson and Harvey Troska.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Troska chose a blue dress with beige accessories while the bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue dress with pink accessories. Their corsages were of light pink sweetheart roses and white stephanotis.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served in the church parlors for approximately 150 guests. A tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Clarence Jadeke and Miss Doris Roely, both of Warren, cutting the cake. Mrs. Zygmant Zakrzewski, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Norman Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, poured. Mrs. Charles Novacek of Warren served as hostess with Mrs. Russell Demeyere, Lucille Sabol, Donna McGregor, Marjorie Potucek, Evelyn Duden and Ordelle Burstad serving as waitresses. Mrs. Aldon Larson was at the guest book.

Following a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jadeke are making their home on a farm southeast of Warren. The bride is a graduate of Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, and she is presently employed as a bookkeeper at the Warren clinic. The bridegroom graduated from Warren high school and is presently engaged in farming.

Relatives and friends from Stephen, Warren, Goodridge, Karlstad, Minneapolis, Lengby, Fosston, Alvarado, East Grand Forks and St. Hilaire attended the ceremony.

Beauty Tips from ME to YOU

By JO ANNE WEDUL

Continuing our discussion of last week on the the six different types of women, here are the hair styles best suited to the various types.

If you are the athletic type, wear your hair simply in a casual, easy-to-do hairdo.

If you are classified as a gamin type, wear your hair in short-cropped curls that will pronounce your youthfulness.

The dramatic type should wear hair in a sleek, smooth-tailored style with a severe chignon.

The patrician type may wear hair long or short, but styled simply and close to the head.

The romantic type should wear hair fluffed and softly curled to accent this type of beauty.

Sophisticates should wear hair smooth and modern cut to the latest extreme.

Let us discover a NEW YOU with one of the LATEST HAIR STYLES. We give INDIVIDUAL INTEREST to every one of our customers at JO ANNE'S BEAUTY SHOP, 107 EAST THIRD STREET. Call us today for an appointment at MU 1-4405.

The gift of a priceless memory, a PROFESSIONAL Photograph . . .

Why not make this Mother's Day* truly a red-letter day? Give her a portrait . . . a portrait of those she loves best. When loved ones grow up and move away (or pass on forever) will a mere snapshot do justice to their memory? Of course not. A casual photo, or worse yet, only a copy of that photo, won't be nearly enough. To keep the memory forever fresh, have a portrait made professionally! And have it made now!

Spring Orthopedic Field Clinic to Be Held in City April 29 and 30

Youngsters in this area with crippling bone and muscle conditions may be examined at this spring's orthopedic field clinic in Thief River Falls April 29 and 30. Patients will be served at the Trinity Lutheran parish house.

Sponsoring the clinics which will be conducted in 15 areas of the state this spring is the crippled children service division of the Minnesota department of public welfare. Cooperating agencies are the Gillette State hospital, the state division for vocational rehabilitation, state Christmas Seal organization, Minnesota-Dakota-Manitoba Orthopedic society, Minnesota State Medical association, Northwestern Pediatric society, local medical societies, public health nurses and county welfare agencies.

Children up to 21 years of age in Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties will be served at the local clinic.

Parents are asked to make appointments in advance with the public health nurse in their area so that each child will have time for a thorough examination by the clinic pediatrician and orthopedic specialist. Patients who need corrective surgery, physical therapy, vocational counseling or other special help will be referred for further care. In case this is the first clinic visit for a youngster, parents should bring a referral from the family doctor.

Local registrations are being taken by Mrs. Harold Buck in Thief River Falls. Mrs. Roy Oen is chairman and Mrs. L. B. Hartz is co-chairman. The Thief River Falls Women's club is the sponsoring agency.

Library Week Is Being Noted Here

Carnegie Library Has Exhibits on Display

In keeping with the current observance of National Library Week, special exhibits are on display at the Carnegie public library, arranged by the staff of the institution. Local residents are invited to inspect them.

The purposes of the observance, it was explained, are:

To remind the American people that reading can help them to explore and to satisfy their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives.

To urge them to use more fully the libraries of all kinds in which the treasures of the printed word await throughout the land.

To set apart a time when people can rededicate themselves to the ideas and ideals of a free society.

Three Minor Fires in City Last Week

House Near Roundhouse Saved from Rubbish Fire

Three blazes resulting in minor damages were reported in the city last week by city firemen.

A flooded oil heater Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Tillie Haines, 713 Markley ave. S., started a chimney fire which was extinguished without any damage to the building, according to the report.

Saturday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock, a brush fire in the 900 block on Tindolph ave. S. set a utility pole afire. The blaze was put out with no further damage reported.

Ten minutes later, firemen were called out to the Douglas Olson home north of the Soo Line roundhouse. A fire, which had been started in a rubbish pile below the riverbank, spread to straw placed around the home for insulation. Firemen were able to put out the fire with only scorched siding and smoke reported as damages.

Funeral Rites for Capt. Hal Ekeren at Arlington Apr. 15

Services Are Arranged for Jet Pilot Who Was Killed in Nevada Mishap

Funeral services for Captain Halvor M. Ekeren, air force test pilot who was killed as a result of a jet plan explosion at Las Vegas, Nevada, will be held at Arlington Memorial Cemetery at Washington, D. C., Wednesday. Attending the services from Thief River Falls will be Ole G. Ekeren, his uncle, and Erling Torgerson who will be visiting with his brother, Navy Captain Ted Torgerson, who is presently stationed at Washington.

According to Associated Press reports Captain Ekeren died of injuries suffered when his F100 jet plane exploded in a test run prepatory to the World Congress of Flight which opened at Las Vegas yesterday. The pilot of a ship flying behind Ekeren saw two explosions in the jet and then saw his friend ejected as a third blast rocked the craft at 1,000 feet. A helicopter picked him up but he died shortly after reaching a hospital.

Captain Ekeren, 30 years old, son of Hal Ekeren of St. Cloud, graduated from Lincoln high school with the class of 1947. After completing the regular course at Annapolis Naval Academy he transferred to the air force for pilot training. While serving in Japan he received several citations and on his return to the States he attended the USAF Experimental Flight Test Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base from which he graduated last summer.

Besides his parents he is survived by his wife and three children.

NARROW ESCAPE State Auditor Stafford King points to the roof and windshield of his 1959 model car showing the damage caused when a game and fish dept. crew felled a six-inch pupple tree across the country road on which King was driving near Deer River Thursday.

King said he was driving around a Bowstring lake road sightseeing and because of chilly weather had all the windows of his car rolled up so didn't hear anything going on outside. A car had blocked the road ahead of him and just as he stopped the tree fell across the car, crushing the roof and windshield. Luckily, King escaped with small cuts on his hand from small pieces of glass from the windshield.

The game and fish dept. crew was improving an access road to the lake when the mishap occurred, but King did not know they were working in the area so wasn't expecting to be hit by falling timber.

Final Rites For Mrs. O. M. Mandt Were Held Today

Funeral services for Mrs. O. M., Ella, Mandt were held today, Monday at Oak Park Lutheran church at Oklee, with Rev. Wilhelm Peterson officiating. Interment was in Oak Park cemetery. Gulbranson Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mandt died at Northwestern hospital Thursday, April 9, at the age of 75. She was born August 18, 1883, in Sweden and came with her parents to this country in 1883. Her parents settled in Thirteen Towns. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and attended rural schools in that area.

On May 26, 1905, she was united in marriage to Osmund M. Mandt at McIntosh and they established their home in Deer Park township in Pennington county. In 1918 they moved to Thief River Falls, where they have since made their home.

Mrs. Mandt was a member of the Oak Park Lutheran congregation, a member and past officer of the ladies aid.

Surviving are her husband Osmund of this city, six daughters and six sons: Mable of Walla Walla, Wash.; Myrtle, Mrs. Gill Oak; Alice, Mrs. Norman Ellington; and Peter of Seattle, Wash.; Anne, Mrs. Harold Bousman and Gladys, Mrs. Jim Ackerman of Los Angeles, Calif.; Rosella, Mrs. Arthur Tweet of St. Paul; Alvin of rural St. Hilaire; Louis and Maynard of Oklee; Ferdinand of Brooks; and Orven of Velva, No. Dakota; also 23 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, one sister and three brothers; Alice Hedlund, John and Ludvig of McIntosh and Carl of Clearbrook.

She was preceded in death by two brothers.

Iver M. Westby Dies At Crookston

Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 16, for Iver M. Westby at the Gulbranson Funeral chapel at 2 p.m.

Mr. Westby, a resident of Thief River Falls for many years, died at a Crookston hospital Sunday, April 12, at the age of 98.

Surviving are three daughters and two sons.

A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Local Elks Stage Induction Rites

Gordon Reierson was installed Thursday evening as exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge to head the list of elective officers. Also inducted were appointees to other posts, including James Larson, esquire; Vern Erickson, chaplain; Irvin Wilson inner guard; and Garfield Benson, organist.

VERNAL ALFLAFA RATES HIGH

From a low of 1.14 tons per acre for Grim and Buffalo at Crookston to 4.14 tons for Narragansett at Rosemount is the production range in several years of University alfalfa testing. DuPuits, one of the low-yield varieties, scored a winter kill of 64.2%, nearly four times the Vernal loss of 16.5%. Some special Vernal tests sent the acre yield as high as 5.47, but the yield didn't average out at quite that tonnage.

Shippers Ask About Duluth Seaway Port

Prospects for cargo traffic through the new public marine terminal under construction by the Seaway Port Authority of Duluth appear to be excellent, according to Robert T. Smith, port director for the Port Authority.

Inquiries regarding scheduling of cargo shipments have been coming to the Authority in increasing number during recent weeks. Shippers and vessel owners are requesting information on shipments ranging from a few tons to 170,000 tons annually.

During the last week of March and first week of April, the Authority received nearly 80 inquiries from international and domestic importers and exporters, Smith said.

"Better than half of these inquiries are expected to materialize into general cargo shipments through the new terminal," he said.

Interest in the Port of Duluth is mounting rapidly enough to consider creating more berthing space to accommodate traffic during the 1960 shipping season. This is at least two years earlier than planners of the new facilities had expected, according to Smith.

Smith attributed the great rise of interest in the port to three factors: the visit to New York City on March 19 by a Minnesota delegation, headed by Gov. Orville Freeman, resulting in a series of successful meetings with shipping operators; the Governor's Committee of 100 meeting held in St. Paul, Feb. 27, at which leading businessmen were told of the port's progress and potential, and the announcement by the International Duluth Seaport corporation that it plans to invest more than 60-million dollars in development of the port.

Inquiries have been received on imports of glass from Belgium; napkins and other paper products from Germany; burlap from India; twine from Mexico; wood pulp from Sweden; baler twine from Yucatan; peat moss from Ireland, fishmeal and bags from Oslo, Norway.

In inquiry from West Germany regards industrial machinery, including heavy lifts weighing up to 125 tons. Duluth is the only port on the Great Lakes with cranes big enough to handle these heavy industrial lifts, Smith said.

Exporters in the ten-state, 540,000 square-mile trade area are asking questions regarding shipments of Minnesota flour to Central and South America; shipments of seed potatoes from the Red River Valley; magnesium ore from northern Minnesota, and annual shipments of 100,000 tons of Bentonite ore from Wyoming and western South Dakota.

Completion of modern and efficient terminal and cargo handling facilities is scheduled for May 1, in time for arrival of the first ocean-going vessels.

It takes a BIG glass of Milk!

It does take a big glass of milk to fill the needs of the 33,000 northern Minnesota families whose livelihoods depend on iron mining and the businesses that serve and supply it. These people spend more than $70,000 each week on fresh fluid milk. In a year, they consume nearly 20,000,000 quarts of milk worth more than $3,700,000.

The iron mining industry, in producing iron ore, provides jobs for thousands of people in northern Minnesota—jobs which, in turn, provide markets for Minnesota farm products —markets right within Minnesota's own borders.

Eastman Reports on Entrance Age for School Pupils

A recent survey by the St. Paul public schools indicates that 31 cities out of the 54 Minnesota cities in the over-5000 population group have raised the minimum entrance age during the past five years. Most cities that have changed their policy advanced the minimum age date to September 1 or October 1, says Kermit Eastman, director of elementary education in the local schools.

The majority (24 out of 27 cities) said the reason for changing the policy was the social, emotional and mental immaturity exhibited by children born during the late part of the year. Factors of immaturity as they affected achievement in reading were often cited.

All respondents said that the new policy was either accepted wholeheartedly or generally with few exceptions.

The entrance age was changed in the Thief River Falls schools from January 1 to September 1, effective in the fall of 1958. Kindergarten teachers indicate the present classes exhibit increased maturity and readiness for a wider range of activities.

There is considerable pressure being exerted to set September 1 as the entrance age date in all Minnesota schools, said Eastman.

Oslo Youth Killed in Car Accident North from EGF

An Oslo youth was killed in a one-car traffic mishap Friday night, when the car he was driving missed a turn, sheared off a utility pole and plunged into a water-filled ditch about 10 miles north of East Grand Forks.

John Roger Olimb, 19, died of head injuries shortly after being taken from the wreckage of his car, which was lying in three feet of water, leaving only Olimb's head above the surface.

Authorities said Olimb's car traveled 150 feet off the road before going into the ditch.

India's railway system, which is 35,000 miles long, is the largest in Asia and the fourth largest in the world. This year, India celebrated the 105th year of operation of her railway system.

Pharmacists to Hold Convention

Sessions Open Sunday In Minneapolis Hotel

Some 1,500 pharmacists from Minnesota and surrounding states are expected to converge on Minneapolis Sunday for the 75th annual convention of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association and the Upper Midwest Drug Show.

Both the diamond jubilee convention and the largest regional exhibition of drug products and sundries in the U.S. will be held at the Leamington hotel.

The drug show will be highlighted by an exhibition of 40 oil paintings depicting the history of pharmacy from Stone Age era to present.

The convention will have a back-to-school flavor for the phamacists. There will be a series of seminars on new prescription drugs. A representative of a major drug firm will discuss newly developed drugs for treatment of arthritis and similar diseases which have fewer side effects than former drugs.

Telephone subscribers in Vienna can dial a number and have a baby sitter recite fairy tales and sing children's songs. Other telephone services include medical hints, help in doing crossword puzzles, information on film programs, snow and skiing reports.

NOTICE!
Livestock Auction sales at Thief River Falls and Wingar, Minn. will start at 7:30 p.m. beginning April 20th.

ICC Stalls Soo Line Proposal for Freight Rate Arrangement

The interstate commerce commission blocked, at least temporarily, a proposal by the Soo Line railroad to introduce a British-Canadian type of freight rate known at "the guaranteed rate."

Under the British-Canadian system, a railroad may offer reduced charges to a shipper who is willing to guarantee a large percentage of his business will go to the railroad over a 12-month period. The Soo had proposed, effective last week, to offer a $2.13 per ton reduction on shipments of iron and steel pipe and tubing from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, to Chicago, provided the shipper tendered 90 per cent of his shipments of these commodities to the Soo Line between now and April 1960.

The plan was vigorously protested by the American Trucking association, American Waterways operators, Great Lakes Ship Owners association and others.

They described the Soo proposal as "a drastically new and unhealthy concept of rate-making completely foreign to those held in this country since the beginning of regulated rate-making."

Don M. Olson Now Sole Owner Coast to Coast Store

Co-proprietor Buys out Interest of His Partner, Cliff Noble of Baudette

Donald M. Olson, proprietor and part-owner of the local Coast-to-Coast store since 1953, announced last week he has purchased the interest of Clifford Noble, Baudette, and is now the sole owner of the establishment as of April 1.

Olson, a native of Bemidji, is 37, married and has five children. They live at 711 Atlantic av. N. He was a naval flight instructor during the second world war and served at several stations throughout the country.

After his release from the service he operated a small store in Graceton, Minn., (about 11 miles west of Baudette) until 1952. In 1953 he and Noble, who operates the Baudette Coast-to-Coast, purchased the Coast-to-Coast store here from Henry Boe, who had run the store since it was started in 1935. At the time the store was located in the building which now houses the Singer Sewing Machine company.

In 1954 Olson moved the store to its present location. However, at the time it was only half its present size and required only one other employee, Eldon Harbitt, in addition to Olson.

Now, after remodeling in 1956, which doubled the floor space available for merchandise, the store employs four full-time sales personnel, Gunnuf Homme, Viola Pearson, John Norbeck and Eugene Berg.

Doubling the store's size enabled Olson to add a wide variety of merchandise as well as larger quantities.

Olson said he will continue with the Coast-to-Coast franchise, as well as Evinrude outboard motors, Homelite chain saws, boats, and marine equipment.

Chiropractors to Hold Convention in Minneapolis

Chiropractors throughout the state of Minnesota will converge at Minneapolis Thursday, April 16 for the inaugural meeting of the 51st Minnesota Chiropractic convention. Sessions will be held at the Leamington hotel, Thursday, Friday and Saturday and it is estimated that over 500 chiropractic doctors will be in attendance.

Features of this year's meeting will include the announcement of "Chiropractor of the Year" award, which is annually given to some outstanding member of the profession. In addition the "Posture Queen of Minnesota" will be selected in connection with the annual banquet on Friday night.

District elimination contests have already been held and 14 Minnesota beauties, who are qualified for competition by having a straight spine as well as other feminine attributes, will compete for that honor.

Two City Traffic Mishaps Result in $875 Damage

LeRoy Martinson Car Crashes Thru Door of Fred's Mobil Station

Over $875 damages were caused by two unusual mishaps in the city since last Thursday, police reported today.

The first of these occurred Thursday but not on a city street. About 8:45 p.m. LeRoy Martinson, rt. 1, was parked facing the north garage door of Fred's Mobil Service while making some engine adjustments on his car. After making the adjustments, Martinson said, he started the engine — and things happened rapidly.

The engine roared to life, the car leaped ahead and before it could be stopped, had gone through the door into the service stall. Unfortunately, the door was closed when the car went through, which resulted in $275 damage to the door, while no estimate was available on the damage to Martinson's car.

Another mishap, this one at the intersection of Maple av. and E. First st. was also the result of a strange quirk, police said. Harry A. Ranum, city, was going north on Maple and when he arrived at the First st. intersection was about to apply brakes —but his right leg, which was injured in an accident some years ago, refused to move, he told police.

As a result, Ranum ran through the intersection and his car hit one driven by Donald A. Hanson, city, as he was turning north onto Maple from First st. Damages to Ranum's car were estimated at $350, to Hanson's, $250.

Mercury Hits High Mark of 53 Sunday

Higher Temperatures Forecast Here Today

Spring staged a comeback Sunday with a high of 53 recorded, the warmest temperature since April 6, and Monday dawned bright and clear promising even higher readings.

The KTRF forecast is for mostly fair through tomorrow with warmer temperatures today. Highs of 55 to 65 are expected today and lows tonight from 28 to 35. Mild weather is also predicted for tomorrow. The Sunday night low was 25.

The extended forecast for the area this week is for temperatures to average near normal. Mild weather is expected early in the week but colder temperatures are predicted the latter part. Normal minimum temperatures for the area during this part of the year are in the upper 20's and normal maximums are in the upper 40's.

Precipitation this week should average .10 to .20 inches occurring as scattered showers mostly during the latter part of the week.

H. S. Principals Convened in City

The April meeting of the Northern Division Secondary School Principals association was held last Wednesday afternoon in the Rex cafe, with Philip Stoltenburg of Bagley, president, in charge. School projects were discussed and plans made for a summer workshop to be held in Bemidji, with "Teacher Utilization" for its theme.

Bowlers at Plummer Hold Awards Banquet

The Plummer men's bowling association concluded another successful season on Wednesday night when they held their annual meeting and banquet at the Plummer auditorium. The election of officers for the 1959-60 season found the following being named: John Hagen, president; Clarence Thompson, secretary-treasurer; and Aurel Parenteau, Don Ste. Marie, Clar. Weckwerth, and Dal Baril, directors.

With Doug Tegtmeier ably presiding as master of ceremonies, trophies were presented to the league champions, high average bowlers, and high series bowlers. The Red Lake Falls American Legion team, captained by Chuck Stephens, won the American league title; Denny's Mobil Service, with Keith Gunderson captain, won the National league trophy; and the Doug's Corner team, captained by LeRoy Sabourin, earned the Northern league title.

Jesse DuChamp won the high single game award, having a 246 game; and his three-game total of 182-246-180, for an aggregate of 608, won the high three-game total trophy.

Individual high average trophies were presented to the following: American league—Dale Baril, 154, Red Lake Falls Legion; Clarence Wockwerth, 154; Polson's Blacksmith; Jesse DuChamp, 179, DuChamp's; Lem Dobson, 151, Ted's Lockers; Lloyd Samuelson, 160, Gauthier Auto; Earl Peterson, 150, Farmer's Union; Jack Poole, 149, Brooks Cheese; and Don Schmidt, 131, Red Lake Falls Spot. National league—Keith Gunderson, 163, Denny's Mobil Service; Jesse DuChamp, 186, Plummer Sportsman; Lem Dobson, 147, Plummer Lumber Yards; Roger Krats, 154, Plummer Electrical; Art Johnson, 146, Eastside Service; Dean Schoenauer, 156, Plummer Creamery; Ira Loeffler, 152, Red Lake Electric; and Ray Ste. Marie, 146, Red Lake Foresters. Northern league — Vernon Nelson, 153; Doug's Corner; Alvin Johnson, 145, Plummer Fire Dept.; Rayno Lehtinen, 141; Thibert's Garage; Dick Sauve, 145, Sauve's Store; Ed Hemly, 137, Red Lake County Highway Dept.; and Charley Hasnedl, 144, Plummer Co-op Store.

Guests at the banquet were Arnold Kelley, president of the local bowling association, Ambrose Wyoski, secretary of the local association, and Al Brunelle and Marv Washnesky from the Family Bowl lanes.

MANAGER The Thieves baseball team will be handled this season by John Drury, a veteran of Central Minnesota baseball campaigns. Drury proved a valuable addition to the Thieves last season after joinging the club in July, playing at third base, taking a turn in centerfield, and even doing some relief hurling.

Trap Club Dinner Thursday Evening

Local trapshooters will hold their annual dinner at the Thief River Golf club Thursday evening, April 16, with serving at 7 o'clock following a social hour, Erling Torgerson, secretary, announced today. He added that attendance will be restricted to trap club members. A program and business session will follow the dinner.

Crookston Man to Speak at Next Meeting Apr. 16

Duane Manning was elected president of the Thief River Falls Saddle club at the group's April 2 meeting and L. E. Parks was named vice-president.

Other officers elected include Pearl Iverson, secretary; and Ed Fisher, treasurer.

All those who are interested in joining the organization are urged to attend the next meeting Thursday, April 16 beginning at 8 p.m. in Joppru's sales barn. Speaker will be Vernon Skretvedt of Crookston who has chosen as his topic, "The Pleasure of Our Saddle Club."

Lunch will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Littlefork Man Wins Automobile in Red Owl Event

Otto Schmickle, operator of the Red Owl Agency Store at Littlefork, Minnesota, was named Friday, the grand prize winner of a 1959 Studebaker Lark Sedan. The announcement was made by Frank L. Walker, assistant vice president of Red Owl Stores, Inc. The prize drawing climaxed a Red Owl Food Merchandising Clinic which has just been completed in Minneapolis.

League Stirrings

Amid the noise and the smoke of a Northern Minny league meeting held at McIntosh Friday night, a couple of solid accomplishments were scribbled into the minute book of secretary Lowell Collins. In the absence of league president Robert (Bob) Carlson, vice president Mel Brustad of Bagley presided, and he handled the meeting in an able and diplomatic manner.

The first proposal adopted was that the Northern Minny league, for the 1959 season, will be a nine-team circuit, with the following teams signifying their intentions of entering the pennant chase: Thief River Falls, Bagley, Bemidji, Cass Lake, Fosston, Erskine, Red Lake Falls, Winger, and Eldred. Eldred, from the Red River Valley area, is the newcomer to the league, and their entry forced an amendment to the by-laws of the league which limited the league to not less than six teams or more than eight. Provisions have been made for a ten-team league.

And the second resolution adopted was a tentative schedule-opening date, with Sunday, May 10, being the date. Last season the schedule was opened on May 11. A committee to draft a round-robin schedule was named by Brustad, with Doug Tegtmeier, Frank Gunderman and Bob Carlson being selected. The committee was instructed to have a schedule drafted and which will be presented to the league at the meeting to be held Friday night.

The sensitive subject of giving aid to some of the teams in the league, specifically Red Lake Falls, by permitting the addition of "outside" players to their rosters, was barely touched. It's probable that the matter will be placed on the agenda and brought up for discussion this week, and will generate much sound and fury.

For those baseball fans who are anxious to watch their favorite sport, and who haven't put away their overshoes, handwarmers, mufflers, etc., we will give a reminder to these hardy folk that the North Dakota Sioux of coach Pinky Kraft will meet the Bemidji Teachers College Beavers at Bagley on Tuesday in a late-afternoon and evening doubleheader. The first game is slated to start at 5:30 p.m.

John the Manager

John (Bubba) Drury, employed with the Soil Conservation department, and headquartering out of here, will be the manager for the Thieves of the Northern Minny league this season. Drury joined the local club in mid-season last year, being transferred to this area from Willmar. While at Willmar he played with, and was a high-average batsman for the Willmar Rails.

John has had a great deal of baseball experience, getting his early training at Moorhead, where he was a star performer with the Moorhead Junior Legion club. John maintains that his playing days are over, and that he will limit himself to utility duty. But don't wager on it. Come play-ball time, and with the opposing pitchers tossing up what seems like soft stuff, Bubba will be up there taking his bats.

Watch those Giants

Our scouts covering the major league spring training camps, western division, have returned to town laden with information, and enthusiasm for the San Francisco Giants.

It's the consensus of these scouts that the Giants, by securing pitchers Jack Sanford from Philadelphia and Sam Jones from St. Louis, have beefed up the one weakness that the club had. If Sanford and Jones pitch with the effectiveness of last season, the Giants will have a pair of added starters to assist John Antonelli, Mike McCormick and Allen Worthington and give San Francisco a top-flight staff.

The outfield, with the incomparable Willie Mays in center, and with Jackie Brandt, Willie Kirgland or Filipe Alou sharing left and right field duties, the Giants have an outfield on a par with the best in the league. And the infield, too, except for inexperience of shortstop Andre Rodgers, is acceptable. Orlando Cepeda at first base, a fine competitor and long ball hitter; Daryl Spencer at second, a tested major leaguer; and Jim Davenport at third base, an improving player.

Yes, the word from these scouts of ours is to watch the Giants.

Knowing that we carry a bias for the Milwaukee Braves, one of these scouts came up with the story that the Braves would be doubtful until it was proven that Eddie Mathews had recovered from his major operation. What major operation? we asked. According to the tale, it seems that after the World's Series it was necessary for Mathews to undergo surgery to get the bat off his shoulder! You will recall that in the Series, Mathews batted a measly .160, and in 25 bats he struck out 11 times.

State Tax Status Is Topic at Meeting of Young Republicans

A discussion of the Minnesota tax situation by two Fergus Falls men was the highlight of the Young Republican League meeting held in the assembly room at the courthouse Wednesday evening. County YRL president David Brown presided at the meeting.

On a motion from the floor, the election of officers scheduled for the Wednesday meeting was tabled, with the present officers to hold their posts until an indefinite date in the future.

Another motion was passed to the effect that the YRL meet with the senior party in the future and work with the party in planning future activities of the party in Pennington county.

The two speakers, Don Engh and James Seashore, discussed the pros and cons of the Freeman tax program vs. a state sales tax. Seashore, speaking as a member of Young Men of Minnesota, said a sales tax would create a much more favorable tax climate for business in the state and, contrary to Governor Freeman's claims, would not be a regressive tax if the sales tax program being advocated by the YMM is adopted.

The YMM program would give a $10 credit on the income tax for each individual in each family, thus would be more favorable to the lower income families than the withholding income tax plan, which would double the tax from families in the lower income brackets, Seashore said.

Seashore emphasized that the sales tax program his organization favors is not GOP-sponsored, and he was echoed by T. L. Lindrose, a member of state GOP Chairman Ed Viehman's staff who said the party in the state has not advocated any tax program to date.

The chief objection to the Freeman tax program for the next biennium, both Engh and Seashore stated, it that it is a stopgap program, predicated on a windfall which would "get Freeman off the hook" in his present financial difficulties. YMM would prefer a long-range program, he said.

Seashore cited the case of two large industrial concerns, one which will build a new plant in Tennessee due to the unfavorable tax climate in Minnesota, and the other General Mills, which has stated it will probably build a large testing laboratory, which would employ about 500 persons, in Illinois or Iowa due to unfavorable conditions in Minnesota.

They also said Minnesota's iron mining industry, already hard-hit will suffer as a result of Freeman's proposals.

Another bad feature of the presently proposed program is that by driving industry away from the state people in Minnesota are paying to educate the state's youth who must go out of the state to make use of their educations. "We are educating and exporting our youth to the benefit of states which are more favorable to industry," Ceashore said.

Following the informal talks by Engh and Seashore a question and answer period was held and a lively discussion ensued.

Mentally Ill to Be Minneapolis Topic

State Association to Meet at Pick-Nicolet

Dr. Bertram M. Mandelbrote, world famous pioneer in the "Open Door Hospital", a new trend in the care and treatment of the mentally ill, will come to Minnesota April 21 to deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Association for Mental Health, James R. Oppenheimer, president announced today.

Dr. Mandelbrote, physician superintendent and consultant psychiatrist at Coney Hill and Horton Road Hospitals, Gloucester, England, will speak at the annual banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Pick-Nicollet Hotel, Minneapolis, on "The Voluntary Organization and Comprehensive Mental Health Services." He is being brought to this country by a group of state mental health associations including the Minnesota division.

The dinner will follow the annual membership meeting of the Association at 4 p.m. Members will elect or re-elect a new MAMH board of directors. Representatives from county chapters of the Association, county chairmen for the 1959 mental health fund campaign and the general membership will attend.

New Oslo Bridge Nearly Complete

Highway Department Asks Bids on Approach to Span

Bids for the construction of the approach to the new Red River bridge at Oslo will be received by the Minnesota Highway department in St. Paul on April 21, according to an announcement made today.

The contract will call for grading, sand-gravel subbase, gravel base and road mixed bituminous surfacing between Marshall avenue and the bridge, a distance of .4 of a mile.

Construction work on the new bridge has progressed rapidly during the winter months with the steel work now being mostly in place. Work remaining to be done includes laying the roadway surface on the bridge, painting, etc. The huge structure has two long spans. Approaches to the bridge on the North Dakota side are complete with the exception of some finishing work and also surfacing.

Says Tax Climate Won't Be Aided by Omnibus Tax Bill

State Taxpayers Official Offers Testimony Before Senate Tax Committee

One of the most serious objections to the administration's Omnibus Tax Bill now before the legislature is that it makes no provision for improving the state's tax climate for business and industry, according to Chas. P. Stone, general counsel of the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

Stone testified before the Senate tax committee this past week.

"The future of our state and its citizens lies in our ability to provide jobs for the tens of thousands of young people who are born, raised and educated here and who are coming into the labor market each year," Stone said. "We are not doing this job at present."

These young people are our most valuable asset, Stone said, pointing out that by forcing them to find employment elsewhere we are weakening our economy and failing to expand our tax base at a time when we need more and more tax revenues for state and local purposes.

Hitting at "the sorest spot in our present tax structure," he urged elimination of the personal property tax on inventories of manufacturers' raw materials, goods in process and finished goods, wholesale and retail stocks of merchandise, and farm livestock, stored grain and machinery.

Clearbrook Drug Store Is Sold by Bruce Prichard

Announcement was made last week by Bruce Prichard of Clearbrook, formerly of Thief River Falls, that he has sold the Clearbrook Drug Store and will go into another field after a rest period.

Mr. and Mrs. Prichard have lived in Clearbrook since 1917 when he purchased the store. They plan to continue living in the village at least for the immediate future.

Carroll Anderson, formerly of Bagley, has taken over the management of the store and has purchased an interest.

RALPH CHURCH PROMOTED TO SERGEANT IN GERMANY

Ralph E. Church, whose wife, Lois, and mother, Mrs. Clarice M. Bergquist, live in Thief River Falls, recently was promoted to sergeant in Germany where he is a member of the 24th Signal Battalion.

A switchboard operator in the battalion's company B, Sergeant Church entered the Army in May 1957. He completed basic training at Fort Polk, La., and arrived in Europe in February 1958.

He was employed as a patrolman by the Minnesota highway department in St. Paul before entering the Army.

Daylight as well as artificial light should come from behind. It is best to read with window light coming from behind, for bright sunshine causes discomforting glare. Never read facing a window.

Cites Rules Relating to Selective Service

Lt. Colonel Murley A. Reep, state director of selective service, is calling attention to the fact that all young men (including those who are or who become members of a reserve component, including the National Guard) must register with their nearest local selective service board when they attain eighteen years of age or within five days thereafter, and that failure to register is a violation of the law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty.

Colonel Reep also stated that recent amendments to the Selective Service Regulation provide that every registrant must have in his personal possession his registration certificate prepared by his local baord which has not been altered or changed in any manner after its preparation by the local board, and a registrant who has in his possession an altered registration certificate may be declared a delinquent and ordered for induction ahead of other registrants by reason of the delinquency. This change in regulations was made by the President by executive order on March 19, 1959.

Seeing The Other Side

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

ROME, ITALY — Tuesday, March 31

From Tel Aviv in Israel I came here Sunday afternoon and, as I expected, lodgings were not plentiful. Rome, on Easter Sunday, is filled with pilgrims. But while at first the prospects were far from cheerful, the final result has been very satisfactory. My quarters are especially interesting because they are in such contrast to my home while in Israel's Jerusalem. I asked for a "good" hotel and they gave me the best. Now I am back in a three-knife dining room and generally buttering my toast with a wrong knife.

Before crossing the no-man's-land dividing Israel from Jordan I had been advised to go directly to the Y.M.C.A. for directives, and this proved to be good advice. At the Y.M.C.A. I discovered that hotel rooms were not available. The "Y" manager came to my rescue by providing a space for me and for which I was, and am, deeply appreciative. A little 2x4 room proved to be so satisfactory that I lived in it three days—and nights. It had a bed and a dresser and a window and with me in it there was not room for anything else. But it was clean and warm, and all the necessary facilities were conveniently nearby.

But I soon discovered that it would be unfair to judge the overall operation of the Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. by my quarters. The Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. is a great institution and I made a special effort to dig up some of the facts about its history and the scope of its present activities.

The Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. was established in [illegible], and that was 80 years ago. The present plant was completed in 1933, a quarter of a century ago, during the British mandate, at a cost of $1,277,015.56. Those are the figures, down to the odd pennies, and the present elaborate structure was made possible by a gift of a million dollars from a fellow named Jim Jarvie of New Jersey, who thought there ought to be a suitable Young Men's Christian Association in the Holy City. There is.

The Y.M.C.A. organization in our country comes in for a lot of kidding. A wag once once observed that contrary to the name our Y.M.C.A.'s are never used by young men, those who use them are not Christians, and among those who use them there is little association. This is only partially true about the Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. In the Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. there is association.

The Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. has a membership of about 3,000, practically all of whom are Jews. While it is sponsored and managed under the direction of the National Boards of the Y.M.C.A.'s of the United States and Canada, it is operated almost entirely by Arabs; Christian Arabs, who are members of the Greek Orthodox church. In the language of its own declaration of purposes:

> "The Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. seeks to serve the people of the three monotheistic faiths who claim Jerusalem as their sacred city. Its buildings, known as the most beautiful Y.M.C.A. in the world, make possible a full program of social, educational, physical and religious activities, and provide a hostel serving men and women members and tourists. Its membership is open to boys and girls, men and women."

And it actually serves these purposes. I marvel at the activities it sponsored and the participation by young people and children, regardless of color or race or creed. It is the center of youth activities in Jerusalem.

The service it provides for travelers is incidental. As a hotel it has 105 beds and most of the rooms have hot and cold water as well as a bed and a window. It is organized mainly for service to people of that area.

The main building has a dining room, a soda fountain, a barbershop, game rooms, gymnasium, swimming pool, library, class rooms, a large auditorium and several lounging rooms. There are tennis courts, and a full-sized athletic field which must be twice as large as one of our football fields, with bleachers and lights for some night activities. On Saturday I saw parts of two soccer games, for which, I have concluded, there is a place in our athletic programs.

A report on last year's activities estimates that 60,000 people participated in "social, educational and religious activities." This week's calendar calls for two lectures, two movie programs featuring American films, several recitals, folk dancing, a family swim, teas, an afternoon meeting of a women's guild, and an evening bridge session. There are 15 sports activities listed in which Y.M.C.A. teams are involved. These include soccer, badminton, basketball, boxing, fencing, ping-pong, water polo, tennis and weight-lifting.

There are more than 17,000 library card holders and an estimated 200,000 people participate annually in various physical education department programs.

During morning hours 37,000 school children use the facilities of the physical education department. Sports club memberships total 15,000 and attendance at concerts and cultural and civic programs last year are estimated at more than 70,000. A summer day-camp was popular with boys and girls and a special camp on the shore of the Sea of Galilee was attended by 1,500.

Across the avenue from the Y.M.C.A. is the King David Hotel, Jerusalem's best, where I might have stayed if rooms had been available. I had dinner there with a representative of a Stockholm paper. A simple dinner, with one bottle of wine between us, cost $15. At the dispensary they were selling sociability at $1.50 per sociable. Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and our own Eleanor Roosevelt were there for the Holy Week activities.

As my Swedish newspaper friend and I were watching the spectacle at King David's Hotel he lighted a cigaret. An attendant immediately appeared and informed him that it was unlawful to kindle a fire on the Sabbath, so he didn't smoke. Saturday is their Sunday and on their Sunday all activity ceases. The trains do not run and even the telephone service is available only for emergencies.

Strange people, these, and strange customs. Maybe that is why I think the Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. is performing such an outstanding service. Sponsored largely by Protestant Christians, operated by Greek Orthodox Arabs and patronized almost entirely by Jews, maybe it provides the sensible solution for many of our racial and religious problems.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

I have often reported on the valuable service to the State of Minnesota performed by members of the many citizens' committees that have been set up to study and recommend action in various fields of public interest. None of these committees has performed more distinguished or valuable service than that of the Minnesota Atomic Development Problems Committee.

Atomic Development Committee

Recognized experts in all related fields gave serious attention and careful study to the problems our state faces in regard to the devlopment and use of atomic energy. One of their most significant recommendations was the official establishment in Minnesota of an Atomic Energy board.

Atomic Energy Board

As a result of the committee's action, I recommended that the legislature set up such a board. In a special message I urged that action be taken without delay to enact a bill that had already been introduced. This bill has not yet been passed, and I believe that it is of utmost importance that it should not be overlooked in the last hectic days of the legislature that are just ahead.

Public Interest

When the general public recognizes its direct, personal interest in a bill before the legislature, people are not reluctant to let the legislature know their views. If any proof were needed of this statement, the reports I get from legislators on the numbers of letters they receive on the question of daylight saving time certainly testifies to its accuracy.

Yet it is probably that the effective functioning of an atomic energy board is of much greater importance to every person in this state than the question of whether we set our clocks ahead one hour. Perhaps it is because the difficult problems of atomic power and radiation fallout are less generally understood that there seems to be much less public interest in this field.

What is at Stake

The health of every man, woman and child in Minnesota — yes even in the world—may be affected by what is done in the atomic field. The welfare of future generations is critically involved. We can cope with the problems and dangers involved only if we have greater knowledge than is now available. If an Atomic Energy Board in Minnesota could do nothing else it could contribute materially to the acquisition of such knowledge.

Fallout

Already we know that radiation fallout affects the air we breathe and the food we eat. We do not know for sure what is the degree of hazard involved. What I believe we do know for sure is that further study, further research, further experimentation along line of finding out how to avoid contamination, is essential before we can develop the soundest possible policies and programs.

An Atomic Energy board in Minnesota could begin immediately to make progress in this field.

Funds Available

The bill to create such a board, now before the legislature, contemplates the expenditure of very little state money. But this does not measure the amount of work that could be done. Funds are available from the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Public Health Service for essential research on ways by which we might decrease any possible radiation hazard, for example, and the Atomic Energy Board could, immediately after its creation, plan for such research and apply for such grants.

The enactment of this bill can keep Minnesota in the lead it has already acquired by the excellent work of the Atomic Development committee. It can result in services of unforseeable value to the health, welfare, and perhaps even the survival, of all our people.

MODERN Concrete

"No mud and dirt! Everything's a lot cleaner since we got a concrete street!"

Concrete's the street for good homemakers! No tar to track in. No dust and dirt from periodic patching and surface treatment. Laid flat, concrete stays flat—there are never any hollow spots to collect water or to cause dangerous swerves.

Concrete's grainy surface assures quick, safe stops—resists skidding, even when wet.

And concrete reflects far more light than a dark surface for better visibility at night.

With all this, concrete's initial cost is moderate. And the city can all but forget about upkeep. Modern concrete is the preferred pavement for residential streets . . . and it belongs on the street in front of your home.

RUGGED, DURABLE CONCRETE STREETS FOR THIEF RIVER FALLS

Concrete pavement comes through the severest winters for Spring & Summer traffic . . free of ruts and chuckholes. Ask for concrete on your street.

20 YEARS OF PROGRESS
It was in 1939 that Bjorkman's Toggery opened for business behind a 12-foot front on north Main Avenue. With not much more than 300 square feet of floor space that first small store necessarily had a small stock of merchandise. But it was a good start and in three years we moved into more adequate quarters in the Elks building.
On April 29 of the year 1949 we moved into our present building which we now find crowded with the largest stock of clothing for men and boys in Northwestern Minnesota.
Looking back over these 20 years of progress is pleasant for us of course. We want you to know, however, that we still have the forward look. The past is useful to us mainly as a guide to better future operations.
That past progress does remind us that we owe a lot to the good people of this area who have made that progress possible. For that we want to thank you sincerely. And we want you to know that we are going to keep on doing our very best to deserve your confidence in the future.

HERE'S TO YOU

Samuel Adams' Inheritance
Samuel Adams, "Father of the Revolution," turned his hand to many colonial activities. He managed the proceedings of the Boston Tea Party. He served as a delegate to the Continental Congress, and was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Yet in such a busy life, it is interesting to note that he still found time to manage the brewery which he inherited from his father, Samuel Adams, Sr.

Barley Quiz Quickie
Where would you say Minnesota ranked nationally in the production of barley, and what would you estimate the average barley yield an acre in Minnesota to be? In 1958 Minnesota was fourth in the nation in the production of barley. Minnesota yielded an average of 36 bushels of barley per acre. Barley is a major ingredient of beer and helps contribute to Minnesota's farm economy.

Pasteur's Discovery
Louis Pasteur, world famous scientist, in his studies of beer in 1876 discovered the role of yeast in fermentation, a significant contribution to scientific knowledge.

Steel Plays Important Part In Most Home Improvements

Home improvement can involve almost every material known to man. But at the heart of the home is steel. In fact, it's not an exaggeration to say that homes as we know them today could not exist without steel—in large quantities, both inside and outside.

Steel plays so many roles inside the home, that it's hard to know where to begin. It would be a cold house without a modern steel furnace and hot water heater. Hot air heating systems rely on galvanized steel ducts, while steel pipes carry gas, water and steam wherever they are wanted.

Steel and utilities go together. Steel and appliances are obvious enough, but that's only part of the story. Steel conduit and raceways give permanently safe protection to wiring, while steel pipe is a necessity for gas.

Steel really comes into its own in kitchens and bathrooms. Steel cabinets, tables and sinks whether porcelain enamelled or gleaming stainless steel, are "naturals" for the kitchen. In the bathroom, modern enamelled steel basins, bathtubs and shower stalls offer every possible advantage of convenience, safety and beauty.

The light weight of steel fixtures can often eliminate the need for costly strengthening of the floors, too. And the new enamelled or ceramic steel tile is highly favored for its enduring beauty and cleanliness.

Home improvement means little things as well as major operations. And steel is right on the job again! The very nails and screws that hold the house together are made of steel. Steel brackets and shelving can pay big dividends in convenience. And, of course, there is no substitute for steel hand tools to do those odd jobs.

Turning now to steel's role on the outside and round about the house, there are steel doors, windows and cellar doors for unmatched security; steel gutters and downspouts (also available in lifetime stainless steel); sturdy steel fencing, steel garden furniture and barbecue equipment. And, of course, there are steel garden tools and lawnmowers.

DESIGN B-475. Good circulation is the prime consideration in this compact home. Leading from the large kitchen with its popular location at the front, access to all other rooms gives the living room complete privacy.

The bedrooms have generous wardrobe type closets. Other closets include a linen in the bedroom hall which has an access door in the bathroom, a guest coat closet placed over the stairway and a combination broom and coat closet in the kitchen. The low-pitched hip roof with wide eave overhang, horizontal siding, flower box, wrought iron railings and wood shutters contribute to the simple charm of the exterior. Floor area is 884 square feet, cubage 16,354 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN B-475, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Spruce-Up Impulse Is Universal

Along with "the flowers that bloom in the spring" comes the almost universal (and well nigh irresistible) urge for the homeowner to clean-up, spruce-up, make various improvements in his house and grounds.

The most effective programs of this kind are those that are well planned in advance, with a careful eye to what is needed most urgently, and of course, with due reference to what the budget will afford.

Such planning should start with an outside-and-inside and floor-by-floor survey of the home for the purpose of appraising all present and future needs and possibilities.

In making such a survey, the following check-list may prove helpful to the homeowner.

The grounds: Would some judiciously placed shrubs, trees or flower beds or borders enhance the appearance of your property? How about a flagstone walk? Or a patio, perhaps with a barbecue for outdoor relaxing and entertaining? How does your lawn shape up? Does it need touching up? Or should it perhaps be completely rebuilt?

The House: Is it long overdue for a repaint job? How about the roof? Is it still weather tight? What about the guttering and downspouts? Are they still functioning properly or are repairs or replacements indicated?

Does your chimney need repointing? And what about the siding of your house? Is it still sound and attractive? Or would a complete "face lifting" job add value to your property far beyond the cost of the improvement.

Redecoration: Is it time for a change of scene in any or all of your rooms via paint or wallpaper? It is amazing how a comparatively small amount invested in paint or wall paper can make a room "wake up and sing."

Lighting: Study the present lighting in every room in your home. Is it adequate? Does it set off your furniture and furnishings to the best advantage? It is estimated that 80% of all American homes are inadequately lighted, which certainly points up the importance of giving this subject careful attention.

The attic: Is it the usual clutteration of odds and ends? Could it be converted, at relatively small cost into an extra bedroom or hobby area? Could storage cabinets be built in under the eaves?

Bathroom: How about modernizing it with new fixtures, new wall tile or flooring? Or does your family really need an extra bathroom or lavatory, and is there space available for the purpose?

Kitchen: Does it leave much to be desired on the score of efficiency or appearance — or both? Check it for needed cabinets, flooring, appliances, redecoration.

Basement: Does the foundation need waterproofing? How about built-in storage facilities to hide those unsightly pipes? Should waste space in this area be panelled off to create an attractive rumpus room?

Landscaping Is "Showcase" Of the Home

What do neighbors think of the appearance of your home property? Is it pleasing from the street? Do people, in passing, think "I'd like to live there?"

Often the answer to this question is to be found in the character of the landscaping, which in effect provides the "showcase" of the home. Sometimes the planting of a single tree or a few shrubs can change the whole aspect. A flowering tree or shrubs, well placed, or evergreens that keep their green all year add "life" to the property.

Test the "curbside" rating of your home by standing on the sidewalk and asking yourself the following questions as suggested by the American Association of Nurserymen:

1. Is the home blended naturally into the landscape, presenting a pleasing aspect from the curb, both winter and summer?

2. Is the foundation of the home bare, or well-planted?

3. Are the foundation plantings overgrown and scrawny, obscuring windows? Do they need pruning, or would it be better to replant entirely with more tasteful plants?

4. Are there color and variety from the use of shrubs or trees with different foliage and flower textures and forms?

5. Does the property as seen from curb "hail" the various seasons of the year?

If the answers to the above questions are in the negative, then it is time to call in your nurseryman for suggestions.

In some residential areas a walk along the street in the springtime is a delight to the eye with shrubs of various species aglow with different or even the same flowers on separate properties.

In summer and fall, as well as in winter, attractive plant contrasts can be shown. In winter, the dark green of coniferous and broadleafed evergreens are distinctive and beautiful against the snow. They add "life" to the property during the dormant season. For fall, various foliage colors (reds and yellows) will give the property a hospitable golden glow. Summer flowering trees and shrubs can add to the beauty of the property in the warmer months.

Cleanup Week Observance Is Set Apr. 20-25

Mayor Beich Joins with Governor in Proclaiming Week

Governor Orville L. Freeman, today proclaimed April 20-25 as "Clean-up Week" in Minnesota. Joining with him in ordering the observance in Thief River Falls were Mayor O. D. Beich and Dr. H. Paul Wendt, health officer.

The proclamation urged support of all programs designed to eliminate those health and safety problems which still confront us, particularly with regard to fire in this exceptionally dry season.

In signing the proclamation, the governor added that while we single out a week each spring to emphasize the importance of a clean environment in the maintenance of health and safety, it is most important that this same spirit be used throughout the year to locate and correct those things in our environment which threaten our health and safety.

Under Minnesota's health laws and regulations, the health officer of each city and village must make a thorough sanitary inspection of his community in the month of May, and present a written report of the inspection together with his recommendations to the city council. A copy of the report is also sent to the Minnesota state board of health. The law strongly recommends an organized clean-up campaign at least annually in the spring, but preferably more often, and provides for the service of abatement notices on those still found to have nuisances.

Citizens served by private sewerage systems are urged to examine their septic tanks for excessive sludge accumulation. "If excessive quantities of scum and sludge accumulate," the state health department cautions, "it carries over into the cesspool and tile field and renders the entire system ineffective." The tank should be cleaned before serious damage of this type occurs. The private system should also be examined for signs of failure. Sewage on the surface of the ground, soggy or sinking round over the system, offensive odors, or a backing up of sewage in the plumbing is evidence of failure and needs prompt attention.

The state health department warns that piles of refuse, garbage, and other discarded materials are feeding and brooding grounds for rodents. Skunks, the chief source of rabies in Minnesota, are particularly attracted to refuse piles in search of food. The danger to domestic and farm animals and to humans can be lessened considerably by the elimination of these refuse piles.

Free Soil Testing Offered Farmers by Fertilizer Men

Should Bring Samples Friday to Trailer Near T. R. Falls Postoffice

Farmers of the area can take advantage of a special offer for soil testing Friday if they bring their samples to the pickup station in a trailer which will be parked north of the post office in Thief River Falls.

The project, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and fertilizer dealers of TRF, St. Hilaire, and Goodridge, is open to all farmer will pay the one dollar and East Marshall counties.

The Chamber will pay for the cost of the first sample. The farmer wil pay the one dolar charge on the rest of the samples but this amount will be deducted from the cost of fertilizer purchased from any of the participating dealers.

Paul Stelmaschuk, county agent, emphasized that it is necessary for every farmer to know how much of what kind of fertilizer is necessary for his fields. "Soils vary greatly in their ability to supply plant food to crops," he said, "and vary from field to field and even from place to place in the same field."

The mobile station will be open to receive samples from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

[illegible]okane Pastor Here Assistant to Rev. W. Pedersen of Zion

The Rev. Harold Johnson

The Rev. Harold Johnson arrived in Thief River Falls from Spokane, Washington, Wednesday to take up his new duties as assistant to Dr. Walter M. Pedersen, pastor of Zion Lutheran church.

Rev. Johnson has had a varied experience of service. Prior to his entrance into the seminary to prepare for the Christian ministry, he was Recreational Director for the city of Minneapolis for several years. His responsibility consisted of directing the promotional and planning programs for the 34 playgrounds, 5 golf courses, 5 bathing beaches, 3 recreational centers and the city wide competitive indoor and outdoor sports. While serving as director he wrote the rules and promoted the game that is now played nationally as soft ball.

He was at one time Sunday school Sup't at Trinity Lutheran church of Minneapolis under Dr. T. O. Burnduett, then pastor of Trinity, and Rev. M. J. Olson.

He was also synodical representative in the original Scouting Committee of the Lutheran church and for three years served on the Council of Boy Scouts of America. After completing his seminary work Mr. Johnson accepted a call to Bethel Lutheran church at Northfield. He also has served pastorates at Bethel Lutheran church, Portland, Oregon; First Lutheran, Columbia Heights, Minneapolis; Trinity Lutheran, Enumclaw, Washington; and Calvary Lutheran, Spokane, Washington. The congregation from which he resigned to become assistant at Zion Lutheran.

Mr. Johnson has served as chaplain for C. C. C. camps in Washington and Oregon while he served the Bethel church of Portland, Oregon.

He has worked extensively as teacher at Bible camp, having also been Dean of camp at Colton, Oregon and Lutherland.

Mr. Johnson's duties here will be varied. However, he will be director of educational and youth work in which he is especially qualified by experience.

Lively Comedy to Be Presented Tuesday by Lincoln Seniors

"You Can't Take It With You," a Hart and Kaufman creation, has been chosen as the 1959 Lincoln high school senior class play. The play, directed by Miss Dzuik and student director, Vivian Spray, will be presented Tuesday, April 21, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The three-act comedy takes place entirely in the home of Martin Vanderlof (Dave Thorstad). Grandpa's daughters, Mrs. Penelope Sycamore (Shellie Dahlen), is doing what she likes more than anything else in the world. She is writing a play—her eleventh. Her husband Paul (Larry Wold) and a friend of the family, Mr. Dipinna (Jerry Jorgenson), manufacture fireworks in the basement of the house. Penny's daughter, Essie (Carol Nesland), is practicing to become a ballet dancer. Essie's husband (Bruce Ranum), sells her homemade candy for a living.

All this and much more—the kittens and the printing press could be mentioned—combine to make this a very warm, delightful and hilarious play.

The list of the other characters includes: Rebba (Gloria Bushaw), a Negro maid; Donald (Stan Torgerson), a Negro helper; Alice (Carol Goulet), the Sycamore's young daughter; Hen-

Sherwood Idso Is Winner of Award at Science Fair

Lincoln High Student Wins Minneapolis Trip with Exhibit at Bemidji

Sherwood Idso, a member of the Lincoln high school science club, won a blue ribbon at the Minnesota Regional Science Fair in Bemidji April 11 and an expense-paid trip to the state science fair May 1 and 2, it has been announced.

Idso's prize winning entry was a chart of ocean currents and a relief map of the mountain ranges on land and under the sea.

Bruce Howick won a green ribbon with a dissected frog and Kris Geisen won red honorable mention ribbons for a reconstructed raccoon skeleton. Toni Benson exhibited a model space station.

The group of 37 science club members from Thief River Falls, accompanied by David L. Rogers and Charles L. Samuelson, viewed the fair exhibits and went on a conducted tour of the college science department.

During the afternoon session, the students were greeted by the college president and heard a talk on "Mountain Climbing in the Teton Mountains of Wyoming" before awards were presented.

Cancer Fund Drive Advances Slowly

The local campaign being conducted in April to raise funds to combat the dread disease of cancer is progressing slowly, with only $643.19 collected up to Wednesday noon, or about one-third of the county quota, it was announced today by Mrs. G. H. Mayer-Oakes, city chairman of the drive.

She stated that nearly all of the receipts to date are from the Thief River Falls residential areas. She added that the committee had hoped to avoid a canvass of the business district, but that this may become necessary if other efforts to reach the goal are not successful.

BANKER Robert D. Flynn of Grand Forks, formerly with the Western Adjustment company, has joined the insurance department staff of the Union State Bank in Thief River Falls. A graduate of North Dakota State college, Flynn is well acquainted in the city thru his business contacts during the past five years with the Grand Forks firm. Mr. and Mrs. Flynn have purchased a home at 324 Maple ave. S. for themselves and their three children. They will be affiliated with Trinity Lutheran church.

1,000 Persons View Area 4-H Play Contests

Winners in 3 Events Compete for County Honors Friday Night

Over 1,000 people viewed the 4-H plays presented this week at Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls.

The elimination contests were held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week. The final county contest is scheduled for Friday, April 17 at 8 p.m. at the Knox school gym. The public is invited to attend.

Five one-act plays and six musical numbers competed in Goodridge. Kratka's play, "Wildcat Willie" was named the winner in the contest at Goodridge. The coaches were Mrs. Ray Parnow, Mrs. Rufus Olson and Mrs. Julian Lendobeja. Runner-up was "Elmer" presented by Deer Park. Mrs. Roman Radniecki and Mrs. C. W. Radniecki were the coaches.

The best actor and actress was also chosen. They were Timmy Radniecki, Deer Park 4-H and Marie Breznay, Mavie 4-H.

The winning musical numbers were Deer Park and Mavie. A group of 4-H girls from Deer Park sang "4-H Pledge Song" and Apple Blossom Time." Mavie 4-H'ers sang "4-H Hymn" and "The Children's Marching Song."

"Love Hits Wilbur" was the title of the winning play Tuesday evening in St. Hilaire. It was presented by the Sanders 4-H club, the cast being coached by Mrs. Vernon Wold, Mrs. George Swanson and Mrs. Richard Swanson. Carol Yonke of the FARM FIRE The Hilton McMahon family, who lived five miles southeast of the city on the Red Lake river, lost all their household furnishings and personal belongings Monday morning when fire broke out on the second floor of their rented home. The interior of the building was completely destroyed. No insurance was carried on the McMahon property.

Catholic Study Group to Hear Father Pryor of Crookston Sunday

St. Bernard's parish of Thief River Falls is bringing to a close the two annual Confraternity of Christian Doctrine study club sessions on Sunday, April 19. Starting at 3 o'clock two lectures will be given by Father Robert Pryor in St. Bernard's church followed by benediction. Dinner will be served for the participants at 5 o'clock in the church basement.

Father Pryor was born in Redwood Falls, Minnesota, in 1927. He studied pre-law at St. John's University from 1945 to 1946, and then enlisted in the Air Corps in which he served until January 1948.

After his discharge as sergeant he enrolled again at St. John's University to begin his studies for the priesthood and was ordained on June 4, 1955.

During the past four years he has acted as assistant pastor of the Cathedral church in Crookston where he also teaches in the Cathedral high school and conducts a course in nursing ethics at St. Francis' School of Practical Nursing in Crookston. Father Pryor also holds the post of Spiritual Director of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Nurses and chaplain of the Crookston Council of the Knights of Columbus.

The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine is an organization of Catholic lay people for the purpose of increasing and furthering their knowledge of the faith by a systematic study.

The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine dates back to the year 1560 when Marcus Sudi da Cusani, a hatmaker of Milan, founded the Society of Christian Doctrine; in 1562 Pope Pius IV erected it into a confraternity.

Hospital Auxiliary to Observe Guest Day Next Tuesday, Apr. 21

Guest day will be observed by the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary at its spring meeting Tuesday, April 21, to be held in the Elks club rooms at 2 o'clock.

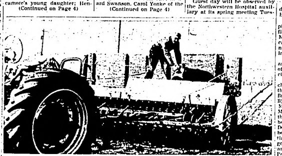
Frank Harger, physical therapist at the hospital, will show a film on rehabilitation service. Music will be supplied by a vocal quartet comprised of student nurses from Deaconess hospital in Minneapolis.

Mrs. L. L. Tygeson will act as narrator for the "April Shower of Fashions" style show, a special feature of the meeting.

Auxiliary members and their children who will be models and the participating stores are: Brian Larson and Steve Beich, Bjorkman's; Mrs. A. F. Berge and Mrs. George Van Rooy, Elaine's; Mrs. Les Ihle and Mrs. Roy Oen, the Fashion Shop; Miss Boo Sjoberg, Junior Shop; Mrs. Gordon Dow and Mrs. Clarence Stromberg, Lein's; Miss Cherryl Martin and Mrs. Sig Quam, Montgomery Ward; Mrs. Robert Baker and Miss Cam Peterson, J. C. Penney Co.; Misses Kim and Mary LeMoine and Mrs. G. H. Mayer-Oakes, S & L Store.

Afternoon tea, table favors and door prizes are additional attractions planned for the meeting.

Through an error the name of Mrs. Paul Wendt was omitted from the committee on arrangements listed in last Thursday's Times.



EARLY BIRD LeRoy Scholin, Bray twp., was one of the first area farmers to get into the field this year and was seeding oats near his home Monday afternoon.

Moisture conditions permitted farmers in the southwest corner of the county to gain a few days over other parts of the county, although field work will probably be general all over the county by next week.

Scholin said moisture is sufficient at present but hoped for rain before too long in his part of the county. Other areas have good to slightly excessive soil moisture but fields have dried rapidly in the last week and the picture could change quickly.

In this photo Scholin is shown filling his drill hopper with oats and fertilizer. In another field nearby his son was cultivating while a neighbor to the south was also preparing his seedbed, and "the sound of the turtle dove and the tractor is heard again in the land."

Smiley Farm Home Destroyed by Fire Monday Morning

Hilton McMahon Family Loses All Possessions in Blaze on Forsberg Farm

A Smiley township family lost all of its household goods and personal possessions Monday morning when their rented home, located five miles east of the city on the Smiley bridge road, was badly burned.

The home, which belongs to Fred Forsberg & Son company, was occupied by the Hilton McMahon family. According to Roy Langevin, city fire chief, Mrs. McMahon heard a noise on the second floor of the home which sounded like a dull explosion. She opened the door to the second floor and saw smoke and fire, then ran into the woods to notify her husband who was chopping wood. By the time the couple returned, fire was coming out of upstairs windows.

A call to Thief River Falls was made at 11:35 a.m. and, despite the fact that the township is not yet in a cooperative fire district, the rural truck and six firemen answered the call.

Two fire lines were run from the Red Lake river, on whose bank the home is located, and firemen were able to put out the blaze. The building is nearly a complete loss and none of the contents was saved.

Fanned by the strong south wind, sparks from the fire were blown across the river and set fire to grass and brush on the opposite bank. Danger from further spreading was averted by a fire watch during the afternoon and evening.

According to the owners of the home, the building was covered by $2,000 insurance but there was none on the furniture or other personal possessions of the McMahon family.

R.L. Conservancy District Board Has 3 Replacements

Delmar Hagen of Gatzke, Claude Knudson of Gully, Erling Torgerson Named

Three new members of the Red Lake-Clearwater drainage and conservancy district board were appointed recently by Judge Paul A. Lundgren in district court.

They include Delmar Hagen of Gatzke, succeeding Olaf Olstad of Grygla; Claude Knudson of Gully, succeeding John Pweeton, also of Gully; and Erling Torgerson of Thief River Falls, succeeding John Radniecki of Trail. Other members of the five-man board are Ole Melby of Oklee and Earl Wagner of Gonvick.

Melby is president of the board; Stanley Mortenson, secretary; and Robert J. Lund, treasurer.

Mortenson announced that Lloyd Ofstedal of Crookston has been appointed engineer on the Lost River improvement project.

14 Members of School Faculty Resign Posts

3 New Ones Secured; Board OK's Airplane Mechanics School

The resignations of 14 city school teachers were accepted by the board of education during its meeting April 13 and three contracts for the 1959-60 school year were approved.

Five resignations were received from Knox school teachers. Those who will be leaving include Gail Bennett, fifth grade; Chester Kukuk, fifth grade; Joan Wolle, first grade; Verna Amundson, second grade, and Lew Johnson, sixth grade.

Resignations from Washington school include those of Mrs. Yvonne Ristau, second grade; Katherine Lee Knutson, third grade; Lena Gullingsrud, sixth grade; Elaine Harstad, second grade, and Roger Hastings, sixth grade.

Other resignations include those of Mary McLaughlin, practical nursing director of the area vocational school; Ahna Garnaas, home economics instructor at Lincoln high school; Howard Nelson, physics and biology instructor at Lincoln and Verner Johnson, who is on a year's leave of absence.

Three Moorhead state college graduates will teach in Thief River Falls next year. They are: Roger Dorn, formerly of Thief River Falls, who will teach sixth grade; Eloda Grover, formerly of Warroad, who will teach fifth grade, and Mrs. Lois Bergland, formerly of Roseau, who will teach fifth grade.

The application of Lowell Vaughn, business education instructor in the area vocational school, to take a year's leave of absence was approved by the board. Vaughn plans to attend the University of North Dakota.

A summer course in typing will be offered this year, the board decided. Any student in or above the seventh grade level is eligible to enroll.

An insurance endorsement for Harold E. Halverson, school bus driver, was approved by the board.

In final action, the board approved the aircraft and engine mechanics school. The course will be taught in the new shop building which will be constructed by the city at the municipal airport.

Local Musicians Win Many 'A's' at District Festival

Lincoln Band, Orchestra and Chorus Accorded Top Ratings at Crookston

The Lincoln high school band, orchestra and mixed chorus headed the list of local groups and soloists that won the top "A" ratings in the District 31 music festival at Crookston Friday and Saturday.

All groups and individuals receiving "A's" will be eligible to compete in the state area festival and contest to be conducted in Thief River Falls Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25.

Lincoln soloists rating "A" were Stan Torgerson, bass singer; David Thorstad, oboe; Jim Terrian, clarinet; and Steve Embury, snare drum.

The girls' double trio from Goodridge high school also won an "A" rating. Approximately 1,200 area high school musicians took part in the two-day event.

Aeronautics Chief to Speak Tonight

Dale McIver, Minnesota commissioner of aeronautics, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this evening at 6:30 in the Elks club rooms. He will discuss prospects for a continuance of North central Airlines flights to Thief River Falls, as well as other developments relating to the Thief River Falls airport.

Donna Busse and Carl Emanuelson Married April 10

WED AT ST. JOHN'S Mr. and Mrs. Carl Emanuelson, nee Donna Busse, are making their home in Mentor, Minn., following their marriage, Saturday, April 10 at St. John's Lutheran church. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. A. C. Seltz — Photo by Ken Johnson Studios, Crookston.

Miss Donna Busse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Busse of St. Hilaire, and Carl Emanuelson Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Emanuelson of Mentor, were united in marriage Friday, April 10, at 8 p.m., in St. John's Lutheran church.

The altar was graced with bouquets of ferns and lighted spiral candelabra with candles extending down the aisle. Lyle Knaack, cousin of the bride, and Lynette and Roxanne Langlie, nieces of the bride, were candle lighters.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Rev. A. C. Seltz, with Mrs. Sherman Idso of Thief River Falls assisting at the organ. Mrs. John Ulrich of Red Lake Falls, violinist, played "The Wedding Prayer" and Mrs. Lester Vigness of Thief River Falls sang "Song of Ruth" and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of nylon lace and tulle. It featured a snug-fitted bodice, topped with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. The skirt was bouffant with lace over tiers of tulle, the tiers billowing out the back and extending into a chapel train. The gown was further enhanced by a silver thread trim at the neckline, sleeve edge and hemline of lace to skirt. Her shoulder length veil fell from a bonnet of tulle trimmed with sequins and she carried a heavenly bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and lemon leaves. Other accessories were short tulle mitts and tiny pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Howard Langlie of Thief River Falls, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, with Mrs. Walter Suronen of Minneapolis and Mrs. Albert Chruszch, friends of the bride, serving as bridesmaids. They wore identical floor length gowns of white "point de sprit" over blue taffeta, featuring scooped necklines, short sleeves, a fitted bodice cinched at the waist with a taffeta cummerbund forming a bustle in the back. Accenting their attire were matching headbands and nylon mitts with bouquets of pink and white carnations and lemon leaves.

Little Cindy Lee Langlie, niece of the bride of Thief River Falls, was flower girl wearing a gown identical to that of the bride and carrying a miniature bouquet like that of the bride. Randy Nielsen, friend of the groom, of Erskine, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a pillow of white satin and lace.

Attending the groom as best man was James Emanuelson of Mentor, his brother, while Clive Jones of Oslo and Lee Nielsen of Erskine, friends, were groomsmen. Ushers were Norman Busse of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, and Leslie Foldoe of Mentor, friend of the groom. All men in the bridal party wore midnight blue suits with white boutonnieres.

For her daughter's werdding, Mrs. Busse wore a royal blue dress with matching accessories, while Mrs. Emanuelson chose a dress of navy blue with accessories to match. Their corsages were of pink roses and white carnations. The grandmothers of the couple were also presented with corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 250 guests. The bridal colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations with the five-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, also trimmed in blue and white.

Cutting the cake was Mrs. Arnold Lehrer of Red Lake Falls, aunt of the bride, while Mrs. Frank Strang of Thief River Falls served as hostess. Mrs. Vernon Knaack of Red Lake Falls and Mrs. George Busse of Thief River Falls, both aunts of the bride, poured. Waitresses were Joyce Bruggeman and Gladys Frederickson, at the bride's table, assisted by Yvonne Stenvik, Vivian Myrom and Hallie Oftelie, all friends of the bride.

Mrs. Norman Busse and Mrs. John Holzinger of Thief River Falls were at the gift table with Mrs. Roger Arvidson of Red Lake Falls at the gift book. Miss Janice Eggers registered the guests.

For going away the bride chose a blue linen sheath dress with matching accessories. Following a honeymoon trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuelson will make their home in Mentor.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and has been employed as assistant to Dr. M. G. Johnson in this city. The groom graduated from Mentor high school and is presently operating a service station and garage in Mentor.

Out of town guests were from Minneapolis, Fosston, Glydon, Erskine, Crookston, Oslo, Red Lake Falls, Drayton, N. D., and Spokane, Wash.

Gladys Gonnering Oliver Anderson Wed At Grygla

Miss Gladys Marie Gonnering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gonnering of Grygla was united in marriage to Oliver J. Anderson, son of Mrs. Lana Anderson of Kelliher, Minn., at a double ring ceremony at St. Clement Catholic church at Grygla Saturday, April 4 at 10 a.m.

Officiating at the ceremony was Father Ardean with Rose Mary Vatava presiding at the organ. High mass was sung by Beverly Kleinvachter, Mary and Jean Dryden and Nancy Nornes.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white Chantilly lace over net and satin, fashioned with a high neck and long ending in a point at the hand. An illusion veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. Her pearl earrings and necklace was a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Larry Bruneau of Grygla, friend of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of blue ruffled net over taffeta with a lace jacket and a matching headband. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations and her pearl earrings were a gift of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gonnering chose a dress of white and pink embroidered cotton with matching accessories while Mrs. Anderson was attired in a brown suit with matching accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations and pink roses.

Harvey Anderson of Kelliher, brother of the bride groom was his brother's bestman while Larry Bruneau, friend of the couple, served as usher.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the brides' parents for the bridal party, immediate relatives and friends.

For their honeymoon trip to Bemidji the bride chose a salmon colored print dress with white accessories. Upon their return they will be making their home at Grygla. The groom is employed by the Minnesota forestry division at Warroad.

Relatives and friends from Grygla, Newfolden, Argyle, Crookston, Kelliher, Doran, Breckenridge, Warroad, Blackduck and Thief River Falls attended the wedding.

WED AT GRYGLA Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Anderson, nee Gladys Gonnering, were united in marriage Saturday, April 4 at St. Clement Catholic church at Grygla. Rev. Ardean officiated at the ceremony. They are now making their home at Grygla.—Photo by Kavanaugh Studio.

Mrs. Sherman Idso Feted at Baby Shower Monday

A pink and blue shower was held Monday evening, April 13 at St. John's Lutheran church in honor of Mrs. Sherman Idso. Hostesses were Mesdames Frank Strang, Thomas Fuller, A. C. Seltz and Max Jensen.

Washington PTA Show Amuses Big Audience

Parents and teachers of the Washington school played to a full house Monday evening, April 13, when they presented "Showboat '59" to raise funds for a scholarship for a worthy student.

With a background of a showboat theater, a popular form of theatrical entertainment in the latter part of the 1800's and early 1900's, Lester Vigness announced each number with a short imaginary account of how the talent was discovered.

The show opened with several piano numbers by Jerry Joringday followed by a solo, "Summertime," by Mrs. Arnold Hammer. Mrs. Ronald Engen sang, "The Birth of the Blues," and a male quartet, "The Rhythm Boys," (Reuben Lockrem, Ted Bayer, Charles Meister and Dick Stokke) sang several numbers.

"The Three Notes," a women's trio composed of Mrs. Lester Vigness, Mrs. Arnold Hammer and Mrs. Robert Peterson sang "April Showers" and an encore number.

Teachers of Washington school presented a pantomime, "When Apples Grow on a Lilac Tree," with Mrs. Yvonne Ristau as soloist, Mrs. Mervin Knutson as accompanist and Miss Nancy Granger and Roger Hastings as the principals.

The top vocal group of the evening was the senior quartet of Lutheran Deaconess hospital in Minneapolis. The nurses, Betty Lou Johnson, Edith Sperr, Clarice Gunhus and Lucy Nygaard, opened with a novelty version of "My Merry Oldsmobile" and followed with encores that were accepted with heavy applause.

Instrumental numbers were presented by Hjalmer Aaseby on the steel guitar accompanied by his daughter, Gail, on the piano and accordion numbers were played by Mrs. Frank Harger.

A lively song and dance number was done by the "Salty Six," Mrs. Tom Reich, Mrs. Wallace Tunberg, Mrs. Glenn Anderson, Mrs. C. R. Waldera, Mrs. Ormond Johnson and accompanist Mrs. Reuben Lockrem. Dressed in sailor whites, they capered about to the obvious enjoyment of both the audience and themselves.

An old-time quartet was pantomimed by "The Four Hotshots" with Ellsworth Jorgenson, Dennis Kezar, Tom Reich and Everett Yonke as the singers and Albert Koop on the banjo.

Another pantomime number was presented by the "Riders of the Purple Cactus" with Kermit Eastman as principal "soloist" and speechmaker of the group. John Elsbrener, Roger Hastings, Lou Johnson and Ormond Johnson played several numbers.

Paul Furuseth was the surprise performer of the evening. Dressed in somber black and a derby hat and full beard, Furuseth played several old numbers on an old-fashioned button accordion to the accompaniment of hand clapping and foot stomping in the audience.

The entire cast was presented in the finale.

Rotary Club Told about Progress of the Coal Industry

John Howard, Official of Minneapolis Fuel Firm, Addresses Club Monday

Rotarians were told about the progress and the problems of the coal industry at their luncheon meeting Monday noon, the speaker being John Howard, sales manager for the North Western-Hanna Fuel Co. of Minneapolis. Mr. Howard reviewed the production of the industry and the changes that have taken place in both the mining operations and in the marketing.

In recent years the railroads have switched to diesel power but the loss of this market has been more than offset by the increased demand for coal as a source of power, he said. More power is generated by coal-burning steam plants than by all other fuels and water power combined. In recent years there have been several important changes in the marketing of coal but losses have been offset by gains and production has remained at a fairly constant level. The probability that the power demands will double by 1970 assured the industry of a continuing demand.

In spite of the fact that the industry maintains the highest wage scale in the country, the cost of coal has been held at reasonable levels by mechanization of the mines, Howard said. American mines are now producing from 6.3 to 10.7 tons of coal per man-day, while in Europe the average production is only 2.5 tons per day. Europe has provided a good export market for the industry during the period of reconstruction, but the European demand has declined during the past few years.

Sande Auto Co. Is Studebaker Agent

To Offer Complete Line of Automobiles and Trucks

John, Rolland and Darrell Sande have appointed Studebaker-Packard dealers for sales and service in Thief River Falls, Sydney A. Skillman, Studebaker-Packard vice president and general sales manager, announced today in South Bend, Ind.

The name of the new dealership is Sande Auto and Implement Co., and is located at 201 W. Third st. in Thief River Falls. Highlight of the grand opening to be held soon will be the showing of the all-new Studebaker Lark, the high-performance Silver Hawks, and the new line of Transtar and Scotsman trucks.

Installation of facilities to service all vehicles handled by the company has been completed in the dealership, which will carry a full stock of authorized factory parts and accessories.

The service staff has received intensive training from company representatives in the latest service procedure and techniques.

DHIA Report Lists Top Herds in March

John Burtness Herd Was Top Producer for Month

Twenty herds and 451 cows were on test during March in the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association. The average number of pounds of milk per cow was 1050. Butterfat per cow was 36 pounds, according to George Janssen, supervisor.

The herd of John Burtness of Thief River Falls topped the list in this month's report with an average milk production of 1457 pounds and butterfat 49 pounds. The Charles and Dale Svendsgaard herd of Goodridge average 1328 pounds milk and 47 pounds of fat. A total of 1241 pounds of milk and 46 pounds of fat was reported for Clarence Swanson.

The Art Hagge herd of Brooks produced 1276 pounds of milk and 44 pounds of fat. Maynard Mehrkens of Thief River Falls had an average of 1176 pounds milk and 42 pounds of fat. These were the five high men in the association for the month of March.

Last Rites For Mrs. Ole Skaar Set For Saturday

Mrs. Ole Skaar, a resident of Pennington county for many years, died at Crookston Tuesday, April 14, at the age of 63.

Funeral services have been set for Saturday, April 18, at 2 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran church. Rev. Otto Dale will officiate, with interment to be in the Park Ridge cemetery. The body will lie in state in Gulbranson Funeral home tonight, Thursday, and until 11 a.m. Saturday, and at the church one hour before time of services.

Mrs. Skaar was born in Marshall county Aug. 20, 1895. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and attended rural schools. She was employed in Thief River Falls for a number of years and then married Ole Skaar Dec. 27, 1917. They have since made their home in Norden township in Pennington county.

Mrs. Skaar was a member of Trinity Lutheran church, W.M.F., past officer of her circle and also a member of the Good Cheer club.

Surviving are her husband, five daughters and three sons: Mrs. Roderick Markine of Edmonton, Canada, Mrs. Arthur Terrian of St. Hilaire, Mrs. Robert Fairbank of Honolulu, Hawaiia, Mrs. Richard Kinnumen of Nashwauk, Mrs. Charles Parsons of Minneapolis, Erven of Long Prairie, Andrew and Leonard at home; also 13 grandchildren, two sisters and one brother: Mrs. Christ Olsen of Hopkins, Mrs. Fred Wirts of Sacramento, Calif., and Norman Nelson of Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 15, at the Nannestad Lutheran church at Badger for Magne Christianson, who died Sunday April 12 at the age of 53.

Officiating at the rites was Rev. Jacob Adreason with interment made in the church cemetery. Gulbranson Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Magne Christianson was born October 10, 1905, in Renville county, baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and attended rural schools. He came to Roseau county with his patents in 1917, where he made his home until three years ago, when he moved to Thief River Falls to live with his brother Thormod. He was a member of the Nannestad Lutheran church near Badger.

Surviving are five brothers: Hakkon and Charles of Roseau, Thormod and Arthur of Thief River Falls and Elmer of Fisher. He was preceded in death by his parents.

SPINS TOP Rev. James C. Schreiber of Oak Hills Fellowship, Bemidji, Minnesota, "spins" Gospel lessons with his tops. Recently, recognized by the Minneapolis Tribune as the nation's number one top spinner, Rev. Schreiber says, "It is better to spin your top than to blow it." Nationally known through this unique ministry, he will be featured in the Sunday School of the Evangelical Free Church, located at 3rd and Kendall, at 9:45 a.m., Sunday, April 19th.

Iver M. Westby Succumbs; Rites Set For Today

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, at 2 p.m. for Iver M. Westby, of Rosewood at the Gulbranson Funeral Chapel. Officiating at the rites will be R. H. Wetenkamp with interment to be made in the Rindal cemetery.

Mr. Westby died Sunday, April 12 at Crookston at the age of 98 years. He was born March 29, 1861 in Norway. He came to Fargo, N. Dakota in 1891 and four years later moved to Rosewood, Minn., where he homesteaded. He was united in marriage to Marthe Storholm in Europe in 1883. In 1905 they moved to Goodridge vicinity where they lived for 10 years before moving back to Rosewood where he made his home until his wife passed away. He then moved to Thief River Falls to live with his daughter, Mrs. Lena Maloney.

Surviving are three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Lavon Groot of Homewood, Ill., Mrs. Henry Rogers of Shelton, Wash., Mrs. Lena Maloney of Thief River Falls, Martin of Goodridge and Iver Jr. of Pinewood, Minn.; also six grand and two great grandchildren and one brother, Ole, in Norway.

He was preceded in death by several sisters and brothers.

Civil Defense Exercise Set Friday, Apr. 17

'Operation Alert 1959' to Have Center in City Auditorium

Pennington county will take part in the national civil defense "Operation Alert 1959," on Friday, April 17, it has been announced by Bruce Reski, county director.

The sixth annual nationwide exercise has as its purpose the training and testing of civil defense plans and programs at all levels.

According to a release from state headquarters, "The present exercise is intended to demonstrate the present status of the program and will provide urgently needed training in emergency actions on the part of the community, county and state civil defense personnel."

Headquarters for the county organization during the April 17 alert will be established in the city Auditorium. A simulated attack warning will be received at the Minnesota warning point from the North American Air Defense Command at 10:30 a.m. and will be transmitted through the Minnesota air warning system to the counties.

Counties will disseminate the warning to all municipalities in the county which have under 5,000 population. A minimum of two hours between the initial warning and the "strike" is planned.

County and municipal civil defense directors will activate their control centers on receipt of the warning. The Conelrad warning system will be put into operation and the actual weather conditions will be taken into account in the prepartion of plans.

Local Dentists at State Convention

Four TRF Men Attended Session in Minneapolis

Local dentists in attendance at the annual convention of the Minnesota State Dental association in Minneapolis early this week included Drs. A. E. Jacobson, J. W. Ewing, M. G. Johnson and Ralph Sonstegaard.

At the convention, which ended Wednesday, the dentists heard the president-elect of the American Dental association hit at "reckless claims" of many major dentifrice manufacturers.

"The history of 'miracle' dentifrices has been an unhappy one," he said. "One after another has been promoted with unsupported claims of great promise for preventing dental decay or diseases of the gums. None has ever lived up to its claims," said Dr. Paul H. Jeserich, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Elbow grease applied to the toothbrush is still the best home weapon in oral hygiene, he said.

Car-truck Mishap at Middle River Causes $250 Loss

A relatively minor traffic accident at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon on highway 32, near the south city limits of Middle River, resulted in approximately $250 damages to the two vehicles involved, the highway patrol reported today.

A truck driven by Frank Prondzinski, Grand Forks, had pulled out to pass a car and trailer driven by John Gudvangen, Gaszke, as both approached Middle River. Seeing another car approaching from the opposit direction, Prondzinski pulled back into the other lane hitting the Gudvangen trailer, and then going into the ditch.

Damage to the rear of the Gudvangen car was estimated at $150 and to the truck driven by Prondzinski $100.

There were no personal injuries.

Musicians from Newfolden Win 'A's

Take Part in District Festival at Warroad

The Newfolden high school girls' chorus, girls' sextet, boys' double quartet and Karen Carlson, soprano soloist, received top "A" ratings at the District 32 vocal music festival at Warroad on Saturday, April 11. This makes them all eligible to compete in the state area festival to be held at Thief River Falls on Friday, Saturday, April 24 and 25. Mrs. Marvin Olson, public school music teacher in the Newfolden community school, directs the vocal music program. She is a graduate of Concordia college and is in her third year as instructor in this school.

Other soloists and their ratings were: Janice Olson, soprano solo, B plus; Eugene Moen, tenor solo, B; and Donald Engelsrud, bass solo, B.

Two piano soloists from Newfolden high school competed in the piano division. Patricia Dill received a III plus rating for her selection, "Romance" by Sibelius. Carolyn Fosholm received a II plus rating for her selection, "Etude in E Major" by Chopin.

Bruce Bakke Named to UND 'Who's Who'

Local Student Honored for Leadership Qualities

Fifteen University of North Dakota students, including Bruce Bakke of Thief River Falls, have been selected for Who's Who at UND. The annual recognition is sponsored by the Dakota Student, weekly campus newspaper.

Winners were selected by an anonymous committee of students and faculty on the basis of breadth of participation in campus activities, contribution to the general welfare of the campus and the student body, and leadership contribution to the campus.

Bakke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bakke, is a journalism major. He is sports editor of the Dakota Student; president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity; president of Dakota Playmakers, campus dramatics group; member of National Collegiate Players; manager of the 1959 Flickertail Follies; sports director of KFJM, campus radio station and has played lead roles in three Dakota Playmakers' productions.

Mercury Hits 72 Mark on Tuesday

Temperature Slumps to 23 Here This Morning

Southerly and southwesterly winds which had brought warmer weather to northwestern Minnesota the first part of the week raising the temperature as high as 72 Tuesday switched to the north Wednesday dropping the daytime reading to 46 and last night's low to 23 degrees.

The KTRF forecast is for more of the chilly weather. It calls for increasing cloudiness and cooler today with highs from 45 to 55. Considerable cloudiness with little temperature change is expected tonight and tomorrow with lows from 28 to 35.

Freezing rain and snow has been predicted today for the southwestern portion of South Dakota and for Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana.

The coldest spot in the nation last night, excluding Alaska, was 10 degrees at Big Piney, Wyo., where it was 10 above and the warmest place yesterday was Yuma, Ariz., where 90 was registered.

Final Meeting of Washington PTA Unit Set Monday

The last regular meeting of the Washington PTA for the school year will be held in the school gymnasium next Monday evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

A general interest panel discussion will be held with members of the school board present to talk about school management, taxes and other subjects.

Installation of officers for the coming school year will take place and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Concert Given at Newfolden School

An appreciative audience of over 100 persons turned out at the Newfolden high school auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 12, to enjoy a program of instrumental solos and ensemble numbers by members of the Newfolden senior band. These students are under the guidance of Dennes L. Borman, band director, and will compete in the district 32 instrumental music festival at Greenbush on Friday and Saturday, April 17,18. At 4:00 p.m. Sunday, April 26, Borman will present his junior band in their second concert of the season.

Anti-Communist Talks Here Apr. 22

Tulsa Crusader to Speak in Lincoln Auditorium

BILLY J. HARGIS

One of the nation's foremost anti-communist crusaders, evangelist Billy J. Hargis of Tulsa, Oklahoma, will conduct a special Christian Americanism meeting Wednesday, April 22, at 8 p.m. it was announced today from his Tulsa headquarters. Hargis will speak in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls. The interdenominational service is open to the public and admission is free, but a free-will offering will be taken.

Hargis is president and founder of Christian Crusade International Ministry. His Christian Crusade movement is dedicated to exposing communist infiltration into church, school and government in the United States, and to opposing the spread of communism in other parts of the world as well.

In addition to his daily and weekly broadcasts, the Tulsa evangelist publishes a monthly magazine which is distributed to over 50,000 readers throughout the United States and foreign countries.

Dr. Hargis can be heard every Sunday at 12:30 p.m. over KTRF, Thief River Falls.

Nominations of Lions Club Staff Made Wednesday

At the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon, Stan Pladson, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted a slate of candidates for club officers to be filled in the annual election to be held shortly, the list being headed by Norman Peterson, nominee for president to succeed John Peterson. A musical program was supplied by H. O. Chommie, who played several well-rendered classical selections on the piano.

PTA Council Holds Session Monday

Lincoln Principal Tells of Bills in Legislature

The Thief River Falls PTA Council met Monday afternoon, April 13, in the Rex cafe. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Robert Bredeson, president.

Miles Nelson, Lincoln high school principal, read two releases relating to the state legislature. One bill pertained to the Driver Education program, and the other prohibits sale of cigarets and tobacco in certain vending machines. The PTA council voted to support these bills.

Mrs. James Wells, PTA District 16 president of Goodridge, discussed latest statewide PTA developments. She reminded the council of the school of instruction for new PTA officers, to be held at Lincoln high school April 29, starting at 2:30 p.m. She also announced that effective Sept. 1, 1959, PTA district 16, which includes Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau and Polk, will include Clearwater county and will be known as District 17.

3 Million to Visit State Parks in '59

617,000 Persons Stopped at Itasca Park Last Year

A pre-season prediction that state parks attendance would exceed three million visitors in 1959 was made today by U. W. Hella, state parks director, "Because," he said, "there has been a consistent 7 per cent average annual increase in park attendance since 1941 and reports show 2,870,000 visitors to Minnesota's state parks during the 1958 season."

As usual Itasca state park in Clearwater and Becker counties counted the most visitors, 617,000, during the past season. Second was Interstate park in Chisago county with 284,000. Gooseberry Falls, northeast of Duluth had 234,000 visitors and Whitewater state park in Winona county 176,000 in attendance.

Records show that 2,600,000 persons visited Minnesota's state parks during the 1957 season.

Discouraging Reports

We're receiving nothing but discouraging reports from the Lake of the Woods area, and these reports all pertain to the low water level of the lake and the lower reaches of the Rainy river. Orvis Olen made a trip up there on Sunday for the purpose fo securing dock privileges for his boat. He stated that the lake was six or seven feet below the normal water level. He added that Mrs. Charley Tobin, the operator of the Morris Point camp, was worried about getting her fleet of boats out into the lake. And Roy Cyrus, who operates a minnow seining business on Bostic creek, explained that it was impossible for him to get out into the lake because of the low water in the bay.

The Wheeler's Point camp operators explained that the low water level was due, not only to the lack of rainfall and a meager spring run-off, largely to the fact that the dam at International Falls was holding back a tremenedous amount of water. The water level above the dam, affecting Rainy lake, Namakan lake, and Kabetogama lake, was just about normal. And it was also said that the dam at Kenora, Ontario, at the outlet end of Lake of the Woods, has been open.

The water levels on the Red lakes, Upper and Lower, are holding up pretty well. The Red Lake river, though, isn't carrying the usual amount of water for this time of the year, and this is due partly because the amount of water coming out of the outlet of Red Lake is in short supply.

Just as a guess, we would say that the fishing at Waskish and Shotley brook would be better than the Lake of the Woods fishing on opening day, May 16.

Political Note

Dennis McGinn, an old-time Prowler athletic hero, now residing in Escanaba, Michigan, failed in his bid for election as district circuit judge in upper Michigan. But he didn't lose by much, and as we understand the reports, Denny's loss was due to the fact that the retiring judge issued a negative endorsement of McGinn, stating that he "had not privately or publicly given his support to McGinn." Denny's opponent made capital of this statement.

According to our information, Denny, and his son Dennis Jr., the six-foot two-inch, 190-pound sophomore member of coach Don Lund's University of Michigan baseball squad, will be making a visit up here this summer.

Young Dennis is rated highly as a pitcher, and it would be fine gesture if the Thieves could arrange an exhibition game at the time of the McGinn's visit, so that the young righthander could get an opportunity to pitch in his dad's home town. The Thieves' general manager, Harold Stroble, should keep this in mind, and when a definite date for the visit here has been set, Stroble could schedule an exhibition game.

An Impressive Group

The Prowler A and B baseball squads, under the direction of their coaches Ralph Skay and Dick Edlund, scampered out on the Fair Grounds diamond Monday afternoon. As coach Ralph said, "The season is officially open."

The two squads made an impressive group, and from the look at the roster of returning lettermen, it will be quite a task for a rookie to break into the lineup. Junior Jimmy Wegge will handle the slants of the various Prowler hurlers, Phil Hanson, Jerry Jorgenson, Mickey Hanson, Harlie Drees, Arlan Hjelle; and Eddie Lietzow will man the inner defenses; and Paul Saurdiff and Gene Wockwerth are returning outfielders. There will be a hectic struggle for the one outfield position that is open.

Coach Skay will announce the Prowler schedule next week. He did say that the attempt to schedule the Drayton, N. Dak. state high school champions fell through. Drayton's slate was just about complete, and they enter tournament competition the third week in May. Instead of the Drayton game, coach Skay booked the Roseau high school Rams, and that should be a fair exchange.

Roseau, with Jim and Larry Stordahl, Don Ross, and others on the squad, should provide the Prowlers with sturdy opposition. And what a joy it will be for the Prowlers — Jorgenson, Hjelle, and Wegge — who competed against the Stordahls and Ross in high school hockey to meet these Rams on the baseball diamond. Show 'em no mercy, boys.

Newsworthy Event

The Thief River Trap club will hold its annual meeting, banquet, and awards night at the golf club this evening, Thursday.

A highlight of the meeting, in addition to the reading of the treasurer's report, which will reveal that the club is solvent, will be the presentation of the league championship trophy to the Times squad. Accepting this championship award, and showing proper modesty and humility, will be Clarence and Bob Mattson, Bill Dahlquist, George Mostue, Jim Rude, Leif Erickson, Mel Zitzow, Mack Draper, and Donald M. Olson.

NEW POST John Peterson, for the past six years manager of the Robertson Lumber company in Thief River Falls, and employed by the firm since 1948, resigned effective April 15, and today became affiliated with Andrew Williams, proprietor of the Home Lumber company, in the management of that firm. Pending the arrival about May 1 of a new manager of the Robertson yard, Oliver Danielson, assistant manager, will be in charge.

BLF & E Makes Gift to Crippled Children's Fund

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen of Thief River Falls made a substantial contribution to the Crippled Children's Society of Minnesota this week in addition to buying Easter Seals.

A poster, depicting the needs for helping crippled children was made by Mrs. Marshall Kays, wife of special investigator Marshall Kays of the Soo Line. Mrs. Mrs. Kays is also a member of the Pennington County Crippled Children'ssociety. The poster was displayed in the round house where the contributions were received.

164 Are Fined for Game Violations

Arrests for violations of the state's game and fish laws during March totalled 164, reports Arthur Emme, assistant chief game warden.

Arrests involving infractions of the fishing laws totalled 123, while transporting loaded or uncased firearms in a motor vehicle resulted in 25 arrests. A variety of other violations accounted for the balance of arrests made by the state game wardens.

Fines levied in the 164 cases amounted to $3,262.

Morris Owen Holds Dist. Scout Office

Elected Vice President of Lake Agassiz Council

Morris Owen of Thief River Falls, veteran Boy Scout leader, was one of three vice presidents of the Lake Agassiz Scout council elected at its annual meeting in Grand Forks Sunday. A. R. Kegel of Larimore, N. D., was reelected president.

Harold G. Rasmussen of this city was renamed chairman of the Pen-Ro-Shall district, and Herbert Dill of Holt was named a member at large. Neil Mattson of Warren was one of four leaders to receive the top Silver Beaver award.

Guest speaker at the annual banquet was Carl J. Jackson, superintendent of the Minnesota state reformatory, who discussed scouting as "A Sound Investment for the Future."

THE EYE HAS IT

Did you know that your tear fluids contain an antibiotic? It's true. A precise amount is released every time you blink, protecting extra-sensitive eye tissue from germs and infection. This is just one example of a specific function designed for a specific job, that your body carries on constantly without your being aware of it.

The medicine your doctor prescribes is also designed for a specific and important job, and great care is taken to see that you receive the precise amount needed — great care by your doctor and, as with all pharmacists, great care by us. Bring your prescriptions to your Rexall Drug Store for courteous professional service.

YOUR Rexall PHARMACIST

WHERE DID THE PRESCRIPTION SYMBOL COME FROM ?

Authorities disagree. It may be an abbreviation of the Latin word "recipe" (you take), or it may have been the sign of the pagan god, Jupiter. Another theory claims that scholars of the middle ages (often both physicians and mathematicians) used the Latin word "radix" to signify answers to difficult multiplication problems. "Radix" was later abbreviated to Rx and adapted to represent medical answers to medical problems.

Which is right? Take your pick. And whether your doctor gives you a prescription or an "Rx" you can always be sure you'll get prompt efficient prescription service from us.

708 Traffic Deaths Recorded in State in 1958; up 23 from 1957

Minnesota posted a record breaking 708 traffic deaths during 1958, 23 more than the previous high of 685 deaths recorded in 1957. Total accidents increased 1 per cent while vehicle miles traveled — recorded at counting stations throughout the state — increased 2 per cent and vehicles registered in the state increased 6 per cent.

The accident or cost to the State of Minnesota in 1958 was about 92 million dollars, however, how can we adequately assess the loss of a loved one, especially when that loss occurs on the highway as a result of human carelessness. Non-fatal or personal injury type accidents showed an increase of 1,558 when comparing 1958 to 1957, and the number injured increased by 2,669 persons. In 1957, 1.54 persons were injured per non-fatal accident whereas in 1958, 1.56 persons were injured per non-fatal accident. This experience is reversed in the fatal accident picture where 6 people were killed for every 5 fatal accidents in 1957, and 5.8 persons were killed for every 5 fatal accidents in 1958.

This would seem to indicate that the severity of the non-fatal type accident is increasing due to either a more serious type of accident resulting in injuries to more of the occupants or that the automobiles involved are carrying more passengers. In the case of fatal accidents fewer people are killed for each accident which is most probably due to the excellent medical care that is usually close at hand in accident cases. Quick and decisive action by our physicians and surgeons, without a doubt, keeps many who are critically injured from joining the fatality list.

There are some bright spots — drivers in 1958 learned to respect the railroad train and as a result fatalities resulting from automobile-train crashes dropped from 51 in 1957 to 33 in 1958. Crashes with other motor vehicles showed a small decrease and we lost 7 lives as a result of bicycle accidents in 1958 compared to 10 in 1957. However, 57 people were killed as a result of automobiles hitting fixed objects in 1958 compared to 26 in 1957, an increase of more than 2 to 1. This type of accident alone could be held responsible for the significant increase in fatalities last year. Fatality increases were also noted in accidents in which the vehicle left the roadway.

Urban accidents increased 727 while rural accidents decreased 53, when comparing 1958 to 1957. Rural accidents comprise 26.5 of all accidents in Minnesota; however, 73.2 per cent of the fatal accidents and 75.8 per cent of the fatalities occurred on rural roads. Unsafe speed was the cause of 16 per cent of all fatal accidents in Minnesota. In 173 of the 508 fatal accidents one or more drivers had been drinking intoxicating beverages as shown in reports returned to the highway department. This means that in 29 per cent of all fatal accidents drinking was involved.

All age groups felt the touch of death, from an infant born minutes after an accident, who died a short time later, to a 92-year-old man killed in another crash. Drivers killed ranged from a 9-year-old boy driving a farm tractor to an 88-year-old urban driver.

More accidents happened between 4:00 and 4:59 p.m. than at any other hour, however, during the hour from 5:00 to 5:59 p.m. there were more fatal accidents than in any other hour. Saturday was the most dangerous day for driving with 113 fatal accidents and 10,410 total accidents. In 1957 there were 79 days without a fatal accident, but there were only 76 days without a fatality in 1958.

In comparing Minnesota accident records to those of the U.S. one finds that the rate of traffic deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles has dropped steadily since 1938. Since 1953 Minnesota death rates have dropped at a slower rate than the United States rate. Last year the Minnesota rate was 5.3, and the rate for the country at large was 5.6. In 1957 the Minnesota rate was 5.3 and the rate for the U.S. was 5.9.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA, ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Try New Vegetable Varieties

Each year the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service publishes "Vegetable Varieties for Minnesota," Extension folder 151, which suggests varieties that have been tested and found suitable for various parts of the state. By selecting adapted varieties you will find your gardening more enjoyable and successful.

The tomato is perhaps the most popular vegetable in the garden. Today hybrid tomatoes give greater yields of more uniform fruits. They cost more but the returns in yield and quality fruit are worth the increased cost of seed or plants. "Big Boy Hybrid" produces large, globe-shaped fruits with thick walls and excellent quality. "Moreton Hybrid" is earlier and appears to be dependable for most parts of the state. "Fireball" is one of the earliest tomato varieties for the north. Another dependable variety is "Firesteel."

New disease-resistant snap beans are "Pearlgreen," "Improved Tendergreen," "Choctaw Wax" and "Cherokee Wax."

"Early Abundant" pea is a new variety maturing at the same time as "Little Marvel," but pods are more abundant and filled with small, high-quality peas.

Try "Burpee Hybrid" cucumber for fine-quality slicers and pickles. Plants are disease-resistant and highly productive. "Marketer" is another good choice.

Early sweet corn hybrids are "Sugar and Gold," "Earliking" and "Morning Sun." "Golden Beauty" is an excellent hybrid for main crop in the garden. Husks are long and tight at the tips.

"Greenhart" leaf lettuce is a new srain of "Grand Rapids" that is attractive, with high quality. "Ruby" is one of the best red lettuce varieties.

"Nantes" carrot is one of the earliest and sweetest varieties. "Ruby" or "King Red" beets are good choices because they have narrow crowns and solid red interiors.

"Badger Market" and "Greenback Cabbage" are excellent varieties that can be seeded directly in the garden for summer harvest.

FOREST WEALTH WELL WORTH OUR PROTECTION

Thirty-eight per cent of Minnesota is forested, as compared with nearly 62% when colonization began a little more than a century ago. Our land area is 51,205,800 acres, of which 31,500,000 were forested at earliest accurate reports, as against 19,343,700 acres now; of today's forestry acreage, 18,097,600 is rated as commercial. Minnesota's annual pulpwood production is just about $150,000,000, lumber a bit above $20,000,000, fuelwood $12,000,000. Next down the line in our vast tree wealth come Christmas trees, wreaths, boughs, etc., at nearly $7,000,000 annually. Posts are valued at $2,684,000, matchwood-cooperage-etc., $2,300,000, sawdust-shavings-novelties reach $1,550,000. Piling, veneer, mine timbers, poles, and similar products bring in another $5,000,000 annually, for a total yearly timber harvest running right close to $200,000,000. From 1894 through 1938 Minnesota suffered eight costly and disastrous forest fires, destroying nearly 3,000,000 acres of woodland, and claiming a staggering 903 lives.

While Asia produces less coffee than the Western Hemisphere, the Asiatic product is highly valued for its fine flavor.

BY W. E. DAHLQUIST

From Rome to home is less than 21 hours by air, and moving with the sun reduces this total eight hours by the clock. So even with a couple of transfer delays it was easy to get back to Minnesota in a day, and home several days ahead of an air mail letter I had posted in Rome the day before my departure.

The flying time from Paris to New York, non-stop, is 14 hours. Jets are making it in six and they are booked solid several months ahead. Top airline executives are now eyeing each other suspiciously wondering which company will be first with supersonic service. In the not-too-distant future the faster-than-sound planes will be carrying passengers across the Atlantic in about two hours.

Now, happily home, reassured that Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson still have matters well in hand, I will bring these reports to a close with a re-hash of some of the highlights and maybe a few conclusions.

In the course of my African journey I talked to many people, some of them well-informed, and asked many questions. Most of them looked upon themselves as "foreigners." Africa was their temporary home and they expected to return to their native land as soon as their fortunes had been made or their particular assignments had been completed.

In the countries of East Africa which I visited and, to a greater extent in South Africa which I did not visit, the "Europeans" more generally considered themselves permanent settlers and spoke of Africa as Africaners.

But only one of the many people with whom I discussed the problems of the Africa that lies south of the Sahara expressed the views of the natives. He was Tom Mboya of Kenya, president of the Nairobi Peoples Convention Party, prominent as a labor union leader, and much quoted as one who speaks for those who are directing the activities for independence and self-government thruout the continent.

TOM MBOYA

Kenneth Bolton of the Nairobi Sunday Post, and a radio news commentator, was helpful in arranging my interview with Mr. Mboya. In spite of the fact that they were far apart in their politics, they nevertheless seemed to be on good terms personally.

According to Bolton, Mboya, only 30 years old, had risen to power as a labor leader and in that capacity he had performed a useful service. His word was good and management had confidence in him as one who kept his promises. He did express concern however about Mboya's "too rapid rise to power" and that with such early success he might become overly ambitious. I gathered that Bolton looked upon him as a young man with a potential for either great good or great evil.

Mr. Mboya is intelligent, well educated and well informed. He was educated in England and speaks our language fluently. When I visited him he obviously was angry with what he referred to as the "government's clumsy injustice" in the arrest of 33 of his party members "without any proven case against them."

His newspaper had been "proscribed" and he had just released an open letter to the governor in which he stated that "such repressive measures will never succeed." In this letter he set forth his views very bluntly on a number of such "arbitrary" acts which he said, were a part of a plan to suppress his organization. "I submit to you," the letter stated, "that if you stop this organization publicly and openly then you will drive it underground, but you will never kill it."

Considering the concessions that have been made to other African colonies, the demands made by Mboya and his Peoples Party are not unreasonable. They seek democratic self-government on a gradual basis and their present objective seems to be a definite promise that complete freedom will come eventually.

In 1957 the government had established a constitution that gave to the natives some additional representation in the colonial government. Mboya was one of the elected representatives. But this constitution failed to provide for a gradual increase in African authority and the elected African members have refused to serve. Their's is a form of passive resistance that resembles the method used so effectively by Gandhi in his long years of struggle for the independence of India.

In discussing these problems, Mboya revealed some dissatisfaction with a statement made recently by one of our state department officials. "Your state department said recently that it favored freedom for all who are ready for it. But how can people become ready until they have had experience in self-government? That is what we have been denied and that is what we seek. We need training. We have not received it."

On other matters he was pleasantly cheerful. He spoke highly of the government's present education and health programs. He thought the British had been more progressive than the Belgians. In the past ten years the opportunities for Africans with aptitude and interest had greatly improved, although the need is still great.

Yes, he said, it is true that African women have not shared equally with men in these opportunities. Education has been limited largely to boys. There now are 20 high schools for boys in Kenya and only three for girls.

On the subject of mission schools he gave them credit for having performed a very great service. "I received my own education through a mission service," he said. "Naturally I am very appreciative of what they have contributed to our people."

"I wish to qualify this statement," he added. "Mission schools have served a very good purpose, but the need now is for public schools. Africans feel that in some instances missionaries have condoned colonialism, along with race discrimination and segregation in their schools and hospitals."

European and American settlers are very welcome in Africa providing they come to make their home there in complete acceptance of undiluted democracy. "We are uncompromising in our struggle against discrimination by foreigners, colonial or local."

I asked him about the Asians. There are many more Asians, mostly Indians, in eastern Africa, than there are Europeans. Most of the commerce is carried on by the Asians, and all of the construction seemed to be by companies with Indian names, hiring only Indians as skilled workers. They are well established along the east coast but they are seldom mentioned in discussions of African race problems. How did his people feel about them?

"They cause us no trouble," he said. "They do not become involved in our political problems and live by themselves. But they do nothing to help us advance either. They employ only their own people except for ordinary labor. They provide no opportunity for our people to learn trades or mechanical skills. Our relations are better with the Hindus than with the Moslems. The Moslems are generally more exclusive and tend to side with the government."

In what way could Americans be most helpful? "Our greatest need is for educational opportunities for our young men and women. It would be very helpful if more of our young people could attend your American colleges."

Had he been aware of any attempts of Communist infiltration? "No." As far as he knew there had been no pressure by either Communists or the Arab states.

It was a pleasant interview. He had visited our country in 1956. He was looking forward to a six-weeks tour of the United States in the near future and probably will appear in Minneapolis. I am sure he will be an interesting speaker.

Editorials . . .

"Most people do not realize how sacred a thing a legitimate ambition is. What is this eternal urge within us which is trying to push us on and on, up and up? It is the urge, the push in the grant force within us, which is perpetually prodding us to do our best and refuses to accept our second best."

—Orison Swett Marden

House Votes Big City Plan

The liberal House of Representatives has approved the reapportionment plan sponsored by the metropolitan area and which would give to the metropolitan area and large cities of the state the control of both houses of the legislature. Under the plan the House would be reapportioned partially on the area basis and partially according to population. Judging by the vote a lot of the country members went along with the city slickers and voted against the interests of their constituents.

The only fair basis for reapportionment, for which our national congress serves as a proper example, is to elect one house entirely on the basis of area and the other on the basis of population. And here in Minnesota the pattern is already set. The area basis can be adopted for the senate with but few changes. Fortunately there still are enough outstate votes in the Senate to hold the line against this big city scheme.

Subsidy Study

A Harvard University economist has suggested a "penetrating study and analysis" of all government subsidies, and that sounds like a good idea. We know that subsidies in their many various forms are a big item of expense but beyond that we don't know much about them. Many of them no doubt are well concealed. Most of them probably had justification at one time as serving an emergency need. Few could be justified as a permanent public liability.

But it would be interesting to get the facts and such a study probably should be made by an independent agency.

Work Less—Have Less

AFL-CIO union leaders are asking Congress to revise the federal wage and hour laws to provide a seven-hour day and a 35 hour week. Presumably the pay would not be reduced and so the per-hour cost of labor would be substantially increased. This increased cost would be added to the selling price of goods and services so the workers themselves would get less for the same amount of dollars. By working less they would have fewer of the things that are produced by labor.

Only as the shorter work day is offset by increased efficiency and production could it be otherwise. Over a period of time mechanization has made possible much greater production in a shorter work day.

There was a time when the 40-hour week seemed fantastic. Maybe the 35-hour week is around the corner. But before Congress forces the 35-hour week upon us better we be sure that that is what we want.

To the extent that the 35-hour week would be inflationary it would not be good for retired people or others living on a fixed income. Many would be adversely affected by such a schedule.

And before taking such action we certainly would want to know what our competitors would do about it. Competition in the world markets is becoming keener year by year and many American industries are building factories in foreign countries in order to compete in the foreign markets. Such operations do not maintain payrolls here at home. We will not ignore this factor of foreign competition long. It already is forcing its attentions upon us

So better we make haste slowly and consider carefully all of the factors involved before moving abruptly into a 12½ per cent increase in labor costs. Such a change could put more millions of our people out of work than it would add to the number on our payrolls.

Uniformity Needed

The legislature has devoted many hours of study and discussion to the daylight-saving proposals but with all of the study and discussion, probably few of the members have altered their views about the problem. All of the members will agree that one of the bad things about fast time, as we have had it, has been the confusion that has resulted because of the lack of uniformity.

Maybe an amendment to our federal Constitution would be in order, giving to Congress the exclusive authority to establish time schedules and provide for seasonal changes. That would at least make for uniformity throughout the states and relieve us of the necessity of keeping in mind a double standard, one for transportation timing and one for all other activities.

Planting 22,000,000 Tree Seedlings Will Start Soon in State

With the planting of 20,000,000 tree seedlings scheduled, a record reforestation program is about to start, Ray Clement, forester in charge of nurseries and tree planting, Minnesota division of forestry, reported today.

The season will be under way just as soon as frost is out of the ground at the three state nurseries, Carlos Avery game refuge, Willow River and Badoura. Trees will be dug from the nursery seedling beds just as fast as men and machinery can do so. As rapidly as possible trees will be packaged and bundled for shipment to nearly 2,500 farmers and landowners who have purchased them, to more than 400 Minnesota schools for Arbor Day plantings, and to public officials for planting on forest and park lands, highway rights-of-way and community owned land.

Clement predicts, with one eye on the weather reports, that shipping will start the fourth week of April and continue for about six weeks, or until weather conditions are too warm and unfavorable for planting trees.

For the first time a state-wide Arbor Day tree planting program is under way, when more than 400 schools will plant a few trees with appropriate ceremony and observance for the day which is Friday, May 1. This program is sponsored by the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs with the cooperation of the department of conservation.

Because of the present drouth conditions Clement warns planters to be especially careful to observe a few important rules for planting. They are necessary any year, Clement says, but he urges strict observance this year.

As soon as the trees are received, place bundle on end and pour a few gallons of water into the end. Let it drain and then place the bundle in a cold place. Plant as soon as possible. Keep the trees shaded and moist from the time unpacked till in the ground. Do not expose to sun and wind. If possible water immediately and again in a few days if no rains have fallen.

Of the 2,500 orders for trees, S. Louis county heads the list of greatest number of orders, 176; Isanti is next with 160; Sherburne and Washington are tied with 137, and Itasca has sent in 133 orders.

Requests for trees to be planted on farms and privately owned lands will be shipped first, with the southern areas receiving the initial shipments. Planting on public lands will be started when the bulk of private orders are completed.

For those who have just decided to plant trees next 1960 spring, information and requests for trees can be secured before September from the forest field offices, soil conservation offices, county agricultural agents, and the division of forestry, State Office Building, St. Paul.

Gospel Film to Be Shown at Viking

The gospel film, "In Times Like These," will be shown Sunday evening, April 19, at the Viking school auditorium at 8 p.m. The film is sponsored by the Viking Covenant Young Peoples society. Everyone is welcome.

Be Careful in Making Gifts, Says Bar Assn.

When you give something away, you part with it completely, according to a bulletin received today from the Minnesota State Bar association. Yet in some circumstances, you may want to keep some strings attached.

For example, an elderly farm couple may be unable to operate the farm, but are dependent upon it for security during their remaining years. A son may be able to operate the farm, but needs assurance that he is thereby building for the future of his own family. Can the parents give the farm to the son to assure his future, and still retain their own necessary security?

All too frequently the solution to this problem has been attempted by a variety of means which are not legally effective, and may actually leave both parties worse off than before, the association explains. One man in the above situation prepared a deed and put it away in a lock box where it would be found at his death, but in the meantime would be under his control.

The deed, however, was ineffective because it was not delivered during the lifetime of the grantor, and the faithful son had to share his farm with several other children who had not contributed to the parents' support. In the same situation, another man actually delivered the deed but with directions that it not be recorded until his death; only to discover that he had thereby reduced himself to absolute dependence upon the son. Yet others have attempted to solve the problem by agreeing to will the property in return for promised support, with equally disappointing results to one party or the other.

Of course, not all such "family arrangements" go awry, but those which are attempted by 'short cut" or "make shift" means do carry two inescapable consequences; namely, an uncertainty of accomplishing the desired result, and the serious risk of litigation and expense in straightening out the title to the property involved.

The saddest fact about these bad examples is that they are all unnecessary. The law affords a variety of means capable of accomplishing the desired results, inexpensively and with certainty. However, these legal tools must be fitted to circumstances in each particular case by someone skilled in their use and familiar with all aspects of their operation. Your lawyer is qualified by long training and experience to help you in this important undertaking.

DAVID B. KOLLITZ ENDS PRE-FLIGHT TRAINING

Naval Aviation Cadet David B. Kollitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Kollitz of Thief River Falls, graduated March 20 from the Navy's pre-flight school at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Florida.

The 16 weeks of training at pre-flight include aviation science, navigation, principles of flight, and other technical classes to prepare students for their future roles as naval aviators.

Graduates of this class are presently undergoing actual flight training at Saufley Field, also at Pensacola.

State Historical Society's Annual Meeting Tuesday

The 110th annual meeting of the Minnesota Historical society will be held next Tuesday, April 21, in the Coffman Memorial Union on the University of Minnesota campus, with the program centering about the recently discovered Lewis and Clark papers, dating back to the historic expedition of 1804-06.

Russell W. Fridley, director of the state organization, notified Mrs. Frank Clinton, secretary of the Pennington County Historical society, that an institute on county societies will open at 8:30 Tuesday morning in the historical society building in St. Paul.

A feature of the evening dinner will be the serving of foods eaten on the 1804 expedition.

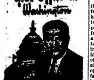
Your Office in Washington



by Congressman

ODIN LANGEN

Mrs. Langen and I arrived back in Washington on Sunday, April 5, and were greeted by warm weather and a traffic jam around the Jefferson memorial, where thousands of people had flocked to view the Japanese cherry blossoms in their full beauty. We brought back with us many fine memories of our stay in the district, including the opportunity we had to spend some time with our family and the chances we had to visit with many of you. We want to thank all of you for the interest and hospitality given us wherever we traveled throughout the district.

But memories aren't the only thing a congressman brings back from his constituents after a trip home. He also brings back new insight into the problems of the people—insight given him by the fellow on the street, the fellow at the other end of the banquet table, and the fellow on the train. Washington at times is a long way from the Ninth District of Minnesota, and letters don't always tell the whole story. The opportunity we had to spend a few days at home with you helped to fill this gap, and most of the credit goes to those of you who gave me your questions and suggestions. I feel that I have come back to Washington a better congressman for having been home, and I will endeavor to represent to the best of my ability the views and opinions which you expressed.

Progress of Wheat Bill

In this regard, it is unnecessary for me to say that I was extremely gratified by the interest and support shown for my wheat bill — H.R. 5060 — in the District. In the few days since returning to Washington, I have continued to press for its further consideration. It is my firm belief and conviction that this bill, if enacted, will benefit everyone — taxpayer as well as wheat farmer.

Jobs Yet to be Done

Farm legislation is but one of the tasks facing the 86th Congress as it returns from its Easter recess. Action is also pending on legislation dealing with labor unions, civil rights, education, and railroad retirement, among others.

Egg Prices

Two newsletters ago I informed you of a phone call which I had made to the Department of Agriculture dealing with the possibity of using Section 32 funds to purchase eggs and thereby improve the price situation with regard to this commodity. I was pleased to receive notification during the Easter recess that the department has doubled its egg-buying efforts.

3rd STRAIGHT YEAR! PLYMOUTH V-8 WINS ITS CLASS IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

OTHERS TALK ECONOMY—PLYMOUTH DELIVERS IT!

Other cars have talked economy this year. But a Plymouth V-8 has just proved it can give better gas mileage than Ford or Chevrolet V-8s. Plymouth did it by winning its class for the 3rd straight year in America's recognized competitive test for economy. Plymouth's score: miles per gallon.

HERE ARE MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN FACTS:

- A Plymouth V-8 has just won its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run for the third year in a row. Ford and Chevrolet both finished behind Plymouth.
- Plymouth scored miles per gallon.
- Winning Plymouth was a Belvedere 2-door hardtop, equipped with standard Fury V-800 engine and automatic transmission.
- Run was sanctioned by United States Auto Club.

HERE ARE WHAT THESE FACTS MEAN TO YOU:

- As a Plymouth owner, you can expect economical operation in everyday driving.
- As a Plymouth owner, you're driving the car that gave better gas mileage than Ford or Chevrolet in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.
- As a Plymouth owner, you can also expect top performance (Plymouth's winning V-8 is the biggest standard engine in its class).

Plymouth's low prices, low upkeep, high resale value and proven gas economy make it the year's best economy buy in its class. And Plymouth delivers the Big Difference in style, ride, performance, features and comfort, too! A "Two-Mile Try-Out" will prove it, so take yours today!

GET THE BIG DIFFERENCE . . . GET Plymouth

The St. Pauli Ladies Aid will meet at the church Thursday evening, April 23 at 8:00 p.m. The hostesses will be Mrs. Norman Nelson and Mrs. Clarence Weckwerth.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Theo. Bjorge, Mrs. Olga Konickson and Mrs. Norman Nelson and Neil helped Mrs. Clarence Arneson celebrate her birthday anniversary at her home April 6.

Mrs. Hildur Lian of Thief River Falls came Sunday to spend a few days at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Gustafson. Other Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rehm of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson and Mrs. Carl Alberg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ofstedahl of Moorhead visited Sunday at the Edwin Nelson home. They were accompanied home by Jerry, Mary Ellen and Karen Ofstedahl, who had spent a few days at the homes of their grandparents, the Edwin Nelsons and also at the John Ofstedahl Sr. home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kolden and David left Monday for their home in Minneapolis after visiting since Thursday evening at the Carl Alberg and Thorval Kolden homes. Other Sunday visitors at the Alberg home were Mrs. Harry Ranum and Judy of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and Neil.

Birthday Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and family were Friday evening supper guests at the Clarence Arneson home. The occasion was Harold Arneson's birthday anniversary. Others present to help him celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brauten and son and Mr. and Mrs. Arneson and Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Skaaren and family and Mrs. Gunild Skaaren motored to Grygla Sunday where they helped Mrs. A. Hagen celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ofstedahl and family of Moorhead and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson were Sunday visitors at the John Ofstedahl Sr. home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Finstad, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alberg and Arnold Gunderson motored to Badger Wednesday where they visited at the Stanley Alberg home. Martin, Carl and Arnold went to Swift also, where they went to see Dr. Ortman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kolden and David of Minneapolis visited Sunday evening at the Oliver Swanson home.

Mrs. Bob Hamilton observed her birthday anniversary Monday when Mrs. Olga Konickson, Mrs. Theo. Bjorge and Mrs. Anton Torkelson and Corrinne came to help her celebrate.

STAR News..

Home-built Planes Gaining Popularity

By V. M. Draper

There are more airplanes per capita in the new state of Alaska than in any other—and the ship built by Jerry Lawhorn probably is the most unusual of any in all the states.

Lawhorn is a member of an Experimental Aircraft Association chapter in Anchorage and his odd craft was built to serve a specific purpose; that of transporting Jerry and pals to the best hunting and fishing grounds. For that reason Jerry built it rugged for use in rugged country.

It is an odd-looking plane in every way. Imagine, if you can, a Cub outfitted with the drive wheels from a small tractor; if you have such a vivid imagination then you have an idea of what Jerry's ship looks like, for the balloon tires on the "Kee Bird" stand 35 inches high. The tail wheel is about as large as the standard Cub wheel.

Why? Because Jerry wants a ship that can land in practically any kind of country. His latest creation can — and does — go anywhere! Those huge wheels roll over the roughest ground, sand and swamp with ease.

Actually, his Kee Bird isn't a home-built in the strictest sense of the word, as parts of 14 different makes of airplanes went into the construction of it. However, there were enough modifications, enough innovations to warrant calling it a home-built. It has a large weight-carrying capacity and most interesting of all is that Jerry can remove the seats when on a trip so he and a partner have a nice snug bed on the floorboard. There's no doubt about it — the Kee Bird is made to order for the kind of flying they do in Alaska.

Incidentally, a kee bird is a denizen of the polar regions and has often been observed sitting on the North Pole, uttering its plaintive cry, "Kee-kee-kee-ripes but it's cold!" (There are reports the kee bird may wander as far south as northern Minnesota in an exceptionally cold winter.)

Home-built aircraft pioneered many of the features that went into commercial and military airplanes prior to the second world war. The small racers so popular in the 1930's were mostly handmade by their pilots and owners.

Ben O. Howard was one of these racing pilots who made his own ships and his stable of all-white racers bore the names of Pete, Mike and Ike. All his ships also bore the prefix, DGA, before the model number and when asked what this stood for Howard said, "That stands for Damn Good Airplane!" Nor was he fooling in any way. His ships won practically every race in 1935 — so much so they called one meet the "Benny Howard National Air Races!"

Contrary to the current trend with automobiles, air racing has largely died out. For a short while after the war the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. sponsored the annual Goodyear races but even that withered away. Now the spark is kept alive by a small group auxiliary to the EAA and known as the Professional Race Pilots Ass'n. (PRPA).

While a few racers and acrobatic planes are being built even now, most of the home-built airplane enthusiasts are interested in general purpose airplanes. Very few of the fellows can walk up to a dealer and plunk down umpteen thousand dollars for a factory-built airplane.

Furthermore, they probably wouldn't be satisfied with such a plane even if they could afford it. While used ships are scarce, many of them perform just as well as the new ones, which is usually unsatisfactory in both cases.

As a result, the home-builder hies himself to the workshop with a set of plans for a small, high-performance ship. You probably will see him going around with a far-away look in his eyes for a year or two while he's working on his project and the chances are he has become pretty much of a fixture in the doghouse as far as his wife is concerned. He is also quite liable to start thinking out loud in the midst of a group conversation, which will evoke sympathetic looks between his friends.

But, the Oh's and Ah's that result when he wheels his shiny new hand-made ship out for the first public view make it all worthwhile to him. It is at this time the disease is most catching — other pilots and even non-pilots begin to get that vacant stare after they see his ship perform and the first thing you know a bunch of them have gone into seclusion in their own workshops.

TRF Gideons Camp Names Fosston Man President Monday

Agency for Giving out Youth Testaments Holds Annual Meeting in Rex

The Thief River Falls camp of the Gideons, embracing seven counties in this area, held its annual meeting in the Rex cafe Monday evening, and elected Ed Mystrom of Fosston, president, succeeding David Drotts of Thief River Falls, who was named vice president.

Other officers elected by the testament distributing organization include Anton Hall, secretary; John Vielguth, vice secretary; Nels Holmberg, treasurer; R. A. Rottweiler, Hallock, chaplain; G. E. Kronholm, Crookston, Bible secretary; Kenneth Thyren, Crookston, youth testament secretary; Einar Johnson, Warren, membership secretary; Clifford Vigness, Thief River Falls, assignment secretary; Axe Taflin, Fosston, camp reporter; and C. G. Peterson, Warren, state trustee.

Reports submitted at the meeting revealed that 3,017 youth testaments were distributed to school children during the past year, bringing to 46,770 the total number of testaments given out since the camp was formed in 1946.

Counties served by the organization are Pennington, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Polk, Norman and Mahnomen.

College Band in Bemidji Concert

To Perform Sunday at 4 at Bemidji High School

The Bemidji State college band of 80 musicians will play its annual spring concert at the Bemidji high school auditorium on Sunday, April 19, at 4 p.m. The concert will be open to the public at no charge.

According to director Louis Chenette the program will be a varied one, with interludes of solos, small instrumental ensembles and vocal groups. Chief among the special attractions will be violin solos by Howard Mickens, director of orchestra at Bemidji State College and a former member of the Chicago and Toledo symphony orchestras and a veteran of the traveling Amphion String Quartette.

Other special numbers will include songs by the Bemidji Belles, girls quartet. Comprising this group are Cheryl Barrette of Red Lake Falls, Ramona Erickson of Brainerd, Janice Johnson of Hastings, Dolly Oaks of Aitkin.

A clarinet quartet will be made up of June Beaudry, Argyle; Arleen Belswenger, Fisher; Noel Gagnon, International Falls and Janice Johnson, Hastings.

4-H Meeting

The April meeting of the Steiner 4-H club Friday evening was well attended. The program included two songs by Karen Moe and Lorna Moe, "Friendship Song," and "Hawaiian Wedding Song," the play "Keeping It in the Family" with Ellen Jorde acting the part of Vickie Summers, a romantic 15 year old; Patsy Vatsaas as Hazel Summers, Vickie's 14 year old, tom-boyish sister; Shirley Fuller as Victoria Summers, their attractive mother; Bruce Russell as Herbert Summers, their father; Richard Jorde as Tony Arnold, a handsome, younger friend of the Summers', Kathryn Solem as Frances, Vickie's very best girl friend, Charles Anderson as Elbert, Hazel's 14 year old boy friend; and Robert Rausch as Glenn, Vickie's boy friend at times. Lester Keifenheim of Red Lake Falls was present to show a movie on the progress of electricity.

Charlotte Myer, Judy Kaushagen and Ruth Torgerson sang a hymn accompanied by Stanley Torgerson at the piano. President Pat Hornseth presided over the business meeting. It was voted to observe Rural Life Sunday, May 3, by having a program at the hall, followed with lunch. A committee composed of Patty Vatsaas, Kathryn Solem, Bruce Russell and Richard Jorde were appointed to make arrangements. The May meeting was set for the 8th, which is a week earlier than scheduled because of conflicting events. Lunch was served by the Ted Hornseth and Elton Cummings families.

Jerry Dyrseth of Grygla spent the weekend at the I. J. Russell home.

Eldon Moe and his roommate, Gene Welch of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who are stationed at Shilling Air Force Base, Salina, Kan., arrived Friday to spend about 12 days at the Caster Moe home.

Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Malberg of Viking visited Thursday evening at the Vernon Malberg home. Cyrus Malberg, also of Viking, suffered a slight stroke Sunday of last week and was confined to the hospital in Warren.

Mrs. Vernon Malberg was cohostess of the Mary unit of the ALCW organization of the First Lutheran church at the home of Mrs. Elno Johnson Tuesday evening. Mrs. Caster Moe attended the meeting of the Ruth unit at the Albert Krankkala home the same evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Solem and son John of Grygla were Tuesdays supper guests at the Alfred Solem home.

Saturday afternoon luncheon guests at the Vernon Malberg home were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson and daughter Avis of Roseau.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Meyer visited Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Agnes Warring in Thief River Falls. Mrs. Warring returned home Saturday after spending the winter months at the homes of nieces at Albert Lea, Minn., and at Eagle Grove, Iowa.

Thursday supper guests at the L. A. Meyer home were A. J. Hall and daughter Helen of Warren, and George Blish of Regina, Sask., Canada. The Halls and Mr. Blish recently returned from McAllen, Texas, where they had spent the winter months.

Mrs. Ada Jorde and Olaf, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jaennette, James Muzzy and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson of St. Hilaire were Sunday visitors at the Adam Lendobeja home in Smiley, helping Mrs. Johnson celebrate her birthday which occurred that day.

Mrs. Curtis Swanson was released from Northwestern hospital Saturday after being a patient since Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jorde and girls helped Mrs. August Peterson of Plummer celebrate her birthday which was Saturday at her home Sunday afternoon.

Monday dinner guest at the L. A. Meyer home was Mrs. Alice Knutson of Newfolden.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Muzzy, Norman, Karen and Steven, and Polly Gram spent Sunday visiting at the home of her folks, the Henry Madisons of Tenstrike, and at the home of her sister and family, the Rolf Dufseths, also of Tenstrike.

Carl Jorde has been a pneumonia patient at Northwestern hospital the past two weeks.

Attend Missionary Conference

Celia, Otto and Melvin Saugen attended the missionary conference at Our Savior's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls Sunday evening. Rev. and Mrs. Caleb Quanbeck showed slides of Madagascar and spoke. Mrs. Quanbeck is the former Connie Jorstad, a sister of Mrs. Wm. Gilbertson of Moorhead, whom many remember, as they operated a store on 8th street in Thief River Falls a few years ago. Rev. Quanbeck taught parochial school at the Rindal church in 1921 and boarded at the Saugen home one week, going to and from school with horse and buggy part of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Torkel Ose returned Thursday from Nebraska, where they spent a week visiting her father, who is a hospital patient in Lexington, and with her mother who lives in Bertrand.

EMERGING FROM CRISIS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Samuel	2	1-17
Monday	Revelation	2	1-17
Tuesday	Revelation	3	16
Wednesday	Revelation	3	1-22
Thursday	I Samuel	8	1-22
Friday	I Samuel	8	1-14
Saturday	I Samuel	12	1-19

We have all seen it! That sudden transition from tears to a smile as a child reappraises the situation.

Do we, when we grow up, lose that ability to emerge quickly and completely from every crisis?

Probably not! But our thinking processes become more complex . . . consequently slower. It takes us sometimes days, weeks, even years, to reappraise a situation.

But, significantly, one of the common effects of religious faith in the life of an individual is a marked increase in the ability to understand a crisis and emerge from it happily. Those who are conscious of the power and love of God seem to have an immediate source of courage and hope.

Observing this fact, the careless man thinks of the Church as a refuge in time of crisis. The thoughtful family makes worship and church school part of every week, knowing that the spiritual insights gained each Sunday will shrink every crisis . . . conquer every fear.

FU Budget Dance To Be Held Saturday

Well, the time has arrived for us to find out why the men in the community have been laughing at each other when they meet. The Farmers Union Budget Dance will be held Saturday evening at the Highlanding hall, with the program starting at 8:30 p.m. It promises to be the highlight of the season and all style conscious people shouldn't miss it. Not only are the latest fashions going to be displayed but the topnotch entertainment acts have proven to be terrific. For instance our 50th state is going to be represented by the one and only 'Olanda.' Who is she? Come and see. Other acts will be the 'Four Canaries' and 'The Union Belles.' See you Saturday night, April 18th.
